Thief River Falls and Perham split a July 12 doubleheader at the Multi-Events Center, with the Buzz winning the opener 6-1 and the Bandits taking the nightcap 12-10.

"Perham set the pace in this game and we were unable to keep up," said Thief River Falls coach Courtney Skjerven, whose team fell behind 4-0 in the top of the third inning and never took the lead away from the Buzz. "Their game plan is to hit the other way, bunt or steal, and then get a hit the other way to get the run in. They executed very well."

Cody Conners pitched the first six innings and took the loss for the Bandits. Tomas Heaton worked the final three innings in relief. Mac Stoll turned in a complete nine-inning performance for the win.

"Stoll did a great job of keeping the ball on the outside and keeping us out front on his change-up," explained Skjerven. "Cody threw well and Tomas threw great. Most Perham hits were bleeders and seeing-eye singles."

Thief River Falls' offense was limited to a three-run third inning.

"Other than the third, we couldn't get anything going offensively," said Skjerven. "But we can't feel sorry for ourselves. There is a lot of work to be done if we want to play Saturday."

The Thursday setback dropped Thief River Falls to 20-15 heading into a Friday afternoon match-up with East Grand Forks.

– Questions/Answers from the Minnesota DNR –

Q: How do I know if it is a minnow?

A: Not all small fishes are minnows; many are the young of other fish. A number of characteristics serve to separate small fish from true minnows. All minnows have naked heads except during breeding season when mature male develop many hornlike bumps, called tubercles. Some minnows also develop bright colors during breeding season, as suggested by such names as redside dace. A single dorsal fin with fewer than 10 soft rays is characteristic of all native minnows. Minnows lack teeth in their jaws but have specialized teeth in their throat - pharynx - region.

Study reveals bird decline

Some of the most recognizable and beloved birds in Minnesota and the nation are declining at an alarming rate, according to the National Audubon Society. The recent analysis by Audubon reveals that many of the nation's common birds nose-dived over the past 40 years, with several down nearly 80 percent.

Of the 20 bird species on the national list showing the steepest declines, 16 species are found in Minnesota, including American bitterns, indigo buntings, meadowlarks (eastern and western), northern pintail and the red-headed woodpecker. "Many of these species have also been identified as species in greatest conservation need by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources," said Carrol Henderson of the DNR Nongame Wildlife Program. "We are currently working on ways to address the threats to their survival."

The Nongame Wildlife Program purchases important habitat for protection, conducts surveys, and carries out many other conservation efforts. In addition, the DNR's Minnesota's Comprehensive Wildlife Conservation Strategy is an action plan for ensuring that these and other species remain a prominent component of our natural world. Each year federal funds are made available to Minnesota through state wildlife grants to address survival and management needs.

Audubon's common birds in decline list stems from an analysis of their Christmas bird count program and the results of the annual breeding bird survey conducted by the U.S. Geological Survey. The study shows the cumulative impact on birds from the loss of grasslands, healthy forests and wetlands, and the effect of other environmental threats such as urban sprawl, energy development and intensive cropping systems.

Individuals can still make a huge difference by protecting local habitats, landscaping and lakescaping for wildlife and by donating to the Nongame Wildlife Fund online or at tax time. For more information on Audubon's analysis go to www.audubon.org. For more information on Minnesota's list, visit http://www.dnr.state.mn.us/cwcs/need.html.

What's in your water? Well water testing available

A Well Water Testing Clinic sponsored by the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation District will be held this month. Bottles will be handed out Aug. 6-9 to homeowners who want their private well water tested for nitrates, E.coli, and total coliform bacteria. Homeowners can pick up bottles at the SWCD office, 201 Sherwood Ave. S. (behind Kmart) in Thief River Falls, from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The samples must be returned to the SWCD office before 2 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 10. The water will then be sent to a certified lab for analysis.

Water needs to be collected within 30 hours of testing to ensure reliable results. It is recommended that the sample is taken just before it is brought to the SWCO. Pennington SWCD will pay 50 percent of the cost; homeowners are responsible for paying $10. Due to a limited number of bottles, they will be handed out on a first come, first serve basis.

The Minnesota Department of Health recommends that private wells be tested once a year for total coliform, an indicator of bacterial contamination. Nitrate tests are recommended every two or three years – more often if nitrate has been detected previously in the well, or if an infant under the age of 6 months will be consuming the water.

To detect possible problems with bacterial contamination, health officials rely on a test for total coliform bacteria. This test detects a broad group of bacteria that are used as a general indicator of possible contamination problems – even though they don't usually cause disease themselves. Coliform bacteria are present in the wastes of warm-blooded animals and found in the soil, but usually not more than a few feet below the soil surface. When they're detected in well water, it means that surface contamination may have entered the well. It also means that disease organisms – from human waste or animal waste – may be present.

Nitrate in wells is a health concern primarily for young infants, in whom the nitrate can be converted into nitrite in the digestive tract. The nitrate then interferes with the ability of the baby's blood to carry oxygen, resulting in methemoglobinemia - or "blue baby syndrome." If levels of nitrate exceed the current health limit of 10 milligrams per liter (as nitrogen), infants under 6 months of age should not consume the water. Nitrate contamination can be the result of agricultural runoff, improper use of fertilizers or failing septic systems.

Pennington County SWCD sponsors well testing clinics with discounted prices every other year. However, sample bottles are available at full price year-round. Other tests that can be performed are lead, iron and hardness analysis.

If you would like more information or have any questions about the clinic, contact Rachelle Winter, Pennington County water plan coordinator, at (218) 683-7075.

Ritchie announces availability of a brochure for notaries

Minnesota Secretary of State Mark Ritchie has announced the availability of a brochure for notaries public, which provides valuable information to Minnesotans who have received notary commissions.

"The notary brochure provides information about what notaries must do once they have obtained a notary commission," said Ritchie. "It also provides a reminder of notary principles and best practices. It's a sort of 'what's next' primer for notaries, and it's a nice reference tool."

Interested parties may obtain a copy of the brochure by downloading and printing it from www.sos.state.mn.us/docs/notary_brochure__6_.pdf.

TRF turns down offer on auditorium

Cullen agreed with Lee regarding that amount.

The groups talked about the airport, which was more of an issue, Lee said. (The city currently operates the airport without any county funding.)

Referring to the exchange of the buildings, Nordhagen said, "We have a lot of talking to do, and this should be a part of it."

Law enforcement radio equipment

The Committee of the Whole also discussed issues pertaining to the LEC, which the city shares with the county. One particular issue centered on the city's participation in providing money for a public radio system.

In 2003, Pennington County sold 10-year General Obligation Improvement Plan Bonds in the amount of $535,000 to pay for the public radio system and jail remodeling. The radio system was installed in February 2006.

In a November 2006 letter to the city, Pennington County Sheriff Mike Hruby wrote that the city and the county agreed that the city would pay a total of $113,044.18 for 24 digital radios, half of a VHF base station and half of a VHF digital quantar repeater at the new radio tower.

The issue is now being discussed because the county still has that unpaid debt on its books. The county wishes to resolve the matter by Aug. 14. However, city leaders believe that the city only planned to contribute money through the levy for the bonds. After a discussion, Nordhagen said he would talk to County Board Chairman Oliver "Skip" Swanson about the matter in an effort to resolve the situation.

Current city leaders seem to believe that the city shouldn't pay anything other than what city residents are already paying for the bonds.

At the time of the initial matter, individuals who then served on the City Council approved a resolution indicating the city's participation in funding the radios, said City Administrator Jodie Torkelson. She said that participation seemed to be defined as a levy to pay for bonding.

Torkelson, who wasn't employed by the city at the time of the bond sale, said the city's paper trail is scarce when it comes to that issue. She said the only records she could find were her predecessor's notes from committee discussions. She said that she was told by her predecessor, Roger DeLap, that the city wouldn't pay anything besides what was included in the levy to pay for the bonding.

Thief River Falls Police Chief Kim Murphy, who also wasn't employed by the city at that time, indicated he had been told the same thing by his predecessor, Jim Haugen.

The county "seems to forget" that the city is already paying for a part of the radios since city residents are also county residents, Lee said.

"It's just a neat way to pass the taxes onto the city and make [the county] look good," Lee added.

Funding the LEC

Nordhagen asked about the type of agreement that the city and the county have for the LEC and whether that agreement was written down. Apparently, there is no written agreement for the LEC.

The county Building Committee has agreed that the county and the city need a standing committee for the LEC, said Torkelson, who recently attended one of the Building Committee's meetings. She said they agreed that there needs to be a committee comprised of the police chief, the sheriff, and representatives from the City Council and the County Board.

On a quarterly basis, the city pays Pennington County a portion of the cost of running the LEC. The city has $240,000 in its proposed 2008 budget for its share of the annual expenses at the LEC, Torkelson noted.

Murphy said he receives an itemized list of the expenses, and the county and city may split those items 50/50 or by another percentage, depending upon the item. "You have to really watch it very closely," he said about the itemized list.

The city isn't involved in some of the discussions regarding some of the expenditures at the LEC, Torkelson noted.

Recently, the city received a bill for half of the roofing project that was completed this summer at the LEC. The city has been told by the county's Building Committee that it shouldn't be responsible for paying that amount and shouldn't have been billed in the first place for half of that project, Torkelson said.

The council will meet at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Asphult Church basement in Peder Engelstad Pioneer Village. It will have a short meeting there before serving food at National Night Out.

Notice of Public Informational Meeting

The County Board of Commissioners of Pennington County together with the Water Resources Advisory Committee (WRAC) hereby give notice of a public informational meeting regarding the revision and update of a comprehensive Local Water Management Plan for Pennington County as authorized under Minnesota Statutes, Chapter 103B 301.

This planning deals with both surface and ground water to help protect and maintain our most valuable resource. This meeting will give the public and all local governmental units as well as State Agencies an opportunity to present information and concerns about water-related issues that they believe should be considered in the revision and update of the plan.

The meeting will be held in the Pennington SWCD/USDA conference room, August 13, 2007 at 9:00 AM in conjunction with the WRAC meeting.

The Pennington Soil & Water Conservation Service is located at 201 Sherwood Ave. S., Thief River Falls (behind Kmart).

If you are unable to attend the meeting and have comments or suggestions feel free to call 663-7075 or write to the above address.

A church on the prairie

held the annual Memorial service. "This special place served as a landmark for me and I was certain that I would someday help in preserving it."

Kaushagen grew up about one-half mile down the road from the church. His great-grandparents moved to that farm in 1932, his grandparents lived there, and his parents and brother still live there. But Kaushagen now lives in St. Cloud where the 31-year-old is the program coordinator for Catholic Charities Emergency Services.

In an e-mail to The Times/Northern Watch, Kaushagen explained that the former Bethlehem Lutheran church, which was built in 1916, was closed about the time he was born, but that services were held there once each summer until the 1990s.

Shortly after his wife Lori died of cancer in 1998, Kaushagen was approached by the cemetery association about the building. Prior to that, Kaushagen said, his wife also had persuaded him to approach the board about acquiring the church building. So in 1999, he acquired the church and three-quarters of an acre around it. Since then, he and friends purchased an additional 140-plus acres around the church.

In the seven years that have passed since he purchased the building, Kaushagen has slowly been renovating the church, which he now uses as an "up north getaway" for family and friends.

"In breathing new life into this 91-year-old building," said Kaushagen, "I have tried to be sensitive to the original character of the church, while considering the new use of the building. We have incorporated a few of the original furnishings into the present use. The original communion rail," for example, "serves as a balcony, the pulpit as a reading nook, an original bench-style pew as a large hanging display shelf, and the alter as part of the kitchen."

Repairs are always being made at the church. Last week, Brandt Contracting, Inc. of Pisek, N.D., began replacing and repairing the roof and steeple of the former church. Brandt Contracting specializes in church steeples, general construction, crane service, elevators, aerial shingling or painting.

Growing up nearby, Kaushagen said he would often go and wander around the building and cemetery. I have always had a love of history and architecture so I could spend hours just staring at the steeple and wondering how it was built."

Because of his efforts, many other area residents, perhaps individuals who went there while it was still a functioning church, will be able to appreciate the church. They may even appreciate the fact that someone cared enough about this important landmark on the prairie to keep it in good repair.

and did some general cleaning. Duties for the work crew involved much painting and staining as well as custodial duties. The crew washed all of the windows – inside and outside – at the Kittson Memorial Nursing Home and hospital complex and also washed every ceiling fixture in the building. She was a great help at the Kittson County Historical Society as they organized items for their auction, cleaned, stained, and helped collect data from the county's weekly papers.

Alice always followed instructions, and if she needed additional information, she was never slow to ask for advice. She was involved in the decision-making process for duties that were assigned and never showed a lack of interest, even in mundane tasks. Alice showed initiative in looking for additional work as the crew completed assigned duties. She made good decisions and liked working as part of a team. During the summer of 2006, she was employed as a child care provider and did not need the help of Youth Programs in securing employment. She did it on her own.

Since the summer of 2005, Alice has been involved with many leadership opportunities the Youth Programs have given her. She has taken part in several Focus Group meetings held in the region for youth planning purposes. She was talkative and not afraid to voice her opinions. Alice accompanied me to the WIA Annual Banquet and Awards Ceremony and also attended leadership trainings at Northland Community and Technical College on effective communication. She always believed she would meet new people and learn new things.

Alice has been dependable, cooperative and friendly. She has voiced her opinions, followed instructions and has handled last minute changes very well.

Alice graduated in June from Kittson Central School in Hallock. She has enrolled at NCTC in Thief River Falls for the fall of 2007.

Dustin Chambers

Dustin Chambers has been a worksite supervisor for Employment and Training Programs for over 10 years. Dustin's official job title is lead custodian at Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls.

Dustin is much more than a lead custodian to youth who have worked with him. He is a mentor and role model for more than 30 youth who he has supervised. He has told me that everyone needs an opportunity to be successful.

The Thief River Falls School District's mission statement is "Helping Everyone Learn and Succeed." Dustin carries that philosophy in his heart. He genuinely cares about each and every one of the youth he encounters. Dustin gives every one of our students an opportunity to grow as a student and as an employee.

Many of Dustin's former youth participants stop by the school to let him know what a difference he made in their lives.

Denise Coyer

Denise Coyer is a parent herself, and she realizes that not all kids learn at the same speed or in the same way. It is because of her patience with students who need more of her supervision and more of her experience in teaching them using different methods that makes her such a valuable youth supervisor in the Fosston School District.

Supervisors of Youth Employment participants are used to being advisers and mentors to the participants they train, but some supervisors have students who offer greater challenges to them than others. Regardless of the student's lack of job skills, Denise is always ready for the challenge with her student workers, making her this year's Outstanding Youth Supervisor.

Albert Hasbargen

Albert Hasbargen has been a Youth Programs supervisor for well over 15 years. His work through the city of Warroad gave youth another avenue of experience besides the custodial duties that were available to them at school. Now, in his position with the Warroad School District, Albert is still giving youth the opportunity of work experience through the custodial department at school.

Youth participants accumulate knowledge and skills that result from direct participation in a work program, and we are very grateful that Albert continues to give youth these opportunities. Albert is patient, kind and always ready to help give youth a chance – in other words, this year's Outstanding Supervisor.

Change is possible for everyone could join the Army. The Vietnam War was occurring at that time, and Glodoski signed up for the Army. The Army declined to allow him to serve in its ranks. The reason: He was too dangerous to fight.

However, Glodoski was able to join the Army National Guard, allowing the military to keep a closer eye on him. In addition to the Guard, Glodoski found work at Briggs & Stratton. He later worked at Pabst, but he was laid off of work. Glodoski had a few choices: sell drugs or sell Amway. He chose to sell drugs. He had more than 400 customers.

Glodoski hit his breaking point at the age of 33. At that time, he had a gun in his mouth and was prepared to commit suicide. With the help of a friend who stepped away from a life of drugs and with the help of a therapist, he found a way out. Glodoski changed his opinion of himself as a worthless person. He went to college, earning a 3.5 grade point average. He only earned a 1.0 GPA in high school.

Glodoski eventually went on to start The Spinoza Teddy Bear Company with another individual. He also volunteered to work with at-risk youth at the Ramsey County Detention Center. "I like working with kids who are struggling in life," he said.

Glodoski, who has since moved back to Milwaukee, now speaks to groups across the country. To audience members in Thief River Falls, he said kids believe the garbage they're told when they're younger. Referring to the verbal abuse some people face, he said, "When you get lied to all the time, you start believing it."

He added, "We don't tolerate verbal abuse in America; we celebrate it."

Glodoski reminded audience members of their importance. "Every one of you are brilliant. Every one of you are smart," said Glodoski, who told them they were put on Earth to reach their magnificence.

"We all have strengths and weaknesses in life," Glodoski said. He noted the purpose of his presentation was to help kids reach their hopes and dreams. To do that, he told them they have to stay away from drugs and alcohol.

According to Glodoski, the three dream killers are: No. 1 – drugs and alcohol, No. 2 – hanging around negative people and/or those who give you alcohol and drugs, and No. 3 – bullies or verbal abuse.

People make 1,000 choices a day, said Glodoski, who added that it's hard for a person to get rid of his or her negative friends. If someone hangs around with a negative person or bully, that attitude will rub off onto him or her, Glodoski said. If someone hangs around with a positive person, that attitude will also rub off onto the first person.

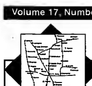
One of the hardest decisions for Glodoski was getting rid of his negative friends. It was also one of the best decisions he has ever made.

Another choice involved getting off of drugs. "One of the hardest choices I've ever made is going drug free. One of the best choices I've ever made is going drug free," said Glodoski, who has been drug free for 22 years.

Glodoski, 55, cautioned attendees to not believe the old adage "You can't teach an old dog new tricks," or the beliefs "Once a gang-banger, always a gangbanger" or "Once a drunk, always a drunk."

"Those are all lies," he said. "People can all change."

And Glodoski reminded the kids that they have potential. "You guys can do whatever you want in your lifetime. You can create whatever you want in your lifetime."



According to Glodoski, there are three ways for kids to reach their potential. "Number one is you've got to drop your flipping attitude," Glodoski told the kids. If you think you're going to have a lousy, rotten day, then you're going to have a lousy, rotten day, he said. If you think you're going to have a beautiful day, then you're going to have a beautiful day – unless someone dies.

Number two on Glodoski's list was having a burning desire, and number three was believing in oneself. "We all have strengths and weaknesses in life," he said.

And he reminded the kids that drugs and alcohol shouldn't be a part of their lives. He said, "Stay away from that garbage."

I-35W bridge collapse: A survivor's story

Roseau - On Wednesday, Aug. 1 at 6:05 p.m., former Roseau resident Aron Dahlgren, son of David and Teresa Dahlgren, "was going to see his girlfriend and was traveling southbound on Interstate 35W with rush hour traffic bumper to bumper. Aron, 23, had just entered the north end of the I-35W bridge, when he saw it crumble right before his eyes.

"Within seconds, the bridge split right underneath the front tires of his 2000 GMC Sierra, and he went nose-diving 30 feet down and landed directly behind a red car; the momentum of the fall flipped his pickup truck over and upside down onto the back of the car, crashing into the back window. Luckily, they were still on land and didn't end up in the river."

"After untangling himself from his seat belt, he crawled out on his hands and knees, and started taking the needs of others before his own needs. Aron helped a dazed lady who was in the red car underneath his truck get out safely; she had just minor cuts and bruises. Other victims were getting out of their vehicles while Aron walked her off of the bridge; all of the people left the scene as a group."

Aron was brought to the University of Minnesota Medical Center, "where he was released later that same evening with just minor cuts on his hands and knees. Aron was one of the lucky ones." - The Tribune of Greenbush, Aug. 8, 2007, by Alicia Wicklund

"Walk for Memory" will be held in Crookston Sept. 8

Crookston - "The 'Walk for Memory' Committee will hold a fundraising event to benefit the surrounding communities and the Alzheimer's Association of Minnesota – North Dakota. The walk will be held Saturday, Sept. 8 from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. in Crookston.

"The walk will begin at the RiverView Health Care Center parking lot and will end at the Villa St. Vincent Summit.

"A ribbon-cutting ceremony will begin the walk with a special gathering for all participants and families, including special guests with information and discussion on support and services needed by area residents.

"Crookston, Red Lake Falls and surrounding community residents of all ages are urged to participate in the event.

"For more information, contact Elaine Sylvester at (218) 281-9467 or Lenore Anderson at (218) 207-8375 or (218) 253-4102 (days)." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, Aug. 8, 2007

Mightier than the sword

Roseau - "After working at Hanson Family's Furniture for 22 years, with 12 of those years as the owner, Rod Hanson eventually retired to discover, about four years ago, that he had quite a talent and an eye for creating custom writing instruments in both native and exotic woods.

"Working with a mini lathe, Rod painstakingly creates each elegant and individually unique writing instrument from a single seven-inch blank, and each is personally designed to grace the writing hand of its future discriminating owner comfortably and with a delicate balance. The art of such finely detailed lathe work requires not only a steady hand and eye but also an extensive knowledge of the attributes of each variety of the exotic and native woods that he has available for this clients." - Roseau Times-Region, Aug. 4, 2007, by Al Buffum

"I looked at my roommate and said, 'Should we go?'"

LHS grad helps at I-35W bridge collapse

Nicole Kopari

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Nicole Kopari doesn't like the attention she has been receiving lately. As she said, she was just doing her job Aug. 1.

Nicole, a 1999 Lincoln High School graduate, lives about one mile from the Interstate 35W bridge over the Mississippi River. At 6:05 p.m. Aug. 1, the bridge collapsed during rush hour and as construction work occurred on the bridge. Eight people died, and five people are still missing.

Nearby, Nicole and one of her roommates, Melissa Wayne, had just gotten home from work. Still wearing their medical scrubs, they were eating dinner. They didn't hear the bridge collapse. However, within a few minutes of the collapse, Melissa's mom called her to tell her about the disaster. Nicole and Melissa, both University of Minnesota medical students, turned on the TV and listened to the news reports.

"The fire was still going," said Nicole. "It had just made the news."

The two women knew what they had to do. "I looked at my roommate and said, 'Should we go?'" Nicole recalled. Twenty seconds later, they threw on their tennis shoes and ran to the bridge. On their way there, they saw a classmate, Heather Nelson, in traffic. As Nicole put it, she and Melissa hijacked Heather's car.

The three women made their way to the bridge. Upon their arrival, they told a police officer they were there to help. Nicole, Melissa and Heather ran about a half-mile from their parking spot to the riverbank. By the time the women arrived, law enforcement were still clearing the scene, and firefighters were still putting out the fire on the bridge. The women were told injured people needed help on the other side of the river. Nicole recalled that it would be another one-mile run before they would be able to help the injured people. If they ran, they might not get there in time. However, Nicole and Melissa were able to ride in a boat to the other side of the river. The boat could only take two people at a time. Eventually, Heather made it to the other side of the river.

At that location, firefighters and law enforcement officers were pulling people from their cars. Nicole and her classmates soon began helping at the scene. They assessed patients, checked pulses, counted respirations and determined who needed to go to the hospital first. In the 95-degree heat, they also helped load patients into nearby pickup trucks since ambulance crews experienced difficulties in getting to the riverbank. Two patients at a time were placed into each pickup truck and transported to Hennepin County Medical Center. The people who were critically injured were transported first. Those people who didn't have critical injuries suffered from such things as back pain, broken bones and/or broken ribs.

About two hours after arriving at the riverbank, Nicole and her classmates were finished with their work. They crawled up the riverbank, walked across another bridge and worked at the Red Cross for another

Fuel checks conducted in TRF this week

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Some drivers did nothing wrong, but they were pulled over anyway by Minnesota State Patrol troopers Tuesday and Wednesday in Thief River Falls. The reason: A fuel compliance check.

"They're checking to see that they're using the proper fuel," said Dave Savard, revenue tax specialist with the Minnesota Department of Revenue.

The compliance checks were a joint effort of the MDR and the Minnesota State Patrol. They were conducted to determine if drivers were operating private or commercial vehicles with diesel fuel that had been dyed red. The diesel fuel is dyed red to show that the fuel is intended for off-highway use. It's also dyed red in an effort to determine whether someone hasn't paid federal or state fuel taxes. It's estimated that state and federal treasuries lose several hundred million dollars annually due to people who do not pay those fuel taxes, according to the Minnesota Department of Public Safety Web site.

The troopers performed compliance checks at several Thief River Falls locations, said Lt. Tim Rogotzke, who conducts compliance checks at various locations around the state. He added that the compliance checks were completed in areas near four-way stop signs or areas in 30-mph zones to ensure the safety of the drivers and troopers. Signs notified drivers of the

To be young and flying high

Tony Dykstra, left, flew his uncle Derrek Jenson, right, to Roseau last week after taking off in Thief River Falls. Dykstra, 17, has been taking flying lessons since the age of 14. He received his pilot's license earlier this year.

Area officers save Roseau infant

Three law enforcement officers saved a 4-month-old infant who was suffering from respiratory failure Aug. 2 in Roseau.

The Roseau County Sheriff's Office received a 911 call that the 4-month-old, Miko Toumala, stopped breathing at about 7:30 a.m. Aug. 2 at 811 Third St. N.E. in Roseau. Toumala, who was born premature, was at home on a heart monitor at the time that law enforcement received the call that he had stopped breathing, according to Minnesota State Patrol Capt. Dick Wittenberg.

Joe Strand, a U.S. Customs and Border Protection Border Patrol agent, and Steve Vanderport, a Minnesota State Patrol trooper, responded and immediately began CPR on Toumala. After several minutes of rescue breathing, Toumala regained a weak pulse and began breathing. Jeff Klein, a Roseau police officer, maintained radio communications with the responding ambulance.

Toumala was then transported by ambulance to Roseau Area Hospital and later airlifted to a Fargo, N.D., hospital for further care. Toumala is doing fine, Wittenberg said on Aug. 9.

"This is yet another illustration of good community policing and the important role Customs and Border Protection plays in our communities," said Chief Patrol Agent Scott Baker. "Partnerships and law enforcement cooperation are essential to achieve mission success, and today, these efforts resulted in the saving of an infant's life."

National Night Out

Anissia Boutain helped her 19-month-old granddaughter Sophia Brown spray a fire hose Tuesday during the National Night Out observance at Peder Engelstad Pioneer Village in Thief River Falls. The Thief River Falls Fire Department offered kids and adults the opportunity to use the fire hose. The city of Thief River Falls was among more than 11,000 communities in the U.S., Canada and military bases worldwide to participate in the "Night Out Against Crime." More than 900 people attended the Thief River Falls event.

Flying by milestones

Tony Dykstra continues to fly by the milestones

by Scott DComp
Reporter

Thief River Falls resident Maynard Jenson is rarely at a loss for words when he describes the abilities of his teenage grandson, Tony Dykstra. And Jenson may have the right to do a bit of bragging.

Dykstra is part of a select group of young pilots who have obtained their pilot's license before the age of 18. In Minnesota, one must reach the age of 17 before it is legal to attain a private pilots license. Tony turned 17 on April 8 and he received his pilot's license a little more than two months later, on June 19.

"He's an excellent pilot," Jenson said. "It's pretty amazing what he's been doing."

Most adults can only dream of being able to fly a plane or possess Tony's flying ability. But the 17-year-old takes it all in stride. "It was good to get it done," he said of receiving his pilot's license. "It was a lot of stress waiting."

Flying milestones have come at a young age for Dykstra. He began taking flying lessons from his grandfather, Robert Dykstra, when he was 14. He completed his first solo flight the day after his 16th birthday last year and since then he has continued making solo flights and logging training hours, including a 250-nautical mile flight from Pipestone to Thief River Falls in August 2006.

Dykstra had a busy schedule last week. He flew to Thief River Falls with his "wing girl" Shay Van Ruler; made a second flight to Roseau, where he dropped off his uncle Derrek Jenson in Roseau; he made a return trip to Thief River Falls to pick-up Van Ruler, and returned to his hometown of Pipestone.

Dykstra had to complete 20 hours of solo flight time and 20 hours of one-on-one instruction to be eligible to receive his private pilot's license. He also had to pass both written and air tests.

He plans to make flying a part of his career and is logging hours to make him eligible for a commercial license. He must complete 50 hours of cross-country flying and 250 hours of total flying. After receiving his commercial license, Dykstra hopes to work in commercial crop spraying or air taxi service.

Dykstra is the son of Dawn (Jenson) and Todd Dykstra of Pipestone and the grandson of Maynard and Barb Jenson of Thief River Falls.

Cadet receives "solo wings"

Cadet Master Sgt. Brandon Widing of the Northwest Minnesota Composite Squadron, Civil Air Patrol, graduated from the Minnesota Wing Flight Academy 2007 held at the Mankato Airport from July 13 to 21. Widing graduated as a solo pilot from the academy and was awarded "solo pilot wings."

To be awarded "solo wings," Widing had to complete a minimum of one takeoff and landing as the sole occupant of the Cessna 172P aircraft. Widing's flight instructor was Capt. Michael Hartel of Savage.

Widing will begin his junior year at Lincoln High School this fall. He has been a member of CAP for three years and will continue his flight training locally to achieve his goal of earning a Federal Aviation Administration private pilot certificate.

The Minnesota Wing Flight Academy provides each powered aircraft student four class periods each eight-hour training day. To develop the student's flight skills, the student spends two class periods each day flying with an FAA certified flight instructor in a Cessna 172 aircraft. The other two daily class periods are classroom instruction, learning flight procedures, FAA flight rules and the physics of flight.

This year marked the 39th consecutive Minnesota Wing Flight Academy. Thirty-one cadets from the ages of 14 to 18 were selected to attend the academy this year in the powered and glider training programs. At this year's academy, 21 students received their "solo wings," eight received their "supervised solo wings" and two students received their FAA private pilot glider certificates. All of the FAA flight instructors and staff at the academy volunteer their time and expertise for the nine-day academy to teach cadets how to fly powered or glider aircraft.

Widing is the fifth cadet from the local squadron to be accepted to attend this annual flight training event in the past few years. The local squadron cadets meet every Thursday at 6:30 p.m. at the Thief River Falls Regional Airport. Those interested in the CAP Cadet Program are welcome to a meeting or call [illegible] for more information at [illegible].

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacourse@mncable.net

If you have a garden, bet you're busy taking care of it about now. Use some of that fresh produce for the following dishes.

Sometimes I just want a hot dog. This sounds like a good way to have it:

CORN DOG CASSEROLE
1 cup thinly sliced celery
1 tablespoon butter
3/4 cup sliced green onions
3/4 pound hot dogs
1 egg
3/4 cup milk
1 teaspoon rubbed sage
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1 (8 1/2 ounces) package corn bread/muffin mix
1 cup shredded sharp cheddar cheese, divided

In skillet, sauté celery in butter for 5 minutes. Add onions and sauté for 5 minutes. Set aside in large bowl.

Cut hot dogs lengthwise into quarters and then into thirds. In the same skillet, sauce hot dogs for 5 minutes or until lightly browned. Add to vegetables in bowl. Set aside 1/2 cup of the mixture.

In another large bowl, combine egg, milk, sage and pepper. Add the hot dog/vegetable mixture. Stir in corn bread mix and add 3/4 cup of the cheese. Spread in shallow 1 1/2 quart baking dish. Top with reserved hot dog mixture and remaining cheese. Bake, uncovered, at 400 degrees for 30 minutes or until golden brown. Serves 6.

If you have grown green beans this year you are probably ready for something new - try this delicious dish:

GREEN BEANS ALMANDINE
1 pound fresh (or frozen) green beans, cut in 2 inch pieces
1/2 cup water
1/4 cup slivered almonds
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 teaspoon lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon seasoned salt (optional)

Bring beans and water to boil. Reduce heat to medium, cover and cook 10-15 minutes until beans are crisp-tender. Drain and set aside.

In large skillet, cook almonds in butter over low heat. Stir in lemon juice and seasoned salt (or regular salt). Add beans and heat through. Recipe serves 6 with 1/2 cup servings.

Nutritional Info: Each 1/2 cup serving (made with margarine and no season salt) equals 92 calories, 50 mg sodium, 0 chol, 7 gm carb, 3 gm protein, 7 gm fat. Diabetic exchange is 1 1/2 fat and 1 vegetable.

Overrun with zucchini? Make this tasty dish as a side with anything:

ZUCCHINI CORN SAUTE
4 1/2 cups sliced zucchini (1/4 inch slices)
1/4 cup diced onion
1 tablespoon olive or canola oil
1 1/2 cup fresh or frozen (thawed) corn
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cumin
1/8 teaspoon pepper

In skillet, sauté zucchini and onion in oil for 4-5 minutes. Stir in corn and sauté 2 minutes more or until veggies are tender. Sprinkle with salt, cumin and pepper. Serves 4.

Nutritional Info: One serving (3/4 cup) equals 104 calories, 4 g fat, 0 chol, 3070 mg sodium, 16 g carb, 3 g fiber, 4 g protein. Diabetic Exchange is 1 vegetable, 1/2 starch and 1/2 fat.

I've been looking for a good apple pie like this - I'm going to have apples soon (mine are really early) and I'm going to make this pie as soon as they're ready:

DUTCH APPLE PIE
2 cups flour
1 cup packed brown sugar
3/4 cup butter, melted
1/2 cup quick cooking oats
Filling:
2/3 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 1/4 cups water
3 cups diced tart apples, peeled
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine first 4 ingredients and set aside 1 cup for topping. Press remaining crumbs into ungreased 9 inch pie plate and set aside.

To make filling, combine sugar, cornstarch and water in saucepan until smooth. Bring to a boil and cook and stir for 1 minute or until thickened. Remove from heat and stir in apples and vanilla.

Pour into crust and top with reserved crumbs. Bake at 350 degrees for 40-45 minutes until crust is golden.

One person injured in one-vehicle rollover Friday

One person was injured in a one-vehicle rollover north of Karlstad on Friday morning.

That person suffered a minor cut to his or her hand, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. As of press time Friday, that person, a passenger in the car, hadn't been identified in the report. The report doesn't list whether that person was taken to a hospital. The driver, Bradley J. Johnson, 39, Karlstad, wasn't injured in the crash.

At the time of the accident, Johnson was driving a 2003 Pontiac Grand Prix southbound on Highway 59. According to the report, he swerved to avoid a deer and then over-corrected. His car then rolled. The car was totalled. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 6:16 a.m. Friday.

Evening Car Cruise event planned for Aug. 16 in Lancaster

The next Evening Car Cruise event hosted by the Street Wizards Car Club will be held on Thursday evening August 16th and will be the "End-of-the-Line" cruise on Highway 59 North to Lancaster. This event will be a joint cruise-in with all car clubs and car enthusiasts from NW Minnesota and Eastern North Dakota invited to attend.

Lancaster activities include a car show and an outdoor barbeque starting at 7 p.m. until dark. The TRF Cruise will meet at the Gazebo Parking Lot at 6:15 and will leave promptly at 6:30 p.m. Other car cruisers can join in as the route will follow Highway 59 North. Note the change to Thursday and the earlier departure time.

All special interest vehicles are invited and you do not have to be a club member to participate. The car show is free to both cruisers and spectators. There will be a charge for the barbecue meal. Event will be held only if weather is favorable. Street Wizards cruise night cell phone number is 1-218-686-5611 or call Tara at 1-218-762-8441.

LHS Student Orientation sessions set

Students and parents who are new to Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls are invited to attend a "New Student Orientation Session."

A session takes about 75 to 90 minutes and covers the following information: student's schedule, locker number, lunch number and schedule, free and reduced lunch forms, Internet access forms, potential school activities outside of the school day, the school calendar, the bell schedule and a tour of the building.

Several sessions, between Aug. 21 and 24, have been scheduled so that parents and students can select the date and time most convenient to them.

The sessions will begin in the Lincoln High School Career Center or the auditorium. Signs will direct parents and students to the proper room.

The following session options are available:
- Tuesday, Aug. 21, 10:30 a.m., 1, 2:30 and 7 p.m.
- Wednesday, Aug. 22, 10:30 a.m., 1 and 2:30 p.m.
- Thursday, Aug. 23, 10:30 a.m., 1, 2:30 and 7 p.m.
- Friday, Aug. 24, 1 p.m.

To sign up for a session, call 681-8672 during the day. Please bring the student's social security number.

Informational meetings on pipeline proposals are scheduled

The Minnesota Department of Commerce will conduct public information meetings at locations in northwestern Minnesota including the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk, Clearwater, and Beltrami. The purpose of the meetings is to discuss three new expansion pipeline projects referred to as the LSr., Alberta Clipper and Southern Lights Diluent Projects that would cross northern Minnesota in close proximity to existing pipeline rights-of-way.

Notice of these meetings were posted in local newspapers, including the Aug. 1 edition of The Times. These notices include a brief explanation of the project, the process Enbridge will follow and opportunities to participate in discussions about the projects.

The notice explains that Enbridge is seeking authorization to build three different petroleum pipelines. The purpose of which is to increase crude petroleum transportation services between the oil sands in Western Canada and refineries in the Midwest.

Information meetings will be conducted at the following locations and times:
- Kittson County, at the VFW and Cafe in Kennedy, 102 5th Street East, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 13;
- Marshall County, at the Stephen Community Center in Stephen, from 6 to 9 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 13;
- Pennington County, at the Best Western in Thief River Falls from 6 to 9 p.m. on Tuesday, Aug. 14;
- Red Lake County, at the Oklee Community Hall in Oklee from 1 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 15.
- Polk County, at the Gully Community Center from 6 to 9 p.m. on WEdnesday, Aug. 15, at the Gully Community Center, ;
- Clearwater, at the City Hall Gym in Clearbrook, from 6 to 9 p.m. on Thursday, Aug. 16;
- Beltrami/Hubbard, at the Holiday Inn Express Conference Center in Bemidji from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and again from 6 to 9 p.m. on Monday, Aug. 20.

MDE awards grant to W/A/O School District

The Minnesota Department of Education has announced that it has approved a Warren/Alvarado/Oslo School District grant for a 21st Century Community Learning Center. MDE funded 15 applications out of the 78 received throughout the state of Minnesota. The grant is a three-year grant with a probable expansion of up to five years. Sue Sholes wrote the grant, which will cover the center for high school students.

In awarding the grant, MDE will require the the 21st Century Learning Center to increase academic achievement of participating students in one or more core academic areas, increase school connectedness of program-participants and increase the capacity of participants to become productive adults.

The center, located in W/A/O High School, will provide a safe, nurturing environment to approximately 100 students in grades 7-12 who fall in the lower 40th percentile according to national standardized test scores and the Minnesota Comprehensive Assessment Tests. Programming at no cost to participants will include academic tutoring, mentoring, immediate remediation for students who have failed required courses, afterschool and summer enrichment programs with snacks provided, recreational activities, literacy programs, character education, parent information nights and family activities, and career fairs. Academic breakfast celebrations will be held to recognize students' improved academic achievements. The center will also include ACT/SAT preparation, expanded library hours, and lifelong healthy recreational skills. The programming will increase the age-appropriateness opportunities for youth and guide youth in a positive, productive direction.

Participating students and their parents will be involved in providing input for potential community resources that may be of particular interest to parents or students. Later after-school bussing for all students is available through this grant.

LONG BEFORE THE INTERNET...

In Memory
Brandon 1984-2002

Five years have come and gone. Five years of shock, grief, and finally the reality, that you won't be coming home. Five years of wondering what kind of man you'd be. Would you have found the love of your life or followed your dream of becoming a writer. Your death has taken so much from our family. We miss the way you laughed, your huge smile and mostly, the way you listened. For us, time does not heal, our wound is too deep. We go on with our day to day routine, always searching for that normal life. A new normal without you in it.
17 years of memories that we keep alive everyday. We teach your little nieces and nephews the kind of uncle, son and brother you were and still wish you could be. Only God knows why you had to leave us, only God can ease our pain. As we camp at Hayes Lake this weekend in your honor, our campfires will be filled with stories of the past. Each year as the family camps together, we reminisce as we make new memories. Five years of missing you, still praying it is only a dream. Five years but it seems like only yesterday we heard you say, "I love you guys and wear your seat belt". We love you too. Cody
Dad, Mom and all your family

YOUR TIMING WON'T BE OFF
WHEN YOU INVEST REGULARLY.
If one of your worries is whether you're investing at the right time, it shouldn't be. By investing a set amount of money regularly, you establish a simple routine that can help make your financial goals a reality.
In addition, investing regularly can:
• Make it possible to use market fluctuations to your advantage
• Add potential growth and diversification to your portfolio
• Keep your long-term financial goals in focus
To learn how investing on a regular basis can help you reach your financial goals, call or visit your local investment representative today.
Investing a set amount of money on a regular basis does not ensure a profit and does not protect against loss in declining markets. Such a plan involves continual investment in securities regardless of fluctuating price levels of such securities. You should consider your financial ability to continue the purchases through periods of low price levels.

No injuries reported after two-vehicle accident Monday

No injuries were reported after an accident between a car and a semi tractor Monday morning in McIntosh.

At the time of the accident, Curtiss J. Schwegel, 45, Nisswa, was driving a 2000 Volvo semi tractor eastbound on Highway 2, and Erwin H. Rude, 78, Winger, was driving a 2001 Ford Taurus northbound on Polk County State Aid Highway 41. According to the Minnesota State Patrol report, Rude failed to yield to Schwegel, resulting in the accident. Both drivers were wearing their seat belts. Rude's car sustained severe damage, and Schwegel's semi tractor sustained minor damage. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 10:58 a.m. Monday.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum; the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates at your job at no obligation to you.

Operation Round Up grant applications due Sept. 10

Organizations involved in community projects and charities are encouraged to apply for funds from Operation Round Up at this time. Completed grant applications are due in the Red Lake Electric Cooperative office by Sept. 10, 2007.

Operation Round Up is a program adopted by Red Lake Electric Cooperative headquartered in Red Lake Falls. Customers choosing to "round up" their monthly electric bill payments provide funds for this effort. Over 85 percent of Red Lake Electric members are now choosing to contribute pennies each month to enhance their communities.

Funds will be donated primarily to nonprofit organizations to help fund their specific projects or programs. Since the program began in 1993, $279,498 has been gronted to community organizations and charities. Money is donated for betterment of the community within the outside service area boundaries of Red Lake Electric Cooperotive.

The Red Lake Electric Trust Board of Directors determines grants. Board members are Rodney Hoffman, Goodridge; Kim Swanson, Thief River Falls; Bonnie Cote and Kelly Lundeen, Trail; and Ron Kennedy of Red Lake Falls.

To apply for Operation Round Up grants, organizations should contact the Red Lake Electric office in Red Lake Falls at 218-253-2168 or 1-800-245-6068. A short application form must be completed and submitted along with a financial statement from the organization.

For more information, contact Ron Kennedy, general manager of Red Lake Electric Cooperative at (218) 253-2168 or 1-800-245-6068.

MN Fallen Hero Wall is a no show In TRF

Due to personnel changes, the Minnesota Fallen Hero Wall that had been scheduled to be at the American Legion in Thief River Falls on Aug. 8, failed to appear in Thief River Falls.

Jim Barry of the American Legion in Thief River Falls said he was told that there were some personnel changes with the organization arranging for the wall to appear in Thief River Falls. During the changes, the request from Thief River Falls was misplaced. Barry said representatives of the organization said they would to try and fit Thief River Falls in its schedule in the near future.

The Minnesota Fallen Hero Wall is a memorial dedicated to Minnesota heroes who fought in the global war on terrorism.

TRF Committee of the Whole to discuss budget cuts

In one month, the Thief River Falls City Council will have to formally vote on a preliminary city budget for 2008 and a preliminary property tax levy for 2008. At their next Committee of the Whole meeting, council members will continue their discussions about the budget and tax levy. That meeting is scheduled Tuesday, Aug. 14 at 4:30 p.m. at City Hall.

That discussion will center on how council members wish to cope with $1,003,100 in capital outlay requests from city department leaders. If all of those requests were funded, the city would have to raise the net local tax levy to $1,953,075, an increase of 16.6 percent over the 2007 levy of $1,675,430.

The council met Tuesday, Aug. 7 at Peder Engelstad Pioneer Village in Thief River Falls. At that meeting, Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen noted he would like council members, city department leaders and others to bring their specific suggestions of budget cuts to the next Committee of the Whole meeting. Nordhagen said he would like to see something more realistic than a 16.6 percent increase of the levy.

The council has to make its decision before Sept. 12, when the council is required to have a preliminary city budget for 2008 and a preliminary property tax levy for 2008. Prior to formal approval in December, the amount of the levy cannot increase. However, it can decrease.

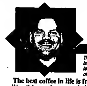
Warroad man Injured in accident August 4

A Warroad man was injured after a two-vehicle accident one mile north of Warroad on Aug. 4.

Michael D. Peterson, 21, suffered a minor injury and was treated by an ambulance crew, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. The other driver, Raymond J. Mosehner, 41, Warroad, wasn't injured in the crash.

At the time of the accident, Peterson was driving a 1999 Oldsmobile Intrigue westbound on Roseau County Road 13 and was crossing Highway 313. According to the report, he pulled into the path of a southbound 1994 Oldsmobile Cutlass driven by Mosehner. Both drivers were wearing their seat belts. Both cars were totalled.

The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 2:41 p.m. Aug. 4. The Roseau County Sheriff's Office and Warroad Police Department provided assistance.



Pintabian Horse Exposition to be held Aug. 18 and 19

The fifth annual Pintabian Horse Exposition will be held Aug. 18 and 19 at the Roseau County Fairgrounds. Owners of Arabian horses and half-Arabian horses are welcome to participate. Spectators are also welcome to attend.

The show will start with halter classes at 2 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 18. The first halter futurity will be held this year, where participants compete for a jackpot worth several thousand dollars. Saturday evening will include a potluck supper and stallion breeding auction. Sunday's schedule includes western pleasure, costume, driving, games, as well as classes specifically for younger riders, older riders and for any age beginners. High point prizes will be awarded for each division. The show and exposition are sponsored by Northern Minnesota Pintabian Breeders Inc., which is a nonprofit organization.

Pintabians are a relatively new breed that got their start mostly in northwestern Minnesota. They are over 99 percent Arabian with tobiano markings. They have a short dished head, which is wide-set between large eyes, a long arched neck, a short back, a level hip and a high tail carriage. Pintabians are ideal for pleasure, showing, competitive and endurance sports, driving, racing, or just family fun.

To request a free information packet about Pintabians, write Pintabian Horse Registry, PO Box 360, Karlstad, MN 56732. See www.pintabians.org to learn more about the show or call (218) 762-6881 to request a show bill.

The best coffee in life is free

We all have close associations; I have work friends, friends from Viking and I am lucky enough to have a wife, friend - Lisa. There is one friend who I take for granted, but holds a large place in my life, my coffee friend - a 20-ounce, insulated Pennington Main coffee cup, which allows me free coffee and rarely leaves my side.

First off, I like coffee - a lot. I like the smell of coffee and I like the social reaction that occurs when people gather around hot cups of coffee. I like good coffee - strong, fresh and black - I don't want anything in my coffee except coffee. Good coffee is expensive; great coffee is priceless. Cheap coffee usually isn't worth the cost.

I've always valued my free coffee cup, as they don't sell this cup anymore; you have to pay 49 cents for a fill in the new cup. Therefore, I like to keep my coffee cup in service no matter what injuries it sustains, a fact evidenced by the huge crack along its side, which I recently repaired with epoxy. It's more of a fast and sloppy Bondo job than anything, but it holds coffee and at least I didn't use duct tape.

My relationship with my cup runs deeper than the river of coffee I've swallowed from its insulated confines. We've grown so close that I sometimes imagine that my cup and I enjoy a relationship like Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid; I even imagine us together in some of the scenes from the movie of the same name, like when Butch and Sundance jump from the cliff into the river below. In the movie, Sundance, like me, admits at the last moment that he can't swim although Butch comforts him that it doesn't matter as the fall will probably kill them both. In my melodrama, the cup and I jump from the cliff and we are both able to float using the natural buoyancy of my cup's insulation. I've even dreamed that my cup and I leave this world like Butch and Sundance did in the movie when they ran out of that barn and into a hail of bullets from the Bolivian lawmen. (I know the movie is not historically correct - I don't care.) I think the opposite side of this fantasy would be the odd relationship that Butch, Sundance and Etta Place (Sundance's girlfriend) enjoyed. Butch always flirted a little with Etta, which Sundance seemed to tolerate, but I don't think I could tolerate my coffee cup driving Lisa around on the handlebars of his bicycle (use your imagination), while BJ Thomas sang "Raindrops Keep Fallin' on my Head." Perhaps it's better for me to keep things simple and see my cup as a cup and myself as, well ... maybe I can still be the Sundance Kid.

I walked from work to Pennington Main for a free cup just this morning; I needed a shot of caffeine at two in the morning and my cup likes the fresh air. We are close friends, and except for that decaf period a few years ago, we rarely bicker. My coffee cup and I enjoy each other's company and a relationship based on love, respect and "Breakfast Blend." Others should be so lucky.

Tucker Hibbert is back on board with Arctic Cat

Tucker Hibbert will continue his longtime relationship with Team Arctic Racing for the 2007-2008 snocross season. Coming off one of the most successful seasons of his career, Hibbert will race the first five World PowerSports Association's Snowmobile events and ESPN's Winter X Games before moving onto his fifth American Motorcyclist Association's Supercross Lites East Coast series.

"I'm really excited about re-signing with Arctic Cat and racing the new SnoPro 600. I've been with them my entire career and it's awesome to have support from such a great company," Hibbert said.

"I have a long-term relationship with Tucker and have known him since he was a boy," said Team Arctic's Race Director, Russ Ebert. "His dedication to motorsports is extremely high. Tucker showed last year how quickly he could come back and rise to the top. I believe that he will have an even stronger presence in the snocross arena for the 2007-2008 season. All of us at Arctic Cat are very excited to have Tucker back on board for another year."

Hibbert returned to the WPSA Snowmobile Tour last year after a three-year semi-retirement to focus on his motorcycle career. His first year back, he won four WPSA pro finals and the gold medal at the prestigious Winter X Games. Hibbert now holds 29 WPSA pro wins and six Winter X Games snocross medals.

"I consider this past year the most successful of my career in snocross, supercross and motocross. Racing year-round and competing at the highest level in two sports keeps me competitive and on top of my mental game. I'm confident and hopeful that I can start this new snocross season right where I left off, on-top," Hibbert said.

Similar to the 2006-2007 season, Hibbert will be operating his own team. His father and recent Snowmobile Hall of Fame inductee, Kirk Hibbert, will return as his crew chief with Paul Engelstad as his mechanic. Again, Arctic Cat has given Hibbert the flexibility to bring in his own title and associate sponsors.

"I'm fortunate to have such a unique program with Arctic Cat," Hibbert said. "I take a lot of pride in having my own team. I consider my dad and Paul two of the most talented mechanics in the industry. We had a blast working together last year. Also, having my own team allows me to continue long-term relationships with past sponsors and begin relationships with new sponsors."

Hibbert has two scheduled motocross events before he heads back to snocross; the AMA Toyota Motocross Championship at Spring Creek MX Park in Millville on Aug. 12, and the Monster Energy Motocross Nationals East/West Shootout in Walton, Ontario, Canada, on Aug. 19. Hibbert will kick-off his snocross season Nov. 23 at the AMSOIL Duluth National at Spirit Mountain in Duluth.

DNR issues open burning restrictions for most of Minnesota

With dry conditions persisting throughout much of Minnesota, wildfire agencies have further restricted open burning in portions of the state.

Beginning Friday, Aug. 10, by order of the Commissioner of the Department of Natural Resources, Mark Holsten, no open burning, including the use of burning barrels, will be allowed in Aitkin, Anoka, Beltrami, Benton, Carlton, Cass, Chisago, Cook, Crow Wing, Douglas, Grant, Hennepin, Hubbard, Isanti, Itasca, Kanabec, Koochiching, Lake, Lake of the Woods, Mille Lacs, Morrison, Ottertail, Pine, Pope, Ramsey, Sherburne, St. Louis, Stearns, Stevens, Todd, Wadena, Washington and Wright counties.

In addition, recreational fires or campfires will only be allowed in a designated fire receptacle designed for such use, provided it is associated with a residence, dwelling, campground or resort.

"The decision to restrict burning in these areas is not taken lightly," said David Epperly, the director of the Division of Forestry. "Conditions in the state have created a situation where any uncontained fire could spread and result in extensive damage or injury."

Much of the state is currently in the midst of a moderate to severe drought. In addition to affecting agricultural crops, the lack of precipitation allows vegetation in forests and grasslands to cure and dry, making them far more susceptible to ignition and increasing the rate of spread of a fire once started.

Fire behavior analysts consider several factors when predicting fire danger. The obvious factors, like temperature, humidity and wind speed, are considered with less obvious factors like the types of fuel available, moisture content of the fuels, the soil moisture, and potential for future precipitation. Several stations within Minnesota calculate fuel moisture each day and their measurements are factored into the equation.

Recent measurements show numerous stations within Minnesota are showing the larger dead fuels have moistures of less than 18 percent.

DNR Fire Behavior Analyst Doug Miedtke said when moisture in large dead material falls this low, the potential for fires to spread is compounded with difficulty in controlling them should they start.

"If these larger fuels ignite, fire intensity increases dramatically, requiring additional effort to extinguish and often cannot be worked on without heavy equipment or air support," Miedtke said.

Restrictions will remain in place until sufficient precipitation is received to moderate the fire danger. If normal precipitation is not received in the near future, it may necessitate expanding the area.

Firefighters caution everyone to be extra careful with their outdoor activities, even recreational or campfires within receptacles have the potential to ignite nearby fuels.

"Stay with your fire, have water handy, as well as a means of dispensing it," Miedtke said. "We want to protect the people and resources we care for."

Demand for cheap products is driving our market

A series of safety problems with Chinese imports may bring about action that is overdue. Maybe we should have been paying attention earlier and frequently with our wallets.

Americans love their pets. So, pets dying from onsafe ingredients found in pet food provided by China to suppliers in the United States got our attention in a hurry. Maybe we should have been paying attention earlier when manufacturers of ATVs were complaining about imports (not necessarily from China) that weren't being held up to the same health and safety scrutiny products manufactured in the U.S. face. Not only were consumers being injured, they argued, but U.S. manufacturers were getting a black eye in the market from all of the problems.

Nothing happened, but it did get worse. Wooden trains and railroad sets that were made in China were recalled after it was discovered that they were coated with toxic lead paint. We can't have children playing with toys coated with lead-based paint because we know lead causes injury. But then, there were more problems. What followed were recalls and regulatory actions against a variety of Chinese-made products, including toys, tires, toothpaste and seafood.

Recently, Sen. Amy Klobuchar joined a group of senators challenging top leaders of federal safety agencies to be more vigilant in protecting American consumers, especially children, from dangerous and defective products.

Klobuchar is demanding that federal agencies do a better job. The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission needs to act more vigorously on behalf of consumers, she said, by doing more product inspections, ordering recalls more quickly and alerting the public to potentially dangerous products.

Federal agencies aren't able to respond because total staff at the Commission has dropped by over half - from 978 in 1980 to barely 400 today. The Commission has only about 100 field inspectors and compliance personnel nationwide to conduct inspections at ports, warehouses and stores. Obviously, the degree of safety we demand cannot be achieved by so few.

The obvious solution we are to draw from this explanation, it appears, is to hire more staff to protect our interests.

The American public does deserve better, but since there hasn't been a clamor from consumers who have been saving millions of dollars on all the products they purchase from companies that utilize abundant cheap labor, and less stringent safety requirements, nothing has been done. Inconsistent? Yes. Hypocritical? Definitely. We know what needs to be done, but are we willing to do it?

Set Me Free Festival is Aug. 18 in Erskine

On Saturday, August 18, Set Me Free Festival, an outdoor music festival, is coming to Erskine. What's even better is this event is free to everyone. Festival goers can spend all day listening to great music and awesome speakers, and it's all free.

The festival will be held in downtown Erskine, in the Garden Valley parking lot. If the weather doesn't cooperate and rain sets in, the festival will be held in the Win-E-Mac High School gym. Food vendors will also be available.

The festival will highlight great bands from neighboring communities and as far away as the state of Florida. So what kind music will be at the festival? During the afternoon, the festival will feature worship bands with music sure to please people of all ages, from the strollers to the wheelchairs and everyone in between. In the evening, the bands are ready to rock. The music will be more geared to young people and anyone not afraid to rock out.

Along with the positive music, the festival will feature two great speakers. Today, there are so many negative influences and the festival is intended to bring something positive to area communities.

The First Baptist Worship Band of Bemidji will kick off the day of music in the afternoon, at 2 p.m. At 3 p.m., hear Thonya Rood as she sings and shares her testimony of how God's grace and forgiveness set her free.

Following Rood's testimony at around 4 p.m., the Scott Flaten Band out of Fergus Falls will perform. The band is a product of four guys and a girl who love music and have a passion for Jesus. After a couple of years playing together every week for a youth group, the band decided to take the show on the road.

Following them at 5 p.m. will be the Mark Rath Band. Rath is the executive director of Youth for Christ in Grand Forks, N.D. Rath and his band perform music that's fun and worship that's real. They have performed hundreds of concerts in North Dakota, South Dakota and Minnesota.

Newly added to the festival lineup is Dwight Kiefert and he is expected to go on stage around 6 p.m. He has written the newly released book "On the Way Home - A True Story of a Family's Triumph over Tragedy." Join Kiefert as he shares his story about the tragic loss of his young son, Matthew, killed by a drunken school bus driver in 1987 and the direction and faith he finally found that he and his family clung to in their darkest hour.

The band following Kiefert at 7 p.m., hailing from Fargo, N.D., is called A Work Begun. It will get the rock show started, bringing a passionate, energetic show wherever they go. Around 8 p.m. NoiseUnion, also from Fargo, N.D., will hit the stage. Its one vision is to bring hope to a world that seems to be running out of it. The band's love for youth and music has allowed it to break through the stereotypes and bring clarity to the music industry. With three CDs under its belt and a long list of shows, it is only getting stronger and more determined to make a difference.

Headlining the event, all the way from the sunny state of Florida, is Since October. Performing together for the past six years, the band recently released its CD titled "Grasping For Hope." The CD provided the band the remarkable opportunity to work with record producer Travis Wyrick. Wyrick has produced albums for such artists as P.O.D., Disciple and TobyMac and now Since October. The CD contains a variety of music, including heavy metal, rock, pop and some slow tunes.

Granlund Lodge to hold annual fundraiser Aug. 16

The Sons of Norway Granlund Lodge No. 240 will hold its next meeting on Thursday, Aug. 16 at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston. The meeting will convene at 7 p.m. It will include a short business meeting, with an attendance gift being awarded.

This is the lodge's annual fundraiser in the form of an auction. Brought for the auction will be garden produce, canned items, crafts, baked goods and other items. Proceeds from the auction will go to the kitchen fridge fund.

Eurasian watermilfoil has been found in six more Minnesota lakes

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources has confirmed the discovery of Eurasian watermilfoil in six new lakes, all but one of which are within 50 miles of the Twin Cities.

Eurasian watermilfoil, or simply milfoil, is now known to occur in 197 bodies of water in the state since it was discovered in the late 1980s.

Majority of infested water bodies are in central and north-central Minnesota, according to Chip Welling, DNR Eurasian Watermilfoil Program coordinator.

The following lakes have been added to the list of Minnesota waters infested with invasive species: Kimball Lake, Crow Wing County; Maple Lake, Wright County; Spectacle Lake, Isanti County; McMahon Lake, Scott County; and Big Lake, Sherburne County.

Full list of infested waters is available on the DNR Web site at www.dnr.state.mn.us.

The DNR urges boaters to continue to take precautions to avoid spreading the plant.

Help stop invasive water species

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is asking boaters and anglers to keep up the good work of minimizing the spread of aquatic invasive species.

"Public action is key to stop the spread of aquatic invasive species that hitchhike on boats and equipment," said Jay Rendall, DNR invasive species program coordinator. "The potential to spread aquatic invasive species increases each year and Minnesotans need to continue with their high level of action."

DNR conservation officers will be working extra hours enforcing the invasive species laws during the Stop Aquatic Hitchhikers Week.

"Boaters and anglers who have aquatic hitchhikers on their boats and gear can be cited with penalties from $50 to $1,000," according to Maj. Al Heidebrink, operations manager for the Division of Enforcement.

It is illegal to transport aquatic plants, prohibited invasive species such as zebra mussels, and water from infested waters on public roads. Boaters are required to drain water when leaving infested waters and to remove the drain plugs when leaving zebra mussel and spiny waterflea infested waters.

By taking a few simple steps when leaving a lake or river, boaters and anglers can do their part to help stop the spread of aquatic hitchhikers such as Eurasian watermilfoil and zebra mussels to the state's water bodies. Those steps include removing all aquatic plants from boats and trailers and emptying water from live wells and bait containers.

Those who leave lakes and rivers, which the DNR has listed as infested waters, need to be especially careful. Anglers who have live bait and want to keep it should drain any infested water from the bait container and replace it with tap or spring water.

Boaters should also remember to dispose of unwanted live bait including worms and minnows in the trash rather than dumping them in the lakes and woods.

Signs are posted at public access points to identify infested waters. More information about aquatic invasive species and a list of infested waters can be found in the 2007 Minnesota Fishing Regulations booklet. A complete list of infested waters is available at www.dnr.state.mn.us/ecological_services/pubs_invasives.html.

Aquatic invasive species vary in different areas of the state. Spiny waterfleas are in many lakes and rivers along the Minnesota and Canadian border. Those waters include Lake of the Woods, Rainy River, Rainy Lake, Crane Lake, Namakan Lake, Kabetogema Lake, Little Vermilion, and Sand Point Lake Lake.

Inland waters known to be infested with zebra mussels include Lake Ossawinnamakee and Rice Lake near Brainerd, Mille Lacs Lake, and Lake Zumbro north of Rochester. The Mississippi River from its confluence with the Pine River down to the Iowa border also contains zebra mussels. New Zealand mudsnails, ruffe, round goby, and zebra mussels are present in the Duluth area. Eurasian watermilfoil is present in 194 lakes statewide with most in or near the Twin Cities metro area.

Boat refueling safety trips offered by DNR

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is reminding boat operators to follow safety procedures when refueling their boats. The reminder follows an accident on Friday, June 15, that injured several people when a boat exploded after refueling at a gas dock on the Mississippi River in St. Paul.

"Safety procedures should be followed any time a boat is being fueled to reduce the chance of a fire or explosion," said Tim Smalley, DNR boating safety specialist. "A cup of gasoline is said to have the explosive power of a stick of dynamite, so fueling safely is a must."

Boating safety experts advise that the engine's power-operated blower should be run for at least four minutes before attempting to start the engine. "Even the most powerful blower won't remove liquid gas from the engine compartment," Smalley said. "You also need to open the engine compartment and use your nose to sniff for gas vapor and look for drips of fuel."

Occasionally after refueling, an engine that had operated properly, might miss, run roughly, stall or may not even start at all. "This is an obvious red flag that the engine compartment contains so much gasoline vapor that combustion will not occur in the engine itself," Smalley said. "At that point, the tiniest spark can cause a catastrophic explosion."

The DNR said if there is a strong smell of gasoline, or people see liquid fuel in the bottom of the boat, they should not attempt to start the motor before the leak or other problem has been remedied by a qualified technician.

The DNR offers boat fueling tips to help avoid a fire or explosion.

Before/During Fueling

■ Keep a fully charged fire extinguisher on hand.

■ Refuel during daytime hours if possible.

■ Have all passengers not required for the fueling operation leave the boat.

■ Fill portable gas tanks on shore, not in the boat.

■ Shut off all motors, fans and other items that can cause a spark.

■ Close all vents, doors, and hatches to prevent gasoline vapors from entering the boat and coming into contact with a possible ignition source.

■ Keep the pump nozzle in contact with the filler spout to avoid static sparks.

■ Never smoke when refueling a boat.

After Fueling Is Completed

■ Open the doors and hatches to speed ventilation.

■ Run the boat's blower for at least four minutes before attempting to start engine.

■ Open the engine cover and sniff for gas fumes.

■ Sniff for fumes and look for liquid fuel in the bilge; don't start it until all gas fumes are gone and there is no liquid fuel in the bilge.

State pheasant harvest increases

Reported harvests from last fall by Minnesota pheasant hunters were the highest since 1964, according to the Department of Natural Resources.

The harvest of 598,000 pheasants marked an increase of 3,000 birds from the previous season and was well above the 10-year average of 401,000. DNR wildlife managers credit abundant habitat, excellent nesting conditions and hunters' continued support for programs to expand and enhance the state's grasslands.

"We're very pleased with the success that Minnesota's pheasant hunters enjoyed this past season," said Dave Schad, DNR Fish and Wildlife Division director. "Much of the credit goes to hunters and conservation organizations who have supported federal farm programs that benefit grassland habitat as well as support for federal and state habitat acquisition programs."

An estimated 129,500 pheasant hunters, the most since 2003, took to the field last fall, bagging an average of 4.9 birds each, according to the DNR report, based on a mail survey to 6,000 hunters who purchased a small game licenses in 2006-2007. "Our estimated per hunter harvest declined slightly from the 5.3 birds hunters bagged in 2005-2006," said Bill Penning, DNR farmland wildlife program leader. "That could be explained by the increase in hunters in the field, however."

One key to increased pheasant populations is abundant grassland habitat, Penning said. Within the state's pheasant range, protected grasslands account for about 6 percent of the landscape, the highest number since the mid 1990s. Farm programs make up the largest portion of protected grasslands in the state roughly 1,000,000 acres in the pheasant range. About 610,000 acres of grassland habitat are protected in wildlife management areas and waterfowl production areas in the pheasant range.

Habitat and weather are the two factors that most affect pheasant populations, Kurt Haroldson, Minnesota DNR pheasant research biologist, noted. "There's nothing we can do about the weather, but there is a lot that can - and should - be done to improve habitat conditions. Thanks in large part to continuous support form hunters and organized conservation groups like Pheasants Forever, Minnesota's grassland habitat has been in pretty good shape in recent years, however, we must remain vigilant as the current Farm Bill is set to expire in 2007."

"If Minnesota is to avoid a drastic decline in pheasant and other farmland wildlife populations, hunters, landowners, wildlife watchers and conservations must make the case for farm programs," Penning said. "CRP, RIM and CREP have provided great benefits for those who enjoy upland bird hunting in the agricultural regions of the state."

The DNR has accelerated acquisition of wildlife management and public hunting areas and is working through the Farm Bill Assistance Program to expand the habitat base by marketing farm bill conservation programs to landowners, in partnership with Minnesota Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR), Pheasants Forever, and county Soil and Water Conservation Districts. In recent years there has also been increased emphasis on grassland-wetland complexes through the "Working Lands Initiative" with BWSR, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Natural Resources Conservation Service, Minnesota Department of Agriculture, and many other private conservation and agricultural organization partners.

State duck numbers are in Minnesota's breeding mallard numbers increased from last year, but the total duck population estimate declined by about 6 percent, according to results of the annual May waterfowl survey released by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

The mallard breeding population was estimated at 242,000, 51 percent above last year. This year's mallard population estimate was 9 percent above the long-term average of 222,000 but 23 percent below the 10-year average of 315,000. The state's total estimated breeding duck population fell to 489,000, 6 percent lower than last year and 22 percent below the long-term average.

"While it's good to see improvement in breeding mallard numbers, we continue to be concerned about Minnesota's overall duck population," said Dave Schad, director of the Division of Fish and Wildlife. "We need to continue to focus on the significant, long-term effort it's going to take to restore the two million acres of additional habitat that are required to boost our breeding population to one million birds, the goal we identified in our Duck Recovery Plan."

Blue-winged teal numbers decreased 29 percent from last year to 124,000 and were 46 percent below the long-term average. However, Minnesota's teal count may have been skewed by earlier teal migration this year, caused by warm weather and strong southerly winds in April and early May, said Steve Cordts, DNR waterfowl biologist. Preliminary estimates from continental surveys completed by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service indicated blue-winged teal counts were up 14 percent to 6.7 million, the third highest count on record.

"Minnesota's teal counts are generally much more variable than mallard counts because they migrate through the state later in the spring than mallards," Cordts said. "In many years, we will likely end up counting fair numbers of migrant teal that are going to nest north of Minnesota. This year, it appears that teal migrated through the state early."

The combined populations of other ducks, such as wood ducks, redheads and ring-necked ducks, decreased to 115,000, about 35 percent below the long-term average. Only 7,000 scaup were estimated during the survey - the lowest recorded since 1968, when the survey began. "Few scaup nest in Minnesota, so this isn't a real concern," Cordts said. "But, it does point to how early the spring was this year and that the vast majority of migrant ducks had already moved through the state before the survey started."

Wetland habitat conditions were slightly improved from last year and similar to the long-term average. The estimated number of wetlands was 262,000, up from 211,000 last year. "There were a few spotty areas with very good conditions and extensive sheet water, but overall conditions were about average," Cordt said. "The one exception was in the forested portion of the state where wetlands and shallow lakes remained very dry. We have seen some improved conditions in portions of the state from June rain events that should boost duck production and improve brood-rearing conditions."

In each of the five years since the DNR first approved a plan to restore waterfowl hunting, more than 4,500 acres have been added to the state's wildlife management area system. In addition, each year, more than 50 to 100 acres of wetland have been restored and some 10,000 to 20,000 acres of grasslands have been planted.

A waterfowl biologist and a conservation officer pilot who count all waterfowl and wetlands along the same routes each year from a low flying, single-engine airplane conduct the breeding duck survey. FWS provides ground crews that also count waterfowl along a portion of the same survey routes to correct for birds not seen by the aerial crew. The survey was designed to provide an index of breeding duck abundance in about 40 percent of the state that includes much of the best remaining duck breeding habitat in Minnesota.

Data on breeding duck populations across other regions of North America is not yet available, but preliminary reports suggest generally fair to good wetland habitat conditions in the Dakotas and the parklands of Canada.

Canada Geese

Since 2001, the DNR has conducted a helicopter survey of nesting Canada geese during April. This year's estimate was 262,000 Canada geese, 27 percent lower than last years estimate of 358,000. The survey, which includes most of the state except fur the Twin Cities metropolitan area, counts Canada geese un randomly selected plots located in prairie, transition and forested areas.

"The number of geese in the prairie zones of the state were similar to last year, but we saw fairly large declines in both the transition and forest regions," said DNR biologist Dave Rave. "In addition, we had a fairly significant drop in production this year. Extremely cold temperatures in early April froze some goose eggs. Other anecdotal reports indicate fewer goose broods in many areas of the state as well.

The goose population is still in very good shape, but the drop in production could influence hunting success this fall as fewer young geese will be available."

The DNR will announce waterfowl hunting regulations for this fall in early August.

Start planning 2008 fishing tournaments, advises DNR

The application process to host Minnesota fishing tournaments in 2008 opened Aug. 1.

The Department of Natural Resources, which limits the size and frequency of tournaments on certain waters, will give preference to applications received by Sept. 28.

The application is available at www.mndnr.gov

Unlike previous years, a fee is now required for fishing tournament permits. The fee is designed to recover administrative costs, which will free-up dollars for fish management programs. The citizen oversight committee that monitors the DNR's Game and Fish Fund recommended the change. It was passed into law by the 2007 Legislature.

"The popularity of fishing tournaments has risen to the point where our annual administrative expenditures has grown to $108,000," said Al Stevens, fisheries program consultant. "The fee was identified as a reasonable way to recover costs."

Stevens said several approaches for recovering costs were discussed with tournament organizers and legislators before the current structure was adopted.

Under the new system, small open-water contests (31-100 participants, 50 or fewer boats) will pay $120; large open-water contests (more than 100 participants or 50 boats) will pay $400; small open-water contests with off-site weigh-ins will pay $500; large open-water contests with off-site weigh ins will pay $1,000; and ice fishing contests (more than 150 participants) will pay $120.

The fee, required at the time of application, is nonrefundable except for applications denied following a drawing or withdrawn by the applicant prior to issuance of the permit. Fees may be waived for charitable organizations. Those wishing to have the fee waived, should send proof of their charitable status and justification for the waiver.

The DNR limits the size and frequency of tournaments on lakes smaller than 55,000 acres, and on rivers and streams. Any open-water tournament that has more than 30 participants or an entry fee more than $25 requires a permit from the DNR. Permits for ice fishing contests are required for contests exceeding 150 participants.

Tournaments for youth age 18 and younger do not require a DNR permit.

In 2007, DNR issued nearly 600 permits statewide for fishing contests.

"By limiting the number of contests held on any lake or stream on a monthly basis, we are addressing the concerns of lake users that fishing tournaments disturb their fishing, swimming, boating and other water recreation," said Stevens. "Additionally, we keep two weekends each month free of permitted tournaments."

The number of tournaments allowed each month on lakes is based on lake size. For example, on lakes smaller than 2,000 acres, two tournaments per month are allowed, each limited to no more than 50 boats or 100 participants. Lakes from 15,000 to 55,000 acres can have five contests per month, three of which may exceed 50 boats or 100 participants. There are no limits for lakes larger than 55,000 acres.

If the number of applications exceeds monthly limits, the DNR uses a lottery to allocate available permits. Applications received from Aug. 1 through Sept. 28 will be eligible for any necessary lottery drawing.

Tournaments with a history established prior to 2001 for a particular lake and time period will have preference. Applications received after Sept. 28 will be considered on a first-come, first-served basis through the 2008 tournament season.

For a complete summary of the tournament regulations, call the DNR Information Center toll-free at 1-888-646-6367, or view the summary and a tournament application on the DNR Web site at www.mndnr.gov.

Bears visiting bird feeders

Black bears are curious, persistent animals. During the spring and summer, bears must search for food constantly to put on enough fat to survive the winter. Bears travel over large areas in search of food. Once bears find a food source, they remember its location and return regularly.

Unfortunately, people who feed birds this time of year are also likely to attract bears.

"This is a tough time of year for bears," said Mark Spoden, DNR assistant area wildlife manager in Grand Rapids. "After hibernation, they are hungry. When berries and vegetation are scarce, bears are often tempted by dog food, livestock feed, birdseed, barbecues, compost or garbage."

In addition, female bears chase away last year's offspring at this time of year. These young bears are inexperienced at finding food and searching for territories of their own. They are the most likely to show up in places where they are not welcome.

Spring is a good time for residents who live close to bear habitat to check their property for food sources that could attract bears. "When human-related food is easy to find, bears stop seeking their natural foods," Spoden said. "These bears eventually get into trouble because they return again and again."

Unfortunately, food-conditioned bears often end up dead bears, said Spoden. Sometimes a bear causing problems must be trapped and destroyed. Bears will not be trapped for causing minor property damage, such as tearing down bird feeders or tipping over garbage cans.

Bears that are trapped because they have become a nuisance are destroyed rather than relocated. Relocated bears seldom remain where they are released. They may return to where they were caught or become a problem somewhere else.

Research and experience have clearly shown that removing food that attracts bears resolves problems much more effectively than attempting to trap and destroy the bear. When it is determined a bear must be killed, the DNR can assign a licensed hunter or issue a special permit to shoot it.

"If a bear enters your yard, don't panic and don't approach the bear," said Spoden. "Always leave the bear an escape route. Everyone should leave the area and go inside until the bear leaves."

Bears are normally shy and usually flee when encountered, Spoden said. "However, they may defend an area if they are feeding or are with their young. Never approach or try to pet a bear. They are unpredictable wild animals. Injury to people is rare, but bears are potentially dangerous because of their size, strength and speed."

Bow hunting draw weight changed

Beginning this fall, the minimum draw weight for hunting bows will be 30 pounds, a reduction from 40 pounds required in previous years by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

The move is aimed at making bow hunting more accessible to younger hunters and others who might have difficulty drawing a 40-pound bow. It shouldn't affect the effectiveness of archery equipment for harvesting deer.

"The 40-pound minimum draw weight was put in place when most bows and arrows were made of wood, and compound bows were just becoming an option for hunters," said Ryan Bronson, DNR hunter recruitment and retention supervisor. "Technology has vastly improved the efficiency of archery tackle. Modern compound bows, carbon and aluminum arrows, and high tech broad heads are capable of delivering more kinetic energy than traditional gear."

Bronson said he became interested in changing the draw-weight regulation when he learned of Wisconsin's 30-pound draw weight restriction from a colleague. "She pointed out that Wisconsin had more bowhunters per capita than Minnesota, and they didn't seem to have any problems with the more permissive regulation."

After taking public input on the topic and consulting with archery engineers and bowhunting leaders in the state, the DNR supported legislation to alter the minimum draw weight. The provision passed into law as part of a larger environment and natural resources bill.

Bronson predicts that the primary beneficiaries of the regulation change will be younger hunters and women, both demographic groups that are under-represented in the bowhunting ranks. "The physical strength required to draw a bow can hinder some people from participating," Bronson said. "Our license data supports what a lot of archery instructors tell us, that many smaller shooters can't quite handle a 40-pound bow."

The DNR estimates that more than 80,000 Minnesotans now hunt deer with a bow and arrow every year, compared to 70,000 as recently as 2000. Regulatory changes, including the creation of the All-Season Deer License and allowing hunters to take deer with both firearms and archery gear have contributed to the increase. Expanding urban hunting opportunities have also provided additional access for bowhunters. Archery license sales to youth have increased 25 percent since 2002, from 6,000 to 7,500 annually.

"There is no doubt that bow hunting has more growth potential," Bronson said. "As urban areas and their firearms discharge ordinances expand, more areas are becoming de-facto deer refuges. Bowhunters are the best deer management tools we have available in these areas."

Programs like the Archery in Schools Program are also fueling the growing interest in archery, but the popular DNR school archery program provides only basic instruction. Moving new shooters to the next level either as target shooters or bowhunters, requires at least two things: places for archers to shoot, and instruction to teach them how to shoot better.

The DNR and the Archery Trade Association (ATA) have teamed up on an effort to identify archery facilities in Minnesota, and to put them on a searchable Web site so new and existing archers can find them. The Web site www.archerysearch.com is maintained by the ATA, but DNR staff has been submitting data to make it as complete as possible.

"We found that Minnesota has a lot more archery ranges than many archers realize," [illegible] said.

Finding instructors can be more problematic than finding ranges. Some retailers offer instruction, but other highly skilled archery instructors can be difficult to locate. The DNR is working with archery organizations in Minnesota to post their instructor information on the www.archerysearch.com Web site, and the DNR's Shooting Sports Education Center facilitates training to increase the supply of certified instructors.

Young people interested in developing their archery skills have more options than adults. Several programs, including the 4-H Shooting Sports and Wildlife Program, Junior Olympic Archery Development (JOAD) clubs, and After School Archery Programs (ASAP) already exist in Minnesota. Additionally, many parks and recreation departments, summer camps, and schools offer summer archery programs as well.

The Minnesota bowhunting season opens Sept. 15. For more information, visit www.dnr.state.mn.us. For information about becoming a certified archery instructor, contact the Minnesota Shooting Sports Education Center at 218-327-[illegible] two hours.

Later, Nicole and her classmates made their way to a depot, where the "walking wounded" were supposed to receive treatment a half-mile away from the Red Cross. They never treated anyone there. Nicole surmised that it was due to a lack of communication. Instead, the walking wounded received medical care at the Radisson Hotel – Metrodome.

At 10:30 p.m., the women made their way to HCMC to see if the hospital needed help. However, everything was under control at the point.

In the midst of what happened during those four hours Aug. 1, the gravity of the situation hit Nicole. When no patients were around, she walked by herself and looked at the collapsed bridge. She drove on that bridge every day – whether going to the U of M Medical School, getting groceries or driving to take part in some other activities. She also ran in the area of the bridge.

"You just feel so sad for the people," Nicole said.

Looking back on her time at the riverbank, Nicole said she never thought about her own safety while she helped others. Initially, there was talk that the bridge collapse could have been due to terrorism. Nicole never thought about that possibility even though she worked side-by-side with the FBI and a SWAT team.

She also probably never thought about all of the media attention she would receive. She has been interviewed by CNN, NBC and ABC. Reader's Digest has also contacted the women. "I wish they'd bug someone else," said Nicole, who referred to firefighters and the work they did at the scene.

Nicole feels that it was her duty to help the injured people. She said, "We're not looking for publicity."

compliance checks, and the troopers flagged down the drivers of diesel-powered private and commercial vehicles. After pulling over, the drivers were informed about the compliance check and were handed a notice citing the federal regulations that allow the State Patrol to test the fuel. During the test, troopers placed pipettes into the fuel tanks of the stopped vehicles and then took the pipettes out again. The pipettes showed whether the diesel fuel was dyed red. About seven drivers had dyed-red diesel fuel at compliance check sites in the Thief River Falls and Crookston areas.

Those drivers may now face civil penalties. Under the Clean Air Act, a driver can be assessed up to $25,000 per day per violation. Under the Internal Revenue Code, a driver can also be assessed "$1,000 or $10 per gallon of dyed fuel involved, whichever is greater, plus the payment of tax. The penalty increases with additional violations. The states may impose penalties on top of any federal levies," the DPS Web site indicated.

Despite the inconvenience of having to stop for the compliance checks, many drivers were grateful. "The people are very friendly, and most of them understand and thank us," said Rogotzke, a State Patrol officer based in the Twin Cities area.

DPS offers these suggestions to commercial truck drivers and others who operate diesel-powered vehicles on highways:

- "Know your supplier – Beware that cut-rate prices and on-the-spot cash rebates may be an indication of tax evasion. Deal with companies that you know from experience or from the advice of others to be reputable.
- "Observe pump labels – The IRS requires pumps dispensing any dyed fuel to be labeled. Such pumps should never be used to fuel the vehicle.
- "Visually inspect the fuel – Never allow unattended fueling of your vehicle. Observe the fueling operation and look at the fuel if sight glasses are available on the fueling hose. Consider carrying a clean, clear plastic container, so you can observe a sample of the fuel if you have any doubts.
- "Look for evidence of tampering – Visible presence of dye, altered labels or unreadable receipts should be cause for suspicion.
- "Keep receipts – Make sure receipts identify the product and indicate where and when it was purchased. Furthermore, a statement from the seller that the fuel did not contain visible evidence of dye (or a receipt, invoice or other written notice) must accompany any claim for a tax refund on any 'un-dyed' taxed fuel actually used for a non-taxable purpose, such as in a refrigeration unit."

Two people injured in three-vehicle accident Tuesday

Two people were injured in a three-vehicle accident west of Roseau on Tuesday.

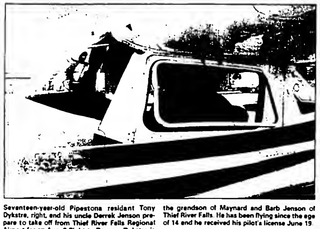
One passenger suffered an unknown injury and was taken to Roseau Area Hospital. According to the report, that person was a minor passenger in a vehicle driven by Clifford A. LaValle, 25, International Falls. However, the only person listed in the Minnesota State Patrol report as a passenger in that vehicle was Constance Kokosh, 20.

A passenger in another vehicle sustained an unknown injury as well, but the report didn't indicate whether that person was taken to RAH. That person was identified in the report as a minor passenger in a vehicle driven by Kristie A. Ballard, 37, Roseau. Two people were listed as passengers in Ballard's vehicle, Heidi Vacura, 37, and Brooklyn Vacura, unknown age.

On Thursday afternoon, an RAH nursing staff member indicated she cannot give out information regarding the status of patients.

At the time of the accident, John B. Lundgren, 31, Roseau, was driving a 1997 Chevy pickup truck westbound on Highway 11 and was pulling a flatbed trailer. According to the report, his vehicle weaved, fishtailed, went into a ditch and rolled. Ballard, who was driving an eastbound 2003 Dodge Dakota, tried to avoid the crash. Her vehicle was rear-ended by a 1986 Ford pickup truck driven by LaValle. All of the drivers and passengers were wearing their seat belts. Ballard, LaValle and Lundgren weren't injured in the crash and neither were the passengers in Lundgren's vehicle, Lawrence Hofaluk, 47, and Jonathan Hofaluk, 6.

Lundgren's pickup truck sustained severe damage. The other two vehicles sustained moderate damage.



The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 7:58 p.m. Tuesday. The Roseau County Sheriff's Office provided assistance.

What type of fish is this? Nick Schiesser, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, allows children participating in the MinnAqua event in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, an opportunity to feel a sturgeon, which he estimated was about 15 years old. MinnAqua provides children an opportunity to learn about aquatic life and fish in a structured setting. Pictured observing the children was Madie Heinrich, a volunteer.

Pat Fischer (right), a volunteer assisting with the MinnAqua program in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, Aug. 7, helps children participating in the program fill small tackle boxes.

Seventeen-year-old Pipestone resident Tony Dykstra, right, and his uncle Derrek Jenson prepare to take off from Thief River Falls Regional Airport for an Aug. 3 flight to Roseau. Dykstra is the grandson of Maynard and Barb Jenson of Thief River Falls. He has been flying since the age of 14 and he received his pilot's license June 19.

No one injured after house fire in Warroad

No one was injured after a house fire early Tuesday morning in Warroad.

Linda Lussier was at her home with two grandchildren at the time of the fire, according to a press release from the Roseau County Sheriff's Office. They escaped the blaze, which was reported at 4:26 a.m. Tuesday at 34905 576th Ave. The Warroad Fire Department successfully contained and extinguished the fire.

The cause of the fire and the dollar amount in damage weren't listed in the press release. As of press time Friday, Sheriff Jule Hanson hadn't returned a phone call from the Northern Watch.

Detour to begin Monday in Lancaster

According to the Minnesota Department of Transportation, traffic on Highway 59 in Lancaster will be detoured beginning Monday, Aug. 13, while railroad grade repairs are being completed. The detour will be in effect beginning at 12:01 a.m. Aug. 13 and is expected to be in place until Wednesday, Aug. 15 at noon, weather permitting.

For information on road construction and conditions around the state, call 511 or log onto www.511mn.org.

RLF airman graduates from basic training

Air Force Airman Bryce A. Hallstrom has graduated from basic military training at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas.

During the six weeks of training, the airman studied the Air Force mission, organization and military customs and courtesies; performed drill and ceremony marches, and received physical training, rifle marksmanship, field training exercises and special training in human relations.

In addition, airmen who complete basic training earn credits toward an associate degree through the Community College of the Air Force.

He is the son of Tammy and stepson of Terry Vanthof of Red Lake Falls. The airman is a 2006 graduate of Lafayette High School, Red Lake Falls.

Rydell to host program on NW MN landscape history

On Sunday, Aug. 19 at 2 p.m., Rydell National Wildlife Refuge will have a Learning at the Lakes Program on northwest Minnesota landscape history.

Bring the family and join Polk County native and landscape historian Nancy Sather for an illustrated reading of 19th century accounts of northwest Minnesota's prairies. Hear descriptions of the region's natural history and animals from the pens of the earliest explorers and fur traders, travelers on the Ox Cart Trails, and settlers. The reading is illustrated by slides of old maps, historical images, and present-day pictures of the places they traveled and things they saw.

To get to the Rydell Refuge, travel three miles east of Mentor or three miles west of Erskine on U.S. Highway 2 and turn south on Polk County Road 210. Follow County Road 210 about 2½ miles south to the large entrance sign and main gate of the refuge. For more information, contact Rydell Refuge at 1-800-851-0172 or (218) 687-2229.

RLF housing dispute escalates

Former mayor's house is at the center of a lawsuit

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

The city of Red Lake Falls was informed Aug. 9 that it will be sued for damages related to the former home of its former mayor.

Former Mayor Robert Philion's former home had been part of the city's program to buy out properties that were sliding into the Clearwater River. Robert and Julie Cudaback of Warroad had the highest bid for the home, 109 Seventh St. S.E., and plan to move the home to Warroad. Now, the Cudabacks plan to sue the city, claiming fraud, civil conspiracy, tortious interference with a contract and/or prospective economic advantage, defamation, willful breach of contract, conversion, negligence, and violations of the Minnesota Open Meeting Law and the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act.

In April 2007, Philion pled guilty in Red Lake County District Court to gross misdemeanor criminal damage to property related to his former home. He was sentenced April 30 to one year in jail stayed for one year. That stayed sentence may be extended to two years if necessary. Philion was placed on unsupervised probation as well. He was also ordered to pay $10,122 in restitution to the city of Red Lake Falls. As a condition of his sentence, he resigned as mayor. Philion had also been accused of stealing approximately $3,428.18 worth of numerous fixtures from his former home.

The Cudabacks plan to sue the city for "the cost to replace and re-affix the looted fixtures (approximately $30,000); the statutory maximum remedies available for damages to the Cudabacks' reputations and/or business/professional integrity (to be determined at trial); punitive damages (to be determined at trial); the maximum attorney fees available by statute for breach of the Minnesota Open Meeting Law, and additional attorney fees, costs and pre-/post-judgment interest (to be determined at trial)." The Cudabacks' attorney, Michelle E. Moren of Roseau, sent that information to City Attorney William Muldoon and the city's attorney in this matter, James G. Golemback of Lake Elmo.

The Cudabacks claim that Philion sold his home and "looted much of its assessed value – shockingly with the assistance of city workers using heavy equipment – all with the admitted knowledge (and apparent assent) of some or all members of the City Council." They list those council members as Philion (former mayor), Kevin Harmoning, Allen Ducharme (former mayor and current city

Agreement likely on TRF's outstanding law enforcement bills

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Sooner or later, the city of Thief River Falls will pay its $113,044 share of the costs for a $507,995 radio system at the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center. At the Committee of the Whole meeting Tuesday, it appeared that Thief River Falls City Council members were in agreement that the city would pay the bill. It's just a matter of when and how that bill will be paid.

Council members also seemed to be in agreement that the city would pay its $20,613 portion of the recent $59,943 roofing project at the LEC.

The public radio system

In 2001, discussions began about a new public radio system for the LEC, which is shared by the city and the county. Two years later, Pennington County sold 10-year General Obligation Improvement Plan Bonds in the amount of $535,000 to pay for the public radio system and jail remodeling. The radio system cost $507,995. The radio system was installed in February 2006.

In a November 2006 letter to the city, Pennington County Sheriff Mike Hruby wrote that the city and the county agreed that the city would pay a total of $113,044 for 24 digital radios, half of a VHF base station and half of a VHF digital quantar repeater at the new radio tower.

The city and the county also received Department of Homeland Security grants for the radio system. "The grants paid down approximately $70,000. That was applied evenly across the board," Hruby said. The radio system project cost more than what had originally been expected. The grants covered a portion of the excess amount, and 911 money covered the remaining $17,000.

"We're always concerned about being double-dipped," said Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen in reference to city residents virtually paying twice – once for the levy and once for the city's share of the costs of the radio system.

Anything the county receives from the city will lower the amount of the levy, noted Pennington County Auditor Ken Olson.

The issue is now being discussed because the county still has that unpaid debt on its books. At the July 31 meeting of the Committee of the Whole, City Administrator Jodie Torkelson and Thief River Falls Police Chief Kim Murphy indicated they were under the impression that the city would only participate in the funding of the radios through the levy. They weren't employed with the city at the time of the initial discussions about the radio system. Torkelson said individuals who then

Kittson Co. bridges

Hallock - At their Aug. 7 meeting, Kittson County Board members learned about the status of Kittson County bridges.

"Out of the 201 bridges in the county, Kittson County Engineer Kelly Bengtson said there are 20 that have been deemed structurally deficient (flaws in the structure itself give it a lower rating) or rated as functionally obsolete (the bridge doesn't meet the design standards for today's traffic rating). These terms aren't necessarily used as scare tactics; they're more useful in prioritizing projects."

"Sufficiency Ratings are formulas used to determine the bridge's eligibility for federal funding. The result is a number between 0 and 100; 0 is extremely poor and 100 is excellent. A bridge with an SR of 80 or less is eligible for federal rehab funds. A bridge with an SR of less than 50 is eligible for federal replacement funds.

"According to media reports, the I-35W bridge received an SR rating of 50/100. An example Bengtson cited of a bridge with a low SR rating in Kittson County is the one on County Road 2, scheduled for replacement in August. It has a 65/100 rating.

"Six years ago, the SR rating of the bridge on County Road 65 near Younggren Farms, northwest of Hallock, was at 48.1." The timber-built bridge's rating dropped last year to 34, just in time for replacement." - Kittson County Enterprise, Aug. 15, 2007, by Louise Money

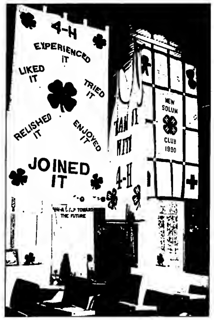
Fire ruled as arson

Fosston - "The cause of a fire that destroyed a Fosston business has been ruled as arson. Minnesota Deputy State Fire Marshal Kevin Mahle released last week his official report on the blaze that destroyed Uncle Bob's Family Restaurant.

"Fosston and McIntosh fire departments were dispatched to the restaurant during the early morning hours of Monday, July 2. By the time crews arrived, flames had engulfed the building."

"Investigators from the Polk County Sheriff's Office and Mahle were on the scene by mid-morning, sifting through the rubble even while firefighters were still putting out hot spots.

"Very few details on the case have been released. Mahle told The 13 Towns that the fire began in the basement office area at the west end and spread through the roof to the rest of the building." He said evidence at the scene led investigators to believe it had been intentionally set.



"Polk County Deputy Randy Sondrol said his office is continuing to interview people in connection with the fire. He would not say whether anyone has officially been declared a suspect." - The 13 Towns of Fosston, Aug. 14, 2007, by Dan Kindall

Hero of bridge collapse has local ties

Grygla - Jeremy Hernandez, who attended school in Grygla a decade ago, has been hailed as a hero for his actions following the Interstate 35 W bridge collapse.

He was on board the bus "that was crossing the bridge at the time of its collapse."

Once the bus came to a rest, he leapt "two rows of seats before kicking open the bus' back door and then began to hand children out of the bus to strangers lined up to pass them to safety." - The Grygla Eagle, Aug. 16, 2007

◀ New Solum 4-H Club and Rosebank School have shared a long history in the Rosewood area.

▶ Joyce Kron (standing), a former Rosebank School teacher and former New Solum 4-H Club leader, shared her recollections of life at the school and 4-H club during an open house Aug. 5.

New Solum 4-H Club celebrates 60 years

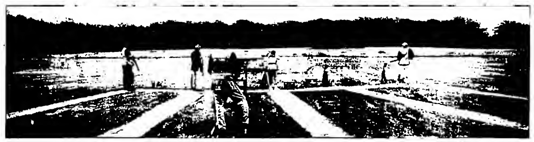
by April Schelnoha
Reporter

For 60 years, the history of New Solum 4-H Club and the history of Rosebank School have been intertwined. On Aug. 5, an open house provided current and former 4-H club members and leaders, and former Rosebank teachers and students with an opportunity to reminisce.

"I just enjoyed the days here," said Judith Wold, a former Rosebank teacher. In 1947, Wold started New Solum 4-H Club with Rev. Silas Erickson from Rindal Lutheran Church and with the help of local parents.

The history of New Solum 4-H Club

The New Solum 4-H Club wasn't the first 4-H club to be organized near Rosewood in Marshall County. In the late 1930s, another 4-H club existed in Rosewood. However, interest waned since Rosewood 4-H Club members and their parents had to drive to Warren to participate in the Marshall County Fair.



Once New Solum 4-H Club began, club members worked with the University of Minnesota Extension Service in Pennington County. It still does today. The majority of the club members live in Pennington County and attend school in Thief River Falls.

Like it did in the past, the club meets for monthly meetings. The club meets the second Thursday of each month at 7 p.m. For the past 60 years, New Solum 4-H Club members have met at Rosebank School during the summer months. In the wintertime, club members meet at each other's homes. Project talks and demonstrations are a part of the meetings. Club members also discuss the business at hand. After the meetings, club members have treats and play games. Currently, the club has 11 members.

One of those members is Steven Johnson, who will enter his junior year this fall at Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls. He has been a 4-H member for eight years, not including the time he spent in the 4-H beginner, non-competitive program called Cloverbuds. Over the years, Johnson has completed shop, foods, Global Connections and wildlife projects. He has also participated in 4-H leadership programs.

4-H is a family affair for Johnson. His older sister, Kari, was a member of 4-H until she reached the age limit for participating in the organization. Their mom, Phyliss, noted that 4-H projects are a family effort a lot of the time. If a family

Most members of the Thief River Falls Trap Club enjoy the challenge that trap provides, as well as the camaraderie provided by other members of the club. On Aug. 25, the club will conduct an open house during which area residents are encouraged to try trap and brush up on their shooting skills before the hunting season.

Trap club members shoot the breeze and targets

by David Hill

Hunting is a popular activity in northwestern Minnesota. For the many residents who enjoy hunting, the only unfortunate part of this sport is the fact that hunting seasons in this part of the nation are relatively short. Members of the Thief River Falls Trap Club know the one way to add more enjoyment to their hunting experience and extend their shooting season is by joining a local trap club.

On Aug. 25, the Thief River Falls Trap Club will sponsor an open house to help area residents brush up on their shooting skills before the hunting season begins, and to learn a little more about the trap club.

"I like to shoot, that's all," said Earl Strand of Brooks. Strand explained that he used to do more hunting than shooting [illegible] retired in 1994 and joined the trap club, he's been doing more [illegible] than hunting.

Strand joined a trap club after he went to a registered shoot in Bemidji. After he finished his shoot, he put his gun in the trunk of his car, but he noticed no one else did. He went inside the club to ask a guy about his gun he noticed and learned that it was valued at $10,000. Shocked, Strand asked him why he had left such a valuable gun unlocked in the gun rack outside. No one steals them, replied the gun owner. Strand said he learned a good lesson about the class of people who shoot trap.

Pat Fischer has been a member of the Thief River Falls Trap Club since about 1962. Trying to remember why and when he joined, Fischer said he joined because his father was a member. It must have been a good experience because he said he has loved the sport ever since.

Fathers and sons make up many of the members of the club, but there are [illegible] women shooters, too.

Evan Johnson and his wife Pam have been [illegible] since 1965 [illegible] successful and talented shooters, too, as everyone will attest.

"I have a lot of friends here," said Evan. He added that the camaraderie and competition are the things that really attract him to the sport, and it's what keeps him shooting year round.

Dan and Matt Lindquist, a father and son combination from Thief River Falls, were testing their skill [illegible] Aug. [illegible] during the

We're getting toward canning season and the end of the garden time. Most of today's recipes will help you make good use of the garden's goodies.

Canning season is upon us and Generva Nelson of Warroad has sent a recipe for zucchini pickles, "a delicious bread-and-butter pickle, almost like one made from cucumbers." It's a good way to use up those tasty little squash that are still coming up regularly in your garden:

ZUCCHINI PICKLES
Generva Nelson

- 2 quarts thin slices of unpeeled small zucchini squash
- 2 medium onions, peeled and thinly sliced
- 1/4 cup salt
- 2 cups vinegar
- 2 cups sugar
- 1 teaspoon celery seed
- 2 teaspoons mustard seed
- 1 teaspoon turmeric
- 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard

Combine zucchini and onions. Sprinkle with salt, cover with cold water and let stand 2 hours. Drain, rinse with fresh water and drain again.

Combine remaining ingredients in an enamelware kettle and bring to a boil. Cook 2 minutes. Add zucchini and onions, remove from heat and let stand 2 hours.

Bring to boil again and cook 5 minutes. Ladle hot into hot, sterilized pint jars and process in a boiling water bath for 5 minutes to ensure a seal. Recipe makes about 4 pints.

I bet you've never had a soup like this one. Use those yummy walleyes to make it tonight:

TROUT CHOWDER

- 1 medium onion, chapped
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup Ranch salad dressing
- 1 pound boneless trout fillets, skin removed
- 1 (10 ounce) package frozen broccoli cuts, thawed
- 1 cup cubed or shredded cheddar cheese
- 1 cup cubed or shredded Monterey Jack cheese
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
- Paprika

Sauté onion in butter until tender. Transfer to a slow cooker and rest of ingredients except paprika. Cover and cook on high for 1 1/2 to 2 hours until soup is bubbly and fish flakes easily with fork. Sprinkle with paprika to serve. Serves 8.

GARDEN CHOWDER

- 1/2 cup chopped green pepper
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1/4 cup butter
- 1 cup each of diced potato, celery, cauliflower, carrot and broccoli
- 3 cups water
- 3 chicken bouillon cubes
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 cups milk
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh parsley
- 3 cups shredded Cheddar cheese

Sauté green pepper and onion in butter in soup kettle until tender. Add vegetables, water, bouillon cubes, salt and pepper and bring to boil. Reduce heat and simmer 20 minutes or until veggies are tender.

Combine flour and milk until smooth. Stir into pan and bring to a boil. Cook and stir for 2 minutes. Add parsley. Just before serving, stir in cheese until melted. Serves 6 to 8 people.

POOR BOY LOAF

- 1 unsliced 12 ounce loaf of French or Italian bread
- 1/4 cup butter, softened
- 1 tablespoon mustard
- 1 tablespoon minced fresh parsley
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1/8 to 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper flakes
- 2 medium tomatoes, thinly sliced
- 6 ounces sliced mozzarella cheese
- 6 ounces thinly sliced hard salami
- 1/3 cup pickled sweet pepper rings

Cut bread into 1/2 inch slices leaving slices attached at bottom. In a small bowl, combine butter, mustard, parsley, garlic and red pepper flakes. Spread on every other slice.

Place tomatoes, mozzarella, salami and pepper rings between the buttered slices. Wrap in foil. Bake at 350 degrees for 10-12 minutes or until cheese is melted.

And these sandwiches are delicious grilled or pan fried, with their hearty fillings:

STUFFED BURGERS

- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 6 thin slices cheddar cheese
- 1 large green pepper, julienned
- 1 medium onion, thinly sliced
- 1 medium tomato, thinly sliced
- 6 thin slices Swiss cheese
- Salt and pepper
- Lettuce leaves
- 6 hamburger buns, sliced

Shape beef into 12 thin patties. Top 6 patties with a slice of cheddar cheese, green pepper strips and a slice of onion, tomato and Swiss cheese. Top each patty with another thin patty and seal edges. Season as desired with salt and pepper.

Broil, grill or pan fry burgers until meat is no longer pink. Serve on lettuce lined buns.

To top it off, here's something cool and refreshing to serve with your meal:

SWEET-TART TEA

- 4 tea bags
- 4 cups boiling water
- 1 (11 1/2 ounces) can frozen cranberry-raspberry juice concentrate, thawed
- 4 cups cold water
- Ice cubes
- Fresh mint, if desired

Place tea bags in tea pot. Add boiling water, cover and steep 5 minutes. Remove and discard tea bags. Refrigerate tea in covered container.

Just before serving, combine cranberry-raspberry concentrate and cold water in 2 1/2 quart pitcher. Stir in tea. Serve over ice, garnished with mint.

And here's one more delicious drink for a summer day - this one is pretty in a punch bowl and so refreshing you'll just have to smack your lips over it:

FRUIT PUNCHEROO

- 2 quarts cranberry juice
- 3 cups pineapple juice
- 3 cups orange juice
- 1/4 cup lemon juice
- 1 liter ginger ale, chilled
- 1 medium naval orange, sliced thinly

Combine juices in large container. Refrigerate. Before serving, stir in ginger ale and orange slices. Makes 5 quarts.

Fosston woman killed in accident Thursday

A Fosston woman was killed in a two-vehicle accident Thursday afternoon in McIntosh.

Pamela A. Simanson, 54, died as a result of the accident at the intersection of Cleveland Avenue and U.S. Highway 2, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. The other driver, Thomas J. Baune, 43, Champlin, suffered a sore lower back.

At the time of the accident, Simonson was driving a 2001 Ford Taurus southbound on Cleveland Avenue and was attempting to cross westbound U.S. Highway 2. Baune's westbound 2001 Chevy then broadsided Simonson's car. The report indicates both drivers were wearing their seat belts.

Simonson's car was totalled, and Baune's vehicle sustained moderate damage. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 2:29 p.m. Thursday.

Nothing better than baseball on a summer night

For many people, there's nothing better on a warm, sunny summer evening than sipping a beer while watching an outdoor baseball game. While many dream of attending a major league game, like the Twins, others argue that the cost of attending a game may be pushing many people out of the stands.

A graphic in the June 2007 edition of Money magazine reported that the cost of two box seats along the third-base line, two sodas and hot dogs, and parking may be pricing fans out of the stands. The magazine reports that watching the Arizona Diamondbacks at Chase Field would cost $127 - $100 for two tickets, $8 for two sodas, $9 for two hot dogs, and $10 for parking. The cost to watch the Boston Red Sox at Fenway Park would cost $235 - $210 for tickets, $8 for two sodas, $8 for two hot dogs and $9 for parking. A comment in the graphic stated that pay these prices, "and you begin to see where A-Rod's salary comes from."

I'm told that it's less expensive to go to a Minnesota Twins game. Ticket prices online indicate that seats along the third-base line would cost between $42 and $45. I'm not sure how much hot dogs, sodas or parking cost.

Recently, I attended a Red Hawks game in Fargo, N.D. It was one of the idyllic summer evenings - warm enough to wear short sleeves, but warm enough to be thankful that you're in the shade. My ticket, which was near the third-base line, cost $6. Parking, as I recall, cost $2. We had water, and sodas and pulled pork sandwiches so I can't provide you with a comparison on the price of hot dogs, but I can tell you that it didn't cost $4 for a hot dog.

Local baseball enthusiasts may remind you that it doesn't cost anything to attend a local baseball or softball game, and I doubt you'll find that hot dogs cost $4 or more. To you, the entertainment value of a local baseball game may be just as high as if you had attended a pro game.

The costs associated with operating a major league team, certainly have something to do with the cost of tickets. Some would argue that the salaries paid to major league ball players is way out of line. Yes, they seem high, they say but compared with what? And, is that a valid comparison?

Whether average fans are being pushed out of the stands probably has as much to do with interest in the team and how well it's playing. To someone with a strong interest in a team, the fact that ticket prices at major league games are reaching well over $50 per ticket may not mean anything at all. What we need to ask ourselves is what price are we willing to pay for attending an event we find entertaining? Maybe a game at the Red Hawks stadium in Fargo, N.D., is just enough. Maybe we can get our baseball fix by standing on the fenceline at the ball fields in our hometown.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

administrator), Joyce Kalbakdalen, Gail Healy, Cheryl Matzke and Lorri Ann Hartel. They also claim that Muldoon is at fault.

The Cudabacks bid on Philion's former home on Feb. 15, 2007. That bid was based on the home's assessed value prior to the items being taken from it and based on the Cudabacks' "reliance on the 'no salvage' clause," they indicated. They also claim that they had "express assurances from the City Council that any 'salvaged property' would be returned and reintegrated with no diminution in value to the Philion home."

In a press release, the city claims the Cudabacks bought the home "in an 'as is' condition." The city also claims that Philion admitted, at his April 30, 2007, plea hearing, that he did the damage to the home in early fall 2006. "Mr. Philion also admitted that he did not receive permission from the City Council to remove such items," the press release indicated. "As part of Mr. Philion's plea agreement, he agreed to pay restitution to the victim of the crime, the city of Red Lake Falls. If the Cudabacks had spoken with Mr. Philion, attended the plea hearing or reviewed a transcript of the plea hearing, perhaps they would not have made such erroneous and unfounded allegations against the city and its individual City Council members."

Also, in the press release, the city said that "the Cudabacks' claims for damages are over-reaching and unconscionable." It went on to say, "While the Cudabacks purchased the home for only $20,210, they claim the cost to replace and re-affix the 'looted fixtures' to be in excess of $30,000."

The Cudabacks claim that "disturbingly, instead of honoring this representation, the Philion home was looted further, followed by an unfortunate coverup by the city (featuring blatant, calculated violations of the Minnesota Open Meeting Law and the Minnesota Government Data Practices Act); and culminating with the City Council's unconscionable public defaming (ratified and published) of the Cudabacks and their business/professional integrity, in a desperate attempt to avoid public scrutiny and criminal prosecution."

In its press release, the city wrote that it has "extensively investigated" the Cudabacks' allegations pertaining to the former Philion home since it became aware of the allegations in February 2007. The press release also said, "The city of Red Lake Falls is disappointed and disheartened that the Cudabacks have decided to litigate their claims in the press and not in the courtroom. However, the city has worked hard to investigate the claims of the Cudabacks and is confident that the city and its individual City Council members will be cleared of any wrongdoing."

GF man sentenced for his role in TRF burglary

A Grand Forks, N.D., man was sentenced Monday in Pennington County District Coun for his involvement in the April 5 burglary of Computer Run/Radio Shack in Thief River Falls.

Zachary James Rogers, 23, was sentenced to 67 months in prison for felony second degree controlled substance crime, 22 months in prison for felony possession of stolen property and 12 months in jail for gross misdemeanor third degree refusal to submit to chemical testing. Those sentences are to be served concurrently with one another. Rogers was also ordered to pay $132 in fees and fines for each charge. He was also ordered to pay $2,637.80 in restitution jointly and severally for the stolen property charge. Rogers was given credit for time served. As a condition of his sentences, he was ordered to undergo DNA testing and to comply with a lifetime ban on the possession of firearms.

In a plea agreement, charges of felony second degree burglary (aiding and abetting), misdemeanor fleeing a peace officer in a motor vehicle and a felony offense of being a felon in possession of a firearm were dismissed.

The six charges were part of an amended criminal complaint that was filed April 30 in the Pennington County District Court Administrator's Office. Originally, Rogers had been charged with felony conspiracy to commit a second degree burglary, gross misdemeanor third degree refusal to submit to chemical testing, felony second degree assault, felony second degree burglary (aiding and abetting), felony possession of stolen property and gross misdemeanor fleeing a peace officer in a motor vehicle.

Gregory Wade Nordrum, 38, Grand Forks, has also been charged in connection with the case. Nordrum pled guilty July 16 in Pennington County District Court to felony second degree burglary, according to the Pennington County Court Administrator's Office. As part of a plea agreement, it is expected that charges of felony theft, felony conspiracy to commit a second degree burglary, misdemeanor fleeing a peace officer by means other than a motor vehicle, felony second degree controlled substance crime and felony firearm possession will be dismissed against Nordrum during sentencing Oct. 8.

According to the amended criminal complaint against Rogers, a concerned citizen called police April 5, indicating that someone was breaking into Computer Run/Radio Shack. A window was broken at the business, and the person was driving a gray Oldsmobile. While en route, law enforcement saw the Oldsmobile at Radio Shack as it traveled behind Kmart. As law enforcement observed the car, Rogers failed to stop at stop signs. Law enforcement officers activated their squad cars' emergency lights and sirens; however, Rogers didn't stop the car. He accelerated at a high rate of speed in an attempt to evade them. Law enforcement continued to follow Rogers and Nordrum throughout Thief River Falls. Rogers traveled at a high rate of speed and failed to stop for red lights and stop signs. He went through yards and drove off of roads to try to evade law enforcement. (At some point in time, he apparently drove through a yard at 701 First St. W. According to court documents, Rogers has been ordered to pay restitution to Ann Stanina for a tree that had been struck or run over.)

Law enforcement officers then tried to use their squad cars to stop Rogers, who ended up colliding with a Thief River Falls Police Department squad car in a yard at an unidentified Thief River Falls location. Rogers continued driving, and the vehicle traveled at speeds between 90 and 100 mph. According to the complaint, the Oldsmobile collided with the squad car a second time while the officer attempted to stop the Oldsmobile. At that point, the Oldsmobile was stopped, and Rogers and Nordrum fled on foot. Police officers apprehended them in the area of Oakland Park.

Further investigation revealed electronics equipment had been stolen from Computer Run/Radio Shack after a window had been broken there. Those items were valued at more than $2,500 but less than $35,000.

Further investigation also revealed that a 9-millimeter high-point pistol was thrown out of the car as Rogers and Nordrum attempted to evade law enforcement, according to the amended complaint.

Law enforcement executed a search warrant of the car after the chase ended. That search yielded numerous evidence tying Rogers and Nordrum to the burglary. Ammunition for the 9-millimeter high-point pistol was found in the vehicle as well. Approximately nine grams of methamphetamine were also found in the vehicle.

The amended criminal complaint against Rogers also indicated he had been adjudicated for vehicle theft in the past. The complaint doesn't indicate where that offense occurred. Rogers was on supervised probation in Polk County for felony theft by check at the time of the burglary at Computer Run/Radio Shack.

New Student Orientation at NCTC August 24

All new students and transfer students enrolling for fall semester at Northland Community and Technical College – Thief River Falls, are invited and encouraged to participate in New Student Orientation, Friday, Aug. 24.

New Student Orientation is designed to assist students in their move to college life, with important information about financial aid, computer use, student services, activities and much more.

Gene Klinke, director of enrollment management at NCTC, said the day can be extremely helpful for new students. "I encourage all new students to attend," said Klinke. "It is important that students become familiar with college services and policies, and the day is also a fun opportunity to meet fellow classmates."

New Student Orientation starts with registration beginning at 9:15 a.m. in the Student Commons. The program begins at 10 a.m. in the theater/gymnasium, and lasts until 11:30 a.m. Open house will take place in the Commons from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., with booths on display from several student organizations and community businesses.

Registration for New Student Orientation is required. To register, or for more information, please call (218) 681-0854, or tool free at 1-800-959-6282, ext. 1854.

New Student Orientation is scheduled for the Thief River Falls campus only. Students enrolled at the East Grand Forks campus attend orientation when they register for classes.

Model Railroad Club plans annual show

The Thief River Falls Model Railroad Club's 15th Annual Model Railroad and Hobby Show will be Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 15 and 16 at the National Guard Armory in Thief River Falls. There will be displays of several different scale model trains and hobbies. From 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday, and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, hobby enthusiasts of all ages will be able to visit with other hobbyists and see operating layouts and displays set up by participating clubs and individuals.

Several vendors have agreed to display their products for sale. There also will be door prizes.

The entry fee to the show is $2.50. Children 12 and under will be admitted free with a paying adult.

Energy drink cans fuel fund drive for cancer funds

Empty cans of Monster Energy Drink will help cancer patients. Individuals who donate the cans to Cans for Cancer will obtain discounted tickets to the Kick'n Up Kountry Music Festival Aug. 31 through Sept. 2 in Thief River Falls.

Ardell Larson, president of Kick'n Up Kountry, has announced that the official drink for the festival is the Monster Energy Drink. This non-alcoholic drink, she said, has been chosen to help raise funds for cancer patients through a new program called "Cans fur Cancer."

Larson explained that all of the funds raised by redeeming cans of Monster Energy Drink will be used to help cancer patients. Individuals may participate in this program by redeeming four cans of Monster Energy Drink at the following locations: Petro Pumper in Thief River Falls, Paradise in Strathcona, Rivers Edge in Greenbush, The Wheel in Middle River, Karlstad Korner in Karlstad, Bernstrom Oil in Lancaster, the Rainbow Club in Strandquist and the Xpress Mart in Newfolden. Donating four cans of the energy drink also qualifies the individual who donated the cans to purchase a discounted general admission ticket to Kick'n Up Kountry for $80, a savings of $20. Larson said tickets may be ordered at those same locations where empty cans of the energy drink can be redeemed. As a side note, Larson added that visitors to those establishments listed may also see a display of the new Power Board that was developed by Mattracks.

The first event where empty cans of the energy drink will be collected for Cans for Cancer will take place Saturday (today) and Sunday, at a paintball tournament at the Rainbow Club in Strandquist. Larson said it was her understanding that this event will attract professional and amateur paintball enthusiasts, and that a prime rib buffet will be served. She added that individuals should call to make a reservation if they plan to attend the buffet.

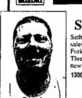
Larson said Les's Sanitation will be collecting the cans at all the sites, and will have a truck at the Kick'n Up Kountry Festival to collect cans.

She said she hopes this event will be very successful.

Greenbush Women of Today to host Kids' Week

The Greenbush Women of Today is sponsoring Kids' Week activities the week of August 20.

On Tuesday, Aug. 21, kids can bring their friends and floaties to the pool. Kids can swim from 6 to 8 p.m. and register for door prizes, which will be given out that night.



Also part of Kids' Week is Fun Night at the Park on Thursday, Aug. 23. The event will be held at the Legion Park (the park past the golf course). The event will start with a hot dog supper at 6 p.m. for only $2.

At 6:30 p.m., relay races and games are scheduled, and at approximately 7:30 p.m., the evening will conclude with a campfire and S'mores. This will also be a great opportunity to check out the new playground equipment recently installed at the park.

Any questions about these events should be directed to Sharla Kilen at (218) 782-5626 or Nicole Williamson at (218) 782-5960.

Singles champions in Thief River Falls city tennis tournament played Aug. 4-5 were Sarah Larson and Justin Pyle. (Submitted photo).

City tennis champions named

Champions were named in men's and women's singles and doubles during the 2007 Thief River Falls city tennis tournament: The annual event was played Aug. 4-5.

Justin Pyle defeated Cody Bottem in the men's singles final and Sarah Larson beat Kassi Sparby in the title match for women's singles.

Pyle and Ryan LaCoursiere teamed up to beat Corey Thorson and Troy Hanestad in the men's doubles championship match; Kristine Sletten and Chelsea Daley posted a win over Carli Sundahl and Laura Heschke in the women's doubles final.

Consolation champions were Connor Hutton, men's singles; Dawn Pyle, women's singles; Rob LaCoursiere and Kevin Rook, men's doubles; Randi Numedahl and Jaime LaCoursiere, women's doubles.

Thorson, the Thief River Falls boys and girls high school tennis coach, was tournament manager. He thanked all the participants who helped make the Prowler tennis program fund-raiser a success. "It was a great weekend of tennis," he said. "We had a lot of great matches."

NCTC volleyball...

Pioneers are led by record setting setter

■ Amie Salvhus will run Northland offense

Record-setting sophomore setter Amie Salvhus will lead Northland Community and Technical College into the 2007 volleyball season.

Salvhus, a native of McIntosh and a product of the Win-E-Mac High School volleyball program, made an impact as a college freshman in 2006 when she set Northland records for assists in a season with 649 and assists per match with an average of 9.98.

Those numbers put Salvhus in position this fall to become the Pioneers' first player with 1,000 career assists.

Lisa Handley begins her second year as Northland head coach with an eight-player roster. The Pioneers dressed eight freshmen in 2006, but only two – Salvhus and middle hitter Alicia Lindquist of Warroad – returned as sophomores.

Among the six first-year players reporting for the start of practice are Thief River Falls' Sarah Michaels, a middle hitter, and Shauna Rogalla, who plays the right side.

Rest of the freshmen include outside hitter Brooke Conely, Warren; outside hitter Leigha Curfman, Fosston; defensive specialist and setter Jenny Frantsen, Hazen, N.D.; and libero Kelsey Gust, Emerado, N.D.

"The team looks good," said Handley. "We have a solid foundation with good players and good attitudes."

Assistant coach Alisa Olson played for Handley last year as Alisa Costin.

The Pioneers reached the .500 level in 2006 with a 14-14 finish after struggling through a 1-21 campaign the year before. However, the turnaround wasn't enough to return Northland to the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament.

Northland opens the schedule with a Saturday, Aug. 25, appearance at the MSCTC-Fergus Falls Invitational. The Pioneers will make their 2007 home debut Wednesday, Aug. 29, with a triangular that also involves Mayville State and Rainy River.

Swim Club meeting will be held Aug. 22 at FMS

Thief River Falls Swim Club annual meeting will be held Wednesday, Aug. 22, at 6:45 p.m. in the Franklin Middle School cafeteria.

The meeting will be held in conjunction with a meeting designed for parents of the Thief River Falls girls high school swim team.

All Prowler swimmers, Tigershark swimmers and their parents are invited to attend.

TRF runners are in Section 8A

A small, young group of runners greeted Thief River Falls boys and girls high school cross country coach Rick Karboviak on the first day of 2007 workouts Monday.

Karboviak began his third year as the Prowlers coach with 14 runners – eight boys and six girls – in grades 6-12. Five of them (all boys) are in grades 10-12.

However, 10 of those 14 runners have varsity experience, and they've had success at the junior high level.

"My roster is pretty small this year compared to the past two seasons," acknowledged Karboviak. "We may be small in numbers, but we're very powerful in our overall talent. Even though they may be mostly young, there's a lot of potential in this bunch."

Brett Hanson and newcomer Lucas Fomshell are the only seniors on the roster. Other high school-age runners are juniors Jordan Engen and Derek Lunde; sophomore Michael Dyrdal; and freshmen Jacoby Bergeron, Brendan Skime and Emily Robson.

Megan Bergland, Emily Jones and Paige Thune are veteran runners as eighth graders.

Seventh grader Christian Aandal, along with sixth graders Angela Mosbeck and MacKenzie Kruta, are newcomers who round out the roster.

"We always seem to pick up a few runners here and there in the first two-three weeks," noted Karboviak. "I know there might be a few more out there who are on vacation yet who expressed interest to me during the spring and summer. All are welcome."

The Prowlers should benefit, according to Karboviak, by the Minnesota State High School League reclassification process that moved them from Class AA to Class A for cross country. They are now in Section 8A, along with Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton, East Grand Forks, Frazee, Indus, Lake Park-Audubon, Park Rapids Area, Pelican Rapids, Perham, Pillager, Roseau, Staples-Motley, TrekNorth, Wadena-Deer Creek, Warroad, Bagley/Fosston, Hawley/Ulen-Hitterdal, Lake of the Woods, Menahga-Sebeka and Park Christian.

"I'm excited about the new classification," said Karboviak. "We can compete better with schools of smaller sizes compared to the bigger schools in Section 8AA."

Although the numbers are small, the Prowlers' potential and their move to Section 8A could make it an interesting fall, Karboviak hinted. "With 10 returning who have varsity experience, we should fare well in our races," he said. "I want to note that even with small numbers, big things can happen. You just never know when someone will really shine through and have a great race at the right time."

Thief River Falls' season opener will be the Monday, Aug. 27, Moorhead Invitational. The Prowlers' lone home appearance will be a Monday, Oct. 1, race at the Thief River Golf Club.

TRF women's volleyball meeting set for Aug. 21

Organizational meeting for the 2007-08 Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation Department women's volleyball program will be held Tuesday, Aug. 21, at 7 p.m. at the Elks Club.

All captains and interested players for the Tuesday and Thursday night leagues should attend the meeting.

If you are unable to attend, or for additional information, call Kathy Wentz at 681-3510.

Apply for '07 antlerless deer permits by Sept. 6

Deer hunters who wish to harvest antlerless deer are encouraged to take extra time in determining if they need to apply to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources for an either-sex permit prior to the Sept. 6 application deadline.

Adult hunters who purchase an all-season or regular firearm license and hunt in a lottery permit area (noted as blue on the colored maps available with the 2007 Hunting and Trapping Regulations Handbook) need to purchase their license and apply for an either-sex permit by the Sept. 6 deadline.

Hunters who intend to purchase an all-season license and hunt during the muzzleloader season also need to apply if they intend to harvest an antlerless deer this year.

"It's important for hunters to look at the book every year before the lottery application deadline," said Lou Cornicelli, DNR big game program coordinator. "While some areas are always lottery, there have been some changes around St. Cloud and in western Minnesota."

Hunters who fail to apply before the Sept. 6 application deadline or are unsuccessful in the lottery will be restricted to bucks only, Cornicelli added. Leftover lottery permits will be sold on a first-come, first-served basis at 5 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 15. However, hunters should understand that permits will be limited as most are distributed through the lottery.

A complete list of lottery areas can be found in the 2007 hunting synopsis, which is available on the DNR Web site or at all 1,800 electronic licensing system agents. Alternatively, hunters can view specific 2007 deer season information at http://files.dnr.state.mn.us/outdoor_activities/hunting/deer/2007/2007_deer_season.pdf.

DNR asking hunters not to shoot radio-collared bears

Minnesota Department of Natural Resources is asking bear hunters not to shoot radio-collared bears.

The DNR is currently monitoring about 40 radio-collared bears, according to DNR bear research biologist Dave Garshelis. Most reside in the area of the Chippewa National Forest, Camp Ripley Military Reservation, and near Voyageurs National Park. However, Garshelis indicated that during the fall, bears may travel 50 or more miles from their normal area.

Especially important to these research efforts are newly collared bears in northwestern Minnesota. After two and a one-half months of intensive trapping this summer, mainly around Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area and Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, Garshelis and a University of Minnesota graduate student were able to catch 16 bears.

"Most of these were fitted with GPS radio collars, which collect and store location data that will be downloaded when we visit the bears in their winter dens," said Garshelis. "I hope hunters in this area can find other bears to harvest, as we've invested a lot of time and expense in these individuals. The data in their collars is extremely valuable in monitoring the dynamics of our bear population."

The study in northwestern Minnesota is aimed at understanding how bears use the small patches of forest at the fringe of the bear range.

Most research bears have blaze orange collars so they will be more visible to hunters. "We recognize, however, that in some situations a bear hunter may not be able to see a radio-collar before making the shot," said Lou Cornicelli, Big Game Program coordinator. "Taking a radio-collared bear is legal unless it is accompanied by a researcher, but we are asking hunters to try to cooperate with research efforts and avoid shooting them whenever possible."

Hunters who shoot a collared bear are asked call the Minnesota DNR Wildlife Research Office in Grand Rapids at 218-327-4146. The bear season opens Sept. 1.

Clean feeders to keep birds healthy

Moldy birdseed and unclean bird feeders can cause birds to become sick. In hot humid weather, it is common for mold to form on wet birdseed. The mold can cause a fatal avian disease called aspergillosis, which affects the birds respiratory systems, according to the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

Carrol Henderson, supervisor of the DNR Nongame Wildlife Program, urges people to rake or sweep up fallen seeds and seed hulls under their feeder to prevent moldy conditions from occurring on the ground. "These seeds can also attract meadow voles, house mice or other rodents, and the growth inhibitors in sunflower hulls can cause problems with grass."

Salmonella is another disease that affects birds and is associated with unclean feeders.

To clean bird feeders, Henderson suggests using a solution of two ounces of bleach with one gallon of water and scrub the entire surface. Hummingbird feeders should be cleaned about every week to 10 days during the summer to keep the sugar water from producing mold.

Grinding Day events set Sunday, Aug. 26, at Old Mill State Park

Tall grasses wave in the wind. The steam whistle blows. The grinding sound of a granite mill wheel fills the air. It's Grinding Day at Old Mill State Park on Sunday, Aug. 26, when the public is invited to "step back in time" to experience life on the prairie in the late 1800s.

Visitors can tour the park, see how wheat is ground into flour, enjoy refreshments and hear the old whistle blow at the historic Larson Mill in the park.

It was the Lars Larson family who homesteaded this area and built the mill that becomes the center of attention at this annual event. An actor portraying Lars Larson Jr. will greet visitors to the Larson cabin at the mill site.

At the mill, Marshall County Historical Society volunteers will fire up the Case 359 Steam engine, one of the few operational examples of its kind in the United States, and start the granite millstones turning. From 1 to 4 p.m., volunteers will demonstrate the workings of the mill and how grain is ground into flour. Fresh-ground flour and bran from the mill will be available for sale.

Visitors are invited to bring a picnic lunch or purchase food and refreshments. Visitors should park in the picnic area parking lot.

Old Mill State Park is located on Marshall County Road 39. From Newfolden, go approximately 11 miles west on Marshall County Road 4 to County Road 39. From Warren, take Marshall County Road 3 northeast for approximately 17 miles and watch for signs to the park.

Although all programs are free and open to the public, a Minnesota state park vehicle permit is required to enter the park. Permits can be purchased at the park office. The daily permit is $5 and the annual permit is $25.

Gun dog training program is slated at Rydell Refuge

Rydell National Wildlife Refuge will present a program on gun dog training Sunday, Aug. 26.

Doug Shoenbom, owner of Glacier Retriever Kennels, will offer tips and a demonstration on how to train gun dogs of various kinds, from pointers to retrievers.

The 2 p.m. program is free and open to the public.

To reach Rydell National Wildlife Refuge, follow U.S. Highway 2 approximately three miles east of Mentor, or three miles west of Erskine, then turn south onto Polk County 210 and go 2.5 miles to the entrance drive.

For additional information, call the refuge at 1-800-841-0172.

- DNR Question/Answer -

Q: Humans and fish are similar in that they rely on the senses of taste, smell, sight, hearing and touch to live and cope with their surroundings. However, fish also have a sixth sense. What is it?

A: Although technically not a sixth sense, fish do have a motion detection system called the lateral line, which is an extension of their sense of hearing. It is comprised of a series of special cells that run along each side of the body. A hole through the scales allow vibrations to enter the cell where sensitive hairs help detect the location and direction of the source of the vibrations. This is especially important to anglers. Sound and movement of bait and lures in the water attracts attention. Once at an angler's lure, fish will use their other five senses to determine if the bait is something that sounds like, feels like, looks like, smells like and tastes like something they might usually eat. While the lateral line helps fish find a meal, it also helps them avoid becoming one too. The lateral line also helps a school of fish swim together without bumping into each other.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew - saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Cruising Viking's Past

I am a Viking boy. I don't care where I live or what I do, I am a Viking boy. When I see a fellow Viking boy, I am never more than a cup of coffee or a cold beer from a conversation about how good it was to grow up Viking. My memories of the little town include listening to Meat Loaf in front of the old post office, catching turkeys at Lloyd Kagg's farm and cruising Viking's gravel streets in Ryan Shern's Camaro. Viking memories go far deeper, and that is what this weekend is about during Good Old Days (www.vikingminnesota.com).

Viking decided it liked company after its centennial in 2005, so it decided to hold an open house each summer. They've set quite a table for company daring enough to make the 17-mile trip from Thief River Falls; Saturday features a flea market, kids' games, breakfast at the diner, a firearms expo and a parade at 1 in the afternoon. The fire department will cook for you all day Saturday if you like, and there's a watermelon-eating contest at 4 p.m. Sunday, there's a community church service in the park, after which Viking plans to rest until next year. This year's party is special in Viking; Selma Peters is having a birthday, and this centenarian is only two years younger than her favorite town. I spoke with Selma's son, Jerome Peters, on Thursday. Jerome has created a museum in Viking that showcases not just history, but rather, Viking's history.

First off, the Viking Museum is nice - concrete floors and new buildings protect all of those treasures from days past. Part of Viking's celebration is that the museum will be open Friday through Monday, and part of the museum experience is a threshing bee. I was amazed at the collection of artifacts that spoke of Viking's history, particularly its agricultural history. Jerome has put together a very nice collection of John Deere tractors and threshing machines to handle the crop of wheat, oats and corn planted this spring. The Viking Museum also comes in from the field and into the houses of Viking with old Maytag gas engines, washing machines, hand tools and the small things that made life possible for Viking's first residents. There is an artifact from one of Viking's first historians, Leonard Larson, a small brick he found with the word "Viking" formed into it. I don't know if the brick was cast like that for our little town, but it's clear that Viking was never far from Leonard's heart or mind. I wouldn't steer you wrong on this. Whether you know it or not, you need a taste of history and nobody has a better recipe than this museum and this town.

I make a strong case for a weekend trip to Viking. I guess maybe I like my old town because its past reminds me of my own.

Celebrate the "Good Old Days" in Viking this weekend

Vacationers and local residents are invited to Good Old Days in Viking on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 17-19.

Starting at 8 p.m Friday, a movie will be shown and a bonfire will be held. S'mores will be served. All of those events will be held at the skating rink, weather permitting.

On Saturday, breakfast will be served at Viking Diner at 7 a.m. Two hours later, the flea market in the park will begin. At 11 a.m., kids' activities will be held in the park and the firemen's lunch will be held at the Fire Hall. The parade begins at 1 p.m. An hour later, music will be performed in the park. At 4 p.m., a watermelon eating contest will be held. Threshing and old-time demonstrations will be held throughout the afternoon.

On Sunday, a 9 a.m. community worship service will be held in the park.

member has worked with animals, he or she will help the 4-H club member with animal projects. If a family member knows how to sew, he or she will help the 4-H club member with sewing projects.

4-H is also a family affair for the Natvik and Taggart families. About 22 years ago, the Natvik family began its involvement in the New Solum 4-H Club. That involvement continues to this day. Barb Natvik is the club's leader. Her daughters, Beth and Kelly, were in the club. Now, Kelly's sons Austin, 8, and Cole, 6, are involved.

"I think it's a great program. Kids get a lot of experience that they wouldn't get normally," said Kelly (Natvik) Taggart.

Austin and Cole Taggart have enjoyed the experience. Austin, who will enter the advanced portion of 4-H this year, especially enjoys making crafts.

His brother Cole will continue in Cloverbuds this year. "I liked when we made the little cars," said Cole, who made the cars in his Cloverbuds workshop at Challenger Elementary School in Thief River Falls.

Their mom fondly looks back on her participation in 4-H. Kelly Taggart enjoyed working on shop projects. Several years in a row, she won grand champion awards for her shop projects. She made nightstands and a large entertainment center. She still owns the entertainment center. The nightstands were made for her parents, and she liked the nightstands so much she made some for herself. She also completed projects in the foods and nutrition, clothing, and cat divisions of 4-H.

In addition to completing projects for 4-H, Kelly Taggart also participated in an exchange with Kansas 4-Hers, and she went to 4-H camps at Lake Sarah and Sand Hill Lake.

4-H has changed since Kelly Taggart's time in 4-H. It has also changed since New Solum 4-H Club began 60 years ago. Microwave cooking and computers are among the projects that can now be entered into the Pennington County Fair.

The future of 4-H will be bright since members continue to complete projects that relate to current society, noted Joyce Kron, who succeeded Wold as the Rosebank teacher and New Solum 4-H Club leader.

Club characteristics

Despite the changes at New Solum 4-H Club and with 4-H, in general, some things have remained constant. Kids and their parents are still devoted to the club, and the club is still devoted to helping its community.

For the past three years, the club has helped the Thief River Falls Kiwanis Club with its efforts to raise funds for playground equipment at Northrop Park in Thief River Falls. This year, the club provided help at the picnic in the park, help at the rummage sale and help at the pancake breakfast, which were all organized by the Kiwanis Club.

It has also served the community by helping the Pennington County Sheriff's Office. In 2002, the club raised $1,500 toward the training expenses for a sheriff's deputy to work with the office's K-9 unit. For these fundraising efforts, the club received a grand champion award at the Pennington County Fair and a blue ribbon at the Minnesota State Fair.

The club's commitment to community service is also evident at Rosebank School. In the past 10 to 15 years, club members have restored the schoolhouse by placing new shingles on the roof, painting the schoolhouse and installing a new ceiling. The schoolhouse is owned by the Rosebank Historical Society. The club isn't allowed to own property, and the historical society was formed in order to own and preserve the Rosebank School property. 4-H families and other interested people are members of the historical society.

Community service isn't the only constant club characteristic. Some of its early activities continue today. John Hellquist, a former club member and former Rosebank student, remembered the club's participation in Share the Fun, a performing arts activity. Hellquist remembered competing against other 4-H clubs at the former Northrop Elementary School in Thief River Falls. The winning Share the Fun group was then able to perform its act on the LHS stage. While Hellquist was a member, the club won that opportunity one year.

Being a member of the 4-H club has also afforded members the opportunity to travel. Marlene (Anderson) Barnett, a former club member and former Rosebank student, thought the first time she went to the Twin Cities was through 4-H.

Remembering Rosebank School

Barnett and Hellquist were members of the 4-H club when school was still in session at Rosebank School. Over its 60-year history, the club has continued to meet in Rosebank School even though the school closed for the final time in 1956.

Fifty-one years later, its former teachers and students remembered the times they spent at the school. For Wold, time hasn't erased the clarity of those memories.

While teaching at the school, Wold migrated back and forth between two residences. On weekends, she lived with two of her sisters. On weekdays, she lived with Mr. and Mrs. Albert ... and walked to and from their home to the school. Back in those days, she never thought of locking the school door and she had never heard the word "harassment."

Many moments stand out in the four years that Wold taught at Rosebank School. There was the time when some students showed her an animal skeleton that they had found near the school.

There was the time when the superintendent appeared one day on the school's doorstep. The superintendent told Wold to go to the back of the room, and then the superintendent proceeded to quiz three or four fourth graders on the map. "And I thought, 'Oh wow.' I don't know if I prayed or not," she recalled. Her students didn't let her down.

Some of the former students recalled that the school's bell had been stolen. Claiming that he had nothing to do with its removal, Hellquist recalled that some students took the bell down and planned to put it back for their 10-year class reunion. After the bell spent some time in a gravel pit and later on someone's nightstand, the group made true on its promise.

Several of Lorraine (Hellquist) Campbell's lasting memories involve the Christmas programs that were held at Rosebank School. Campbell, who was one of the taller children at the school, was always forced to play Joseph, and she usually had to stand in the back row with the boys during the programs. At the Christmas programs, the students and their parents received paper sacks filled with candy and nuts.

Campbell also remembered one particular pie raffle at the school. The girls decorated pies and the boys would bet on the pies. Classmate Harlan Mellem won Campbell's pie, and, like the other girls, Campbell was supposed to sit near the winner of her pie. She wouldn't sit next to Mellem. She was too shy.

Former students also recalled recess at the school. Barnett remembered playing house in the wooded area near the school. Campbell said they played with real dishes – often broken dishes.

Hot lunches at the school left a lasting impression on some of the students. Jim Matson remembered rice potatoes with meatballs and gravy. He said he probably only had the meal once or twice at the school, but it was delicious.

"I'll never forget that," said Barnett, who also recalled that the students used to put their wet mittens near the stove to dry them off.

Neither will Campbell. The smells of wet wool mittens and kids overshoes near the stove remain with her to this day.

Communication breaks down over communications served on the council approved a resolution that seemed to define the city's participation as the levy to pay for bonding.

City and county representatives apparently met Monday to discuss the new radio system and the recent roofing project. During the Committee of the Whole meeting on Tuesday, Hruby and Torkelson referred to a March 17, 2003, meeting between city and county officials that seems to address the questions that city leaders had about the city's involvement in funding the radio system. Hruby said city and county officials went over the estimate for the radio system at that 2003 meeting. He added that they determined the city's responsibilities and the county's responsibilities pertaining to that system. Three years later, the system was installed.

Council member Elvera Cullen was the only current council member at the Committee of the Whole meeting who also happened to be a member of the 2003 committee discussing that issue. She recalled that the city planned to pay its share while the county made the bond payments for the public radio system.

Don Jensen, a Pennington County commissioner, said that could still work; however, he indicated that the county needed to get the issue resolved. "It's been on the books," he said. "The [state] auditor gave us the roking over that it needs to be resolved."

If the council decides to pay the $113,000 bill, Torkelson questioned whether it could pay it in installments starting in 2011. That year was picked since the city is still paying for the ... remodeling project at the former Soo Line depot (City Hall). She said that would also ensure that the council wouldn't have to raise the city's property tax levy.

Jensen replied that he doesn't think the County Board will have problems with that option. Yet, he suggested that the city pay something toward the project until it begins the installments in 2011. He suggested $5,000 a year until 2011.

LEC roof

City and county leaders also discussed the recent $59,943 roofing project at the LEC. After the leaders' initial meeting Monday, Pennington County Maintenance Supervisor Jim Seibel measured the LEC's roof. After taking the Pennington County Jail and the Sentence to Serve garage out of the equation, the county determined the city's half of the remainder of the roof cost $20,613.

At the Committee of the Whole meeting Tuesday, Torkelson said she had no knowledge of the roof project until her office received a bill for it.

There have been problems with the roof in the past. The roof was continuously patched, Hruby said.

"We didn't plan on doing it this year," said Olson, who noted that Seibel found soft spots on the roof and realized that the project needed to be done now.

After heavy rains, water had leaked down the inside walls of the LEC, said Murphy, who noted those leaks triggered Seibel to go onto the LEC roof to check it out.

The LEC's administrative hallway had the worst water leaks, said Hruhy, who indicated the leaks caused damage to ceiling tiles.

individual club championship.

Dan explained that when he came to Thief River Falls in the mid 1980s, someone asked him to fill in during a team shoot. He said he's been a member ever since. This year, his son, Matt, became a member.

Lindquist said he enjoys the shooting and the camaraderie. "I enjoy the people I'm with when I'm here," said Lindquist.

The Thief River Falls Trap Club has been around for many years. At one time it was at the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. It was then moved to the golf club location, then to a club south of Newfolden. Sometime in the 1980s, club members purchased 43 acres of land for the club at its current location, northwest of Thief River Falls about one and one-half miles west of Highway 59 on 200th Street NW. More recently, the club purchased an additional seven acres and added sporting clays to the list of challenging activities at the club.

During the many years the club has been active, it has helped produce some top-ranked shooters - Fran Johnson and Tom Greelis, Karl Bjorkman, Scott Greelis shot for UNO's National Collegiate Trap Championship, an NCAA Division I event. Currently, there are about 96 members in the trap club, and 30 or so who shoot sporting clays. Members come from throughout the area - Brooks, Erskine, Greenbush, Crookston, Thief River Falls, and Red Lake Falls.

Hunters who want to brush up on their shooting skills before the hunting season begins are welcome to attend the open house on Aug. 25. Members hope that some of the visitors may just find what they're looking for and become club members.

Howard Thorson said he's been a member of the club for over 30 years. The one year, he said, he didn't shoot, what he missed most were the people.

Applications for judges sought in Ninth District

The Commission on Judicial Selection has announced that applications are now being accepted for two Ninth Judicial District trial court bench vacancies. The first opening is as a result of a new judgeship created by the 2007 Minnesota Legislature (2007 Minnesota Laws, Chapter 54, Article 1, Section 5), which takes effect on Jan. 1, 2008. The second vacancy will occur with the retirement of the Honorable Frederick J. Casey on March 12, 2008. The Supreme Court has certified the chambers of both of these positions for the city of Brainerd in Crow Wing County.

Licensed Minnesota attorneys who are residents of the Ninth Judicial District, may request an application by calling John Hultquist at 651-296-0019, via e-mail at john.hultquist@state.mn.us or by writing Eric J. Magnuson, Chair, Commission on Judicial Selection, 130 State Capitol, 75 Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Blvd., St. Paul, MN 55155.

All candidates for these vacancies must submit an application. One set of application materials will be considered for both positions. Applications and letters of recommendation must be submitted to the above address so they are received no later than 4:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Sept. 12, 2007.

Applicants are asked not to contact the commission members individually, as the nine members and the four district members will conduct interviews ... date.

State health commissioner meets with city officials

Fosston - "Minnesota Health Commissioner Dianne Mandernach officially presented the Governor's Fit City recognition plaque to Fosston Mayor Jim Offerdahl during the City Council's regular meeting last week. The official designation was originally awarded in June 2007.

"The effort was created by the state in 2005, and so far, 38 cities, including Fosston, have been given the 'Fit City' title. It is granted to those communities whose civic leaders show a commitment to creating a healthful environment along with fitness opportunities for residents." - The 13 Towns of Fosston, Aug. 21, 2007, by Don Kindall

Agreement signed to reduce State Patrol overtime hours

Red Lake Falls - "In order to help cut back overtime hours for the Minnesota State Patrol, the Red Lake County Board of Commissioners approved an agreement between the Red Lake County and Pennington County sheriffs' departments" that would allow Red Lake County inmates to be incarcerated "overnight in Thief River Falls for $50 per day."

"This agreement was written at the request of Red Lake County Sheriff Mitch Bernstein to reduce overtime hours for State Patrol officers who are mainly stationed in Thief River Falls."

"If a prisoner were arrested toward the end of a trooper's shift, it takes about 50 minutes for troopers to travel from Thief River Falls to Crookston, typically resulting in overtime hours." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, Aug. 22, 2007, by Destiny Harmoning

Kittson County EDA to reorganize

Hallock - "Commissioner Betty Younggren reported on the planned reorganization of the Kittson County Economic Development Association at the Aug. 7 commissioners' meeting.

"County Auditor/Treasurer Marilyn Gustafson reported that Kittson County has had two different types of economic development in the past. In 1994, five cities, Hallock, Karlstad, Kennedy, Lancaster and Lake Bronson, along with Kittson County, formed the Joint Powers Agreement for economic development in the county. The Joint Powers Board hired an EDA director, and projects were completed. They were co-funded by the cities and county. The JPB operated over a period of nine years, under two different directors, Scott Wilson and then Michael Troy. The board folded in December 2003 and the agreement was dissolved.

"In the meantime, the county obtained special legislation to create a new countywide economic development agency. That has been in development, and during the last couple of years, the county has contributed to economic development by helping to fund county projects through the Northwest Community Action Program in Badger under the direction of Karl Frigard.

"A committee has now been formed to reorganize the Kittson County EDA." - North Star News of Karlstad, Aug. 23, 2007, by Andy Hanson

Forum focuses on competing in a global economy

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Global competitiveness became local Aug. 15 at a forum hosted by the Minnesota Department of Economic Development.

DEED hosted the public forum "Minnesota Competes: 21st Century Action for Economic and Workforce Development" to get feedback on economic competitiveness. About 85 representatives of colleges, city governments, businesses and agencies attended the forum Aug. 15 at Ralph Engelstad Arena in Thief River Falls. The forum was among eight forums being held across the state. As part of the forums, participants met in small groups and answered series of questions. Later, those answers were shared with the larger groups. Information from the forums will help DEED determine how Minnesota can develop a globally competitive and robust economy.

"To some extent, we are facing an interesting conundrum in Greater Minnesota," said DEED Commissioner Dan McElroy, who noted employers are encountering problems in hiring higher-skilled workers in Greater Minnesota. At the same time, he said, high school students are saying there are no opportunities in Greater Minnesota and there's more opportunities in such cities as the Twin Cities; Fargo, N.D.; or Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. McElroy said everyone has to work together to change this mindset.

Unlike SimCity, there is no start-over button when it comes to a city, said McElroy, who noted cities and residents need to continue to be on the top of their game to keep the economy competitive.

What's working well so far in strengthening the economy? Having "quality jobs with decent salaries" in this region, replied Larry Young, director of the Joint Economic Development Commission in Bemidji.

Megan Hanson, clerk for the city of Lake Bronson, agreed. Businesses that have a high turnover are those businesses that don't pay well, she said.

Yet, finding a job may be a problem. While in high school, Hanson was told that if she wanted to find a job, she had to go to college. She went to college and graduated from the University of North Dakota with a bachelor's degree in business

Shriners parade to lead off Kick'n Up Kountry

Kick'n Up Kountry acts this year, will feature a Shriners parade. Starting at 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 1, in downtown Thief River Falls, motorized Shriner parade units will delight spectators.

Parade participants include the Mobile Nobles, Stephen Funsters, Grafton Cyclers, Easy Riders, Clowns, Crookston Chanters, Model-Ts from Langdon, and snowmobiles out of Roseau. In addition to these talented performers, the Mattracks Extreme Team will perform.

The parade route starts at the Pennington County Fairgrounds, travels east on First Street, turns north on Knight Avenue, west on Fourth Street and then concludes at the fairgrounds.

Shriners offers men and their families an opportunity to meet new friends who have similar interests. There are 191 Shrine Temples, or chapters, located in the United States, Canada, Mexico and the Republic of Panama. Informal Shrine Clubs are located around the world.

Shriners of North America have a philanthropic mission as well - to support Shriners Hospitals for Children, a world-class network of 22 pediatric specialty hospitals

The Milwaukee Road 4-8-4 No. 261 crosses the CP Rail line bridge in Thief River Falls, heading south toward Glenwood and Minneapolis. The train arrived in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, Aug. 21, and departed from Thief River Falls on Wednesday, Aug. 22. (More pictures will appear in the next edition of The Times.)

A Nostalgic Ride

by David Hill
Editor

Passengers on the Milwaukee Road 261 embarked on a journey last week that took them back in time to a time when steam ruled the rail lines and passengers road in style and comfort.

Ross and Betty Giles of Calgary recalled a time when they road on the rail lines when they were children. "It was wonderful," said Betty of the ride from Calgary to Thief River Falls.

"It was very smooth. It was so smooth that when it started I didn't even know we had left the station," said Ross.

Both said they enjoyed the observation car on their trip, adding that the service was excellent and they they had been treated very well, indeed.

Their description only made Val and Roger Heyn of Thief River Falls more excited for their journey. The Heyns were among a large number of passengers joining the train in Thief River Falls and traveling to Glenwood on Wednesday, Aug. 22, and returning to Thief River Falls by bus.

The Heyns had driven their 1928 Plymouth Chrysler to the station to greet the steam engine, which had been built in 1930. The Heyns' vehicle was joined by Frank Nesbit's 1948 Plymouth that had been restored as a taxi, which stopped the flow of passengers and caused them to pull out their cameras and start snapping pictures.

Upon their return to Thief River Falls, Roger Heyn said the trip was wonderful. He described a trip through a picturesque landscape of agricultural fields and lakes, which was punctuated by small towns and an amazing number of people along the tracks waiting to catch a glimpse of the bygone era of steam, led by the 261. As he looked at the scenery passing by, Heyn said he was very aware when they entered the drought zone - going from green to dried out and stunted crops.

Heyn noted that each car in the train was done in separate styles. The last car with the bubble-dome, was believed to have been the favorite car of Frank Sinatra and the Rat Pack. Like all of the cars, it was very deluxe and

TRF agrees to exchange of property with county

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

The Thief River Falls City Council has agreed to exchange City Auditorium and the Old Arena for Oakland Park. The Pennington County Board has yet to vote on the transaction. No money will be exchanged for the buildings and park.

The council voted unanimously in favor of that transaction at its meeting Tuesday. Council member Floyd Erickson was absent from the meeting, and council member Ken Schmalz was absent from that portion of the meeting. Despite voting on the transaction, the council didn't discuss it during the meeting.

As part of the agreement, the county will have to provide a three-year written notice to the Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association, the Archery Club and the Rifle Club if it chooses to terminate those groups' leases of the Old Arena.

Current leases for the Old Arena and City Auditorium will be recognized as long as they are feasible, said City Administrator Jodie Torkelson. The county will also allow the city to continue to store its election equipment in City Auditorium.

The city currently owns the two buildings and rents them to tenants and to groups that are hosting activities.

The cost of the two buildings and the park weren't discussed at the council meeting. According to

Clean Water projects near completion

Euclid East and Brandt impoundments dedicated

by David Hill
Editor

Dedication of the Red Lake Watershed District's Grand Marais Creek Watershed Euclid East and Brandt Impoundments took place Tuesday, Aug. 21. Dignitaries, board members and media attended a presentation on the project at the new Red Lake Watershed District office on Pennington Avenue in Thief River Falls. The group then traveled by bus to review the two sites located about one mile apart near Euclid.

Myron Jesme, administrator of the Red Lake Watershed District, said they began discussing the concept of the dry impoundment projects in 1990. The boards, however, did not start serious discussions about the project, which was to address the historical flooding and water quality issues in the area, until 2003.

The project was put on the fast track when Minnesota Governor Tim Pawlenty declared it a pilot project under his Clean Water Initiative.

In a letter to individuals attending the dedication, Pawlenty outlined the goals of the project: restoring 1,000 acres of wetlands and native prairie; implementing agricultural best management practices over 50 percent of the subwatershed; restoring six miles of the Grand Marais River; constructing two dry-gated impoundments; and upgrading the county public drainage system.

Nate Dalager, HDR engineering, which was responsible for the project design, said the designation certainly helped funding efforts.

Officials with the Watershed also estimated that the project was completed about twice as fast as usual

Reintegration continues for area troops

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Pennington County Veterans Service Officer Steve Stone is nearing the end of his year-long term as president of the Minnesota Veterans Service Officer Association. During that time, he has seen the reintegration of thousands of servicemen and he recently worked with veterans service officers from counties throughout Minnesota during reintegration at Ft. McCoy, Wis.

Stone said 3,059 troops, including 1,856 from Minnesota, began the reintegration process at Ft. McCoy in July, where Minnesota veterans service officers processed 300 servicemen and women each day. Servicemen and women could visit any of three stations offering information on education benefits, labor, workforce center and taxes. The final station gave county veterans service officers (from all over the state) a chance to meet with those who were returning. Each stop was short and intended mainly as an introduction, since the servicemen and women were thinking about home at the time and not their benefits.

VA representatives from Minneapolis, St. Cloud, Fargo, N.D., and Sioux Falls, S.D., were also available, and all returning servicemen and women were enrolled in the VA healthcare system while they were at Ft. McCoy.

Reintegration did not end at Ft. McCoy. Following their return to their respective counties, servicemen and women are eligible to participate in reintegration seminars at 30, 60 and 90 days after returning from active duty. All guard members, reserve and active duty servicemen and women are encouraged to attend.

Homecoming party Sept. 9

A homecoming party for all servicemen and women returning from Iraq, including anyone from active duty or the reserves who served in Iraq or Afghanistan, will be held at the Thief River Falls Armory on Sunday, Sept. 9. The event begins with an open house reception at 1 p.m. A program follows at 2 p.m. Admission and food are free.

All Vietnam vets eligible for VA medical care

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Effective immediately, all veterans of the Vietnam War, who were not previously enrolled, are eligible for medical care through their Veterans Affairs hospital. This includes all Vietnam War era vets who served in the country of Vietnam or Vietnam's inland waterways. Veterans of other wars will still be served on an [illegible] basis.

On Jan. 16, 2003 Veterans [illegible] established income eligibility guidelines that prevented some veterans of war from being able to enroll in their local VA hospital, because they made too much money. The 2003 decision to limit care based on income was made to help VA personnel deal with what was a three year waiting period for initial VA medical appointments in some parts of the country.

Veterans who enrolled in the VA prior to 2003 were grandfathered into the VA regardless of income level. After the January 2003 policy change, only the new VA clients had to meet the income eligibility requirements, have a service connected physical or mental condition or have a pre-existing condition that was worsened during their service.

Steve Stone, Pennington County veterans service officer, said the new rule will allow Vietnam era vets who were previously denied care because of their income to be served.

"This is big," Stone said. "These are guys who [illegible] VA and were [illegible] much money, and were turned away."

Stone said anyone who served in Vietnam between Jan. 9, 1962 and May 7, 1975 was possibly exposed to Agent Orange, a herbicide that was used in Vietnam between 1962 and 1971 to remove unwanted plant [illegible] which provided [illegible] during the [illegible] health problems [illegible] exposure to Agent Orange [illegible] other herbicides used in Vietnam.

Summer is winding down and grilling out will start to be less. Here are some recipes to make your end of summer grilling more exciting:

Tired of that same old potato salad every time you grill? Try this one for a zesty change:

ITALIAN POTATO SALAD
3 pounds potatoes
1/3 cup Italian salad dressing
4 hard cooked eggs, chopped
3/4 cup chopped celery
1/3 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped cucumber
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon horseradish
Chopped fresh tomatoes

Cook potatoes until tender, drain and cool. Peel and cube potatoes and place in a large bowl. Add dressing and toss. Cover and chill 2 hours.

Add eggs, celery, onion, cucumber and green pepper. Mix well.

In small bowl, combine mayonnaise, sour cream and horseradish. Mix well. Pour over potato mixture and toss to coat. Chill at least 1 hour. Top with tomatoes.

Use your leftover grilled steak in this dish, or buy a little "breakfast" steak or fancy sirloin to cook especially for the salad. Either way you'll love it:

PASTA SALAD WITH STEAK
Salad Dressing
3/4 cup olive oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons dried oregano
1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
2 teaspoons cider or red wine vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
3 cups cooked small shell pasta
1 sirloin steak (or leftover is fine)
Salad
2/3 cup diced cucumber
1/2 cup blue cheese
1/4 cup ripe olives
1/4 cup red onion
1/4 cup fresh parsley
1 (2 ounce) jar diced pimentos, drained
Iceberg or Romaine lettuce
Steak Rub
1 tablespoon olive oil
3 garlic cloves, minced
2 teaspoons dried oregano
2 teaspoons pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
Cook pasta and drain well.

Combine salad dressing ingredients. Set aside half and add remaining half to the cooked pasta. Cover and refrigerate.

If you are cooking your steak, combine rub ingredients and rub on steak. Cover and refrigerate for at least 15 minutes. Grill, uncovered, over medium heat for 9-10 minutes on each side or until meat reaches desired doneness (meat thermometer reads 140 degrees for rare, 160 for medium, 170 for well done). After cooking, let stand for 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, add cucumber, cheese, olives, onion, parsley and pimentos to pasta and mix well. Spoon onto lettuce-lined platter.

Slice steak and arrange over salad. Serve with reserved dressing.

If you want to make a simple meal to go with the zesty potato salad, make a quick trip to the deli and buy everything you need to make these goodies:

BEEF & CHEESE WRAPS
4 flour tortillas (10 inches)
1 (8 ounce) carton onion and chive cream cheese spread
1 cup shredded carrots
1 (4 ounces) cup shredded Monterey Jack cheese
1 pound thinly sliced cooked roast beef
Lettuce

Spread one side of each tortilla with cream cheese. Top with carrots and cheese. Layer with beef and lettuce. Roll up tightly and wrap in plastic wrap. Refrigerate at least 30 minutes. To serve, cut in half or in 1 inch slices. Serves 4.

This simple sweet salad will be especially good with this week's dishes - cool and refreshing:

ORANGE BUTTERMILK SALAD
1 (20 ounce) can crushed pineapple, undrained
1 large (6 ounce) package orange gelatin
2 cups buttermilk
1 (8 ounce) container frozen topping, thawed

In saucepan, bring pineapple to a boil. Remove from heat and add gelatin. Stir to dissolve. Add buttermilk and mix well. Cool to room temperature. Fold in whipped topping.

Pour into 11x7 inch dish and refrigerate several hours or overnight. To serve, cut into squares. Serves 12.

Gloryland Gospel Team to perform Aug. 26 in TRF

Gloryland Gospel Team of Gully, will be ministering at the Faith Lutheran Brethren Church of Thief River Falls, Sunday evening August 26, at 7 p.m. The Gloryland Gospel Team of Gully was founded in 1969 as an evangelistic ministry for the purpose of winning the lost to Christ through repentance and forgiveness of sin. It is an inter-denominational ministry geared to work with all churches who wish to see salvation brought to the lost. The ministry consists of both music and evangelistic preaching.

The music of the ministry ranges from old favorites, country Gospel and Southern Gospel with live instruments along with a minimal amount of sound tracks. The instruments include, rhythm guitar, lead guitar, bass guitar, peddle steel guitar and Q chord. The members of the team are Pastor David Johnson and his wife Brenda, Pastor Gary Johnson, his wife Lois, and their son Jeremy. Since its inception, the team has been financed by freewill offerings and has never refused a church because of size or lack of available finances.

Refreshments will be served following the service. For more information call Pastor George Davis, 218-681-5462.

If Tears Could Build a Stairway

If tears could build a stairway,
And memories a lane,
We'd walk right up to Heaven
And bring you home again.

No farewell words were spoken.
No time to say "Goodbye".
You were gone before we knew it,
And only God knows why.

Our hearts still ache with sadness,
And secret tears still flow.
What it meant to love you,
Only we will ever know.

The time has flown by so quickly,
A year passed since that day,
With unspoken words to tell you,
If only there was a way.

But we believe that you would want us,
To mourn for you no more,
To remember all the happy times
Life still has much in store.

You'll never be forgotten,
We pledge to you today -
This hallowed place within our hearts...
This is where you will always stay.

So very loved,
So very missed,

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew...saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that got damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Rural Reflections

Grant Nelson

It will all be over soon

"It will all be over soon." A finger obviously traced these words on the back of the tractor trailer parked in front of me near Alvarado. The words seemed odd as those of us parked and waiting to unload sugar beets sat at the beginning of the season - not the end. Maybe it was just wishful thinking on the part of the writer.

The first steps of the 2007 beet campaign were taken this week and my attendance for the 15th time since 1991 was needed for another long crusade.

The first steps - pre-pile - is like act one in the sugar beet harvest; it's an opportunity to shake out any equipment problems whether they are at the factory or in the field. During pre-pile, we harvest the end of each field (headlands) and a few narrow strips from the middle of the field so there's room to harvest hard and fast when the campaign begins Oct. 1. Pre-pile is also a time to renew friendships with the crew at R & R farms, which is located just southwest of Warren. Over the years, John Rehder and Ed Rosendahl, who serve as the two "R's" of the farm, have become my friends more than employers although that doesn't mean I will refuse payment for my services at the end of the season.

I watched the season finale of "Ice Road Truckers" Sunday night, so my chest puffed up a bit when I climbed up into the cab of my truck Monday morning. I felt a little silly as I wondered to myself how hauling sugar beets would compare to facing life and death on the ice roads of the Northwest Territories. I think the biggest difference between this year and the past 14 is my lunch; I used to pack some huge lunch boxes. This year, I had carrots, granola bars and one reasonable sandwich. I believe the first year I drove, my lunch included eight sandwiches, two large thermos containers of coffee and some snacks just in case. Another major change over the years has been cell phones; apparently I am not the only husband with separation anxiety, as there is much cell phone use in the line of trucks waiting to dump beets.

Pre-pile is short, but I miss home and my wife both days. I thought we might finish early Tuesday afternoon but discovered my superior load-hauling skills would be needed for a few more loads.

When I seek the finish line, I only seek it more when I find the line is further than I thought. I felt bad and wanted my wife and home. Just then the song "Beth" came on the radio. It's a song that speaks of the loneliness the writer feels when he can't be at home with his loved one. It actually made me feel better. Then I felt silly (second time this week) for my self-implosion of emotion and finally I laughed to myself. I could haul these loads easily. I could smile while I did so and soon I would be home.

I don't know why those seven words were scrawled on the back end of that trailer. It could have nothing to do with sugar beet harvest. It could have been a joke, or maybe someone just wanted home. I have good memories from harvest and I anticipate that this season will be no different. So, I'll just relax and enjoy it. I guess that's the trouble in life (and harvest) when you wish you were somewhere other than where you are, it will all be over soon.

Marvin Windows and Doors ranks highest in satisfaction

Marvin Windows and Doors ranks highest in satisfying builders and remodelers with residential windows and patio doors, according to a recent J.D. Power and Associates study.

The 2007 Builder and Remodeler Residential Window and Patio Door Satisfaction Study was designed to provide comprehensive information to assist window and patio door manufacturers in their efforts to improve customer satisfaction. Overall builder and remodeler satisfaction was based on performance in seven factors. They are (in order of importance): product; warranty repair and service; delivery; price; sales and marketing support; ordering process; and credit/billing process.

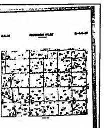
Marvin ranks highest among builders and remodelers in satisfaction with windows and patio doors, with an index score of 819 on a 1,000-point scale, and performs particularly well in five factors: product, warranty and repair service, delivery; sales and marketing support; and ordering process.

"We highly value the opinions of our builder and remodeler customers," said Susan Marvin, president, Marvin Windows and Doors. "Homeowners also rely heavily on the advice and opinions of their builders and remodelers, which makes this recognition exceptionally rewarding. We will continue to strive to exceed expectations and maintain our company's core commitment to customer satisfaction."

This is the second consecutive year that Marvin Windows and Doors has received the highest ranking in a J.D. Power and Associates study. In 2006, the only year that the study has been conducted, Marvin ranked highest in architect satisfaction among residential window and patio door manufacturers.

The 2007 Builder and Remodeler Residential Window and Patio Door Satisfaction Study is based on responses from 2,677 new-home builders and remodelers. Each respondent evaluated up to two manufacturers of residential windows and patio doors.

Marvin's tradition of delivering the finest craftsmanship in windows and doors began in Warroad, a small town just six miles from the Canadian border, where the privately-held, family-owned and operated company is still headquartered today.



J.D. Power and Associates is an ISO 9001-registered global marketing information services firm operating in key business sectors including market research, forecasting, consulting, training and customer satisfaction. The firm's quality and satisfaction measurements are based on responses from millions of consumers annually. J.D. Power and Associates can be accessed online at www.jdpower.com.

"Gone on Vacation"

Summer vacation days are quickly coming to an end. My vacation ended one day before the start of the 2007 Pennington County Fair. Recharged, I charged into my assignments full of energy and enthusiasm. The recharged tank of energy ran out of gas.

I yearn for another vacation, which is something I never would have said three weeks ago. Like many Americans, I procrastinated and rationalized my way around a full week of vacation for a long time - almost two years. Now, however, I yearn for another long vacation.

Think back on your life, asked one article. "Were the highlights when you were stressed, tired, overworked? Or when you were relaxed, spending time with the people you cared about?" That's a good point to remember.

Obviously, most people recognize the importance of taking a break once-in-awhile. But in the United States, it seems, we've become a nation of workaholics. In 2007, Expedia.com conducted a survey of our vacations and what we use, or don't use. Reported in the June edition of Money magazine, the survey reports that Americans get an average of 14 days of vacation and don't use three. Spaniards receive an average of 30 days (more than double what we recieve), and don't use two days. Germans get 26 days and don't use one day. The French get 36 days and don't use three days.

A quick tour of the Internet provided a large number of articles about Americans skipping their vacations. All three of the stories focused on the harm skipping vacations can cause. You pick that up from the titles: "Cutting Work is Good for You and Skipping Vacation can Kill," "Skipping Vacations is Not a Badge of Honor," and "Gone Fishin': Why Vacations Matter."

The dangers of skipping vacations appear real. Sue Shellenbarger of the Wall Street Journal Online reported that, "In a nine-year study of 12,000 middle-age men at risk for coronary disease, researchers found those who failed to take vacations had a higher risk of death from any cause, but particularly from heart disease, than those who took regular vacations."

So skipping vacations can kill you. Yeah, well, what else do you have? All three articles cite experts who tell us that vacations "have a power that extends beyond the time you're away" - meaning vacationers report less burnout for weeks after their vacations. The experts also say vacations calm us and allow our bodies to readjust and rebuild; they allow vacationers to "reverse a loss of personal resources," which means vacations allow us to restore relationships with family and friends who provide support - particularly during times of stress. For that matter, vacations appear to be crucial to our family health as well. We must agree that sharing our job concerns with loved ones, although helpful personally, can add to their stress levels, too.

Still not persuaded? One writer described people who don't take their vacations as just plain "pathetic."

Now that a vacation is on your agenda, you might consider what a vacation means. It shouldn't include a Blackberry, wireless computer and a direct line to your office via a handy cellular telephone. The word vacation came into use between 1350 and 1400. Its origins are latinate, and "vacatio" simply meant "freedom from something." Mel Borins, a physician and author of "Go Away Just for the Health of It," was quoted in a story saying: "To get the biggest bang for your break, a vacation should meet at least one of three criteria: It should have a big enough mental and physical effect on you to create an afterglow. It should inspire you to form healthful new habits. Or, it should enable you to shore up ties with family or friends."

So get away. Find that "afterglow," and recharge those batteries.

If we all leave, the last person out should turn off the lights.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Former area resident takes on Kayaking 4 Life

Saturday morning has an early wake up call. Getting on the lake early is crucial today, but fishing is not on the agenda for Derek Brekke, rather kayaking is.

Derek Brekke grew up in Warroad, until moving with his family to Menomonie, Wis., in 2001 as a freshman in high school. Derek is the grandson of Gail Brekke of Plummer, and Norma Swanson of Thief River Falls. Derek now lives in Ely, and he has set his sights on an ambitious childhood dream to circumnavigate Lake of the Woods.

"Waves are crashing hard along the shores of Lake of the Woods as I look across the water with the knowledge of 14,000-plus islands and over 300 miles that separate me from my childhood dream of circumnavigating Lake of the Woods," writes Brekke in his blog.

Brekke is planning to begin his 300-plus mile, 20-day solo kayak excursion, circumnavigating Lake of the Woods on Sept. 1, at Warroad. Paddling up through the Northwest Angle, he will make a supply stop at Kenora, Ontario, then turn back south past the Sioux Narrows and Morson, Ontario, then to his final destination back to Warroad. If the weather permits and all goes as planned, Derek will be back to Warroad on Sept. 20.

This is not only a childhood dream, but Derek is using his passion of kayaking to raise money for the American Cancer Society. Derek has seen the devastation that cancer can have on families and wanted to find a way to help.

If you want to help Derek in his efforts to raise money for the American Cancer Society, checks can be made out to the American Cancer Society and sent to Derek's address: Derek Brekke, 143 E. Harvey St., Ely, MN 55731

You also can keep updated on his progress around Lake of the Woods by visiting Derek's blog www.kayaking4life.blogspot.com.

Derek Brekke, who grew up in the Warroad area, is undertaking a new challenge - circumnavigating Lake of the Woods by kayak. Brekke is not only doing it to fulfill a childhood dream but is using this opportunity to raise funds for the American Cancer Society. His journey is expected to begin on Sept. 1, and will conclude around Sept. 20.

Paving, repair work set to begin Monday

A bituminous paving and shoulder repair project is scheduled to begin on Monday, Aug. 27, on various state highways in Marshall and Norman counties.

The project is expected to be complete in early September. The required maintenance work is a result of spring flooding that damaged portions of some roads.

Motorists are cautioned to slow down when approaching these work zones and be alert for flagging operations.

Vendors sought for TRF Great American Block Party on Sept. 8

Applications for booth space for the 2007 Everybody's Market are being accepted at the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce office. Everybody's Market will be held on Saturday, Sept. 8, downtown on LaBree Avenue and in the Floyd B Olson Park from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The cost for a booth space is $20.

Crafters, garden produce, baked goods, flea market, and fundraiser booths are welcome. For more information, contact the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720.

TRF agrees to exchange property

Pennington County Assessor Adeline Olson, the land and replacement costs for City Auditorium and the Old Arena total $4,207,100. That value includes the portions of those buildings that are rented to tenants and the amount of the taxes that the city pays for the rent that it receives from those tenants.

The county owns Oakland Park. Olson said the park is valued at $30,900.

The city currently maintains Oakland Park for the county and bills the county for its expenses related to that maintenance.

In July, the county had offered to pay $1 for the buildings involved in the exchange. However, the Thief River Falls Committee of the Whole set aside that offer. At that time, two council members, Emery Lee and Elvera Cullen, indicated that the city had suggested $10,000. Since that time, the city and the county have come to an agreement that doesn't involve an exchange of money.

The exchange of the buildings will help the county plan for future space and facility needs. Klein McCarthy Architects has presented the County Board with 15 options to cope with those future needs. The board hasn't yet decided how it wishes to proceed. The options range from $5,068,500 to $10,043,775 with a combination of remodeling and new construction. Another option listed the estimated cost of a combined, new justice center, jail and law enforcement center on a new site at $15,207,000. That option would open up space in existing county buildings.

In other city and county dealings, the council tabled action regarding the city's payment of its $113,044.18 bill for the $507,995 public radio system at the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center. Under a proposal, the city may pay that bill in six installments beginning in 2007. It has been proposed that the city may pay $5,000 a year from 2007 to 2010. In 2011, it would pay $46,544.18, and in 2012, it would pay $46,500.

At the council meeting Tuesday, there was little discussion regarding whether the city would pay that bill or how it would pay that bill.

The proposal is part of a compromised offer between the city and the county. If the city paid the bill, Torkelson had asked if it could pay it in installments starting in 2011. (That year was picked since the city is still paying for the 1995-97 remodeling project at the former Soo Line depot, City Hall.) She said that would also ensure that the council wouldn't have to raise the city's property tax levy. At that same Aug. 14 meeting of the Committee of the Whole, Pennington County Commissioner Don Jensen suggested that the city pay something toward the project until it starts installments in 2011. He suggested $5,000 a year until 2011.

This is not the first time that the radio system has been discussed. In 2001, discussions began about the radio system at the LEC, which is shared by the county and the city. In 2003, the county sold 10-year General Obligation Improvement Plan Bonds in the amount of $535,000 to pay for the public radio system and for remodeling the Pennington County Jail. The radio system cost $507,995. Grants and 911 money covered the portion of the system that wasn't covered by the bonds or the city's share of the project. The radio system was installed at the LEC in February 2006.

In November 2006, Pennington County Sheriff Mike Hruby wrote that the city and the county agreed that the city would pay a total of $113,044.18 for 24 digital radios, half of a VHF base station and half of a VHF digital quantar repeater at the new radio tower.

The city's unpaid debt is still on the county's books, and the county has been told by the Minnesota State Auditor's Office that it needs to resolve that matter.

The issue came to the public's attention in July 2007, when current city employees and current City Council members questioned whether people who had served on a prior City Council had agreed to pay that amount. Current city leaders now seem to think that those individuals had agreed to pay that amount.

Tickets to Great American Block Party given to returning Guard

The Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce is giving the men and women of Co. B. 2nd Combined Arms Battalion, 136th Infantry, who recently returned from Iraq, free tickets to the Great American Block Party, Saturday, Sept. 8, 2007.

This annual community event includes a street dance beginning at 6 p.m., following Everybody's Market and a scavenger hunt earlier in the day.

The Chamber asks that these local service people either call, (218) 681-3720 or stop by the Chamber of Commerce, 2017 Hwy 59 SE, to get their free tickets.

Train: A Nostalgic Ride

comfortable, but was also equipped with a bar and large view port.

Heyn said what he noticed immediately was the comfort and space. "All of us have struggled with airlines," said Heyn. The comfort and generous space on the train, he said, made their journey very comfortable. The service was also excellent. Box lunches were provided to most passengers. Passengers paying the premium fare were treated to dinner in the dinning car, which Heyn described as "very nicely appointed."

Of course, much has changed since the days of steam. Heyn said he noticed that there was very little "clickty-clack." The rail joints are now welded, making for a very smooth ride. Heyn also noticed one major change, which he missed - The Parker House where all the railroaders stayed in Glenwood, had been taken down.

Heyn has ridden on trains before. For a brief time as a youngster he was a switchman. His father, Ben Heyn, was a brakeman, his grandfather, Cliff Noel, a conductor, and an uncle was a baggage man. For Heyn then, this trip was very nostalgic, which seemed to match the mellow whistle of the train every time it came to a crossing.

The train left Thief River Falls at about 9 a.m. and arrived in Glenwood at about 3 p.m. Passengers returning to Thief River Falls that night took a bus back to Thief River Falls, arriving there at 7:50 p.m. In all, said Heyn, it was a very pleasant trip.

The 261

"Across the Generations with the 261" by Steve Glischinski provides a detailed historical account of the Milwaukee Road 4-8-4 No. 261. The complete story can be found at www.milwaukee261.com. The following, is a condensed version of the story of No. 261:

The restoration of the 261 was accomplished by people who love steam. Of course, the investors are intent on making some money with the project, but more important, the rebirth of Milwaukee 261. It has a unique link through three generations of one family.

During Frank Edward Sandberg's 51-year Milwaukee Road career, he would run many steam and diesel locomotives - including a very special 4-8-4 numbered 261, which worked out of Chicago, frequently going west to Omaha in freight and passenger service.

The 261 was in service a total of only 10 years, going into storage in late 1954, and the following year was the last for regular-service steam.

Instead of being scrapped, fate intervened in the person of D.C. Everest, president and chairman of Marathon Corporation, a paper manufacturer and a large Milwaukee Road shipper. Everest conceived the idea of a national railroad museum in Green Bay, Wis., and the museum was officially formed in 1956. Everest prevailed on a reluctant Milwaukee Road to donate 261 to the fledgling institution.

Few could have foreseen it, but Frank Sandberg would live to see an S3 in steam once more, thanks to his grandson, Steve, and a group of partners and investors.

Steve Sandberg had a dream to run mainline steam. Moreover, he wanted to break away from the volunteer steam tradition and operate an engine for profit. In 1991, circumstances conspired to make such an unlikely scenario possible. Twin Cities steam fan Doug Bailey introduced Sandberg to Minneapolis Attorney Mike Adams. Bailey had also formulated a business plan for a for-profit steam program, and had approached Adams as a potential investor. Bailey knew Steve Sandberg had the expertise to put such a plan into action.

"I was very happy to have had anything to do with getting 261 back on the rails," Bailey says. His introductions turned out to be crucial.

Adams and Sandberg hit it off, and soon Sandberg found himself sitting in a conference room full of potential supporters. "I couldn't believe it at first," he recalls. "When I first heard about it, I figured that they couldn't be serious about starting a for-profit company to rebuild and operate a steam locomotive. But they were serious about going ahead." Adams and Sandberg were able to persuade a group of 12 investors, among them a realtor, a professional athlete, a dentist, and some bankers and attorneys. Many are friends of Adams. They formed North Star Rail Inc. (NSR), with Adams as chief executive officer and Sandberg as chief operating officer.

With the incorporation of North Star Rail, Sandberg began the search for an appropriate locomotive.

The search led to Green Bay, where 261 sat with its asbestos lagging removed. "The 261 also had an advantage because it was thoroughly modern, and could pull long, high-revenue trains," Sandberg says. "I also had people tell me they had never seen a boiler on a display engine in such good shape." It didn't hurt that the locomotive once belonged to the Milwaukee Road, or that his grandfather used to run the engine.

As a result of negotiations, North Star Rail and the National Railroad Museum agreed on a 10-year lease.

By the end of August 1992 and during early September, the last of the fiberglass lagging and jacketing was installed on the boiler. CP Rail provided an upgraded 26NL brake system used on modern locomotives.

On September 15, the 261 departed Minneapolis on the first part of its journey to North Fond du Lac.

On September 18, the 261 roared out of North Fond du Lac with 14 cars on its first public excursion. WC GP30 713 rode behind the tender as insurance, but 261 treated it as just another car, and the diesel wasn't needed. Large crowds greeted the train at Stevens Point, and the train filled up for a 21-mile round trip to Junction City for turning. The next day, 261 duplicated its performance with a 15-car train cosponsored by the Soo Line group.

Meanwhile, NSR sought a permanent home for 261 in the Twin Cities. In mid-October BN agreed to lease space in its Harrison Street diesel shop, at Minneapolis Junction in north Minneapolis. The single-track shop has elevated platforms and drop pits and should provide an ideal home for the locomotive. On Dec. 27, 1993, the 261 finally steamed from Chippewa Falls to its Harrison Street and was locked inside for the winter. (The facility is off-limits to visitors.)

Reintegration continues for troops

Stone said the 30- and 60-day programs are intended for servicemen and women and their families. The 30-day workshop includes programs like: "Making Marriage Work After Deployment," "Single Soldier Challenges," and "reconnecting With Your Children After Deployment."

The 30-day program also offers visits with a chaplain, veterans service officer, the Minnesota Department of Veterans Affairs, transition assistance advisor, the VA medical center, Minnesota education benefits, Minnesota Department of Revenue for taxes and the Judge Advocate General. Optional stations include VA researchers, Military Family Life Consultants, ONR representatives, the Minnesota State Patrol and Minnesota Work Force Center.

The 60-day workshop includes sessions dealing with anger management and problems with adapting, chemical abuse prevention and compulsive behavior prevention.

Reintegration concludes with the 90-day workshop. Unlike the first two workshops, the 90-day workshop focuses more on the individual, rather than families.

"This program was developed within the last year," Stone said. "Nobody in the U.S. is doing this besides Minnesota."

Stone said representatives from the Department of Defense and the National Guard from every state in the union have attended the various phases of reintegration to see its effectiveness. The response has been positive, Stone said, and several states and the Department of Defense are considering the implementation of a similar program.

Another new program, the Veterans Linkage Line, is available to veterans of all war eras. LinkVet, as it is also known, went online at the beginning of the month. It is a toll free, one-stop customer service line for all Minnesota veterans and their family members.

The Minnesota Department of Veterans Affairs is housing the LinkVet center and providing staffing. MDVA staff is providing information on veterans benefits, healthcare and reintegration. The line also includes access to crisis connection counselors 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Stone also reminds veterans of all war eras to contact their veterans service officer with any questions about benefits to which they may be entitled. "For anything they are eligible to receive, we have information," he said.

I would like to say a big "Thank You" to everyone who came to my 90th birthday party and for all the beautiful cards, gifts and those who sent cards in the mail. Thank you to my family for hosting the party. God bless you!

Mauri Gonsorowski, playing at No. 1 doubles for Thief River Falls, reached out to make a return shot at the net against Grand Rapids/Greenway during a Wednesday's girls tennis match that opened the Prowlers 2007 fall sports season.

TRF tennis has new challenge

This much is certain: Thief River Falls will not repeat as Section 8AA girls high school tennis champion this fall. It's not a lack of talent that will keep the Prowlers from defending their title. The Minnesota State High School League completed its regularly-scheduled review of membership class/sectional assignments and one of the changes the organization made was to move Thief River Falls girls tennis from Section 8AA to Section 8A.

The switch means the Prowlers' post-season field will include Crookston, East Grand Forks, Mahnomen, New York Mills, Park Rapids Area, Perham, Roseau, Bagley/Clearbrook-Gonvick and Park Christian.

But don't assume the drop to smaller-school competition will guarantee another state tournament trip, warned Thief River Falls coach Corey Thorson. "Switching classes should have made it easier for us, but 8A is pretty deep," he said. "There are four-five teams that could take the crown this year."

Thorson did, however, include the Prowlers among the title contenders, along with East Grand Forks, Park Rapids Area, Crookston and Roseau.

Thief River Falls is expected to be a factor in Section 8A because the Prowlers return six players from a team that went 15-4 in dual meet competition a year ago. That group includes seniors Mauri Gonsorowski, Kristine Sletten Chelsea Daley and Laura Heschke, along with juniors Carli Sandahl and Cheyenne Horien.

"We have a good core group back from last year," acknowledged Thorson. "The girls who are out have put in lots of time on the court this summer practicing and traveling to tournaments."

Rounding out the roster are juniors Chelsie Weeding, Hannah Anderson, Brenna Boyd, Jessica Hutchinson, Julie Piche and Cris Machado; sophomores Brandi Ose, Jaime LaCoursiere, Katie Rook, Sam Buck, Sarah Matter, Kaylee Norlin, Zoe Pietras-Swanton, Randi Numedahl, Brittanie Bieganek, Karissa Kaushagen, Carley Mattson, Dena Dahl, Aundriah Lindgren, Robin Houske, Molly Haugen and Lorie Erickson; along with freshmen Tayler Genereux, LeeAnn Szeto, Hailey Johnson, Averi Hamre and Kaitlin Lund.

"We're going to play a lot of girls and see who will win for us," explained Thorson. "There are probably 12-13 girls who are working for those four remaining spots."

A scheduled season-opening appearance at the Aug. 18 Park Rapids Invitational was cut short by rain.

Going 2-0 and reaching the finals before the rain hit were Sandahl, Gonsorowski and LaCoursiere in 1, 2 and 4 singles, respectively, along with Heschke and Horien at No. 2 doubles.

Sitting at 1-1 were Daley-Sletten at No. 1 doubles and a combination of Rook, Buck, Norlin, Pietras-Swanton and Hutchinson at No. 3 doubles.

Weeding was 0-2 at No. 3 singles.

High school tennis opener...

Prowlers drop first dual to 'Hawks 5-2

Alone, Grand Rapids couldn't beat Thief River Falls. But after implementing a girls high school tennis cooperative with nearby Greenway, the Thunderhawks have found success in the annual early-season match-up.

From 1995 through 2005, Thief River Falls opened the schedule with 11 straight dual meet wins over Grand Rapids. A year ago, Grand Rapids and Greenway joined forces and ended the string with a 4-3 win over the Prowlers.

Grand Rapids/Greenway made it two in a row by beating host Thief River Falls 5-2 Wednesday.

Getting swept in singles cemented the Prowlers' fate in a belated 2007 season opener following a Saturday rain-out at the Park Rapids Invitational.

Picking up doubles wins for the Prowlers were seniors Mauri Gonsorowski and Kristine Sletten at No. 1, along with sophomores Kaylee Norlin and Sam Buck at No. 3.

Carli Sandahl played No. 1 singles for Thief River Falls as the Prowlers opened the 2007 girls high school tennis season Wednesday with a dual against Grand Rapids/Greenway at the Engelstad Park courts. The Thunderhawks won 5-2.

Team champion named at Trap Club

Bakke Insurance topped a nine-team field to win the 2007 Thief River Trap Club post-season team championship shoot.

The winning squad, featuring Karl Bjorkman, Fran Johnson, Dan Lindquist, Luke Novacek, Rick Sovde and Al Steinhauer, shot a 50-target round of 243. American Legion and Tony Dom Inc. shared second place at 234.

Qualifiers from the regular season league First and Second Half Season point standings took part in the championship shoot.

The public is reminded that the Thief River Trap Club open house is being held today (Saturday) from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Hunters who may want to bush up on their shooting skills, or those who want to try their hand at the sport, are invited to stop by the club, located northwest of Thief River Falls, about one and one-half miles west of Highway 59 on 200th Street NW, for a free round of traps.

Prowler swimming is a success story

Twenty returning letter winners will give Thief River Falls an opportunity to continue its girls high school swimming success this fall. The Prowlers have put together eight straight seasons with a winning record in dual meet competition; have won three straight Section 8A True Team titles; and are the defending North Border Conference champions.

Lacy Knott begins her fifth year as Thief River Falls head coach trying to duplicate past success with a roster that features just three seniors – letter winners Bethany Bates and Jodie Roy, along with Tricia Bastian.

Other letter winners on hand include juniors Kotie Aandal, Kailey Bakken, Janessa Hansen, Corissa Kruse, Jami Lee and Hannah Waswick; sophomores Madeline Aandal, Anne Hook, Whitney Lian, Krystal Roy, Danielle Simenson and Lacey Stennes; freshmen Emily Bakken, Gracie Daniels, Kelly LaSalle and Mariah Steenerson; along with eighth graders Maura Nelson and Morgan Numedahl.

Allyson Helling, Angela Weiss and Nancy Fellman are on Knott's coaching staff.

Thief River Falls starts the 2007 season Monday at the Detroit Lakes Invitational. The Prowlers' home debut will be Tuesday, Sept. 11, when they host Roseau and Detroit Lakes in a 5:30 p.m. double-dual at the Franklin Middle School pool.

TRF tennis title won by Crookston girls

Crookston's depth produced a team title Thursday at the annual Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Invitational girls high school tennis tournament.

The Pirates had just one individual champion – Sarah Derosier at No. 3 singles – but still broke away from a close field with 19 points, followed by Roseau with 14, Thief River Falls 13, Grand Rapids/Greenway 12 and East Grand Forks 11.

Other singles titles went to Abby Ness, Roseau, No. 1; Jessamy Jones, East Grand Forks, No. 2, and Paige Jensen, East Grand Forks, No. 4.

It was a doubles sweep for Grand Rapids/Greenway with titles going to Emily Erickson-Sarah Stejskal, No. 1; Steph Mackey-Katie Casper, No. 2; and Linsey Stocco-Marisa Teems, No. 3.

Photos and additional tournament information will appear in The Times Aug. 29.

Kristine Sletten kept her eye on the ball while making this shot in Thief River Falls' Wednesday girls high school tennis dual vs. Grand Rapids/ Greenway. Sletten and Mauri Gonsorowski played No. 1 doubles for the Prowlers.

Matson Field starts on $1.8 million renovation

Matson Field in Moorhead, a familiar venue for Thief River Falls spring and summer baseball programs, is undergoing a $1.8 million renovation project.

First phase of the project will cost about $180,000 and involves the demolition work, construction of dugouts, drainage and a new retaining wall (backstop).

The second phase of the project will see the construction of [illegible] rows of seats and five rows of bleachers with a mezzanine [illegible] between. The new stadium will provide seating for 950 to 1,000 [illegible].

Officials hope to complete the project by the fall of 2008.

because of the designation.

Dalager explained that this project was one of four demonstration projects in Minnesota under the Clean Water Initiative because they addressed problems that affected people and the environment with the goal of clean water.

The total estimated cost of both projects was over $4.3 million. Initial estimates put the cost of the Brandt impoundment at $2.3 million, and the Euclid impoundment at $2 million.

Dalager said actual costs came in higher, but the overall cost came within 10 percent of the original estimate.

Funding agreements resulted in a cost share of 50-50 between state and local resources.

The projects consist of earthen embankments and concrete outlets, capable of holding 6,000 acre-feet of water for a 40-square mile drainage area. It provides 50-year flood protection for the community of Euclid, and up to 10-year flood protection to communities and landowners downstream.

The Euclid Impoundment is located in the west half of Section 19 in Belgium Township and the east half of Section 24 of Euclid Township. The impoundment covers approximately 540 acres, has a drainage area of 17.1 square miles and a total storage of 2,443 acre-feet. The embankment was constructed to an elevation of 908 feet and is approximately 12 feet above natural ground at its highest point. There was about 333,000 cubic yards of common borrow and 143,000 cubic yards of common excavation required to build this impoundment.

The Brandt Impoundment is located in Section 7 of Belgium Township. This impoundment covers approximately 530 acres, has a drainage area of 232.6 square miles and a total storage capacity of 3,912 acre-feet. The embankment was constructed to an elevation of 918 feet MSL and has approximately 18 feet of elevation difference between the natural ground and the top to the levee. There was about 493,000 cubic yards of common borrow and 85,000 cubic yards of common excavation that was required to build this impoundment.

The benefits, said Dalager, include flood protection, savings to landowners, farmers, taxpayers and the environment and wildlife. The project not only provides increased flood protection, it reduces erosion, prevents degradation of ditches due to water quantity, and sediment loading. Because of important wetland mitigation efforts, the project also improves wildlife habitat. But water quality was a major goal of the project. Dalager said water quality in the Euclid area had turbidity and dissolved oxygen problems.

The only remaining element of the project yet to be completed is the wetland mitigation element of this project. Officials said bid letting for the project is expected to occur soon. Dalager said the project will include planting of over 4,000 plants and trees.

Dalager and Jesme noted that it took unprecedented cooperation between various groups and agencies to complete this project.

Jesme said he couldn't emphasize enough the importance landowners played in the process. Jesme said landowners were the most important part of this project, and they had total landowner support. Of the 1,000 or so acres needed for this project, only 174 acres were purchased, the rest were placed in permanent easement.

Randy Kramer, chairman of the board of the Board of Water and Soil Resources, said the project was a win-win situation for all - farmers, conservation groups and the state.

Speaking on behalf of John Finney of the Red River Watershed Management Basin, Naomi Erickson cited the "three C's" of coordination, consent building and cooperation of those with a vested interest in the project for the success of the project.

State Representative Dave Dlin gave credit for funding the project to former Rep. Maxine Penas. He said, however, that it was a true example of cooperation and what can be done when everyone works together.

Blues Festival continues without Johnny Lang

Johnny Lang's performance during the Blues Festival at Seven Clans Casino - Thief River Falls has been cancelled. The Blues Festival, however, will continue with performances on Friday, Aug. 24, and Saturday, Aug. 25. Performers Friday include the Blues Cruisers, South Thunder and Corey Stevens. Performers on Saturday include Little Bobby and The Storm, Blue Guitar Women, Indigenous, and Joe Bonamassa.

Admission to the Blues Festival is free of charge. Individuals who purchased tickets for the Johnny Lang concert in advance, may receive a refund at the casino.

Robbin Bridge on Highway 11 temporarily closed

The Robbin Bridge on State Highway 11 in Kittson County is temporarily closed after a crack was discovered in a support bracket for a girder during an inspection that was being conducted Tuesday. The bridge inspection was conducted under a directive issued by Gov. Tim Pawlenty to inspect state bridges after the collapse of the Interstate 35W bridge on Aug. 1.

The Robbin Bridge, which crosses over the Red River into North Dakota, will be closed for several days according to the transportation departments of Minnesota and North Dakota. Minnesota Department of Transportation and North Dakota Department of Transportation inspectors will continue with further inspections to determine what repairs may be needed. The Robbin Bridge is also known as the Drayton Bridge on the North Dakota side of the Red River.

The last routine inspection of this bridge in May did not show any deficiencies.

Motorists are advised to use alternate crossings. On the Minnesota side, motorists can cross at State Highways 317 or 175.

The bridge is scheduled for replacement in 2009.

and public administration. After college, it was difficult for her to find a job. Potential employers told her that it was great she had a college degree, but they asked her about her experience. "How can I get experience when no one will hire me?" Hanson asked.

Training is an issue for some employers. Saying that the region has a good educational system, Tim Hagl said that new employees sometimes have to be retrained. Hagl, executive vice president of Security State Bank in Dklee, added that they're trainable employees, but he wondered whether the educational system could relate real-world experience with education. Hagl said the employees are well-educated, but their education is sometimes not very specific.

Kent Hanson, vice president of academic affairs and student services at Northland Community and Technical College, said there needs to be more ties between education and business and industry. Colleges usually develop new programs that are in "hot areas" of business, rather than business and industry representatives telling them what they would like the colleges to teach. He said it would be nice if businesses and industries told the colleges what they would like to see as part of the college curriculum.

However, developing that college curriculum takes time. The bureaucracy in curriculum has to change, said Young, who noted that it takes 1½ years to implement a new course plan at a college. By that time, Young said, the opportunity to teach those courses may be gone.

Fosston School Board hears results of Climate Survey

Fosston - "The agenda for the regular monthly meeting of the Fosston School Board last Thursday was rearranged to put the review of the recently completed Climate Survey as the first order of business. A redacted version of the survey was handed out to the board members and public in attendance.

"The general tone of the survey results was highly critical of both the School Board and school administration. In virtually every area the survey addressed, the respondents expressed concerns. Of the 168 paid employees given the survey, 75 surveys were returned with a 45 percent response rate, which was considered very good.

"A work session is scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 11 at 7:30 p.m. to go over the survey results in detail to develop solutions where needed."

"Copies of the redacted Climate Survey that was handed out at the School Board meeting can be obtained at the superintendent's office at Fosston High School." - The 13 Towns of Fosston, Aug. 28, 2007, by Dean Vikan

County Board told of feedlot, water issues at Aug. 21 meeting

Warren - "Several water issues, as well as a feedlot ordinance discussion, dominated the meeting of the Marshall County Board of Commissioners on Aug. 21.

"The feedlot ordinance discussion was a follow-up to concerns about feedlot odor problems expressed at the previous meeting, Aug. 7.

"At last week's meeting, Howard Person, county feedlot officer, addressed the board regarding feedlot complaints that had been received from residents of Excel Township. Person reported the new feedlot ordinance had been published in the county's official newspaper, The Messenger of Stephen, the previous week. He clarified some feedlot issues and reported he is awaiting additional information to be provided by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency. Present for the discussion were Jeff Brouse, an Excel Township resident who has expressed concerns about the existing dairy operation there; County Attorney Mike Williams and Sheriff John Novacek." - Warren Sheaf, Aug. 29, 2007

City Council undecided on River View Park proposals

Roseau - "It's back to the drawing board for the ad hoc committee that is finalizing the plans for the land directly north of Veterans Memorial Park.

"At the Roseau City Council meeting Tuesday, retired Lt. Col. Val Bernat explained his proposal for a portion of the park that would include a memorial dedicated to all county Armed Forces personnel who have served, are serving or will serve.

"The council decided to further study all the proposals before making the final decision.

"As called for, ½ of the unofficially titled River View Park will be dedicated to veterans and emergency service personnel while the other ½ will include a picnic area with tables and a gazebo." - Roseau Times-Region, Aug. 25, 2007

Dr. Steven Edwards engaged teachers and staff in an important dialogue Wednesday about engaging students and creating a climate for positive school change.

Engaging students

Creating a climate for positive change in our schools

by David Hill
Editor

A positive relationship must exist between school climate and student achievement before positive school change can take place. That was one of the messages delivered to over 1,000 teachers from throughout northwest Minnesota Wednesday in Thief River Falls.

Dr. Steven Edwards, a former principal of East Hartford High School, an educational consultant for Harnessing Optimism and Potential Education and a nationally known speaker from Washington, D.C., spoke at Lincoln High School, Thief River Falls, on Wednesday, Aug. 29. Edwards, sponsored by Northwest Service Cooperative, also addressed educators from eight School Districts in Bemidji on Aug. 28.

Edwards' presentation was titled "Creating the Climate for Positive School Change. Edwards believes that a positive relationship must exist between school climate and student achievement. In a study by The Search Institute, Edwards said findings indicate that only 25 percent of students believe that a caring climate was present in their school. Would your students be in your classroom if they didn't have to? asked Edwards.

Edwards touched on a number of key elements of a successful climate change. He told the audience that there are many opportunities to

Prescribed burn

A burning prescription

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge conducts a prescribed burn

by David Hill
Editor

Thick plumes of smoke may have been visible to residents of Thief River Falls Thursday, Aug. 30. A prescribed burn on Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge was the cause of the smoke.

Staff at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, which is located about 20 miles northeast of Thief River Falls, utilize fire as a management tool. Each year, staff burn up to 10,000 acres on the refuge. Burned areas account for a small percentage of the refuge. The refuge itself is over 61,500 acres.

There's rhyme and a reason to the prescribed burns. Gregg Knutsen, refuge biologist, said the goal of this prescribed burn was to reduce the presence of the common reed, reduce the presence of a non-native species of cattail and willow growths.

There are many benefits to a prescribed burn. Prescribed burns reduce the presence of non-native species, enhances waterfowl habitat, breaks up dense stands of vegetation and stimulate native grasses, like sedge.

Historically, fires occurred in the area naturally. In the past 100 years or so, that has obviously changed.

If nothing was done, said Knutsen, there would be an expansion of woody species, non-native cattail and common reed grasses, making the refuge less desirable to waterfowl.

Maggie Anderson, refuge manager, noted that there is a rhyme and reason to the periodic use of prescribed burns. Anderson said different areas on the refuge are burned every year. There has to be enough time between burns to allow for fuel to accumulate, which is generally between three and six years. Refuge staff also examine areas for the presence of non-native species and impact on wildlife habitat.

Wildlife and habitat management experts are still examining the effectiveness of prescribed burns in the summer. Traditionally, prescribed burns were conducted in the spring. Staff at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge were among the leaders implementing prescribed burns in the summer. There first prescribed burn in the summer was conducted about three years ago.

Kick'n Up some fun at festival

Ardell Larson said she's excited to bring Kick'n Up Kountry to Thief River Falls. She said she hopes the venue and location will help the event continue to grow. From what she's noticed, people seem excited about it, too.

Friday's line up includes: Saddle Tramp beginning at 4 p.m., the Hewitt Sisters with Guest, Katie Armiger beginning at 6 p.m., Blue Country at 7:30 p.m. and Blackhawk at 9:15 p.m.

Saturday's line up starts at 1 p.m. with Rebecca Lou Snyder, followed by Whiskey Johnson at 2:30 p.m., Mustang Sally at 4 p.m., Heartland at 5:30 p.m., Steve Holy at 7:15 p.m., and Phil Vassar at 9 p.m.

On Sunday, the entertainment begins at 1 p.m. with Eagle Creek, followed by The Roosters at 2:30 p.m., Connie Smith at 4 p.m., Emerson Drive at 5:45 p.m. and Neal McCoy at 7:30 p.m.

For ticket information call 1-877-542-5687 or log on to www.kicknupkountry.com

Kick'n Up Kountry acts this year will feature a Shriners parade. Starting at 10 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 1, in downtown Thief River Falls, motorized Shriner parade units will delight spectators.

Parade participants include the Mobile Nobles, Stephen Funsters, Grafton Cyclers, Easy Riders, Clowns, Crookston Chanters, Model-Ts from Langdon, and snowmobiles out of Roseau. In addition to these talented performers, the Mattracks Extreme Team will perform.

The parade route starts at the Pennington County Fairgrounds, travels east on First Street, turns north on Knight Avenue, west on Fourth Street and then concludes at the fairgrounds.

Harriet Hodne says goodbye

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Marshall County Central students will begin another school year Sept. 3, but one of the school's most familiar faces will not be present. Harriet Hodne, a paraprofessional and librarian for MCC and Newfolden Elementary School, said her goodbyes to students and fellow faculty members in June, as she announced her retirement after 33 years with the school.

"I loved working with the kids," Harriet said. "I will really miss them. I had a lot of friends. I feel it was a privilege working for the school system and I really hated to leave."

Harriet, 65, says that she felt like the time was right to retire. Along with her husband, Gary, she will be able to spend more time with family.

"We plan to see the kids more often. We didn't get to do that often enough," Harriet said. "We also want to travel."

Harriet was born in Thief River Falls and grew up in the Strandquist area. Gary's work in the telephone industry led the couple to Wolbach, Neb. They remained there for 10 years, during which Harriet began working in the Head Start Program.

In 1975, the couple moved to northwest Minnesota. Harriet took a job at Newfolden Elementary as a Head Start coordinator. She later worked as a paraprofessional, with kids in grades four, five and six. She also ran the after school program one day a week and worked in the school's library on the side.

Harriet typically worked with kids on their math. She would rotate between the grade four through six classrooms each week.

Harriet is not completely retired. She will continue working at Old Mill State Park during the summer months. This is her 33rd year at Old Mill and she hasn't given retiring from that job much thought.

She also plans to try some new things like painting and learning the keyboard. If her musical endeavor works out, she will be able to play

Judith Campbell says farewell to First Care Home, Health & Hospice

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

One day about 10 years ago, Dr. Judith Campbell was walking along LaBree Avenue in Thief River Falls. She saw a sign advertising for hospice volunteers. That sign changed her life.

Campbell entered the building and was welcomed with open arms at First Care Medical Services Home Health & Hospice, formerly known as Hospice of the Red River Valley. For the past 10 years, she has served as the hospice's volunteer medical director in Thief River Falls. This month she left Thief River Falls to move to St. Andrews, Manitoba, Canada.

"It's been a wonderful experience and a long association but very much worthwhile for me as a person," Campbell said.

Marinell Waterworth, hospice nurse, was at the hospice office when Campbell walked in that day about 10 years ago. At that time the hospice was looking for people to serve on its advisory board. Campbell, who was new to Thief River Falls, volunteered for the board since the hospice already had a volunteer medical director. [illegible] the hospice decided to have [illegible] volunteer medical directors [illegible] Dakota Clinic and [illegible] Northwest MeritCare Clinic, formerly known as Altru Northwest Clinic. Campbell then volunteered to be the second volunteer medical director. She eventually became the lone volunteer medical director.

Campbell has enjoyed her volunteer work with hospice, particularly the fellowship with and mutual support from her colleagues.

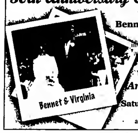
"Anything Goes" auditions Sept. 4



Auditions will be held Tuesday, Sept. 4 for the Thief River Falls Community Arts Council's production of "Anything Goes." Auditions will be held at 7 p.m. at the Northland Community and Technical College theater.

For auditions, bring one or two songs of your choice. An accompanist will be provided. If you cannot come to audition at this time, call Jane at [illegible].

"Anything Goes" will be performed in [illegible] 2008. William Saetre will direct the production. He currently lives in Germany and travels the world as an operatic performer. The Thief River Falls Community Arts Council is delighted that Saetre has agreed to direct this musical. Saetre grew up in Thief River Falls, graduating from Lincoln High School in 1979. He earned his bachelor's degree at St. Olaf College in 1983 and continued his education and training at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music, earning his master's degree. This is a rare opportunity for local theater participants to work with and learn from a seasoned professional.

Everybody loves brownies. I love them because they are quick and easy to make when I am having a chocolate attack. Needless to say, my family is very happy when I am having a chocolate attack.

Use leftover sour cream to make these brownies soft. They are easy to make and the recipe makes about 3 dozen.

SWISS CHOCOLATE BROWNIES

1 cup water
1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate
2 cups flour
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, lightly beaten
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup chopped walnuts

In saucepan, bring butter, water and chocolate to a boil. Boil for 1 minute, then remove from heat and cool.

In mixing bowl, combine flour, sugar, soda and salt. Add chocolate mixture and mix well. Add eggs, sour cream and vanilla and mix. Fold in walnuts.

Pour into greases 10x15 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes, until pulling away from edges - don't overbake. Cool 10 minutes and then frost.

Swiss Chocolate Brownie Frosting

1/2 cup butter
1 1/2 squares unsweetened chocolate
3 cups powdered sugar (divided)
5 tablespoons milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Melt butter and chocolate. Place in bowl and add 1 1/2 cups powdered sugar. Add milk, vanilla and remaining sugar and beat smooth. Spread over warm brownies.

These delicious brownies are very easy to make because the topping is broiled right on the bars instead of cooked and beaten like other German Chocolate topping:

GERMAN CHOCOLATE BROWNIES

1/2 cup butter
1 (4 ounce) package German sweet chocolate, broken
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs, lightly beaten
1 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

In saucepan, melt butter and chocolate, stirring until smooth. Cool slightly. Add sugar and vanilla and mix. Beat in eggs; mix in flour, baking powder and salt.

Pour into greased 9 inch square baking pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 18-22 minutes until brownies test done.

Topping

2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
1/2 cup packed brown sugar
1 cup flake coconut
1/2 cup chopped pecans
2 tablespoons corn syrup
2 tablespoons milk

Combine butter and brown sugar in bowl. Add coconut, pecans, corn syrup and milk and mix well. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto warm brownies, then spread evenly. Broil several inches from heat for 2-4 minutes until top is brown and bubbly.

These delicious brownies don't have to be frosted. They look like they have frosting when they come out of the oven:

CHOCOLATE CREAM CHEESE BROWNIES

1 package (4 ounce) German sweet chocolate
3 tablespoons butter
2 eggs
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup chopped nuts

Melt chocolate and butter over low heat, stirring frequently. Set aside.

In bowl, beat eggs. Gradually add sugar, beating until thick. Combine flour, baking powder and salt. Add to egg mixture. Stir in melted chocolate, vanilla and nuts. Pour half of the batter into greased 8 inch square pan. Set aside and make filling.

Filling

2 tablespoons butter
1 3 ounce package cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup sugar
1 egg
1 tablespoon flour
1/4 teaspoon almond extract

Beat butter and cream cheese until light. Gradually add sugar, beating fluffy. Blend in egg, flour and almond and mix well.

Spread over batter in pan. Dollop remaining batter over filling and cut through batter with a knife to marble. Bake at 350 degrees for 35-40 minutes until brownies test done. Cool and store in refrigerator.

Motorcycle collides with deer Thursday

A Newfolden man was taken to Northwest Medical Center on Thursday night after his motorcycle hit a deer five miles south of Newfolden.

It was unknown what type of injuries Merlyn L. Lindemoen, 51, suffered in the accident, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. He was treated and released, according to an NMWC nursing staff member on Friday morning.

At the time of the accident, Lindemoen was driving a 2003 Victory motorcycle northbound on Highway 59, when his motorcycle collided with a deer. Lindemoen was wearing a helmet. His motorcycle sustained moderate damage. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 8:53 p.m. Thursday.

Party responsibly all the time

If you're planning to travel during Labor Day weekend, expect to see an increased presence by law enforcement officials. Minnesota law enforcement officials announced earlier this month that they will beef up patrols Aug. 17 through Sept. 3. The purpose of the beefed up patrols is to target impaired drivers.

We've all heard about the "crack down on impaired drivers" and watched as lawmakers approved tougher laws, but increased penalties and educational efforts seem to have done little to reduce the problem. Driving while intoxicated remains a significant problem. According to the Minnesota Department of Public Safety, 166 people were killed in alcohol-related crashes and nearly 42,000 were arrested for DWI - a record-high in Minnesota. Believe it or not, one in every eight people in Minnesota with a driving record, has a DWI on their record. A total of 493,059 have a DWI on their driving record.

This weekend and anytime, if you plan to drink alcohol, don't drive. That's the message of this editorial. That's the message the state is sending.

Life is more precious than someone's "need" to party and consume alcohol. The Minnesota State Patrol and the citizens of this state are telling you that if you drink and drive, you will be taken off the highways. And believe me, if you get caught, the cost of the violation will be the least of your worries. If you end up in an accident that causes injury to an innocent party, the consequences are even more severe.

In case you're wondering, the legal alcohol limit for drivers in Minnesota is 0.08. It is always illegal to drive with an alcohol-concentration level of 0.08 or above. Motorists can be arrested with a alcohol-concentration under 0.08 if they demonstrate impaired driving behavior. If a motorist's alcohol concentration is at 0.08 percent or higher, it is a criminal offense with penalties ranging from a misdemeanor to felony. It is also a violation of civil law that triggers automatic driver license revocation for a minimum of 90 days for the first-time offense.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Public warned about bogus jury calls

Minnesota residents are being targeted by phone calls that may sound legitimate enough to scare them into revealing confidential information, potentially leading to identity theft and fraud.

Over the past few weeks, courts in Anoka, Dakota and Hennepin counties have fielded calls from citizens who have been contacted by persons claiming to be with a court and threatening a warrant for "failing to comply with jury service." This may be part of a scam reported in other parts of the country, where the caller uses false threats about jury service to acquire personal and financial information, such as credit card numbers, employer information and a Social Security number.

Please be aware: Courts don't call citizens for the purpose of seeking personal information. Minnesota courts always use the U.S. Postal Service to send jury service summons, communicating by telephone only after a prospective juror has returned a completed summons information form.

Annually, jury offices across the state mail more than 150,000 jury summons. The summons include details about time and location to report for jury duty, and asks prospective jurors to return a qualification questionnaire. A phone number for the local jury office is also included for anyone wishing to contact the court about the summons.

It is a crime for an individual to falsely represent himself or herself as a court official. The best way to handle such calls is to hang up and contact local law enforcement to report any suspicious phone calls or threats.

Dear Dave,

Most of the letters I write to you read like a grocery list; maybe not organized by starches or proteins, but they are fairly utilitarian. This week, I want to write a letter using a theme, a technique that hopefully will keep me on topic. Today's theme will be "animals" and we will work from largest to smallest.

I have received several reports of a bear living near our farm. I have no pictures of it, so my proof is anecdotal rather than scientific. A recent report came from a friend, who was watching for deer in our corn and saw something short, black and squat in between the rows - I am white so it wasn't me. This seated black mass was reaching out to gather stocks rather than graze like a steer. I had questioned why the bottom wire of my fence had been torn from the posts in the past and this is apparently my answer. Apparently, bears are carboholics this time of year, so our cattle are fine and, as of today, safe inside our brother Steve's locker plant.

Safe is a relative term, of course. These same cattle are also cut and wrapped, frozen and ready for consumption. We recently harvested this year's supply of beef after two summers of pasture. The main premise behind grass-finished cattle is that you need to keep them eating the nutritious top of each plant, which means I have to move them frequently. The cattle and I are a nomadic tribe; however, I never enjoy this process more than when I am on the ground, instead of in the tractor seat.

We buried mom and dad's dog this week. Skipper was really old and it was his time, but he will be missed. He's at rest in our little pet cemetery now and things are getting a little crowded. I love that we can give our little animals a peaceful place to rest so over the years we've added headstones, lighting and better landscaping. The spotlight illuminates the trees that hover over our pets and during the winter the effect is similar to a snow globe. I don't know whether Rudy, Muffin, Cooper or Skipper even care, but it's nice for us.

Finally, I want to report the "Laine" (short for Elaine) is doing fine. I would like to reach out and touch (knuckles first) those who dump pets out in the middle of nowhere. We are pretty close to nowhere, so we end up with a lot of cats without homes. We usually feed them out in the hayshed, but one little cat made her move from the shed to our hearts. "Laine" was spelled "Lane" right up to the time she had her only batch of kittens. She is sweet and half the size of Twitch or Magoo, but I believe she is also smart. Nature abhors a vacuum, so she created one by playing hard-to-get with us. Lisa and I have spent much of the past year and a half meowing and begging Laine to come into the house. She's now a regular visitor and pretty much at ease with us.

I didn't talk about family or friends much in this letter. I guess I sometimes express myself through my interests and passions - animals are both. Next month, I'll try a more direct route. Until then, say "hi" to the family.

Your little bro

Incomplete information was submitted to The Times/Northern Watch about Bryce Hallstrom's graduation from the U.S. Air Force's basic training program. An article appearing in the Aug. 11 edition of the Northern Watch listed Bryce's parents as Tammy and stepfather Terry Vanthof of Red Lake Falls. The release did not include the name of Bryce's father, Greg Hallstrom of rural Red Lake Falls.

Minnesota Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame...

Eldon Sparby receives honor

A 32-year career as a high school basketball coach has earned Eldon Sparby a spot in the Minnesota Basketball Coaches Association Hall of Fame.

Sparby, after spending one year as an assistant boys basketball coach at Middle River, took over as the Skippers head coach in 1972-73. He remained the head coach when a Badger/Greenbush-Middle River cooperative was formed for the 1992-93 school year. The whistle-blowing, play-diagraming and late-night bus rides in below-zero weather ended with his resignation following the 2002-03 season.

Under Sparby, the Skippers and Gators won eight conference championships, two district crowns and two sub-section titles. His teams gave him 432 career wins and had only three seasons with a sub-.500 finish.

Sparby was selected to coach the Outstate squad in the 1992 MBCA all-star series.

Currently the Greenbush-Middle River High School principal and the B/G-MR activities director, Sparby also coached football for 17 years, earning section Coach of the Year honors in that sport in 1983.

Hall of Fame activities will be held Sunday, Oct. 28, at the DoubleTree Park Place Hotel in St. Louis Park.

In addition to Sparby, the latest group of Hall of Fame inductees, announced by the MBCA Tuesday, include Dave Galovich, Cal Hockstra, Merrill Skinner and Bob Torgrimson.

Galovich has been the head coach at Crosby-Ironton for the past 22 years. Prior to taking over the Rangers' program, he coached four years at Erskine and three years at St. Michael-Albertville.

Hoekstra has coached at Southwest Minnesota Christian for 31 years – the first 17 as an assistant coach the the past 14 as head coach.

Skinner has been the basketball coach at Howard Lake-Waverly-Winsted the past 31 years.

Torgrimson began coaching at Motley in 1971. He moved to Redwood Falls in 1973, then took over the program at West Fargo, N.D., in 1979. After a stint teaching and coaching in Saudi Arabia and Turkey, Torgrimson returned to the area as head coach at Dilworth-Glyndon-Felton in 1999, a position he resigned following the 2006-07 season.

The purpose of the MBCA Hall of Fame is to give special recognition to the people of Minnesota who have made significant contributions to promote high school basketball in the state via their accomplishments and service.

Additional honors will be handed out at the noon banquet. Among those receiving awards that day will be Kent Christian of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River, Section 8A Coach of the Year; and Al Buhl of Thief River Falls, who is one of five individuals receiving state Assistant Coach of the Year recognition.

TRF cross country team opens with a meet at Moorhead

Thief River Falls opened its 2007 high school cross country schedules with an appearance at the Monday Shocky Strand Rotary Invitational in Moorhead.

A thunderstorm that rolled through the area during the junior high competition prompted officials to combine varsity and junior varsity races. That shortened the meet, but left coaches like the Prowlers' Rick Karboviak, who prefers to run younger, inexperienced athletes at the junior varsity level where they might enjoy some confidence-building success, unable to produce a separate result sheet for his entries.

"I was hoping to see the junior varsity results, but they are not available," explained Karboviak.

The Prowlers' small numbers kept them from fielding a complete team at any level.

"We did rather well in the junior varsity/varsity race considering the large amount of runners in each of the boys and girls races," said Karboviak. "I'm not sure if we'll gain enough to have a full five-member scoring team on any squad, but the ones who are out still want to do their best with the teammates they have."

A strong field, featuring four ranked teams, added to the Prowlers' opening day challenge. Willmar boys, the defending Class AA state champions, and Moorhead girls were the team winners.

"Our boys team came out looking stronger this year than previous seasons," mentioned Karboviak. "There's great potential with what I see so far. Our girls team is small, but speedy. I was pleased with our two junior high girls who took home medals."

After a single Week 1 race, the Prowlers' schedule gets busy in a hurry as they run in meets at Wadena-Deer Creek Tuesday (Sept. 4), Roseau Thursday (Sept. 6) and Warroad Monday (Sept. 10).

"Three races in five days will be quite the test for our team," admitted Karboviak.

The Prowlers' lone 2007 home meet will be their Monday, Oct. 1, invitational at the Thief River Golf Club.

Prowlers' swim squad faces Panthers in first dual on 2007 schedule

First dual meet of the 2007 season for the Thief River Falls girls high school swim team will be a 5 p.m. Thursday match-up against Park Rapids Area in the Panthers' pool.

The Prowlers opened the schedule with an appearance at the Detroit Lakes Invitational Monday, but due to a computer problem, meet officials have been unable to post the results, reported Thief River Falls coach Lacy Knott.

A Tuesday, Sept. 11, triangular involving the Prowlers, Detroit Lakes and Roseau will be Thief River Falls' home opener. The meet at the Franklin Middle School pool starts at 5:30 p.m.

Jessie Clark bumped a Crookston serve into play as Thief River Falls teammate Kayse Lee looked on during Tuesday's season-opening high school volleyball match. The Pirates outlasted the Prowlers 3-2.

Pirates hold off TRF comeback

If Tuesday's 2007 opener against Crookston is any indication, it's going to be a long high school volleyball season for Thief River Falls. That's not in reference to the Prowlers' skill level. Rather, it reflects the length of the match itself. The visiting Pirates won the two-hour marathon 3-2.

Crookston carried play early, but had to weather a Thief River Falls comeback before claiming a 25-17, 25-21, 19-25, 21-25, 16-14 victory.

The Prowlers fell behind 6-1 at the outset and trailed 13-7 in the Game 1 setback. They pulled to within 17-15, but were out-scored 12-2 down the stretch.

"We got going a little slow," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Tammy Sparby.

Game 2 was tied at 18-18, but Crookston had a 23-19 advantage off an ace by Lindsay Roy, and a cross-court kill by Brea Aamoth ended it.

The Prowlers turned it up a notch to lead Game 3 from start to finish. They were up 10-5 and 17-8, then put the game on ice when a Beth Marben ace, Brittany Wiseth kill and another Marben ace opened up a 20-8 gap.

"Our defense started to put it together," said Sparby about the scoreboard turnaround.

Thief River Falls evened the match at two wins apiece by turning a 15-14 Game 4 deficit into a 20-17 lead and eventually a four-point win. Cassie Gunderson's deep drive hit just inside the back line for a 24-21 advantage and a Frannie Twistol kill finished off the Pirates.

Crookston regrouped, however, and had a 10-5 advantage in the match-deciding fifth game to 15 points.

But Thief River Falls pulled even on a block by Wiseth and an ace by Kayse Lee that made it 13-13.

The Prowlers couldn't get to a tie-breaking shot that Macy Hanson pushed to the back row, but after a long rally, a Twistol put-back created another deadlock that resulted in extend play because of the 'win-by-two' scoring.

Play ended at the service line. A Thief River Falls serve went out of bounds for a 15-14 Crookston lead and an Aamoth ace won it.

Wiseth and Gunderson finished with 15 and 12 kills, respectively, for the Prowlers. Aamoth led the Pirates with 10. Wiseth recorded five blocks, Haley Teie had five service aces and Marben registered 20 assists to lead the Thief River Falls statistic sheet that also showed Lee with an impressive 68-for-79 figure in digs.

"Kayse did a tremendous job in the back row," pointed out Sparby, who was satisfied with most areas of the Prowlers' season-opening performance, except for 15 service errors. They missed three serves in each game – points handed to the Pirates.

Crookston won the junior varsity match 25-18, 21-25, 15-7.

Scoring

■ Kills - (Crookston) Brea Aamoth 10, Macy Hanson 7, (TRF) Brittany Wiseth 15, Cassie Gunderson 12, Frannie Twistol 7

■ Blocks - (Crookston) Macy Hanson 4, (TRF) Brittany Wiseth 5, Hannah Kainz 1, Frannie Twistol 1

■ Ace serves - (Crookston) Macy Hanson 2, Lindsay Roy 2; (TRF) Haley Teie 5, Beth Marben 2

Rain stops TRF-EGF tennis dual

Rain prevented Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks from finishing a Tuesday girls high school tennis dual.

The Prowlers and Green Wave were tied at 3-3 and the No. 1 singles match was nearing a completion when the weather hit East Grand Forks. Coaches waited for a hour before calling it a day.

Thief River Falls' three points came from wins by Mauri Gonsorowski at No. 2 singles, Kristine Sletten-Cheyenne Honen, No. 1 doubles, and Chelsea Daley-Laura Heschke, No. 2 doubles.

East Grand Forks' Jessamy Jones led Carli Sandahl 6-2, 2-6, 5-4 at No. 1 singles when play was stopped. The contest officially goes into the books as Did Not Finish.

TRF 3, EGF 3

Singles - 1. Jessamy Jones (EGF) led Carli Sandahl 6-2, 2-6, 5-4 when rain stopped play. 2. Mauri Gonsorowski (TRF) def. Bailey Markus 6-3, 6-2. 3. Paige Jensen (EGF) def. Chelsea Weeding 6-4, 6-2. 4. Andrea Dexman (EGF) def. Brandi Oie 6-2, 6-4.

Doubles - 1. Kristine Sletten-Cheyenne Honen (TRF) def. Karianne Trudel-McKenna Jones 6-2, 6-2. 3. Chelsea Daley-Laura Heschke (TRF) def. Lilly Markus-Bethany Driscoll 6-2, 6-0. 3. Bailee Lovell-Chelsea Rouler (EGF) def. Jamie LaCoursiere-Sarah Marker 6-4, 7-5.

Brooke Conely of Northland spiked the ball past Rainy River defender Amanda Clark during a Wednesday match that was part of a college volleyball triangular hosted by the Pioneers.

Pioneers split home opener in volleyball

Competition dictated results Wednesday as the Northland Community and Technical College volleyball team made its 2007 home debut with a triangular involving Rainy River Community College and Mayville State University.

The Pioneers opened the day with a 30-13, 30-25, 30-26 matinee win over Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division foe Rainy River.

That night, Mayville State, a member of the NAIA North Dakota Athletic Conference, beat Northland 30-22, 26-30, 30-12, 30-19.

The Comets were also a 3-0 winner over the Voyageurs in the middle match of the triangular.

Northland remained a .500 team with the split that put the Pioneers at 3-3 heading into the North Iowa Area Invitational today (Saturday) in Mason City.

Brooke Conely (13), Alicia Lindquist (11) and Shawna Rogalla (11) combined for 35 kills in the Northland win over Rainy River. Amie Salvhus directed the offense with 45 assists and Leigha Curfman led the defense with 22 digs.

The Pioneers led from start to finish in an easy Game 1 win. The Voyageurs bounced back to take a 7-1 lead in Game 2, but the Pioneers caught them at 15-15 on a Sarah Michaels kill and finished it on a spike by Shawna Rogalla.

Rainy River had a 20-13 Game 3 advantage, but gave up the lead on a Lindquist kill that broke a 25-25 tie. A Michaels block ended the match.

Mayville State junior varsity teams have often appeared on Northland athletic schedules. But this time the Comets brought their A Game to Thief River Falls – a 13-player varsity roster that includes three seniors, five juniors and five starters back from a team that finished fifth in the NDAC last fall.

The Pioneers, with a team featuring two sophomores and eight freshmen, played the Comets to a draw through two games, but the visitors took over down the stretch, out-scoring Northland 60-32 in Games 3 and 4.

Conely and Curfman had 18 and 14 kills, respectively, against the Comets. Salvhus collected 36 assists. Curfman (15) and Lindquist (10) had double-figure matches in digs.

Northland did miss 19 serves on the day, with nine service line errors against Rainy River and 10 more vs. Mayville State.

Six Minnesota Section 8A high school products were on the Mayville State roster: Brittany Gustafson, Red Lake County Central; Amy Evenson, Climax/Fisher; Betsy Winkler, Fosston; and Rebecca Evans, Ashley Nelson and Sada Puckett, Roseau.

TRF soccer delegation has strong showing at Elks state competition

Thief River Falls had top-four finishers in seven of the eight eight group division at the 2007 Minnesota Elks state soccer shoot-out contest.

The Aug. 18 event at Elks Camp on Pelican Lake near Nisswa featured qualifiers from local and district contests.

Boys and girls ages 9-under are challenged to earn points by kicking through five goals of various sizes.

Those ages 10-13 take aim at a rope grid in the standard goal, with each area worth points based on its difficulty.

Sam Friedrich led the Thief River Falls delegation with a first place finish in the boys ages 7-under division.

TRF football JV beaten by Red River in opener

Grand Forks Red River shut out Thief River Falls 26-0 Tuesday in junior varsity high school football.

The host Roughriders grabbed a 6-0 first quarter lead, had a 20-6 halftime advantage.

It was the 2007 season opener for the visiting Prowlers who will make their home debut Tuesday, Sept. 4, with a 4:30 p.m. game against East Grand Forks at Prowler Field.

Bemidji freshmen beat Thief River Falls 40-14

Bemidji handled Thief River Falls 40-14 Tuesday in a freshman football game played at Prowler Field.

The Lumberjacks had quarter leads of 12-0, 28-8 and 40-14.

Brady Meunier scored on a 3-yard run and added a two-point conversion for the Prowlers. A 12-yard touchdown pass caught by Matthew Audette rounded out the Thief River Falls scoring.

It was the season opener for the Prowlers, who will host Grand Forks Red River Thursday at 4:30 p.m.

TRANSMISSION PLANNING MEETING NORTHWEST ZONE

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on September 12, 2007, Minnesota utilities will be conducting a public meeting in Moorhead, Minnesota, to present information about possible future transmission line projects in northwestern Minnesota and to seek input from local governmental officials and the public about local transmission needs and inadequacies and possible solutions. The meeting will be held at the following location and time:

Date: September 12, 2007
Time: 9:00 a.m. – 12:00 noon and 3:00 p.m. – 7:00 p.m.

Location: Courtyard by Marriott
1080 28th Ave. S.
Moorhead, Minnesota
56560-4406
Phone: (218) 284-1000

Registration is not required.

Utilities in the Northwest Zone: Great River Energy, Minnkota Power Cooperative, Missouri River Energy Services, Otter Tail Power Company, Xcel Energy

Counties in the Northwest Zone: Becker, Beltrami, Clay, Clearwater, Kittson, Lake of the Woods, Mahnomen, Marshall [illegible]

Transmission Planning Report. Minnesota electric utilities with transmission lines in the state are required by law to conduct transmission planning and identify reasonably foreseeable inadequacies in the transmission system. The utilities must hold an annual public meeting in each transmission planning zone in the state and file a Biennial Transmission Projects Report with the Public Utilities Commission by November 1 of each odd numbered year.

Northwest Zone. The utilities have identified a number of areas in the Northwest Zone where an inadequacy in the present system has been identified. These include areas in Otter Tail County and in the northern Valley area. Additional information, including a map of the Northwest Zone and a list of the inadequacies reported in 2005, is available in the 2005 Report, which can be found on the following website: www.minnelectrans.com. Utility representatives will be available at the meeting to provide an update of the various inadequacies identified in the NW Zone.

CapX 2020 Projects. In August a joint initiative of eleven transmission-owning utilities in Minnesota and the surrounding region filed a Certificate of Need application with the Minnesota Public Utilities Commission for the construction of three new high voltage transmission lines. These proposed CapX 2020 projects include a 345-kilovolt (kV) line between the Brookings, S.D. area and the Southeast Twin Cities, a 345-kV line running from Fargo, N.D. to Alexandria, St. Cloud and Monticello, Minn., and a 345-kV line between the Southeast Twin Cities and Rochester, Minn., continuing to LaCrosse, Wis. In late 2007 the CapX 2020 utilities will file a Certificate of Need application for a fourth line – a 230-kV line between Grand Rapids and Bemidji. CapX 2020 representatives will be available at the meeting to answer questions about the four proposed lines. Additional information about the CapX 2020 projects, including a map showing the transmission line study corridors, can be found at http://www.capx2020.com.

Public Input. The public is invited to attend this open house and learn more about the inadequacies in the area. Utility representatives will explain the transmission planning process, describe the inadequacies that have been identified, describe alternative solutions under consideration and discuss state energy goals and objectives. The public is encouraged to raise concerns and bring information on local transmission needs to the attention of the utilities. Input from the public and local government officials on possible other inadequacies in the area and alternative ideas for addressing any of these inadequacies is particularly encouraged. Suggestions on how to improve these planning meetings or on the content of the Biennial Report are welcome.

Tornado touches down Sunday in Marshall County

It's believed that a tornado touched down early Sunday evening between Florian and Middle River. No injuries were reported.

A Wright Township hunting cabin was torn off of its foundation, and an old barn was damaged in that same area. "We believe that it was a tornado that wrecked the hunting shack," said Marshall County Sheriff John Novacek, who added that no one was at the hunting cabin at the time.

The Marshall County Sheriff's Office also received reports of trees that had fallen down.

Red Lake County

Funnel clouds were reported near Dorothy at 8:51 p.m. Sunday, according to the Red Lake County Sheriff's Office on Monday. No damage was reported.

Pennington County

In Thief River Falls, broken tree branches fell onto an overhead power line at the river crossing near Sherwood Avenue, according to Utilities Director Arlo Rude on Monday. A breaker then shut off, cutting off electric power at 11 p.m. Sunday. The outage affected 300 municipal electric customers on the southeast side of Thief River Falls. Power was restored at 12:30 a.m. Monday.

The Pennington County Law Enforcement Center received reports that trees were down in various parts of the city of Thief River Falls.

Kittson County

As of Monday afternoon, the Kittson County Sheriff's Office hadn't received any reports of damage there. No funnel clouds or tornadoes were reported there.

WIC clinics to be offered in September

The Women, Infants and Children's Supplemental Nutrition Education Program (WIC) is being held during the month of September.

Infants, children up to the age of 5, and women who are pregnant or breast-feeding may be eligible for the program. WIC Quin County is very interested in enrolling pregnant women in the program. It feels that prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is important to apply for WIC early during pregnancy. No proof of pregnancy is required.

All potential clients must write or call the WIC Program to schedule an appointment. The following is the schedule of WIC Clinics for the month of September:

• Tuesday, Sept. 4, at the Newfolden Community Center.
• Wednesday, Sept. 5 at the Kittson County Courthouse in Hallock.
• Wednesday, Sept. 5 and Thursday, Sept. 6 at the Warroad Community Center.
• Thursday, Sept. 6, at the Red Lake Falls Community Center.
• Monday, Sept. 10, through Thursday, Sept. 13, at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.
• Monday, Sept. 17, at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Warren.
• Tuesday, Sept. 18, at the Karlstad Community Center.
• Wednesday, Sept. 19 and Thursday, Sept. 20, at the Roseau Area Hospital Basement Auxiliary Room.

North Valley Home Health will hold immunization clinics at the Newfolden and Warren clinics from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. An immunization record is needed before immunizations will be given. For more information contact North Valley Home Health at 218-745-5154.

For further information concerning the WIC program, call or write WIC Quin, PO Box 248, Newfolden, MN 56738, phone 874-7845 (Newfolden, Viking, Middle River, Holt or Thief River Falls residents) or 1-800-223-1591, or e-mail quinchs@wiktel.com.

Highway 89 detoured for construction in Grygla

The Minnesota Department of Transportation and the Marshall County Highway Department are working together on a project to improve roadway safety by realigning a curved portion of State Highway 89 in Grygla. The project was scheduled to start Wednesday, Aug. 29. The project requires a detour. The project is expected to be complete by Friday, Sept. 7, weather permitting.

Motorists traveling south will be directed from Highway 89 and Marshall County Road 54 in Grygla onto State Highway 219 south, then onto Highway 1 east of Goodridge and back to Highway 89. Traffic traveling north will follow the same route in reverse.

Members of the crew participating in the prescribed burn at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge in Thief River Falls prepare for a test burn before beginning the prescribed burn in earnest.

Anderson said the effectiveness of summer burns on vegetation is being studied. One study is looking at the tubers of cattails.

Officials believe prescribed burns in the summer have been fairly successful. They seem to have met their objectives because they are catching plant growth at critical growth stages of the plants being targeted.

As far as animals, Knutsen said there is the possibility that there might be losses, especially with small animals. But, he said, while there may be some short term loss, there will be far greater long-term gains.

The specific area targeted for a prescribed burn on Thursday was the South Pool at Agassiz. That area consists of roughly 2,460 acres, which nearly doubled their total toward a goal of 10,000 acres for the year. A late, wet spring delayed much of their work this year.

Before the start of the prescribed burn on Thursday, Dan Dearborn, burn boss, and Larry Anderson, task force leader, outlined the goals and objectives of the more than 20 members of the crew participating in the event. Some of the personnel were from Agassiz, but many came from long distances to participate in the prescribed burn. Participants came from Fergus Falls and Detroit Lakes Wetland Management Districts, the Nature Conservancy office in Karlstad, and from the Big Stone National Wildlife Refuge.

Anderson said law enforcement, fire departments, local and county officials and adjacent landowners were all notified about the activity. In fact, officials requested that County Road 7 be temporarily closed because of the possibility of smoke obscuring the road.

Thursday morning, the duties and responsibilities of each member of the crew was carefully outlined; the weather conditions reviewed; and the efforts undertaken to prepare the area for the prescribed burns, were also described.

For the most part, the tools used for this prescribed burn included Marsh Masters, Terra Torches, and manpower. In the past, some of the prescribed burns at Agassiz were accomplished with the use of helicopters. Not so, this day. Anderson warned participants to be prepared for a lot of walking. The total circumference of the targeted area is over nine miles.

A member of the fire crew participating in the prescribed burn at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge in Thief River Falls on Thursday, Aug. 30, uses a terra torch to ignite some grasses.

Pembina Trail RC&D to hold listening sessions

The Pembina Trail Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Association plans to hold three local listening sessions in September for people living in the following counties in northwest Minnesota: Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau. The council invites individuals to these sessions, so the council can identify the needs and opportunities of the area.

All listening sessions will be held from 6 to 7 p.m. at the following locations: Badger Community Hall on Sept. 18, the Red Lake Watershed District Office, Thief River Falls, on Sept. 19, and the Crookston Public Library on Sept. 20.

At each session, a council member and Shawnn Balstad, RC&D coordinator, will explain about Pembina Trail RC&D and the RC&D program. They will also ask attendees for comments and input regarding regional issues. All of the information will then be presented to the entire council for further interpretation, so the Pembina Trail RC&D Council can create a five-year strategic plan on how to address the needs and opportunities obtained from the survey.

The Pembina Trail RC&D Council is a public non-profit entity and is made up of local volunteers and leaders. Since the council is made up of local people, members define their own goals and work with a broad range of public and private entities to achieve their objectives. The four focus elements of the council are: Land Management, Land Conservation, Water Management and Community Development.

For more information about the Pembina Trail RC&D and the listening session, contact Shawnn Balstad, coordinator, at (218) 253-2646, ext. 4.

engage students, and not just within the classroom. Some of his successful innovations included greeting students when they arrived at school, eating lunch with them, and engaging them in conversation in the hallways. Edwards urged teachers and staff to take the opportunities they have to get to know their students. Students respond better and succeed when given positive support.

When looking for new ways to engage students, Edwards urged teachers and staff to work collaboratively. Partnering is very important to innovation, he said.

For Campbell, working with hospice hasn't been depressing. "It's fun. We're working with people, making them feel better," said Campbell, who noted everyone is going to die someday.

While volunteering at the hospice, Campbell met with the hospice's Thief River Falls-based nurses, social worker, hospice volunteer coordinator and spiritual care coordinator once every 14 days. At those meetings, they updated each other on the hospice patients. They discussed how the patients' care could be improved; arranged for any medical equipment needs; coordinated hospice visits; changed medications for the patient, if needed; arranged respite for the caregivers; and determined if the patients' symptoms were under control. Being out of town didn't stop Campbell from taking part in the meetings. When she was out of town, she called the hospice office to participate in them.

When issues or concerns cropped up with the care of hospice patients before or after the team meetings, hospice staff called Campbell at home or work. Waterworth said Campbell always responded in a timely manner.

In addition to those phone calls and the team meetings, Campbell visited hospice patients in their own homes if they were her own patients. She also filled out a lot of paperwork, certifying patients' hospice eligibility and reviewing patients' hospice care plans.

Campbell's volunteer work also extended beyond paperwork and staff meetings. She helped at the Annual Hospice Spaghetti Benefit and the Annual Tree Walk for Hospice.

Campbell has also helped at hospice's root beer float stand at the Pennington County Fair. Kelly Rogalla, hospice volunteer coordinator, remembered they weren't getting much business at their stand, so Campbell took the show on the road and sold root beer floats by walking around the fairgrounds.

"I think she has gone so far beyond the role of medical director," said Rogalla, who has worked with Campbell for nine years. She recalled Campbell's visit to one hospice patient's home. The patient was having some pain management issues. As a result of that visit and the knowledge of a few other patients' issues with pain management, Campbell recently became a certified acupuncturist.

Hospice staff will also remember Campbell's boundless energy. "She's always peppy and smiley," Waterworth said.

"We'll miss her," Rogalla said.

Campbell will miss them, too. "I think I'll miss everything," said Campbell, who has been succeeded by Dr. Michael Clark as the hospice's volunteer medical director in Thief River Falls.

Campbell; her husband, Gordon; and sons, Hugh, Mark and Sam; moved to St. Andrews this month. Campbell is working part-time in emergency medical services in Winnipeg. She began working there last year and commuted to and from Thief River Falls. Campbell plans to continue working part-time to remain flexible in the event her other current employer, North Valley Health Center of Warren, is short staffed.

About Hospice

Hospice relieves a tremendous burden off of caregivers, said Campbell, who noted hospice provides personal care in patients' homes in the form of extra visits and tender, loving care.

Hospice care includes in-home visits by nurses who are on call 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Social workers, aides, volunteers and spiritual care providers also visit hospice patients in their homes.

Hospice also provides respite services for caregivers, Campbell said. It provides counseling to patients and their families, and helps the patient get his or her affairs in order.

If a hospice patient were eligible for Medicare, Medicare pays for medications, supplies and durable medical equipment (such as wheelchairs and hospital beds) related to his or her terminal illness. If a hospice patient has private insurance or another payer source that covers less than 100 percent of the hospice care, hospice care is still provided at no cost to him or her. Fundraising dollars supplement these expenses.

Radios make county schools safer

Hallock - "The Emergency Response Crisis Management grant has helped another school become safer in Minnesota."

"Recently, the Kittson County Sheriff's Office was allocated funds through the ERCM grant to purchase radios for school safety. Sheriff Kenny Hultgren donated the funds to the purchase of hand-held radios for the schools in Kittson County. The purpose of the radios is to provide, in the event of a crisis, communication between the school and emergency responders. The schools will be able to talk to the sheriff's office, officers, and fire and medical personnel who are responding to the incident. The radio also has the MNSAF channel, which puts them in contact with all of the state emergency departments.

"Hultgren said he is taking the assistance from ERCM one step further and applying for funds to purchase a laptop to be able to view the scene of a crisis, with the help of security cameras in Kittson Central Schools, while an officer is in his or her car outside."

"A radio will be presented to the Lancaster School in the next couple of weeks." - Kittson County Enterprise, Sept. 5, 2007, by Louise Money

Apartments complex seeks city cost breaks

Warren - "The new owners of the P&P Apartments building were successful in their request for a break on their city garbage bill but were put on hold regarding their pitch for lower taxes.

"Greg and Lorna Hanson of Karlstad, who purchased the subsidized housing facility at the east end of Warren earlier this year, were on the agenda for the City Council meeting Aug. 28, requesting the tax and garbage rate breaks.

"The Hansons indicated they will be spending $340,000 for a major refurbishing of the 24-unit apartment building. ... To go with the totally new look on the exterior, the Hansons are renaming the facility Sunrise View Apartments." It will continue to be subsidized housing.

"The apartments currently have only four tenants and that soon will be reduced to two and possibly just one tenant, Greg Hanson said. Despite the drastic reduction in occupied units during the reconstruction period, the business is still being charged full garbage fees. They paid $462 each month for July and August, according to Lorna Hanson.

"After considerable discussion, the council approved for the rest of 2007, waiving the portion of the bill related to non-use of city garbage bags, charging a base fee based on actual occupancy each month, and charging the much lower commercial rate for sanitation service. The fee reduction will be reviewed at the time of the January billing." - Warren Sheaf, Sept. 5, 2007

All-School Reunion is big draw at Wannaska

Wannaska - "Wannaska Elementary School is no more, but approximately 250 people of all ages attended the Wannaska All-School Reunion on Monday to celebrate the 61 years it was in existence.

"This past May, the Roseau School Board closed the school doors for good, which it described as an economic necessity." - Roseau Times-Region, Sept. 1, 2007, by Jeff Olsen

Kick'n Up Kountry

BlackHawk band members came together on the Kick'n Up Kountry stage in Thief River Falls to perform for country music fans Friday, Aug. 31, in Thief River Falls.

Kick'n Up Kountry supplies the fun

by David Hill
Editor

When Ardell Larson moved Kick'n Up Kountry to Thief River Falls she talked about the event's potential to grow. With stands half filled for this year's event, the potential remained intact. Reports or word of mouth stories about the extraordinary performances, however, may change a "potential hit" to a reality next year.

Fifteen bands performed during Kick'n Up Kountry Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Thief River Falls. Headline acts performed to an estimated 3,000 to 4,000 country music fans. The grandstand in Thief River Falls seats over 2,500, but event organizers doubled the potential size of the audience by seating an additional 2,000 or more seats in VIP sections in front of the stands. The VIP sections and benefits attracted many of the concertgoers.

Although a "relatively" small crowd by some standards, performers played as if before thousands more in a packed stadium.

Tobi Lee, North Vernon, Ind., and Mustang Sally, an all-girl, plus one male, band, "rocked the house," as fans described it.

Lee said she gives it her all because these are our fans. This is country music's fan base, she added.

That sentiment was echoed by many performers.

Neal McCoy, who performed Sunday night and had the crowd standing on its feet for most of his performance, publically thanked the crowd for its support and encouraged everyone to thank Ardell Larson for organizing this event. He also mentioned her efforts at organizing "Hopes, Dreams and Smiles Fund," which was established through Northwest Minnesota

Great fun with great bands

"Got that." Tobi Lee, lead singer for Mustang Sally, an all-women rhythm and blues band out of Nashville, Tenn., posed for a photographer during the bands performance at Kick'n Up Kountry in Thief River Falls on Saturday. Lee used her many skills and charm to involve country music fans in the band's performance.

Mustang Sally performs for fans

by David Hill

Tobi Lee said she always knew she would be a performer.

Her parents knew and she always knew that singing would be something she would do professionally. No matter where she was, singing was something she always did. Tobi said her mother's way of punishing her was to tell her she couldn't sing. "It worked," said Tobi.

Lee, North Vernon, Ind., is a member of Mustang Sally, a rhythm and blues band that brought fans to their feet on Saturday during the Kick'n Up Kountry Music Festival in Thief River Falls.

Lee was the one with the big smile, and the funky hair front and center, and who occasionally strutted out into the crowd to get them involved in the performance.

According to her online biography, Tobi has studied dance and gymnastics, been a professional actress in theater, radio and television, and done both print and runway modeling. She also can play just about any instrument she sets her mind to, including keys, drums, guitar, bass, banjo, dobro and saxophone. Tobi is also a talented songwriter, becoming one of the most sought-after co-writers on Music Row.

Initially, Mustang Sally was an all-woman rhythm and blues band. This summer they added a man to the band's roster, but as Ladd Smith, lead guitar, put it, there hasn't been a problem with this rooster in the hen house.

In fact, that's one of the things about this group, said Lee, - they really get along. "Everyone knows their limits," said Lee.

Lee added, "when you travel and perform 240 days out of a year from

Rogalla ranch wins award

Rogallas win SWCD conservation beautification award

Submitted

You can't miss their farm in Grand Plain Township in Marshall County. It's a wildlife friendly oasis of trees and shrubs.

Vernon and Audrey Rogalla and son, Roger Rogalla, have been named the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District Beautification winners.

Vernon and Audrey were married in 1955. In the same year they purchased the farm in Grand Plain Township in Marshall County from Henry Clausen, and moved from Warsaw, N.D. to live and farm. The house was small when they purchased it, but has been added onto three times over the years. They've also added or improved several outbuildings. When Vernon and Audrey moved there, Vernon said it didn't take long before they were paid a visit by Ralph Rundell, Soil Conservation Service (now the NRCS) and Lawrence Neuschwander, SWCD offering assistance with drainage and planting trees. A windbreak to the north and west of the farm was planted with the assistance of Ralph and Lawrence.

Vernon and Audrey farmed and had a 300 sow, farrow to finish hog set up. Audrey also worked at the Goodridge school for 25 years as a secretary. Audrey has since retired from the school and the hog operation is no more. Vernon and Roger still raise wheat and soybeans on the section of land they own, minus the 80 acres in CRP.

Vernon and Audrey also raised seven children on the farm: Allen, Pennington County attorney; Denise, who resides in Vermont where she is a dental assistant; Roger, who farms and is a rural postal carrier; Bernadette, who resides in the Twin Cities area and works for an insurance company; Robert, who resides in Milaca and works as an electrical lineman; Leon who is a teacher in St. Paul; and Mary, who owns a dental

The kids are back in school

Area school enrollment numbers are in

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Across northwest Minnesota, residents can hear the collective sighs of relief. After all, the kids are back in school. The following are enrollment numbers for the first days of classes at local school districts.

Badger School District (ISD 676)

The enrollment in the Badger School District was 216 students. The enrollment included: in kindergarten – 12; first grade – 12; second grade – 17; third grade – 15; fourth grade – 23; fifth grade – 19; sixth grade – 17; seventh grade – 18; eighth grade – 19; ninth grade – 15; 10th grade – 18; 11th grade – 17; and 12th grade – 14.

Pennington Co. considers tax levy options

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

The Pennington County Board of Commissioners will finalize the county's preliminary 2008 levy during the Sept. 11 county board meeting. (Setting the preliminary levy by the conclusion of that meeting is mandated by state law.) What commissioners haven't decided is how much, if at all, to increase the county tax levy.

Commissioners finished listening to budget requests Tuesday (Sept. 4). It was the last of three budget meetings and for the first time in that span, Pennington County Auditor Ken Olson was able to present a preliminary levy figure.

Tax levies based on department budget requests are: Human Services, $1,975,205; Elevator and Longs Bridge Bond, $58,118; Highway and Bridge, $94,703; Jail Addition Bond, $74,745; Radio Bond, $70,830; and Revenue Fund, $3,346,898; for a gross total levy of $6,967,382.

Pennington County is expected to receive $893,128 in county program aid from the state of Minnesota, making the county's preliminary net levy figure $6,074,254. That figure would be an approximate increase of 6.9 percent or $396,402 over the $5,677,852 collected in the 2007 combined tax levy.

Discussion immediately turned to ways the county board could cut expenditures to lower the levy. The Sheriff's Department has the cost of two squad cars, at a combined cost of $64,000 budgeted for purchase in 2008. Commissioner Darryl Tveitbakk suggested that the board limit that purchase to one new squad car and replacing the other with a

Entertaining weekend on tap

A sure sign that summer is winding down is the increasing number of entertainment activities. Last week, area residents could have attended a three-day country music festival in Thief River Falls. This weekend, entertainment options exist in Thief River Falls, Newfolden, Brooks and Strathcona.

Everybody's Market and Great American Block Party

This weekend in Thief River Falls, the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring Everybody's Market, a food and craft vendor extravaganza on downtown city streets, followed by the Great American Block Party, a downtown street dance with live music. This year's performers include Guess What with special guest Bill Kezar at 7 p.m., and Saddle Tramp from 8 p.m. to Midnight.

National Guard

On Sunday, the community and region will recognize the return of National Guard soldiers and all soldiers from Iraq and Afghanistan. A community picnic is being conducted at the National Guard Armory beginning at 1 p.m.

Newfolden Newfest

The 2007 Newfolden Newfest begins Saturday morning with a breakfast at the New Hope Church. Events that day include a country and farmer's market, softball tournament, parade, petting zoo, water wars, pedal tractor pull, and antique car, truck and tractor show.

Events on Sunday include a worship service, welcome home dinner for area soldiers at the community center at 10:30 a.m., and the North country Horseman Saddle Club Horse Show at the Ornquist Arena by Middle River.

Blast to Brooks

The 30th Annual Blast to Brooks will be on Saturday, Sept. 8. Events

My apples have come and gone. We got a few of them frozen and a few eaten, but not as many as we should have. They only come every other year, so we'll have to wait another two years to taste them again. Recipes today tell you what to do if you get some good apples this year. (Just remember, you can always buy some wonderful apples at the store this time of year.)

Make a delicious apple dessert for supper tonight:

FRESH APPLE SQUARES
Virgie Beumer, Rockville, MN

1 1/2 cups flour
1 cup oatmeal
1 cup light brown sugar, packed
1 teaspoon grated lemon zest
3/4 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
3 tablespoons oil
1/4 cup apple juice concentrate (from thawed can frozen apple juice)
2 medium apples, cored and sliced thin
1/4 cup walnuts, chopped coarsely

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Lightly oil a 9 inch square baking pan.

In large bowl, combine flour, oats, brown sugar, lemon zest, baking powder, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Work in oil and apple juice concentrate with fingers until coarse crumbs form.

Press 2 cups of the oat mixture into prepared pan. Arrange apples over crust in 3 rows. Mix walnuts into remaining oat mixture and then sprinkle over apples. Pat firmly into an even layer.

Bake 30-35 minutes or until top is golden brown and apples are tender. Serve with whipped cream or ice cream. Try caramel topping on ice cream too.

Have apple cookies ready for the kids when they get home from school. You can make your own applesauce for these or simply buy some at the store:

APPLESAUCE SPICE COOKIES
Cherie Beumer, Rockville, MN

1/2 cup softened butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup flour
1 tablespoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup applesauce
1 3/4 cup quick cooking oats
1 cup raisins

Preheat oven to 375 degrees.

Mix butter and sugar until creamy. Beat in egg. Combine flour, baking powder, cinnamon, nutmeg, cloves and salt in separate bowl and then blend with first mixture. Stir in the applesauce, oats and raisins.

Drop by rounded teaspoonfuls onto greased baking sheet. Bake at 375 degrees for about 15 minutes or until lightly browned.

Makes 4 dozen cookies.

This is one of those "special" apple pies with the sugar topping. You'll love it:

DELUXE APPLE PIE
Julitta Schleper, St Cloud, MN

3/4 cup sugar
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg, beaten
2 cups sliced apples
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
1/3 cup flour
1/4 cup butter
8 inch pastry crust

Prepare pastry dough and line pie pan with pastry.

Preheat oven to 400 degrees.

Combine sugar and sour cream. Beat well. Add 2 tablespoons flour, salt, vanilla and apple slices. Pour mixture into pie shell. Bake at 400 degrees for 25 minutes. Remove from oven.

Mix brown sugar, 1/3 cup flour and butter until crumbly. Spread on pie. Bake 20 minutes more or until apples are tender.

This is the pie crust I make all the time and it is a real winner. I make patties of the right size for a crust and freeze. Takes just a little time to thaw in the fridge. And yes, I do use lard most of the time, sometimes a mixture, too:

PIE CRUST
Rosella Pedarek, Morrill, MN

3 cups flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup soft lard (or 1 1/4 cups shortening)
5 tablespoons cold water
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 beaten egg

Mix flour, salt and lard with pastry blender. Blend egg, water and vinegar and add to flour mixture, stirring gently with a fork. Recipe makes 4 to 6 crusts.

Got crabapples you don't know what to do with? Make some good apple juice with one of the following easy recipes I got from my cousin:

HOMEMADE CRABAPPLE JUICE

3 quarts crabapples, washed, cleaned and cut up
6 teaspoons cream of tartar
5 quarts boiling water

Dissolve cream of tartar in boiling water, then pour over crabapples. Soak 24 hours. Strain, discard apples and pour liquid into large pot. Add sugar to taste and boil for 15 minutes. Pour in sterilized bottles or canning jars and seal. May also freeze.

Here's another recipe for crabapple juice that's just a little different from the one above:

CRABAPPLE JUICE

1 ice cream pail of apples
5 quarts water
8 teaspoons cream of tartar

Bring water to a boil. Add cream of tartar and pour over apples. Cover and let stand 36 hours. Strain and add 1 cup sugar to 10 cups juice. Seal in sterilized jars.

Olson appointed president of Eastern Wyoming College

Upon completion of a presidential search process, Dr. Shari Olson of Thief River Falls has been appointed the next president of Eastern Wyoming College (EWC) in Torrington, Wyo.

The Eastern Wyoming College Board of Trustees recently announced Olson has accepted its invitation to serve as president at EWC. "Dr. Shari Olson was selected after a comprehensive search process," said EWC Trustee Board Chairwoman Sherri Lovercheck. "We selected Dr. Olson because we believe that she will provide energetic and dynamic leadership as we grow our workforce development activities and design our Center for Educational Excellence. Dr. Olson is a talented leader and will be able to build on Dr. Bottenfield's many contributions to our college," said Lovercheck.

"Shari has done a outstanding job as NCTC's vice president of planning and administrative services, a role I appointed her to when I became the president of the college," said President Anne Temte. "She has used her amazing creativity, energy and caring for people to mold an energized department that oversees facilities, technology and fiscal services. Though I wish her well at Eastern Wyoming College, NCTC will miss her contributions and I, personally, will miss the excitement of working with her."

As a first generation college student, Olson completed her Bachelor of Science degree in 1983 and her master's degree in 1991, both from North Dakota State University. She obtained a doctorate of philosophy degree from the University of North Dakota in 2004.

Olson and her husband, Richard Nikunen Jr., have one son, Willie, who is in eighth grade. Nikunen is a faculty member in the psychology department at NCTC and serves as the head men's basketball coach. Olson will begin her term as president of EWC on Dec. 15, 2007.

"I am truly grateful to have served the community of learners at Northland College and extend my heartfelt appreciation for the many talented colleagues I have worked with throughout my 13 years at Northland College," said Olson. "It has been an honor to work under the leadership of three great presidents: Dr. Anne Temte, Dr. James Davis, and Dr. Driey Gunderson, and to serve the business and industry community of northwestern Minnesota."

Newfest event includes welcome to area soldiers

"Welcome Home Soldiers" will be the theme of the Sunday celebration at Newfest beginning with a church service at the Marshall County Central School at 9:30 a.m. Immediately following at 10:30 a.m. will be a free dinner served at the Newfolden Community Center. Plan to attend this very special event for our soldiers.

No injuries reported after accident Tuesday

No injuries were reported after a two-vehicle broadside accident Tuesday morning in Thief River Falls.

At the time of the accident, Myron T. Anderson, 66, Thief River Falls, was driving a 1997 Dodge pickup truck out of the Hardware Hank parking lot and onto the southbound lane of Highway 59. His pickup truck then struck a southbound GMC Envoy driven by Kenneth M. Hjelle, 77, Newfolden. Hjelle's vehicle was struck on the left rear side. Both drivers were wearing their seat belts, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. Anderson's pickup truck sustained minor damage, and Hjelle's sport utility vehicle sustained moderate damage.

The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 10:44 a.m. Tuesday. The Pennington County Sheriff's Office assisted the State Patrol.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum; the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Thank You

The Family of Gail (Knutson) LaFontaine

We extend a heartfelt thanks to everyone for their prayers, food, flowers and memorials at the time of Gail's sudden and unexpected death. Your wonderful stories and memories of Gail warmed our hearts and comforted us. We would like to thank Cease Funeral Home (Mike Cudmore), Faith Lutheran Church, Pastors Mardy Schermerhorn & John Omans, special music by Butch Boe & Sarah Gunning, lunch ladies, pallbearers and everyone who helped with the service. To the children and grandchildren, thanks for all the hugs and kisses you gave so faithfully, she loved you all. Now God has given her a list of things for her to do, and foremost on that list is to care for and watch over all of you.

If tears could build a stairway, and memories were a lane
We would walk right up to Heaven, and bring you back again
No farewell words were spoken, no time to say goodbye
You were gone before we knew it, and only God knows why.

Gone from our sight, but never our memories, gone from touch, but never our hearts. Missing you dearly, Gail. God Bless you all!

The family of Karel & Dolores Knutson, Bryan Pederson, children Kim Karpl, Jason and Ryan LaFontaine and grandchildren

Applications available for MSA scholarships

Beltrami County Sheriff Phil Hodapp has announced the commencement of the Minnesota Sheriffs' Association Scholarship Program for 2007. According to Hodapp, the association has established a scholarship fund totaling $9,000 to award a total of 15 $600 scholarships for this year. This is possible due to the coordinated efforts of the 87 sheriffs of the state of Minnesota.

MSA members give special recognition to the financial needs of students attending the Mandated Peace Officer Skills Course, or two- or four-year law enforcement degree school.

The Scholarship Committee, in making its selection of awards, intends to achieve representation from all geographical areas of the state. Applications will be received until Nov. 1 of each year, with scholarships awarded by Dec. 31 of the same year. Application forms and a statement of procedures are available at the Beltrami County Sheriff's Office or at www.mnsheriffs.org. Scholarships are only available to students currently enrolled in one of the following four categories:

1. Mandated Post Skills Program
2. In their second year of a two-year law enforcement program
3. In their third or fourth year of a four-year college criminal justice course

In order to qualify, students must have completed at least one year of a two-year program or two years of a four-year program.

It's time to race to Cub Scouts

Cub Scouting wants you! Now is the time to race to Scouting and join the fun and excitement of America's foremost youth program for boys - Cub Scouting. Scouting welcomes young and old to join the program, as the program succeeds with adult leadership. Flyers with additional details will be distributed at local schools.

Open houses will be held at the following locations:

• Pack 3160 of Plummer/Oklee – At 7 p.m. Sept. 12 at the Red Lake County Central Elementary School library, Plummer. The contact person is Toni Nemec, (218) 465-4017.

• Pack 3057 of Thief River Falls – At 7 p.m. Sept. 13 at St. Bernard's Catholic School. The contact person is Mark Borsheim, (218) 681-3918.

Quilter's winning quilt featured in quilting magazine

Jean Sjostrand of Lake Bronson was featured in the third volume of the 2007 edition of $100,000 Quilting Challenge, a magazine dedicated to the interests of quilters.

With the help of her husband, Clayton; Marian Hockstra; J'nell Amundson; and instructions and photos in LeMoyne Stars Made Easy, Sjostrand created a quilt that was declared the Traditional Pieced Winner.

In the article, it explains that her inspiration for the quilt came from her son and his roommate who were collecting the purple flannel bags that contain each Crown Royal Canadian Whisky bottle. "Who drank that much whisky?" was the first question she asked. She learned that her son Taylor and his roommate Phil, began collecting the bags from bars and friends as well as their own bottles. "I was extremely relieved as a mother to find out that it wasn't just the two of them drinking."

When Taylor learned that his mother had started quilting, he asked her to make a blanket for the sofa from the bags. She explained that the young men had found a Crown Royal bag pillow at a rummage sale, and that prompted them to ask for a sofa blanket.

Sjostrand began researching designs and settled on the Star of the Magi pattern, and began piecing it together. With help from several friends, and quilting by J'nell Amundson, she put together a quilt she called 96 Bottles of Crown on the Wall.

"Kyle's 20 Miles" set for Sept. 15 in RLF

The Third Annual "Kyle's 20 Miles" marathon and community pig roast will be held Saturday, Sept. 15 in Red Lake Falls.

People are invited to rollerblade, bike, run or walk Kyle's 20-mile route. On Saturday, Sept. 15, bring your pledge form, donations, rollerblades, bike or running shoes to J.A. Hughes Elementary School in Red Lake Falls. Participants need to be 12 years of age or older. Registration begins at 1 p.m. Participants need to be registered by 2:30 p.m.

The 20-mile marathon route begins at J.A. Hughes Elementary School and follows Red Lake County Road 1 east, County Road 12 south to the Myhre residence and then returns to the school. There are five checkpoints, where water, provided by Pepsi Cola Bottling, and first aid will be available. Volunteer EMTs from the Red Lake Falls Ambulance Service and Red Lake Falls Fire Department will be at the stations. Participants may choose their distance of participation and transportation will be available if participants choose to stop at any checkpoint.

All participants receive a "Kyle's 20 Miles" T-shirt. Prizes to be awarded for collecting the most donations include a bicycle, a digital camera and an MP3 player.

Everyone is welcome to join in the activities held at the Myhre residence, including a Blue Line hockey puck shoot, a Hole-in-One, volleyball and other yard games. The prizes will be awarded at 4:15 p.m. at the Myhre residence.

Don't miss the Community Pig Roast. The Red Lake Falls Women of Today will serve the meal from 4:30 to 8 p.m. at the Myhre residence. In the event of unfavorable weather, the meal will be served at the Terrebonne Township Hall, which is located along Highway 92. A freewill offering will be accepted with the proceeds benefiting the Kyle A. Myhre Memorial Scholarship and Community Grant Fund.

If you would like to participate in the marathon, registration and pledge forms are available online at www.kyles20miles.com. Forms can also be picked up at Lafayette High School and Brent's Super Value, both in Red Lake Falls; and at Hardware Hank and KTRF Radio, both in Thief River Falls.

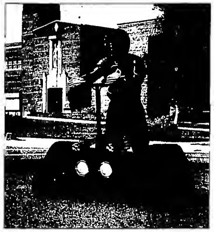
For more information about any of the events, check out the aforementioned Web site, call Randy and Josie Myhre at (218) 698-4615, or e-mail josiem@gvtel.com.

About Kyle Myhre

Kyle Myhre, 18, died May 7, 2004, as a result of an automobile accident near Red Lake Falls. He was a senior at Lafayette High School.

The summer before his senior year, Kyle took on the challenge of rollerblading 20 miles every day in an effort to improve himself and prepare for football and hockey. He was dedicated and amazed everyone with his resolve to accomplish this feat rain or shine. Kyle improved as an athlete and strengthened his character and dedication. He held a co-captain position in hockey and received awards for character and sportsmanship. He proudly wore the number 20 on his hockey jersey.

Great American Block Party tickets are free to returning National Guard soldiers



The Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce is giving the men and women of Co. B. 2nd Combined Arms Battalion, 136th Infantry, who recently returned from Iraq, free tickets to the Great American Block Party, Saturday, Sept. 8 (today).

This annual community event includes a street dance beginning at 6 p.m., following Everybody's Market and a scavenger hunt earlier in the day.

The Chamber asks that these local service people either call (218) 681-3720 or stop by the Chamber of Commerce, 2017 Hwy. 59 SE, to get their free tickets.

The Mattracks EXtreme Team performed in Thief River Falls at the end of the Shriners Parade on Saturday, Sept. 1. This rider took his Mattracks-equipped ATV over the top of a pickup.

This unusual Mattracks vehicle was displayed and operated at the conclusion of the Shriners Parade in Thief River Falls on Saturday, Sept. 1.

Car and tractor auction to be held Sept. 29, 30

Approximately 350 cars, pickup trucks and trucks from mostly the 1930s, '40s and '50s, as well as 82 tractors, will be auctioned off Sept. 29 and 30 at 40751 240th Ave. N.E., Middle River. The auction begins at 10 a.m. each day.

Fords, Chevrolet, Cadillacs, Pontiacs, Buicks, Internationals, Willys and more are included in the auction. There is a 1934 Pontiac 8 four-door sedan inside a shed. A rare 1930s Henderson Corbett Truck waits to haul loads, even a 1960s dune buggy. There is everything from finished vehicles to vehicles that are mostly complete. The auction provides restored cars, rods and donor cars for projects.

There are also 82 old tractors ready for restoration and begging to be hooked back up to the plow. Amongst the tractors are a rare 660 International, an Oliver 66 diesel, and other John Deeres, International Harvesters, Olivers and more.

The majority of the vehicles will be sold on Saturday with some parts. The tractors, Army trucks, some other larger trucks, parts, motorcycles will be sold on Sunday.

The owner of this collection loved cars and tractors and tried to buy almost everything he fell in love with. Due to health reasons the keeper of this sanctuary must sell the collection and wants them to have good homes.

For more information on this auction, call Yvette VanDerBrink of VanDerBrink Auctions at (605) 201-7005 or (507) 673-2517, or check out www.vanderbrinkauctions.com. Online bidding will also be offered if you can't come to the auction, depending upon cell phone service.

Rural Reflections

Grant Nelson

The comments published in this column are intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. They are written by independent columnists and do not represent the opinion of the staff or management of The Times/Northern Watch.

Thelma & Louise, Lucy & Desi

I titled this column as I did because I wanted to reflect on what an unlikely crew and how chaotic I thought the trip we were about to take would be. The reality is that our trip has gone well and our group consisting of Lisa, myself, Jeanette Walseth and Teresa Hibbert is not unlikely but rather quite likely to enjoy each other's company on the road as we have at home during our trip ending in Driggs, Idaho.

Our trip began at 4 p.m. Sunday afternoon and began again four minutes later after we returned to our home and picked up my jacket.

I drove the first leg to Bismarck, N.D., which was unremarkable as you could exchange any spot on Interstate 94 with any other in southern North Dakota.

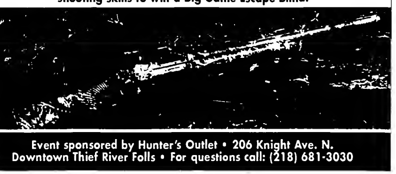
Bismarck to Billings, Mont., is a stretch created solely for making good time, which we accomplished. I turned the wheel over to Teresa as my flatland driving abilities would be of little use as we continued west. I saw lots of dry-land farming and a disproportionate amount of land for the cattle on range. This land has little carrying capacity because of its makeup and the lack of rain.

As we approached Red Lodge, Mont., Teresa told me to look at the mountains. I didn't see them at first because they are so huge that I thought they were banks of clouds. I was awestruck. I fell quiet, and I felt sweat appear on the palms of my hands. The mountains of the Bear Tooth Pass are closed during the winter, so Red Lodge is the end of the line at the base of the mountain range.

I have never felt more fear of such pure quality as my first five minutes of travel through the Bear Tooth Pass. Teresa grew up near the mountains and is as trustworthy as a Sherpa guide, but the three others in that pickup truck were true flatlanders and quite terrified. I forced myself to breathe evenly and to take pictures even as we approached 10,000 feet above sea level. It was like the first time you meet the person you marry – at first, you're excited and scared, later, you relax and appreciate what makes him or her special. I relaxed, realized I would live through Bear Tooth; and appreciated its beauty, majesty, variety of color; and the valley that lays so far below. I'll try to share some pictures next week of Bear Tooth and Yellowstone. Yellowstone was full of wildlife to the point we could have touched a bison from our vehicle; we're not idiots, so we didn't even try.

We traveled south through the Teton Range of mountains next. The Tetons, particularly Mt. Moran and the Grand Teton, were different from their Yellowstone counterparts. These mountains seemed rugged, younger and more aesthetic than even Bear Tooth, which perhaps has grown to accept trees on its face and welcomed the shade.

Today, we are in Driggs. We've asked Teresa to show us around her hometown and give us the true "Driggs Experience" (to which she rolls her eyes). There's a microbrewery here and even the convenience stores have lots of new, local brews to bring home. This could become my Graceland.



This column was written on Wednesday, so we may be home as you read this entry. If you live on our delivery route, we will be home and perhaps on our next trip during your first read.

Although this trip has not lived up to the chaos suggested by the title, there was one similarity as there was a large, friendly tomcat outside our door last night. This morning, we were watching a "I Love Lucy" rerun, and she was on vacation in a cabin. Lucy receives a visit from a cat that drives her from the cabin, our cat was much nicer and just quietly sat on an old horse wagon in front of the hotel.

Coincidence? . . Perhaps.

Hunting for tourists in NW Minnesota

Representatives of the cities of Thief River Falls and Middle River are hunting for tourists. Don't get too excited, run one over and strap him or her onto the hood of your four-wheeler just yet. To be a bit more precise, the communities have initiated an event designed to attract hunters and other visitors to northwest Minnesota.

Specifically, community development representatives, and tourism experts hope the 10 or so media representatives from Minnesota and North Dakota that they have invited to the Goose Festival will create the kind of "buzz" that will attract visitors to northwest Minnesota.

The media representatives will be invited to visit the communities of Thief River Falls and Middle River, go hunting for waterfowl, and attend the Middle River Goose Festival. Local representatives have no idea what these media representatives will write about their experiences in northwestern Minnesota, but they hope they write the kind of stories that make people think about visiting northwestern Minnesota.

Organizers indicated that the initial focus is to attract hunters, but the journalists could produce stories on a thousand or more different subjects. It could be hunting. It could be about the Goose Festival. It could be about goose calling, 100-year-old stores, family traditions or crazy parades.

In Minnesota, tourism is second only to agriculture. Tourism is a billion dollar business and these savvy representatives want northwestern Minnesota to benefit from tourism.

A tourist, by definition, is someone who travels 50 miles or more and stays overnight; so, a tourist could be a friend or neighbor, but it means dollars that aren't created in the community are being spent in the community. Tourists spend money in restaurants, hotels and motels, gas stations, convenience stores, clothing, and equipment. That means a lot of businesses, employees and citizens benefit from tourists.

Local leaders also say efforts like this improve economic development. Some visitors may be encouraged to buy land, even become partners in or start businesses in our communities.

Don't get too worried; there probably won't be a big rush of tourists to northwestern Minnesota. Local officials hope to capitalize on what's uniquely northwestern Minnesota but don't expect northwestern Minnesota to lose its identity.

Additionally, experts don't generally see a large influx of tourism to an area immediately after such efforts. They do begin to see results of their efforts begin to pay off in the second or third year.

Regardless of how long this investment takes to pay off, local officials have made a wise investment.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

First Care launches vascular rehab program

Are you one of the eight million Americans who suffer from PAD (Peripheral Arterial Disease)? People have PAD when the arteries in their legs become narrowed or clogged with fatty deposits, or plaque. The buildup of plaque causes the arteries to harden and narrow, which is called atherosclerosis. When leg arteries are hardened and clogged, blood flow to the legs and feet is reduced. It is often called poor circulation.

Individuals with PAD are at greater risk for heart attack, stroke and loss of limbs, yet awareness among the general public regarding treatment and prevention of this disease is extremely low.

PAD causes arteries to slowly become narrowed and blocked as a consequence of age, smoking, high blood cholesterol or diabetes. Less blood reaching the muscles in the legs makes them hurt, like angina makes the heart muscle hurt.

Symptoms include claudication, pain, weakness, or cramping in muscles due to decreased blood flow, sores, wounds or ulcers that heal slowly or not at all, noticeable change in color (blueness or paleness) or temperature (coolness) when compared to the other limbs, diminished hair and nail growth on affected limb and digits. For individuals with the most severe blockages, skin ulcers, non-healing wounds, or even gangrene can occur. With prompt treatment, pain can be lessened and amputation can be avoided.

Patients in the local community who suffer from PAD have been requesting monitored exercise at First Care's Wellness Center. Many of them have been in need of monitored exercise, but did not meet the admission criteria for the Cardiac Rehab program. In response to those requests, First Care has established the only Vascular Rehabilitation Program and screening site in northern Minnesota.

At the same time local people were requesting a rehab program, the Minnesota Association of Cardiovascular Pulmonary Rehab was encouraging its members to develop a vascular rehab program. The Minnesota organization had identified a growing population of people with PAD who, without the benefit of exercise therapy or other interventions, could experience a 30 percent mortality rate at five years.

Similar to Cardiac Rehab, a Vascular program's goal is to stop the progression of PAD by controlling the risk factors contributing to the disease (such as blood cholesterol, blood pressure and diabetes). Vascular Rehab, a program whose time has come, is certainly a cost-effective alternative to repeated hospitalizations, amputation or worse, and has the prospects of a truly preventative program.

First Care will launch the Vascular Rehab Program in September, along with a Legs For Life® Screening Wellness Program. During this national screening month, First Care will hold patient screening days on Sept. 12 and 18 that are free to the public. Please allow about 25 minutes to register and be screened. Patients who are diagnosed with PAD during the screenings or those who are at risk will be referred to their primary care physicians for additional diagnosis and treatment.

Physicians have routinely prescribed a change in diet, more exercise and medication for these patients, but getting them to comply with these instructions when left on their own has been difficult to impossible at best. Now PAD sufferers have a program that is right for them. Tests for symptomatic or high-risk people are covered by most insurance companies and Medicare, and scholarships are available for others who are not covered.

Although there is no "cure" for PAD, there are many ways to prevent the progression of the disease. For more information about PAD, contact your medical provider; Kristie Sveningson, cardio-vascular rehab coordinator, or Meg Fredrickson, Wellness Center coordinator, at First Care Medical Services, 218-435-1133, or log onto www.firstcare.org.

Local residents among group of 127 to attend Windmill Ranch

Green grass, lush pastures and plentiful rains greeted visitors at the Hille Windmill Ranch, Mandan, N.D., in June 2007. The camp on the ranch opened May 31 and went until June 29, with 127 guests and visitors throughout the month.

Some highlights during the month were Roger Hille, Warren, killing a rattlesnake on the trail, a "perfect" Knife River flint arrowhead was found, and having all the neighbors over for an evening meal.

Hundreds of cattle were moved as local ranchers called to ask for help taking their herds to summer pasture. The rains provided extra energy for the horses, so weight loss was less than previous years. Many campfires and star-filled skies filled the evenings, and only a few hours of sleep occurred between dousing the campfire and making coffee.

"Prom on the Prairie" was a hit, as 24 ladies promenaded around the campfire ring with prom dresses. A number of rides to St. Anthony occurred, where horses were tied to the hitching rail and riders quenched their thirst. Improvements made by LeRoy Vonasek, Bob Baird, Jeff Wohlers and Cliff Schulz consisted of a new ceiling in the commons area and a new horse-drawn wagon. Rural water was also added to the camp amenities this year.

Guests for summer 2007 included Darren Hille, J.B. Foundation to provide children from North Dakota and Minnesota with a life threatening illness the opportunity to enjoy a special event or other activity that will have a positive impact on them.

Kick'n Up Kountry was the inaugural special event for the Hopes, Dreams and Smiles Fund. This year, David, Diane and Brittany Wells from Larimore, N.D., hosted eight children and their families at the event. Now 16, Brittany Wells was the first child that was fighting a life threatening illness to attend the festival. She was able to meet Neal McCoy, who is her favorite country music artist.

David Wells said that when Ardell saw what joy it brought to Brittany, she wanted to continue this effort.

Saturday evening, Lance Raynar of Finley, N.D., Annabell Jiran of Grand Forks, N.D., and Andrew Fullerton of Fargo, N.D., were guests of the Wells and Kick'n Up Kountry.

Family members said attending this event was a wonderful break from the roller-coaster ride of cancer screenings, waiting for test results and cancer treatments.

Each child was able to visit with the country music artists at the event, have shirts, coats or booklets autographed and their pictures taken with the artists.

The focus on children was expanded by the Shriners Club organization, which not only conducted screening clinics for children, but a parade of its motor patrols on Saturday. Motorcycles, snowmobiles, clowns on bikes, and dune buggies wove their way in formation through downtown Thief River Falls.

Shriners of North America have a philanthropic mission as well - to support Shriners Hospitals for Children, a world-class network of 22 pediatric specialty hospitals located throughout the United States, Canada and Mexico. Since 1922, Shriners Hospitals for Children have significantly improved the lives of more than 800,000 children.

The motor patrols of the Shriners Clubs were followed by a unit of Mattracks Extreme Team performing acrobatics on specially equipped four-wheelers, and popping wheelies. At several points along the parade route, a Mattracks four-wheeler climbed over a moving pickup truck.

Mattracks was a major sponsor of Kick'n Up Kountry. It is one of several sponsors that hope the event will continue to grow. And by the way, tickets for next year's event are already available.

Overtones quartet to present gospel concert Sunday

The Overtones, a gospel male quartet from Roseau, will present a concert of sacred gospel music at the Rodnes Lutheran Church of rural Erskine on Sunday, Sept. 9 at 7 p.m. There is no charge for the concert, but a freewill offering will be accepted. A time of refreshments will follow the evening musical. Rodnes Church is located on County Road 210 south of Highway 2 between Erskine and Mentor.

a bus, you really have to be able to get along."

None of the band members have children, said Tobi. "We're too young." That doesn't mean they don't miss their families and friends. One of the band members was on a long distance telephone call to her boyfriend at that moment.

"It's a tough business," said Lee. The band has been on tour since early July, she explained, but added that it's fun.

Nevertheless, every member of the band was looking forward to a little downtime at home. Lee said the band would be traveling home - that is, shortly after their show in Pennsylvania, which was a 24-hour ride away.

Lee said there wasn't any particularly point in time that she could say defined the group as having "made it" in country music. Lee said the first time she played with the band, she said she remembers thinking, "Wow, this is a great group of musicians." Lee said all of the musicians in the group, Brenda Zitzman of New Ulm, Minn., Lisa Romeo, percussion, Sarah Wilfong, fiddle, Rachel Solomon, keys, Mandi Holbert, bass, and Ladd Smith, guitar, were classically trained. She said she received her education in honky tonk on the road.

Since the band formed about three years ago, the band has played with .38 Special, John Turner, Neal McCoy, Dierks Bentley, and Montgomery Gentry.

Thief River Falls may have been a small venue for the group, but Lee said the fans gathered at the festival were their country music base. And when they play for their fans, they give it their best effort.

Fans appreciated their effort. Many said it was apparent that this fun group gave it their best effort.

Pennington County considers tax levy options used squad car that would be purchased through a state auction.

A budget request for two cars for the Department of Human Services could also be reviewed prior to the Sept. 11 meeting. This would be the first time the county purchased work vehicles for the Department of Human Services, so only calculated estimates are available as to how much the county would save by reducing mileage reimbursements within the Department of Human Services. Commissioners are considering several options and they may ask the Department of Human Services to purchase used vehicles or no vehicles at all.

Other budgeted items like carpet replacement and data processing equipment were also discussed. Olson told commissioners that they would need to cut about $56,780 to lower the budget increase to 6 percent and about $113,000 to lower it to 5 percent.

Commissioners briefly discussed how they would cover the expense of improving security to the courtroom. Olson said there is approximately $120,000 remaining in the Oakland Park Nursing Home account that could be used toward addressing courtroom security needs. Olson added that most of that money that remains in the Oakland Park account has come from lease payments ($12,000 per month) from Jim and Kathy Birchem, the Little Falls couple who purchased the nursing home.

The Birchems' purchase of Oakland Park Nursing Home will also be finalized Dec. 28. At that time, Pennington County will receive $2 million, the agreed sale amount.

The consensus among commissioners is that the $2 million should be held on to and possibly used to start a capital improvement fund. The fund would be built up over time and down the road it would be used toward addressing future facility needs of Pennington County.

Commissioner Bob Carlson had a different idea in mind as how to best use the $2 million. He suggested that the money be used to balance the county's budget. "That money belongs to the tax payers," Carlson said. "If you took a poll, the majority of the people would want this (Oakland Park money) to be used to balance this budget."

Olson countered that it is not a good idea to use large sums of money, like the county will receive from the sale of Oakland Park Nursing Home, to subsidize the county's operating expense. Olson added that there are additional ways to cut the budget. Grants are available for election equipment and data processing equipment. Using those grants could save the county $64,500. Another $50,000 could be saved if the car purchase request for the Department of Human Services is put on hold.

Carlson asked Commissioner Charles Naplin what he would tell taxpayers the county is doing with the $2 million.

"I would say we're keeping it in revenue (Revenue Fund) for capital improvement for Pennington County," Naplin replied. "What did we make that study for?"

Commissioner Don Jensen chimed in and stated that it would be foolish to use the Oakland Park Nursing Home sale money to balance the county budget this year. "I'm inclined to set the preliminary budget at 6 percent and try to work it down to 5 percent, rather than be faced with a 20 percent increase next year," Jensen added.

Carlson then asked Olson how much the levy increase could be reduced if $200,000 of the Oakland Park sale were used toward the budget. Olson estimated that the levy increase would be about 3 and a half percent if it is partially subsidized by using $200,000 from the Oakland Park Nursing Home sale.

The next meeting of the Pennington County Board of Commissioners will be Tuesday, Sept. 11.

Stephen Marine Corps recruit completes basic training

Marine Corps Pvt. Michael R. Sustad, son of Jeanne R. and Keith A. Sustad of Stephen recently completed 12 weeks of basic training at Marine Corps Recruit Depot, San Diego, Calif.

Basic training is designed to challenge new Marine recruits both physically and mentally. Sustad and fellow recruits began their training at 5 a.m., by running three miles and performing calisthenics. In addition to the physical conditioning program, Sustad spent numerous hours in classroom and field assignments, which included learning first aid, uniform regulations, combat water survival, marksmanship, hand to hand combat and assorted weapons training. They performed close order drill and operated as a small infantry unit during field training.

Sustad and other recruits also received instruction on the Marine Corps' core values – honor, courage and commitment, and what the core values mean in guiding personal and professional conduct.

Sustad and fellow recruits ended the training phase with The Crucible, a 54 hour, team evolution culminating in an emotional ceremony in which recruits are presented the Marine Corps Emblem and addressed as "Marines" for the first time in their careers.

ABATE Food and Toy Run set for Saturday

Northwest Chapter of American Bikers for Awareness, Training and Education will conduct a food and toy run on Saturday, Sept. 8. The event begins with an early breakfast buffet and registration at Seven Clans Casino beginning at 8:30 a.m.

The ABATE food and toy run begins at 10:30 a.m. at Seven Clans Casino. Stops on the route will be made at Oklee, Gully, Clearbrook, Leonard, McIntosh and Erskine.

Participants are asked to bring a non-perishable food item or a new toy. All donations collected on this ride will stock the Pennington County Food Shelf.

Seven Clans Triple 7's restaurant will provide a breakfast buffet to all registered riders. All riders will pay $1 for the buffet.

Following the ride, free camping will be available at Wollie's in Erskine. An ABATE meeting will be conducted at 10:30 a.m. on Sunday, Sept. 9.

Why Roam?

An 18-0 shutout win posted by the Thief River Falls defense in an Aug. 31 season-opening high school football match-up with Crookston featured plays like this as the Prowlers hauled down speedy running back Josh Thomas after just a short gain. Myles Keefe (27) made the tackle as Thief River Falls' Travis Peralta (51), Sam Mattison (31), Tyler Aandal (20) and Aaron Langan (26) closed in. The Prowlers will make their 2007 home debut with a Friday, Sept. 14, game against Hibbing. The 7 p.m. North Country Conference contest at Lowell T. Swenson Field will feature a special program celebrating 100 years of Thief River Falls high school football.

Prowlers edge Mustangs

A Game 1 loss was followed by three straight two-point wins as Thief River Falls got by Red Lake County Central 21-25, 26-24, 26-24, 25-23 in a Tuesday high school volleyball match played at Plummer.

The Prowlers finished the closely contested match with just a 98-96 edge in total points as both teams went to 1-1 for the year.

Brittany Wiseth had an eye-opening 21-kill night for the winners. Haley Teie added 12 kills to the Prowlers' totals. Beth Marben collected 27 assists.

An 80-for-88 figure in digs for Kayse Lee was another impressive number on the Thief River Falls stat chart.

The Prowlers' serving improved to 94 percent, compared to an 84 percent performance at the line in a 3-2 season-opening loss to Crookston the previous week.

A balanced Red Lake County Central offense showed Kayla Pelletier with 15 kills, Hannah Vettleson 14 and Faith Kruchowski 10. Jill Rewertz set them up with 25 assists.

"We played well," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bruy, whose team was coming off a season-opening win over Fosston. "We're so young. We need to work on hitting the ball. We have to put it away when we have the chance."

Scoring

■ Kills - (TRF) Brittany Wiseth 21, Haley Teie 12, Franny Twistol 7, Cassie Gunderson 6, (RLCC) Kayla Pelletier 15, Hannah Vettleson 14, Faith Kruchowski 10.

Concordia JV posts a 29-13 win vs. NCTC

It was just two points, but an early-game safety put the Northland Community and Technical College football team on its heels Sunday in a 29-13 loss to the Concordia College junior varsity in Moorhead.

A center snap that got by quarterback Keith Richardson, who was lined up in shotgun formation, wound up in the Pioneers' end zone, creating the 2-0 deficit.

Like a dark cloud, that one play hung over Northland the rest of the afternoon. "I was very disappointed in how we reacted to the safety," said Pioneers coach Guy Finstrom. "We let it get to us. We didn't respond the way we should have. We were sluggish."

The Cobbers were up 9-0 at the first quarter break and had a 22-0 halftime advantage.

Northland cut the difference to 22-13 in the third quarter on Richardson touchdown passes of 27 yards to Jeff Vandenlangenberg and 19 yards to Marcellous Frizzle, along with a Siv Phomma conversion kick. Concordia iced it, however, with a four quarter touchdown.

"Concordia had a good football team out there," said Finstrom, whose team was facing a four-year school junior varsity for the first time since 1993. "You never know what you're going to see when you schedule games like that. We were in uncharted waters, so to speak."

Richardson was 6-for-15 passing for 114 yards, two touchdowns and an interception. Javaris Neal carried 17 times for 78 yards to lead the Pioneers' 153-yard ground game.

Northland finished with a 267-213 edge in total yards over a Concordia squad that rushed for 137 yards and passed for 76. No individual statistics or scoring plays were available for the Cobbers, whose roster includes Sean Sorteberg, a 2007 Thief River Falls graduate.

Linebacker Jacoby Brandon led the Pioneers' defense with three unassisted tackles, eight assisted stops and a blocked pass.

Northland plays its third straight season-opening road game today (Saturday) with a 1:30 p.m. Minnesota Community College Conference match-up with MSCTC-Fergus Falls. Kickoff is scheduled for 1:30 p.m.

The Pioneers' first appearance of the year in Thief River Falls will be a Saturday, Sept. 15, homecoming game against Ridgewater.

NCTC volleyball match with Itasca rescheduled

A Northland vs. Itasca Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division volleyball match scheduled for Wednesday, Sept. 5, was postponed by NCTC following the death of a player's parent that day.

The match was rescheduled for Monday, Sept. 24, at 6:30 p.m. in the Northland gym.

Cross country teams run into hot weather

Second trip of the 2007 season for the Thief River Falls boys and girls cross country teams took the Prowlers to the Wadena-Deer Creek Invitational Tuesday.

Despite temperatures in the 90's and very little breeze, the small Thief River Falls squad had a solid race, according to Prowlers coach Rick Karboviak. "I was very pleased with our efforts and results today," he said. "We fared quite well considering everthing. Overall, we took home four top-15 finishes out of our 12 runners, and had many personal-bests on the course compared to last year's times."

Varsity team titles went to the Park Rapids Area girls and Perham boys. Individual winners were Naomi Landecker of Staples-Motley and Kevin Lacowitzer, Perham.

Thief River Falls fielded just one compete team on the day – in the junior varsity boys race, where the Prowlers' Brendan Skime was the individual winner.

"It was nice to see us have a full squad for the junior varsity boys and witness some good team chemistry along the way," said Karboviak. "Five guys (varsity and junior varsity) running within 1:30 of each other will help us compete as the season rolls along and we run together as a pack."

Varsity Girls

■ Team totals - Park Rapids Area 46, Perham 48, Staples-Motley 55, Little Falls 110, Wadena-Deer Creek 135, Pillager 160, Sebeka/Menahga 167, Ottertail Central 172.

Pioneers rebound for a tourney split

Two losses were followed by a pair of wins as the Northland Community and Technical College volleyball team split four matches at the Sept. 2 North Iowa Area Community College Invitational.

Madison (Wis.) Area Tech beat Northland in the first round 30-25, 26-30, 16-14 and Loras (Iowa) College swept the Pioneers 34-32, 30-20 in Round 2.

The Pioneers got into the win column against Clinton (Iowa) Community College 30-25, 32-34, 15-11 and finished the visit to Mason City with a 17-30, 30-28, 15-9 victory over the host Trojans.

Those results against four-year schools and National Junior College Athletic Association Division I teams put the Pioneers at 5-5 for the year.

"We started out slow, making more errors than in previous matches and allowing teams to come back and take games," said Northland coach Lisa Handley. "We finished strong with a scrappy defense and a strong team effort."

The Pioneers' tournament stat sheet was led by Brooke Conely with 107 kills, Amie Salvus with 278 assists, Jenny Fransten with 15

Prowlers swim past Panthers

First dual meet of the 2007 Thief River Falls girls high school swim season Thursday netted the Prowlers a 112-73 win over host Park Rapids Area.

Kailey Bakken, Lacey Stennes and Danielle Simenson were double-event winners for the Prowlers. Bakken won the 100-yard butterfly and 100 breaststroke; Stennes took the 50 freestyle and 100 backstroke; Simenson claimed the 100 and 200 freestyle. Bakken is a junior; Stennes and Simenson are sophomores.

Those three were also part of a first place entry in the 400-yard freestyle, where they were joined by sophomore Krystal Roy.

Freshman Mariah Steenerson supplied the Prowlers with an eighth win with a first place swim in the 500 freestyle.

Thief River Falls won the junior varsity portion of the meet 82-43.

Freeze volleyball team a 3-1 winner over KCC

Alycia Dahl (18), Kayla Halvorson (10) and Sasha Magner (10) combined for 38 kills Tuesday to lead Northern Freeze to a 25-23, 26-28, 25-20, 25-20 high school volleyball win over Kittson County Central.

The win at Karlstad evened the early-season Northern Freeze record at 1-1.

Scoring

■ Kills - (KCC) Whitney Langen 18, Haylie Holmgren 14, (NF) Alycia Dahl 16, Kayla Halvorson 10, Sasha Magner 10.

■ Assists - (KCC) Dana Blomquist 15; (NF) Molly Magner 18, Chelsey Davidson 13.

■ Ace serves - (KCC) Breanne Potrament 3, Dana Blomquist 3; (NF) Molly Magner 2.

Wolverines lose second 3-0 match of the season

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke fell to 0-2 Tuesday with a 25-16, 25-13, 25-18 high school volleyball loss at the hands of Warroad.

"The girls started off real strong, but they had too many serving errors," pointed out Wolverines coach Jean Schulz, whose team opened the 2007 season with a 25-13, 25-17, 25-12 setback at the hands of Win-E-Mac.

G/G-G Scoring

■ Kills - Rebecca Polansky 8.

■ Assists - Nicole Schulz 11.

■ Ace serves - Alisha Verbout 2, Rebecca Polansky 2.

Megan Malwitz plays on first place Selects team

Megan Malwitz of Thief River Falls was a member of the North team that won the 16U bracket at the Midwest Selects girls hockey tournament Aug. 23-26 in Blaine.

Malwitz skated on a team with players from East Grand Forks, Crookston, Moorhead, Rogers, Breckenridge, Worthington, North St. Paul, Blaine, Fergus Falls, Cambridge, Centennial and West Fargo, N.D.

TRF JV football squad tops East Grand Forks

A fourth quarter touchdown broke a 14-14 tie Tuesday as Thief River Falls edged East Grand Forks 20-14 in junior varsity high school football.

The two teams played to a 6-6 first half draw.

Jacob Langevin scored on a 59-yard run and threw a 16-yard touchdown pass to Matt Lindquist, who also had a 2-yard touchdown run. A two-point Riley Simenson conversion run completed the Prowlers' scoring.

The Thief River Falls junior varsity is 1-1 for the year.

Blue Devils lose first start to Knights, 17-0

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke failed to reach the end zone in a 17-0 season-opening Thursday (Aug. 30) high school Nine-Man football loss at the hands of Climax/Fisher.

Only scoring in the opening half of the game played at Goodridge was a 25-yard first quarter field goal by Nick Michael.

Travis Holland scored on runs of 19 and 35 yards in the second half to seal the Blue Devils' fate.

It was a tough night offensively, but a solid defensive showing, reported Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach John Wilebski.

An off-season knee injury suffered by senior Anthony Gast, a starter at quarterback since he was a sophomore, was a major blow to the Blue Devils' attack, pointed out Wilebski. "Right now, we're real young in the backfield," he said. "We started a freshman at quarterback and a freshman at fullback."

The only consistent offense in the opener came from 5-10, 170-pound junior running back Briar Verbout, who netted 82 yards on 20 carries.

A strong team effort on defense, mentioned Wilebski, featured interceptions by Verbout and Delray Cullen, quarterback sacks by Jordan Anderson and Greg Sparby, and a fumble recovery by Anderson.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Climax/Fisher	3	0	7	7	17

C/F - Nick Michael, 25-yard field goal.

C/F - Travis Holland, 19-yard run; Michael kick.

C/F - Holland, 35-yard run, Michael kick.

Gators beat Rams 3-2

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River stumbled out of the gate, but the Gators regrouped to beat visiting Roseau 11-25, 25-13, 25-23, 17-25, 16-14 in Thursday high school volleyball.

"A slow start in Game 1 – lots of jitters," acknowledged Gators coach Stacy Dahl, whose team was making its 2007 debut. "But the girls really stepped up to the challenge. We had excellent passing from the back row and aggressive play. We were diving all over the floor to make big plays. It was an intense game for both sides."

The Gators were led by Liz Schenkey with 14 kills, Vanessa Dvergsten with 27 assists and Jessica Dvergsten with three ace serves.

Scoring

■ Kills - (B/G-MR) Liz Schenkey 14, Anna Wicklund 11, Hannah Berg 9, Jessica Dvergsten 6; (Roseau) Krystal Barrett 13, Setareh Mostofi 9.

■ Assists - (B/G-MR) Vanessa Dvergsten 27, Megan Johnson 9, (Roseau) Emily Bello 27.

■ Ace serves - (B/G/MR) Jessica Dvergsten 3, Megan Johnson 2, Hannah Berg 2; (Roseau) Krystal Barrett 6.

Austin Przybylski a winner in Cabela's duck calling contest

Austin Przybylski, a Thief River Falls 12-year-old, was a youth duck calling contest champion during Aug. 26 competition at Cabela's in East Grand Forks.

TRF part of Roseau race field

Individual champions led the Warroad boys and Grafton, N.D., girls to team titles Thursday at the Roseau Invitational high school cross country meet.

Moses Heppner of Warroad and Nicole Woinarowicz of Grofton were the individual winners.

Thief River Falls boys trailed the six-team field and the Prowlers did not field a complete team for the girls varsity.

Still, it was a good outing for the Prowlers, according to head coach Rick Karboviak. "Wonderful temps and conditions brought wonderful race results for us," he said. "A flatter course always brings out the best in our kids. Plus, being only an hour away, many parents came for support."

Thirteen Prowlers ran in the various races. Twelve of them had season-best times and the 13th runner had a strong showing in his cross country debut.

"Having four guys within 17 seconds of each other is a good thing to focus on, as well as having three guys in the sub-20 to 21-minute range," noted Karboviak.

Brendan Skime, Lucas Fornshell and Mike Dyrdal were the Prowlers' top-three finishers; Jordan Engen, Jacoby Bergeron, Brett Hanson and Derek Lunde were the closely-packed foursome.

"We can chip away at those times and hone ourselves into being more competitive with some good old-fashioned pack running," offered Karboviak.

Thief River Falls girls also ran well, noted Karboviak. "I was very pleased with our girls," he said, "with all of them surprising me with some spectacular efforts. They really went out and competed well."

Those efforts included personal-best run by Megan Bergland and Emily Jones, who dropped some 50 seconds off her previous best time.

Varsity Boys

■ Team totals - Warroad 20, International Falls 83, East Grand Forks 94, Bagley/Fosston 100, Grafton 115, Thief River Falls 172.

■ Individual winner - Moses Heppner, Warroad, 16:51.

■ TRF places - 20. Brendan Skime, 19:44; 30. Lucas Fornshell, 20:43; 33. Mike Dyrdal, 21:07; 43. Jordan Engen, 22:06, 48. Jacoby Bergeron, 22:10; 46. Brett Hanson, 22:16, 50. Derek Lunde, 22.23.

Junior High Boys

■ Team champion - International Falls.

■ Individual winner - Zach Johnson, Warroad, 11:42.

■ TRF places - 44. Christian Aandal, 18:55.

Junior High Girls

■ Team champion - Roseau.

■ Individual winner - Katie Erickson, Roseau, 13:04.

■ TRF places - 6. A.J. Mosbeck, 14:23, 23. MacKenzie Kruta, 16:33.

Jacks sweep Prowlers

Bemidji handed visiting Thief River Falls a 3-0 Thursday high school volleyball loss that dropped the Prowlers' record to 1-2.

Only Game 2 was close as the Lumberjacks won 25-10, 25-19, 25-11.

Bemidji won the junior varsity match 22-25, 25-13, 15-9 and took the C squad meeting 25-10, 22-25, 16-14. Thief River Falls was a 25-19, 25-21 winner at the freshman level.

TRF Scoring

This week, Viking Elementary School first graders enjoyed the new playground equipment at the school. This playground structure, along with new swings, was installed in July. Other improvements were made at the school, including the removal of hallway tiles that contained asbestos, according to Principal James Hodny.

practice in Bagley. All the children attended school in Thief River Falls. They are members of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Goodridge, where Audrey has been the organist for many years. Vernon is a musician who loves to entertain with his accordion. Audrey has been the Grand Plain Township clerk since 2000 after she retired from the school. Vernon and Audrey are members of the Lions Club and are actively involved in community service.

The yard is beautiful and you cant help but notice all of the trees and shrubs they have planted over the years. These trees and shrubs not only shelter the farm, but create an abundance of food and shelter for the wildlife, and are also pleasing to the eyes. As we walked around the farm, Cedar waxwings could be seen flying from tree top to tree top, and birds could be heard singing wherever we went. A family of gray squirrel also calls this home, but like to visit the garden, which the Rogallas would prefer they not do. Deer, raccoons and other animals and several different species of birds visit the farm to find shelter and eat the berries and seeds. The Rogallas also have planted food plots for the wildlife, as well.

Some of the trees and shrubs that grace the Rogalla farm are red and white cedar, silver maple, hackberry, mountain ash, bur oak, white spruce, green ash, boxelder, wild roses, amur maple, nannyberry, high bush cranberry, arrowwood, red splendor crab, red osier dogwood and grey dogwood. Vernon is proud of his patch of sumac that he planted by the road, as the leaves turn a brilliant red in the fall. Many of the trees have been planted by Vernon, with Roger adding many more over the years. The white spruce and white cedar grow like weeds and they all seem to grow in perfect symmetry.

Audrey's flower gardens are full of color and many different types of plants such as petunias, impatiens, sedum, hostas, zinnias, Maltese cross, a variety of annuals and an assortment of lilies. The first flowering plant that was planted on the farm was an old fashioned rose bush given to them by Vernon's mother, Eleanor Rogalla. The rose bush is still healthy and thriving after being planted 52 years ago. In the gardens you will find cute little birdhouses and small statutes in amongst the plants. In the garden along the front of the house is a statue of St. Francis of Assisi, patron saint of the birds, wildlife and environment. This is a fitting statue for the farm, as everything seems to thrive.

Visitors to the farm will receive a warm welcome from Vernon, Audrey and Roger, and their three dogs, Abbey, a German shepherd, Lady, a 13-year-old German shepherd/husky cross, and Midas, the fearless dachshund that does his best to keep up, in spite of his small stature.

Vernon and Audrey Rogalla and son, Roger Rogalla, have been named the Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District Beautification winners.

Aquatic Center application dropped

Trail proposal is unaffected by withdrawal of aquatic center application

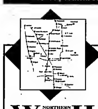
by Scott DCamp, Reporter

The city of Thief River Falls has officially withdrawn its grant application for state funding of an aquatic center. City Administrator Jodie Torkelson recommended withdrawing the application during Tuesday's meeting of the Thief River Falls Committee of the Whole.

Torkelson said it became apparent during Monday's meeting between representatives from the Thief River Falls City Council, Pennington County Board of Commissioners, School District 564 Board of Education and Northland Community and Technical College, that the other member entities of the Multi Events Center board would not be able to fiscally support the proposed MEC Aquatic Center. Withdrawing the application was unanimously approved by council members, with Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen commenting that he "regretfully agreed" to withdrawing the application.

In June, the city of Thief River Falls applied for the grant. Due to short deadlines, the application was hurried and officials from Pennington County, S.D. 564 and NCTC were not consulted prior to the application's submission. The various entities were not able to meet face to face until Aug. 30.

Trail proposal is unaffected by city's withdrawal of MEC Aquatic Center application. House and Senate members of the Capital Investment Committee were slated to visit the potential site of the aquatic center later this month. That visit will still happen because Capital Investment Committee members also plan to tour the city for a potential bicycle and walking trail system.



Ron Lindberg told council members that he had met with representatives of other cities with trail systems. He said Bemidji has the most elaborate trail system.

Lindberg said the city will have options regarding the width of the trail – eight, 10 or 12 feet – as well as options regarding the surface preparation. He noted that Crookston's trail system involved blading the top soil and paving, while in other areas used a more expensive procedure that included a layer of aggregate base between the soil and the trail surface, which is typically bituminous. He noted that the second option (with an aggregate base) is more expensive up front, but more cost effective long-term.

The location of the trail has not been finalized, but current plans call for construction to be completed in phases. Lindberg described the initial phase of the trail as starting near the Digi-Key and Arctic Cat area, and heading east across the Greenwood Street Bridge, once it's complete.

Nordhagen introduced two scenarios, asking what would happen if funding ran out before the first

Brooks City Council signs new police contract

Brooks - "The Brooks City Council met Sept. 4. "Red Lake County Sheriff Mitch Bernstein brought the new contract to the council for policing of the area, and they found that they were in agreement for this contract. The cost of the contract is based on the sheriff's budget for the year. The numbers were about the same as last year, and the only change was that the contract was for a year. There is no 30- or 60-day notice to rescind the contract anymore. Each year, the contract will be renewed or not renewed. This year, the cost of the police contract is $2,634."

"The council addressed the reporter from the Oklee Herald and said it was not happy with the report of the month before in the paper. The reporter asked if there was anything specifically that the council thought wasn't true. The council said that the tone is what it thought was not good. Mayor Ernie Kolling said that there has been a great deal of effort put into making Brooks look like a great town to live in and this article's tone was not one that reflected these values." - Oklee Herald, Sept. 12, 2007, by Barb Novak

It's not over yet

Strathcona - "At the the home of John II and Sue Wilebski and their three children, John III, Benji and Hannah, things have quieted down to a degree but not completely.

"After watching the airing of the Fox Sports Network (FSN) special in August in which the Make-A-Wish Foundation of Minnesota made it possible for Benji to be the Minnesota Twins manager for a day, Sue said to Benji that now the family would be returning back to a 'new normal life.'

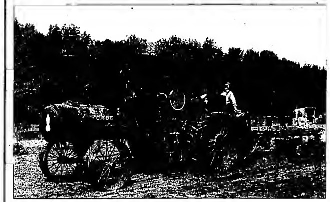
"'I don't think it's over yet,' was Benji's reply.

"Little did the family realize that Benji was right.

"'About an hour and a half after the final airing, we received a phone call from the National Make-A-Wish Foundation informing us that Benji had been chosen to speak at the national convention in Phoenix, Arizona, on September 25, 26 and 27,' Sue said.

"From a group of 2,000 to 3,000 children who are granted wishes through Make-A-Wish Foundations from all over the United States, the field was narrowed down to two or three. Enter Benji!" - The Tribune of Greenbush, Sept. 12, 2007, by Mavis Gonshorowski

With the Swiss couple in Roseau and beyond



Roseau - "Spend a lifetime surrounded by mountains and a trip to northwest Minnesota is similar to an Eskimo visiting the Sahara Desert. The differences are inescapable.

"With just one day remaining in their nine-day visit to Roseau last Sunday, Roland and Brigitte Wessicken of Switzerland, guests of Steve and Paddy Elsmore of Roseau, weren't disappointed. There had been numerous highlights and contrasts.

"What stood out for the folks from Wasterkingen, population 560, was something the rest of us would barely notice.

"'The highest thing we saw was the Roseau water tower,' Roland said." - Roseau Times-Region, Sept. 8, 2007, by Jeff Olsen

A different era

The featured tractor at the 43rd Annual Northland Threshing Bee last weekend was Case. This entry at the event harkens back to a distant era and attracted a lot of attention.

Basketball team puts message into their game

The internationally-acclaimed Harlem Ambassadors will play against Buhly's Bombers at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 18, in the Lincoln High School gym, Thief River Falls.

The Harlem Ambassadors offer a unique brand of Harlem-style basketball, featuring high-flying slam dunks, dazzling ball-handling tricks and hilarious comedy routines. The Harlem Ambassadors also share a message. They stress the importance of making the correct choices concerning a drug-free lifestyle, and emphasize the importance of getting a good education.

The day before their game against Buhly's Bombers in Thief River Falls, the Harlem Ambassadors will conduct an area-school assembly at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls. Students, grades 3 through 8 from Red Lake Falls, Warren, Newfolden, Goodridge and Thief River Falls are expected to attend this assembly sponsored by Alpha Recycling/Les's Sanitation.

During the assembly, players on the Harlem Ambassadors' team will perform some of their basketball skills, such as ball handling tricks and high-flying slam dunks. The bulk of the assembly, however, will involve players speaking directly to the audience of students.

The Harlem Ambassadors perform in up to 220 games a year, traveling across the United Sates and internationally. They will share with students that if they were abusing their bodies with drugs, they would not be able to perform at such a high level, nor would they be able to keep

Don't miss your calling - Come to Goose Fest

The community of Middle River invites the public to celebrate its 33rd Annual Goose Festival "Don't Miss Your Calling! Come to Goose Fest 2007." There are multiple activities planned for all ages during this fun-filled weekend starting Friday, Sept. 28 and continuing through Sunday, Sept. 30. Many new activities are planned, and Young's General Store celebrates its 100th year.

The festival officially starts Friday, Sept. 28 at 11 a.m. at the Spruce Valley Community Center in downtown Middle River with the senior citizens' lunch, raffle, and music going until 2:30 p.m. The Senior Goose Walk commences at 2 p.m. at the Community Center. The beer garden and pork sandwiches open at 3 p.m. at the Sportsmen's Shed in downtown Middle River. The Legion Auxiliary Supper will be held from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m., with Friday night bingo beginning at 6 p.m. in the American Legion Club. At 7 p.m., Middle River Community Theatre will perform "The Nerd" at the theatre. Enjoy live music with Tami Lee & the Northern Lights Band, which performs at the American Legion, or Eagle Creek, which performs at The Wheel. Both performances will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Saturday, Sept. 29 starts with the Fifth Annual Goose Walk/Run with proceeds benefiting the Living At Home/Block Nurse Program, which serves area seniors, and also benefiting the Steve Holmes Walking Path. Sign-up at 8 a.m. at the Community Center. The lefse, doughnuts and rommegrot sale is at 9 a.m. in the Davidson Building; for more information on that event, contact Jeanette Reierson. From 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., the craft and flea market will be held in the Davidson Building; for more information or to register, call (218) 222-3345.

Also, enjoy the many food stands provided by area vendors. From 9 a.m. to 12 p.m. Saturday, the United Lutheran Ladies host a bake sale in the Community Center. Thief Lake Church will host morning coffee and a noon meal from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Community Center. The Sportsmen's Club Beer Garden & Pork Sandwiches opens again at 10 a.m.

A basketball free throw contest begins at 10 a.m. Saturday. The contest will be held in front of the Sportsmen's Shed. At 10:30 a.m., the Home Run Derby begins at the Middle River School field. There

Public invited to help band ducks at Agassiz refuge

It's that time of year when Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge staff begin banding ducks. The public is invited to "ruffle some feathers" and band ducks Saturday, Sept. 22. Participants should meet at the refuge headquarters at 5 p.m. If Saturday's activities are rained out or ground conditions are too wet, the alternate date is Tuesday, Sept. 25 at 5:30 p.m. No pre-registration is required.

Duck banding opportunities at the refuge should be great again in 2007 as the refuge supported more than 8,500 pairs of ducks this spring. Those pairs produced more than 8,800 ducklings this summer.

Banding ducks is a hands-on experience. Newcomer and experienced duck-banders will have an opportunity to learn about the life history of several duck species, baiting, capture and handling techniques, as well as duck sexing and aging techniques. They can also take pictures of duck banding and of their families and friends participating in the banding operation.

Changes due to Avian Influenza

Old clothing or rain gear is recommended if you plan to band or handle birds – banding ducks can be a little messy. Due to concerns of Highly Pathogenic Avian Influenza (H5N1) possibly showing up in North America, participants will be required to wear disposable gloves and eye protection. Those items will be provided by the refuge at the banding site. Gloves will be properly disposed of into marked containers at the banding site. Eye protection will be returned to refuge staff.

In addition, it is suggested that participants wear outer garments or clothes that can be changed after banding the ducks.

The aforementioned precautionary measures have been developed using the latest information available from the U.S. Department of the Interior for people involved in banding birds.

To date, there have been no confirmed cases of H5N1 virus in birds

Spiked by drunk driving

Speaker shares how driving drunk took her out of competition

Sarah Panzau is living proof that poor choices can have drastic consequence, but that you can learn from these mistakes. Panzau will deliver an address on the power of good and bad decisions during a lyceum at 11 a.m. Monday, Sept. 17, at Lincoln High School. The event is open to the public.

As a two-time member of the National Junior College Athletic Association women's volleyball All-America team, Panzau knew what it was like to be on top of her game and on top of the world. But not long after, she nearly lost it all.

Somewhere between life as a competitively driven high school athlete and the early years of college, Panzau began heading down a destructive path. She found herself hanging out with the wrong crowd and getting more out of drugs and dangerous levels of alcohol than hitting the books and spiking a ball.

On Aug. 23, 2003, just before 4:30 a.m., Panzau's car – and her life – spun out of control. With a blood alcohol level nearly four times the legal limit, the 21-year-old decided to drive home drunk, missed a highway exit and rolled her car four times. Without a seat belt, she was ejected through the rear window of her car, her left arm was torn from her body and she was thrown onto the roadway.

The next thing she remembers, she was in the hospital being told that she had lost her arm. She remained hospitalized for several months and endured more than 30 surgeries.

Panzau recognizes it was a series of poor choices that led up to that tragic night and hopes others will learn from her mistakes. She started speaking to students because, until the crash, she was in their shoes – invincible and with the world ahead of her.

"I am the victim of my own bad decisions to hang out with the

Educating Duray

Janelle Duray participates in international scholar program

by April Schelnoha, Reporter

Vienna, Prague, Bratislava and Budapest were among the stops during Janelle Duray's recent trip to Central Europe. Duray was there as part of the International Scholar Laureate Program Delegation on Diplomacy.

Duray, a 2003 graduate of Marshall County Central High School in Newfolden, participated in the program May 20 to 29. "Overall it was a very good experience," said Duray, who was nominated for the program.

The trip [illegible]

Duray, who graduated in May with a bachelor's degree in global studies from the University of Minnesota. She plans to work abroad upon completing her master's degree.

One of the highlights of Duray's trip was the time she spent at the United Nations Office in Vienna. While there, Duray and other participants were able to talk to inspectors from the International Atomic Energy Agency. It was fitting that Duray was able to talk to the inspectors. During her senior year of high school, she researched nuclear proliferation and nuclear inspections for a paper on whether the war in

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacours@mncable.net

All recipes today are from the 1979 Silver Creek Lutheran Church cookbook except the salad recipe. Just think, the recipes are nearly 30 years old and still tried and true delicious.

It's not too early for soup. Anyway, this one is a little bit of a cheating soup because it uses ground beef and canned and cubed beef boullion, right? And it will be very tasty on one of our cooler days:

HEARTY BEEF VEGETABLE SOUP
Yvonne Philipp

1 pound ground beef
1 cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon oregano
Pepper
1/4 teaspoon sage
1 (16 ounce) can tomatoes, cut up
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup sliced pared potatoes
1 cup sliced pared carrots
1 cup coarsely chopped cabbage
1 cup diced raw zucchini (optional)
1 regular sized can condensed beef broth
2 cups beef bouillon cubes
4 cups water
1/3 cup uncooked regular rice

Cook beef in Dutch oven. When meat begins to turn color, add onion. Cook until well-browned. Drain fat.

Stir in salt, oregano, pepper, sage, tomatoes, celery, potatoes, carrots, cabbage, zucchini, beef broth, bouillon cubes and water. Bring to a boil, reduce heat, cover and simmer 20 minutes. Add rice and simmer 15 more minutes or until rice is tender. Makes 2 1/2 quarts.

When you buy ingredients for the soup above, buy enough burger to make these delicious BBQs tonight - It's one of those old favorite recipes we forget to use - and it will taste great with the soup tonight and the next night, too:

EASY BARBECUE
Lorraine Sannes

1 pound lean ground beef
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup ketchup
2 teaspoons dry mustard

Brown hamburger. Add remaining ingredients and simmer at least 15 minutes. (Lorraine said it will taste best the second day.)

A little salad would be nice - especially one that uses some of that good stuff we've grown this year. This one has nutritional information, too:

ZUCCHINI APPLE SALAD

2 medium red apples, chopped
2 small zucchini, chopped
1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
2/3 cup Italian salad dressing

Toss apples, zucchini, walnuts and salad dressing. Serve immediately. Serves 6.

Each 2/3 cup serving (with fat free salad dressing) contains 114 calories, 6 g fat, 1 mg chol, 383 mg sodium, 13 g carb, 2 g fiber, 3 g protein. Diabetic Exchange is 1 vegetable, 1 fat, 1/2 fruit.

Now that school has started, snacks are needed. My grandmother made these often - they're easy and they stay nice and soft for a long time. They'll be good to have on hand:

DATE FILLED COOKIES
Edna Rupprecht

2 cups brown sugar
1 cup butter
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
3-1/4 cups flour
1/2 cup hot water
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
Date Filling:
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup boiling water
1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour

Boil water and dates for 5 minutes. Add sugar and flour and boil thick. Cool.

Cream sugar, butter and vanilla. Add eggs and beat well. Dissolve soda in hot water and add to egg mixture. Add dry ingredients last. Drop by spoonfuls onto greased cookie sheet.

Drop a small amount of cooled date filling over each spoonful. Top with another spoonful of dough. Bake at 350 degrees until brown.

Goodridge sets date for annual Homecoming

Goodridge High School will celebrate its Homecoming on Sept. 21. On Friday, Sept. 21, the Blue Devils will host Stephen/Argyle in Goodridge at 7 p.m. A dance for high school students will follow the football game.

Several activities will highlight the week prior to the football game. Dress-up days for the week include: Monday - PJ Day; Tuesday - Blast from the Past Day; Wednesday - Hunting; Thursday - Dress Like a Teacher Day; Friday - School Color Day.

Coronation of the Homecoming King and Queen will take place at 2:45 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 21 in the school gym. A pep fest will follow coronation.

The king candidates are: Jordan L. Anderson, son of Sherri Anderson; Dito Rubischko, son of Tony and Laura Rubischko; and Justin Wiseth, son of Tony and Carol Wiseth.

The queen candidates are: Brittney Forsberg, daughter of Wade and Lori Forsberg and Paul and Kristy Henrickson. Adelle Prestebak, daughter of Tim and Michelle Prestebak; and Kayla Tharaldson, daughter of Kevin and Sheila Tharaldson.

The junior attendant and usher is: Casandro Stenvik, daughter of Randy and Dawn Stenvik, and Ridge Jones, son of Luann Jones and Brian and Monica Jones.

The sophomore attendant and usher is: Kylie Johnson, daughter of Gary and Norma Johnson, and Preston Marquis, son of Arlen and Joanie Marquis.

The first grade attendants are: Emily Bren, daughter of Ben and Patricia Bren, and Felix Jensen, son of Donald and Danette Jensen.

AAUW plans to meet Sept. 17

The American Association of University Women will meet at 7 p.m. on Monday, Sept. 17, at the Franklin Middle School library. The program will feature Mark and Tyia Tsibulsky from Russia. They will talk about Russia and the education system there. Mark is a psychologist at Northwest Medical Center.

The hostesses will be Judy Dimich and Cindy Tsukichi. AAUW membership is open to any woman with a two-year or four-year degree. For more information, call Elvera Cullen at 681-3136.

"Chain of Miracles" author to speak at three local events

Author Tricia Kell will speak next week at the meetings of three local Christian women's organizations. The Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada, resident is the author of "Chain of Miracles" and "Attitude Determines Altitude." The meetings are open to the public.

Kell will speak about her books at the following dates and times:

• Tuesday, Sept. 18 – At the Stonecroft Ministries meeting at 12 p.m. at the Best Western, Thief River Falls, and at the Thief River Falls Christian Women's Club After 5 Club meeting at 6 p.m. at the Heritage Center, Thief River Falls.

• Wednesday, Sept. 19 – At the Fosston Area Christian Women's Club meeting at 9:30 a.m. at the McIntosh Community Center.

The books will be available at the speaking engagements and also at The Book Patch Bookstore in Thief River Falls.

Kell has faced many trials in her life. Her first book, "Chain of Miracles," talks about those trials, including the death of her abusive first husband, the physical impairment of two of her children, the imprisonment of a third child and a raceway accident involving her current husband. In the book, she explains how she survived through the power of faith and prayer.

Kell's latest book, "Attitude Determines Altitude," shows how being willing to follow God, no matter how hard the task may seem, can take people to higher levels in their lives.

Rail crossing project to begin Monday in Badger

A rail crossing replacement project is scheduled to begin Monday, Sept. 17 on Highway 11 in Badger. A 13 mile detour will be in place for the duration of the project.

The Star HomeStudy Group will meet on Monday, Sept 17, at 1:30 p.m. at the Ekelund Church in rural Goodridge. This will be the study group's first meeting for the new season, so members should try to attend. Members will be planning the group's lessons. There will be potluck lunch served. There will also be a drawing for market basket and door prizes. New members are welcome to attend.

Entrants sought for LHS Homecoming Parade

Lincoln High School alumni, and LHS fall varsity sports teams, clubs and organizations are invited to enter floats in the LHS Homecoming Parade, which will be held Friday, Sept. 28 at 10 a.m.

The parade route will begin on Second Street on the south side of the Evangelical Free Church. The parade will proceed down Second Street to LaBree Avenue, where entrants will turn right. The parade will then continue to First Street, where entrants will turn right. The parade will then continue on First Street, concluding at the Knight Avenue intersection, outside of LHS.

Floats must be driven or pulled by an adult (21 years or older). Candy may not be distributed from the float. If an organization elects to give out candy, it must be distributed by someone walking with his or her respective float.

Parade entrants should contact Lynn Dyer at 681-7432, extension 129, by Monday, Sept. 24.

Area athletes participate in Beardsley races

Many area runners participated in the 2007 Dick Beardsley Half Marathon and 5K on Sept. 8 in Detroit Lakes.

The Half Marathon (13.2-mile) event was won by Eric Sondag, 34, Grand Forks, N.D., in a time of 1:11:38, and Mary Coordt, 38, Elk Grove, Calif., in a time of 1:26:10.

Reports from area participants state that there was a steady, soaking rain during the event. There was also some road construction. In a half-mile stretch or so, runners ran on packed dirt, which was getting slippery because of the rain.

Area athletes participating in the event included the following:

Brooks - Charlene Lee 2:01:58, and Chelsey Parodis 2:15:01.

Newfolden - Tiffany Bring 2:04:33.

Plummer - Kely Dodson 1:58:43.

Strandquist - Aaron Blazewjewski 1:46:32.

Thief River Falls - Chris Wright 1:34:22; Pat Brickson 1:40:20; Mike Anderson 1:43:30; Tiffany Sorenson 1:52:19; Charles O'Connell 1:53:36; Chuck Simenson 1:58:46; Lisa Simenson 1:58:47; Beth Iliff 2:00:18; Philip McKenzie 2:01:54; Rob Burkel 2:08:15; Shelly Burkel 2:08:16, Laura Brickson 2:09:44; Donna Mickelson 2:19:17; Tom Scholin 2:25:12; Toi Wright 2:25:33; Christy Sorenson 2:25:34.

Warren - Gail Larson 2:32:57.

Overall winners of the 5K (3.1-mile) race were: Scott Egeberg, 20, Moorhead, in a time of 16:05, and Danielle Thompson, 18, Crookston, 19:33.

Area athletes participating in this event included:

Brooks - Nathan Knott 29:03.

Thief River Falls - Ester Hanson 26:17; Tammy Thune 29:08; Tom Mickelson 29:37; Jeffrey Zerwas 30:20; Roxanne Zerwas 30:23; Julie Hanson 32:39; Jenny Langerin 33:29; and Lucy Scholin 35:58.

Warren - Darlyne Votava 51:28.

Culvert replacements on Highway 89 to begin Monday

A project to replace two culverts on Highway 89 one mile south of the Roseau/Marshall County line is scheduled to begin Monday, Sept. 17.

A detour will be in place for the duration of the project. Northbound Highway 89 traffic will be routed from the junction with Highway 219 to Marshall County Road 6 for six miles, north on Marshall County Road 54 for eight miles to Roseau County Road 9 for seven miles, then west on Roseau County Road 4 for six miles. Southbound traffic will follow the same route in reverse.

Weather permitting, the project is expected to be completed by Sept. 30.

Warren man named master farmer at Grower Days

Brad Johnson of Warren was named master farmer of General Organic Soybean Varieties: SK972 Soybeans during SK Food International's Grower Days. The event was held Aug. 29 and 30 at SK Food's wholly-owned subsidiary, SK Food Specialty Processing, in Moorhead.

Through the Master Farmer Program, SK Food rewards its contracted growers who deliver the best food grade quality product. Judging parameters for the award are based on quality factors such as cracked skins, dirt stains, splits, moisture, etc. The factors were judged from the incoming grades given on each load delivered to SK Food Specialty Processing.

"The Master Farmer Program is a great way for us to thank our growers for their effort and conscientiousness in growing a quality crop," said Ron Schlecht, SK Food crop production manager.

SK Food will start collecting data for the 2007 crop once loads come into SK Food Specialty Processing again this fall.

In addition to the Master Farmer Program awards, other events were held as part of Grower Days. The first day of the event focused on organic production while the second day touched on conventional production. Grower Days included speaker David Nelson of CHEM-FREE Precision Ag Service, a show plot tour and a tour of the SK Food Specialty Processing facility. Dinner was provided by Famous Dave's BBQ.

The Blast to Brooks Grand Parade would not be complete without this float, which appears in the parade each year. Brooks City Council members rode on the float Saturday.

Donning their lion costumes, members of Plummer Lions Too handed out candy Saturday during the Blast to Brooks Grand Parade. Daniel and Sarah Quick, and other members of their family, were among those who braved the rain to quench their sweet teeth.

Three people injured in accident Tuesday

Three people suffered injuries after a two-vehicle accident four miles south of Newfolden on Tuesday afternoon.

Carmine C. Trulson, 44, Newfolden; Marjorie A. Steinhauer, 74, Thief River Falls; and Clifford W. Steinhauer, 81, Thief River Falls, were all treated and released from Northwest Medical Center, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report.

At the time of the accident, Marjorie Steinhauer was driving a 2006 Chevy Impala westbound on Marshall County Road 7. According to the report, she pulled out into the path of Trulson, who was driving a 1998 Dodge Intrepid southbound on Highway 59. Clifford Steinhauer was a passenger in Marjorie Steinhauer's car.

Trulson's car was totalled, and the other car sustained extensive damage. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 4:08 p.m. Tuesday.

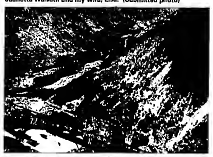
In pictures

I drained the final bottle of microbrewed beer last night, and with that last drop of Idaho beer, our trip finally came to a close. It was a trip I can best describe in pictures that appear as postcards whenever Lisa and I pull them from their folders. Last week, most of my column described our trip from the perspective of the cab of Teresa Hibbert's pickup. This week, I want to take a more emotional perspective. Have your Kleenex ready, it's going to be a sappy ride.

I believe you find beauty in familiar surroundings all the time, but to do this you really must appreciate your life and perhaps see yourself in the things you love. During our trip to Driggs, Idaho, we saw much that was beautiful and moving all on its own. The first picture that comes to mind is a mix of familiar and new; the picture is my three traveling partners posed at the rim of the Painted Canyon in Montana. Teresa, Jeanette Walseth and my wife, Lisa, made this trip as memorable as the beautiful scenery, which robbed me of my breath on a regular basis.



The mountains of Bear Tooth Pass were as much a "gut check" as they were gorgeous. My mind works a little different now. After observing the beginning of the pass from an observation point perched 10,000 feet above our starting point, and facing my fear of heights, my imagination now stretches even further. I think I even had an "Oprah moment" when Teresa helped me walk out to a scenic view that rested on the very edge of the mountain. I took some pictures that even now make my hands sweat; when we got back to the car, I swear I had a tear on my eyelash; I brushed it away as I didn't want people to think I was turning into a little girl.

Driggs, Idaho, and Jackson, Wyo., are like two short stories in a book. Jackson tells the story of a beautiful community that is invaded by the rich and becomes a town where you can only afford to be a tourist. I'm afraid the writer of the story of Driggs will plagiarize heavily from the tale first set in Jackson. I felt bad for Teresa as she showed us the farm she grew up on. It sits in the shadow of the Teton Mountains and is now owned by someone else. Driggs is an irrigated farming community the size of Newfolden that investors are transforming into one large building development. We saw the foundation of Teresa's home, the huge rock she used to play on, a clear stream that traveled just feet from her childhood yard and even an old hay buck that somehow withstood the test of time long enough for me to get a picture. It must have been a wonderful way to grow up. The mixture of fresh air and longing for a time before developers swallowed the earth was a little overwhelming. I've written about Teresa's Grandpa Joe in the past, and all of us were excited to see the home and horse barn of a real cowboy. Grandpa Joe has been gone for 27 years, but his character showed in the land that shaped him. It made a real impression on me.

The last picture I can see of our trip is more a mental image of myself - I'm not as fearful of heights, I am a little more curious of things that happen outside of Pennington County and I want to travel and discover new things. I mean there must be microbrewed beer produced in other states, too, right?

My three traveling companions on this trip were Teresa Hibbert, Jeanette Walseth and my wife, Lisa. (Submitted photo)

Riding to fill up area food shelves

The Northwest Chapter of American Bikers for Awareness, Training and Education (A.B.A.T.E.) reminded us of the importance of donating food to food shelves. I doubt most think of a group of motorcycle riders as a group of concerned citizens who take the time and effort to collect food for area food shelves. In fact, this group, albeit a small contingent last Saturday, braved low temperatures and rainy weather to do just that. It's not something new to this group. They've been collecting food and toys for many years.

Their efforts may dispel more than one myth. Beyond the myth that all motorcycle riders are free, unrestrained individuals who lack commitment to anything but their bike and the road in front of them, their efforts remind us that need at our area food shelves is not seasonal. I might be able to dispel another myth that says in a bustling economy, food shelves aren't needed.

According to Second Harvest America, the second largest food bank network in the U.S., nearly 380,000 people in Minnesota relied on food shelves and soup kitchens for their meals in 2005. This report, issued in 2006, reports that food shelf use in Minnesota has increased by 45 percent. According to a Minnesota Public Radio story on this subject, the report also dispels the belief that food shelves mainly serve homeless people or poor people. According to their evidence, 47 percent of those who seek assistance are working poor.

Among key findings of the report, 36.4 percent of the members of households served by the America's Second Harvest are under 18 years of age; 8 percent of the members of households are children age 0 to 5; 10 percent of the members of households are elderly; about 40 percent of clients are non-Hispanic white; 38 percent are non-Hispanic black, and the rest are from other racial groups; 36 percent of households include at least one employed adult; 68 percent have incomes below the official federal poverty level during the previous month; and 12 percent are homeless.

The report says that 42 percent of those seeking food assistance say they are faced with choosing to pay for utilities or heating fuel and food. And 35 percent had to choose between paying for rent or a mortgage and food.

According to Minnesota Public Radio, nationally, more than 25 million Americans are receiving emergency food assistance each year.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Legislature delivers disaster relief in one-day special session

State Senator LeRoy Stumpf (DFL-Plummer) joined other lawmakers for a one-day special legislative session Tuesday to approve state aid for flood-ravaged southeastern Minnesota. Also included in the package was $400,000 for Crookston to assist with flood mitigation efforts following this spring's flooding.

"In this area of the state, we are all too familiar with the kind of devastation heavy rains and floods can bring," Stumpf said. "I am happy that the Legislature was able to work together to deliver state assistance to the southern corner of the state, just as those of us in the Red River Valley have received state help in the past."

The package is focused on disaster relief, mainly for southeastern Minnesota but also for Browns Valley, Crookston, and portions of Cook County that were damaged by fire earlier this year. The bill uses cash and borrowing to fund this as well as aid to the seven counties that have been declared federal disaster areas. Specifics of the $218 million package include:

• $400,000 for property tax relief aid in Crookston
• $200,000 for property tax relief in Browns Valley
• $1 million for property tax relief in Cook County and Grand Marais fire areas
• $19.5 million for a state/local match to FEMA aid in Southern Minnesota
• $1 million for residential and business property tax relief
• $3.5 million for agricultural assistance
• $584,000 for grants to school districts to handle expected enrollment declines and clean-up costs
• $51 million for road and bridge repair
• $6.7 million for park, stream and land repairs and clean-up
• $45 million for business, non-profit and community assistance grants and loans
• $18 million for housing assistance

Lawmakers have been working with Gov. Tim Pawlenty since the I-35W bridge collapsed Aug. 1 to determine an agenda for a special legislative session. After the mid-August flooding, the need for legislative action became much more urgent because federal funds will not cover most immediate flood-relief needs as they did for bridge clean-up and recovery efforts.

"It seems federal funds have filled most of the immediate needs related to the bridge collapse," Stumpf said. "The Legislature will be back in session in February 2008, when we will devote the necessary time and attention to transportation funding, bridge safety and infrastructure updates. Right now, communities in southern Minnesota are devastated, homes and businesses are ruined, and people are living in unbearable conditions. They cannot get on with their lives without state aid, which is why we set aside our differences, worked together and delivered needed disaster relief."

For more information, please contact Sen. Stumpf at 651-296-8660.

Fosston Garden Club to meet

The Fosston Garden Club will hold its regular September meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 18 at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston. The meeting will begin at 7 p.m. Louella Ostby will furnish the attendance gift, while Al Hanson will conduct the evening's contest/game. Rayome Koehler will have the evening's lesson on getting things ready for winter. Refreshments will be of a potluck nature. Roll call will be "What you had the best gardening luck with this past summer."

Granlund Lodge Sons of Norway to meet Sept. 20

The Sons of Norway Granlund Lodge No. 240 will hold its next meeting on Thursday, Sept. 20 at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston. The meeting will convene at 6:30 p.m. and it will include a short business meeting, with an attendance gift being awarded.

The evening will include a potluck supper, which will consist of Norwegian foods (where possible). Presenting a musical program using accordion and keyboard will be Jim Caccia of Bagley.

Firewood cutting permits available at Agassiz NWR

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge is now issuing woodcutting permits valid from Sept. 22, 2007, through April 15, 2008. Permits cost $40. Weather and ground conditions may prevent cutting during times of wet weather or deep snow conditions. Woodcutting is used as a management tool to promote habitat diversity and to enhance oak tree growth on the refuge.

A refuge map shows the designated cutting area and access trails. The map and a list of permit conditions are available at the refuge office.

Woodcutters are requested to cut all standing girdled aspen and balsam poplar trees and standing live green ash trees. The standing aspen and poplar trees were girdled two years ago and have been dead for at least two growing seasons. This wood is dry and will make excellent firewood for immediate use. Live, standing green ash trees have not been girdled, so they will have moisture in the wood. All dead and live standing oak trees are not authorized to be cut and removed. All species of trees that are down on the ground and broken off leaning trees in the designated cutting area may be cut and removed for firewood. Access will be limited to only when the soil conditions can support a vehicle in order to prevent tire ruts or only when the ground is frozen. A mowed refuge trail and mowed fire breaks are the main accesses to the woodcutting area. These accesses are not usually snow plowed, making access to the area difficult as winter progresses. Smaller trails may be cut in the woodcutting area to drive to available trees. Permittees need to check with refuge personnel for access conditions and requirements.

Woodcutting and hauling are permitted all days of the week during daylight hours except the day before the firearms deer hunting season and during that season. The permittee must be present during any woodcutting or hauling activity and have in possession the woodcutting permit. Helpers are allowed and encouraged for safety purposes. Firearms, bow and arrows, alcoholic beverages or any other illegal items are not permitted during woodcutting and hauling activities. There is a 10-cord limit for each permittee. Wood is for personal use only and cannot be resold.

Interested persons may contact Agassiz NWR at (218) 449-4115, extensions 203 or 211, or stop at refuge headquarters located 12 miles north of Thief River Falls on Minnesota Highway 32 and then 11 miles east of Holt on Marshall County Road 7. Inspection hours are Mondays through Fridays, 7:30 a.m. - 2:30 p.m., excluding holidays.

At 9 a.m., the North Country Horsemen & Saddle Club will host an open horse show in the Ornquist Arena, which is located half a mile west of Middle River along Marshall County Highway 6. The show will feature driving, pleasure, games, and mutton busting. For information about mutton busting, call Sue Helm at (218) 874-6252, and for general information about the event, e-mail Shirley at march@wiktel.com.

From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., the Craft and Flea Market will be held in the Davidson Building. Call (218) 222-3345 for more information about this event. At 10 a.m., the lefse, doughnut and rommegrot sale will be held in the Davidson Building; contact Jeanette Reierson for more information.

At 11 a.m., A Kickball Tourney will be held at the Middle River School fields with proceeds benefiting Flying V Cancer Relay for Life. All ages are welcome, and trophies will be awarded. There is a $30 registration fee per team with proceeds going to cancer research. To register or for more information, contact KayDell Super at (218) 222-3767.

Starting at 1 p.m. on that Sunday, the Tractor Pull is sure to entertain a large crowd again at the Farmer's Coop Grain & Seed Elevator. The American Legion hosts the Music Jam at the same time. The music jam is sponsored by the Legion and the Community Club. Admission to the music jam is free with a Goose Fest button. At 2 p.m., a Lightning Basketball Tournament will be held at the Middle River School for fourth graders to adults. Trophies will be awarded. For more information about the tournament, call Kevin Roppe at (218) 781-2795. The final performance of "The Nerd" will be held at 4 p.m. at the theatre.

Goose Fest buttons can be purchased at any Middle River business. The buttons cost $2 provide free entertainment, entries for dozens of prizes, and a free breakfast. Advance tickets for "The Nerd" are on sale at Young's General Store. Official Goose Fest clothing is available with all proceeds benefiting local charities and organizations. Also, Middle River memorabilia is available for purchase at various locations. The Middle River history book is available at Young's Store.

Local listening session set for Oct. 3 in Warren

Marshall County citizens are invited to attend a local listening session beginning at 9 a.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 3, at the USDA Service Center Conference Room in Warren. This meeting will give residents an opportunity to express their natural resource concerns to the staff of the Natural Resources Conservation Service and Soil and Water Conservation District.

The main purpose of this local listening session is to review and recommend potential changes in local priorities for spending Minnesota's 2008 Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) funds. Citizens are invited to this meeting to:

• Have input on local conservation efforts.
• Assist the Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) and the Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) with prioritizing conservation resource concerns.
• Have a better understanding of the Minnesota NRCS Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) decisions relating to funding allocations based on SWCD and Area Boundaries. Assist the local work group in recommending priority natural resource concerns for EQIP.

Producer participation in this local listening session is welcome and encouraged.

Corissa Krusa of the Prowlers swam the breaststroke leg of the 200-yard individual medley during Tuesday's high school swim meet at the Franklin Middle School pool. Thief River Falls opened its home schedule by beating Detroit Lakes and Roseau in a double-dual format.

TRF swimmers out-score Detroit Lakes, Roseau...

Prowlers notch double-win

Home opener for the 2007 Thief River Falls girls high school swim team netted the Prowlers a pair of wins in a Tuesday double-dual at the Franklin Middle School pool.

Thief River Falls times beat Detroit Lakes 90-80 and bettered Roseau 116-54. The Lakers outpointed the Rams 93-76.

The wins improved the Prowlers' dual record to 3-0.

"The girls swam very well," said Thief River Falls coach Lacy Knott. "Several swimmers have been battling illness, but the girls stepped up. Our strokes are starting to come together and our starts and streamlines looked good."

Providing individual wins for the Prowlers were junior Kailey Bakken, 100-yard breaststroke; sophomore Lacey Stennes, 50 freestyle; and freshman Mariah Steenerson, 500 freestyle.

The Prowlers also had two first place relay teams: Steenerson, junior Curissa Kruse, sophomore Danielle Simenson, eighth grader Maura Nelson in the 200 medley; Bakken, Simenson, Stennes and freshman Gracie Daniels in the 400 freestyle.

In the junior varsity portion of the meet, Thief River Falls collected a 116-6 win over Detroit Lakes and a 106-43 victory over Roseau. The Rams beat Detroit Lakes 79-14.

Raiders hold on to beat Northland 3-1

A slow start cost Northland Wednesday in a 3-1 Minnesota Community College Conference volleyball loss to Central Lakes in Brainerd.

The Raiders carried play early, then held on for a 30-21, 30-20, 22-30, 30-28 win.

Northland avoided a sweep with an 11-0 run to finish Game 3 and pushed Central Lakes to the limit in a Game 4 battle that almost resulted in a fifth and deciding trip back on the court.

Freshman hitter Brooke Conely had 14 kills and 16 digs for the Pioneers. Sophomore setter Amie Salvhus registered 36 assists to close in on 1,000 career assists – a figure no other Northland player has achieved.

Rachel Voeltz and Shayna Foote had 18 and 11 kills, respectively, for the Raiders.

Results leveled Northland's record at 6-6. Central Lakes improved to 6-2.

NCTC Scoring

■ Kills - Brooke Conely 14, Sarah Passa 9, Sarah Michaels 6, Leigha Curfman 6, Alicia Lindquist 4, Amie Salvhus 2.

EGF 3-0 winner over TRF

East Grand Forks came from behind in each game en route to a 25-22, 30-28, 25-21 high school volleyball win over host Thief River Falls Tuesday.

The Prowlers' inability to put away the Green Wave included three game-point situations in the second set when the visitors worked their way out of jams and eventually won the extended contest.

"It was close," said Thief River Falls coach Tammy Sparby. "Unfortunately we didn't win, but we learned a lot and we'll be better prepared the next time we face them."

Middle hitter Kacie Reardon registered 21 kills for East Grand Forks, but it was the Green Wave attack from the side that really hurt the Prowlers, according to Sparby. "Their right side was unstoppable," she said. "They moved the ball really well with some sharp cross-court passes. Our defense worked hard, but we just couldn't come up with the blocks."

Brittany Wiseth led the Thief River Falls offense with 17 kills. Kayse Lee complemented Wiseth's net play with a strong effort in the back row that included 37 digs.

The loss dropped the Prowlers to 1-3.

It was a sweep for the visitors, who won the junior varsity match 25-8, 25-17; took the C squad contest 25-27, 25-22, 15-10 and was a winner in the freshman meeting 20-25, 25-18, 15-11.

Scoring

■ Kills - (EGF) Kacie Reardon 21, Kate Warmack 8, Gieanna Solheim 6, (TRF) Brittany Wiseth 17, Franny Twistol 5, Haley Teie 4.

■ Assists - (EGF) Ashley Mertens 35 (TRF) Beth Marben 14, Brittany Guzek 11.

■ Ace serves - (EGF) Ashley Mertens 2, Alison Amundson 2, (TRF) Brittany Guzek 3, Brittany Wiseth 2, Jessie Clark 2.

■ Blocks - (TRF) Brittany Wiseth 3.

■ Digs - (TRF) Kayse Lee 37, Haley Teie 12.

Wicklund, Gators top S-A

Anne Wicklund had 14 kills and six blocks in a 3-1 Monday Badger/Greenbush-Middle River high school volleyball win over host Stephen-Argyle.

It was a continuation of the Gators' early-season strong front row play, pointed out coach B/G-MR coach Stacy Dahl following the 25-15, 25-19, 25-22 sweep. "Anna Wicklund dominated the middle," she said.

Vanessa Dvergsten (6) and Liz Schenkey (4) combined for 10 ace serves as the Gators improved to 2-1.

Dahl called it a "team effort" and cited significant contributions from younger players who have helped stock the Gators' depth chart.

B/G-MR Scoring

■ Kills - Anna Wicklund 14, Liz Schenkey 8, Jessica Dvergsten 8, Edey Berg 5.

■ Assists - Vanessa Dvergsten 25.

■ Ace serves - Vanessa Dvergsten 6, Liz Schenkey 4.

TRF freshmen shut out

Grand Forks Red River shut out Thief River Falls 22-0 Tuesday in a freshman football game played at Prowler Field.

The Roughriders turned a scoreless first quarter tie into a 16-0 halftime lead and added a third quarter touchdown.

Thief River Falls is 0-2.

Brat feed part of NCTC homecoming activities

Fans attending the Northland Community and Technical College homecoming football game today (Saturday) vs. Ridgewater are invited to take in a brat feed prior to the 1:30 p.m. kickoff at Lowell T. Swenson Field.

Free brats, chips and soft drinks will be served at the field beginning at 12:30 p.m. compliments of the NCTC Foundation, Pepsi Americas and TR Jobbing.

The Minnesota Community College Conference game will be the 2007 home debut for the 1-2 Pioneers.

Northland will also be at home Saturday, Sept. 22 against MCCC newcomer Fond du Lac.

Freeze enjoying early success on volleyball court with 7-2 record

Early-season Northern Freeze high school volleyball success continued Tuesday with a 25-16, 25-14, 23-25, 25-15 win at Red Lake Falls.

"So far, so good," said Northern Freeze coach Missy Thompson, whose team improved to 7-2.

The win included a solid start, then a strong finish after the Eagles kept play going with a Game 3 win. "Red Lake Falls is a scrappy team," noted Thompson.

Alycia Dahl had 25 kills and Molly Magner picked up 28 assists for the winners.

Freeze Scoring

■ Kills - Alycia Dahl 25, Kinzie Magner 9, Sasha Magner 8, Kayla Halvorson 7.

■ Assists - Molly Magner 26, Chelsey Davidson 12.

■ Ace serves - Alycia Dahl 2, Sasha Magner 2.

■ Blocks - Alycia Dahl 2, Kinzie Magner 2.

Mustangs win 3-0 vs. Warren-Alvarao-Oslo

Red Lake County Central climbed back above the .500 mark Tuesday with a 25-23, 25-13, 25-20 high school volleyball win on the road over Warren-Alvarado-Oslo that improved the Mustangs to 5-4.

"We're getting better," said Nancy Bray, head coach of the Mustangs, whose perennially-strong program was hit hard by graduation losses. "They're getting used to playing together again. They haven't been on the same team as a group since the eighth grade."

RLCC Scoring

■ Kills - Faith Kruchowski 12, Breanne Spong 6, Casey Vettleson 5.

■ Assists - Jill Rowortz 20.

■ Ace serves - Breanna Spong 2, Kayla Pelletier 2.

Prowlers edge Crookston

■ Three tie-breaker wins decide tennis dual

Three third-set tie-breaker wins carried Thief River Falls past Crookston 4-3 Thursday in girls high school tennis.

The Prowlers, despite losing the first set in six of the seven matches, improved their dual meet record to 4-1. It was a make-up match from a Monday rain-interrupted double-dual hosted by the Pirates.

Thief River Falls wins came from Mauri Gonsorowski, Chelsea Daley and Jaime LaCoursiere in 2-through-4 singles, respectively; along with Cheyene Horien-Sam Buck at No. 2 doubles.

Sweep is eighth Freeze win

Ashley Hestekind served seven aces Thursday in a 25-21, 25-11, 25-10 Northern Freeze high school volleyball win over host Warren-Alvarado-Oslo.

"First game was a little tight," acknowledged Freeze coach Missy Thompson. "They (Ponies) came out ready to play and we weren't. Second and third games went better."

The win pushed the Northern Freeze record to 8-2.

"Everybody got to play," noted Thompson. "It was a good team effort."

Freeze Scoring

Peterson, Halvorson are members of UND teams

Two area 2007 high school graduates are freshmen athletes this fall at the University of North Dakota.

Lee Peterson of Thief River Falls survived tryouts to earn a spot on the UND men's golf team. He is one of just three freshmen in the program that plays a September-October fall schedule and a March-May spring season.

Courtney Halvorson of Oklee, a standout multi-sport athlete at Red Lake County Central, is a 5-8 outside hitter for the UND volleyball team.

phase was complete or what would happen if phase one was completed with money left over. The answer, according to Lindberg and Parks and Recreation Director Madelyn Vigen, is that the $300,000 grant request is for 100 percent of the cost of phase one.

Council member Odette Bendickson asked Lindberg and Vigen if is there is a concrete plan in place for the trail system. Lindberg said more would be known after his planning meeting Wednesday with Vigen. (When he was contacted by The Northern Watch on Thursday, Lindberg said nothing had been finalized regarding the trail proposal.)

Thief River Falls Library presents construction update. Barb Jauquet-Kelinoski and Joelene Seibel shared a PowerPoint slide show of the progress the Thief River Falls Public Library has made in its renovation project.

Recent library improvements include: moving of shelving to allow natural light to illuminate the library; coffee is available at all times; new carpeting; and dedicated areas for new arrivals, middle school reading and young adult reading; updating the library's Web site; and an accessible entrance has been completed on the south end of the building, thanks to a $150,000 AOA matching grant ($75,000 matched by $30,000 from the city of Thief River Falls and $45,000 from the Library not immediately filling a vacant staff position).

Other Items

• The Thief River Falls Committee of the Whole approved a request to change staffing in the Utilities Billing Office from two full-time employees and one part-time employee to three full-time employees.

• The Committee of the Whole also approved the hiring of a water treatment plant operator. The successful candidate has 17 years of experience within the Utilities Department, but was not named at the meeting.

• The Committee of the Whole approved a request from the Lantern to extend its liquor license to a proposed outdoor seating area that will be located on the southeast corner of the building.

• The Committee of the Whole approved a parade application from the Lincoln High School chapter of the National Honor Society and LHS Student Senate. The parade hours are listed at 10 to 11:15 a.m. on Friday, Sept. 28. The parade route will begin at the Evangelical Free Church and it will continue across Second Street to LaBree Avenue, right on LaBree Avenue to First Street, ending on Knight Avenue at Lincoln High School.

The Thief River Falls City Council will hold its next meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 18 at 5 p.m.

up the grueling tour schedule of the Harlem Ambassadors. (The Harlem Ambassadors players are not recovering drug abusers, but rather persons of strong character that made the right choices all along.)

Students at area schools have also participated in an essay contest with the theme "What is good sportsmanship?"

Submitted essays were viewed by representatives from the Thief River Falls Education Foundation, which is sponsoring this event. Winners will receive two free tickets to the basketball game between The Harlem Ambassadors and Buhly's Bombers.

The game will take place at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 18, at the Lincoln High School gym in Thief River Falls. The Ambassadors will be playing Buhly's Bombers, a basketball team made up of local residents, like Jake Rantanen, Dave Onkka, Kelly Oahl, Jeff Mum, Steve and Scott Brekke, Joe Field and others all coached by Al Buhl.

Tickets are available by contacting the Thief River Falls Education Foundation, or by purchasing them at Hugo's or SuperOne of Thief River Falls.

Winning essays
What is good sportsmanship

by Bryson Bray, 3rd grade
Thief River Falls

Good sportsmanship is being a good winner and a good loser. A good winner is not insulting the lower. A good loser is not saying darn. A good loser is being nice to the winner. Most people have good sportsmanship.

by Noah Peters, 5th grade
Newfolden

I think good sportsmanship is when someone is happy if they win or lose. They shake hands. It also means to never yell at the refs, even if you think they made a bad call. Ply hard, have fun, and do the best you can.

by Richard Sather, 4th grade
St. Bernards, Thief River Falls

Good sportsmanship is about being kind and friendly to each other. It's just about having fun.

If a person gets hurt you should go and help him because you are showing a great example for the team. Sportsmanship is about having a good game, win or lose.

Just have fun.

by Courtney Boutain, 6th grade
Goodridge

Sportsmanship to me is having a good attitude during sports. If you lose a game, just be happy you got to play and have fun. Winning isn't everything, just go and congratulate them or shake their hands. Remember, still show RESPECT for them. That shows good sportsmanship!

by Caleb Knutson
Newfolden

Good sportsmanship is to be a teammate, not a boss. You should try to be a follower in a way. Do not be a sore loser. Follow the rules. Do not cheat. Do not brag if you win. The best thing is to have fun.

wrong crowd, get involved with drugs and to drive drunk," Panzau explains. "Today, I stand before students to impress upon them the importance of making the right choices - to not drink before they are 21, never drive drunk, respect parents, rise above disabilities and to learn the meaning of 'real' friends."

During her presentation, Panzau encourages students to look out for each other and reminds them to seek help, if needed. She also touches on the difficulties she has encountered as a result of her disabling injury, including a lack of social acceptance. She relates that before the crash, she was the pretty, popular girl with whom everyone wanted to be friends. Now that she is technically considered disabled, people treat her differently. Sarah encourages students not to let physical disabilities bias their thinking and to show tolerance and acceptance of others.

This presentation is sponsored by Anheuser-Busch wholesaler to Northwest Beverage, Inc. as part of the company's commitment to fighting underage drinking and drunk driving.

"Sarah's story, while gut-wrenching, is such a powerful example," said Shawn Newland, president of Northwest Beverage. "Her message truly resonates with the students because she's young and was active and popular in school. When she tells them to make good decisions, to think before they act, to not drink when underage and never drive drunk ... they seem to hear it clearly. That's why we feel so strongly about helping her spread her message."

Fall firearm safety classes begin Sept. 17

Fall firearm safety class start Monday, Sept. 17. Registration is at 6:30 p.m. in the Lincoln High School art classroom. The course consists of five evening classes on Sept. 17, 20, 24, 25 and 27, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. On Sunday, Sept. 30, the class will meet at the club range, from 1-5 p.m. The cost is $15. Students must be 12 years old by Dec. 31, 2007 to attend.

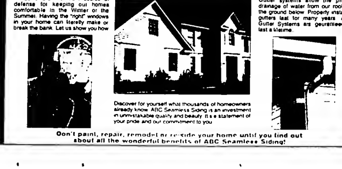
in North America. Extensive collecting and testing of more than 13,000 birds has been done in Alaska, where bird migration routes make it the most likely area for entry into North America. Twenty-six "target species" were tested. The collection and testing of birds has also been done in the lower 48 states, including Minnesota and Agassiz NWR. Most ducks banded at Agassiz NWR are considered local birds. This means participants and refuge staff will band birds that nested or were hatched in the area, not migrants from northern locations.



Banding in general

More than one million birds are handed in North America every year. Banding provides valuable information on migration routes and breeding and wintering areas of different bird species. Banding also helps support the development of hunting regulations and detects changes in bird populations. The strong waterfowl hunting contingent in northwestern Minnesota also recognizes harvested ducks sporting "jewelry" in the form of metal leg bands as special trophies.

Those who are unable attend the banding activities on Sept. 22 can call the refuge office at (218) 449-4115, extension 211 (or dial that number and then 0 for operator assistance) to find out other times to help band in September. Keep in mind that most banding occurs on weekdays in the early morning hours.

Refuge headquarters is located 11 miles east of Holt along Marshall County Road 7 (290th Street Northeast).

Educating Duray

Iraq was justified.

Security was high at the U.N. Office in Austria. Russian President Vladimir Putin was visiting there at the same time as the delegation.

The Austrian Parliament was another destination in Vienna. While there, the delegation spoke with members of Parliament.

The group also toured the Diplomatic Academy of Vienna, which is a school specializing in diplomacy. Participants spoke with the academy's president, faculty and students.

While in Austria, the delegation toured the concentration camp in Mauthausen. The irony of the location wasn't lost on Duray, who toured the gas chambers in the idyl lic countryside.

Radio Free Europe/Radio Liberty, a private radio station that promotes democracy in Iraq and other countries, was one of the group's destinations in Prague, the Czech Republic. The delegation spoke with RFE/RL's president and some of the journalists who work there.

Other stops on the trip included Bratislava, Slovakia, and Budapest Hungary.

"It was very fun to go abroad. For the most part, as Americans, we were well received," said Duray, who noted the reactions from others ranged from a curiosity about America to rudeness toward the delegation.

Greater Grand Forks Symphony season to begin

The Greater Grand Forks Symphony announces the opening of its 99th season with the return of oboist Andrea Gullickson to Grand Forks, N.D., on Sept. 29 and 30 at the Empire Arts Center.

The season, aptly named "Legends and Fantasies" by Music Director and Conductor James Hannon, is one of the most ambitious yet for the nearly century old local orchestra. Hannon likes "big" orchestra, and repertoire choices this year include some of the giants in orchestral repertoire – Beethoven's "Eroica" Symphony, Berlioz' "Symphonie Fantastique," Rimsky-Korsekov's "Scheherazade," and Orff's "Carmina Burana."

The season also includes some exciting new music. Gullickson, for example, will be playing the title piece from her new CD, "Down a River of Time." The dreamy recently written work for oboe and orchestra was composed by Eric Ewazen, a faculty member at Yale University. Another new work, "Arrows of Time" by Richard Peaslee, will be featured in November when East Grand Forks Trombonist Nick Hagen performs with the orchestra. Hagen will be taking time off from his studies at the Juilliard Conservatory in New York to return to the Grand Forks area.

Not only is the music big, so are the productions. "Carmina Burana," to be performed in February at the Chester Fritz Auditorium, will include over 250 singers - the combined force of the Grand Forks Master Choral and University of North Dakota choirs all under the direction of Joshua Bronfman. Job Christiansen will be creating original choreography for dancers from the North Dakota Ballet Company. The concert will also include "Sharpened Stick," a percussion solo directed by Mike Blake, and a performance of Berlioz's rousing Roman Carnival Overture.

The symphony regularly invites nationally known recording artists to solo with the orchestra and to visit local classrooms and student programs while they are in town. In addition to Gullickson and Hagen, this season's artists include Ralph Votapek, an internationally recognized pianist who was the first winner of the coveted Van Cliburn Award, and Parry Karp, a cellist whose best known recording is the concerto by Ernst Bloch that he will be performing with the Symphony.

The September Premiere includes a host of special events to celebrate the season opening. An opening night party for subscribers and contributors is planned before the 7:30 p.m. curtain downtown at the Toasted Frog, receptions at the Empire for all ticket-holders and musicians will follow the concert, and Gullickson will be the guest of honor at a "house party" on Friday evening at the home of a Symphony sponsor.

State auditor releases report on Minnesota county finances

State Auditor Rebecca Otto released a comprehensive report that summarizes the financial data of Minnesota counties for calendar year 2005. In addition, the report examines long-term trends to help place current financial conditions in context.

"Minnesota counties in general have seen some improvement in their fiscal health over the previous year," Otto said. "However, our data shows noteworthy long-term trends in revenue and expenditure levels and in the rise of long-term debt. We will share this data with legislators to inform their decision making."

While Minnesota county revenues grew 6.6 percent, expenditures grew 5.2 percent from 2004 to 2005. The revenue growth coupled with slower growth in expenditures allowed counties to increase unreserved fund balances by 5.2 percent. A measure of fiscal health, unreserved fund balances as a percent of current expenditures sits at its highest level in more than 10 years. The overall improvement in financial condition reverses a recent trend in which non-inflation adjusted revenues and expenditures declined.

While counties appear to have ended 2005 in improved financial condition, an examination of data between 1996 and 2005 shows some noteworthy trends. When the 10-year period is broken into two five-year segments, 1996 to 2000 and 2001 to 2005, a wide divergence in trends emerges. These trends provide insight into the pre- and post-state government budget deficit and its effect on county government, especially on long-term debt.

In particular, when adjusted for inflation, 2005 revenue and expenditure levels remain near 1998 levels. At the same time, counties have incurred greater amounts of debt. The amount of outstanding long-term debt increased by 6.3 percent from 2004 to 2005. Long-term debt grew 5 percent from 1996 to 2000 but jumped by 37 percent between 2001 and 2005. The growth in long-term debt could indicate that counties have been funding a greater number of capital projects with debt rather than by pay-as-you-go.

LHS Class of 1940 to hold 67th reunion

The Lincoln High School Class of 1940 is busy making plans for its annual reunion, this year being the 67th, to be held at the Best Western Inn in Thief River Falls on Friday, Sept. 28.

An afternoon social hour will be held, beginning at 3 p.m., followed by a banquet at 5 p.m.

Johnnie Philipp of Thief River Falls, a student at Lincoln High School, will entertain the group with his violin playing preceding the banquet and again during the program.

Arthur Buringrud will be the master of ceremonies at the program. Kenneth Ose will give the invocation and the benediction. Gloria Bjorkman, a director on the Thief River Falls Education Foundation Board, will bring greetings from the foundation.

Clifford Vigness will read the names of the 62 classmates who are deceased, reminiscing a bit about some of the classmates he was more familiar with, at the Memorial Service. Dode Votava Wilson is the roving photographer and Marion Holmen Wold does the telephoning to remind the classmates of the meetings. Door prize drawings and additional reminiscing will follow the program.

The class of 1940 always meets the last Tuesday of every month at the Lantern Cafe in Thief River Falls for noon lunch and fellowship. There are usually 15 to 20 classmates and spouses who attend the luncheon. Reminiscing and "do you remember when" are the main topics of conversation. There were 110 graduates of the class of 1940, with 48 classmates still living. Tillie Gebhardt sends a quarterly newsletter to the classmates, informing them of activities, changes in address, dates of coming events, deaths, etc.

All 1940 Lincoln High School classmates, their spouses, friends and relatives are invited to attend this special occasion on Friday, Sept. 28. Classmates will not meet on Tuesday, Sept. 25, since the class reunion will be Friday, Sept. 28.

Newfolden Fire Dept. to hold event

Rentals may be scheduled, as follows, with Michelle Westerman by calling the pool at 681-8065:

Days: Saturdays and Sundays
Times: 12:00 noon - 1:00 p.m. or 4:00 p.m. - 6:00 p.m. (or during the week when not in use)
Cost: $40 per hour

Remember... We are proud of our ongoing effort to provide a clean and safe environment at the Franklin Pool. The following policy will be implemented as needed: In the event of a visible discharge of a body waste the pool must be closed for super chlorination. This closing is done for the safety of our patrons and to comply with MN state codes. The super chlorination (sanitizing) procedure effectively eliminates any bacteria present. The pool is closed for 12 hours after super chlorination to allow the pool water to reach a safe chemical level for public use.

LITTLE BROTHER/ LITTLE SISTER PROGRAM

Eleven children from Pennington County, ranging in age from 6-14 are waiting for a big brother or big sister. Each comes from a single parent, low-income home or a home with other issues. They all need time and attention from an adult mentor to show them how special and unique they are.

If you are between 18 and 80 years of age, enjoy being with kids, can handle children well, and are willing to spend two hours a week with a child, we need you! Monthly activities are planned and give you a chance to meet others in the program.

To find out more, call Sue Dupree, program coordinator, at 681-8711, ext. 241 or e-mail sdupree@trf.k12.mn.us.

Spend some time with a child today, the world will thank you tomorrow!

PARENTING

PARENTING ELEMENTARY CHILDREN

(5-10 Year Olds)

Parenting styles have a strong impact on children's behavior, school performance, and future success. What is your parenting style? Do you need advice on how to discipline, set family rules, work together with your child's teachers, and enjoy parenthood?

This four-session series will identify the joys and challenges of parenting elementary-age children. Learn how to have a responsible child that gets along with friends, at school, and at home. Topics will include parenting tools, attention and respect, responsibility, monitoring and supervision, friends and siblings, step-parenting, single parenting, and blended families.

Preregistration Is Required

EARLY CHILDHOOD PROGRAMS

EARLY CHILDHOOD FAMILY EDUCATION (ECFE)

The ECFE program, located at Challenger Preschool, is for children ages birth up to kindergarten and their parents. Parents have a great influence on their children as the first and most significant teachers in their lives. ECFE serves as a resource for families with young children, offering early childhood screening, parent/child classes, parent information, a book and toy lending library, special events and more. If you have a child between the ages of birth and kindergarten and did not receive a newsletter with a schedule of events, please call the Challenger Preschool Center at 681-8670 to be placed on the mailing list. Registrations are taken on a first-come, first-served basis and will continue as long as there are openings. Minimum enrollment is required for all classes.

SINGLE DADS CLASS

ECFE has started a class that is just for single dads! This class will focus on the needs of single dads and their children. This class will be "dad driven" as you will get to decide the focus of the class.

Dates: Tuesdays beginning September 25
Time: 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.
Location: Preschool Room D-107

LIBRARY STORY TIME

Join us each week for stories and activities for all preschool children. Parents must attend library story time with their child(ren). For more information Call 681-8670 or 681-4325.

Dates: Tuesdays beginning September 11
Time: 9:30 a.m.
Location: Northwest Regional Library
Cost: No Charge

TEEN/YOUNG PARENT CLASS

This class will focus on the needs of teen, single and young parents and their children. A light meal will be provided for all classes. To register call the Challenger Preschool at 681-8670.

Dates: Wednesdays, September 26, October 10, 24, November 7
Time: 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.
Location: Challenger Preschool, Room D107
Cost: No Charge

EARLY CHILDHOOD SCREENING IS REQUIRED BY MINNESOTA STATE LAW PRIOR TO KINDERGARTEN ENROLLMENT IN A PUBLIC SCHOOL

You may be wondering, "What is Early Childhood Screening?" It is a careful, simple check of your child's growth...physical, developmental and emotional. Early Childhood Screening helps school districts in identifying health and learning problems early, and preventing them from becoming more serious. However, it is not intended as a substitute for health care from your family physician or other providers.

The ideal age for screening a child is 3-years 5-months to 4 years. Waiting until the year before school entry provides no advantage to your child. Screenings are done by appointment only and are offered throughout the school year at Challenger Preschool. The next screening will be held on Tuesday, October 16 from 8:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. There is no charge for this screening. If your child is 3-years 5-months and has not been screened, please contact Lisa Simenson at 681-8670 to schedule an appointment.

FAMILY SCHOOL

This program is provided through Adult Basic Education, School Readiness, Head Start and Early Childhood Family Education. Parents and children come to school together. Families who want to work towards their GED, High School Diploma or work on basic skill development are invited. The program provides a special time for parents and children to interact in an environment of learning and discovery, and also parenting discussions. While parents attend classes, their children are involved in educational activities with early childhood teachers. A light lunch will be provided for all families. Transportation help will be provided if needed. Class size is limited so please call for information.

Dates: Tuesdays, beginning October 2
Time: 11:00 a.m. - 2:45 p.m.
Location: Room D106

WIC-QUIN AND CHALLENGER PRESCHOOL HEALTH FAIR

This special evening of fun and information is for children and their families. All are welcome to the health fair.

Date: Thursday, September 20
Time: 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m.
Location: Challenger Gyms

BUILDING LANGUAGE TOGETHER (BLT)

Challenger preschool programs are excited to continue with the "Building Language Together" sessions for preschool children who will be age 5 on or before September 1, 2008 and their parents. This program provides parents with opportunities to learn the very best ways to help their children get ready for later learning.

Research shows that most children who experience rich language and literacy activities at home and at school will have greater success in later learning.

Please call and preregister for one session of each of the following units.

Location: Challenger Preschool

UNIT 1 — Wired for Words (Vocabulary Development)
Dates: Tuesday, September 25, 5:15 p.m. - 5:45 p.m., 6:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.; Thursday, September 27, 9:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.

Harlem Ambassadors attract a crowd

"What foul? I was up in the stands with my dad, the whole time." Ladé Majic of the Harlem Ambassadors clowns around with Bob Dahl of Newfolden. The Harlem Ambassadors played Buhly's Bombers in a packed gymnasium at Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, Sept. 18.

County to drop group health insurance for cash payments

Warren - "Marshall County will no longer offer group health insurance coverage for its 100 employees beginning Jan. 1, instead offering a cash payment of $600 to $900 per month for employee 'cafeteria' accounts from which the employees can purchase their own health insurance coverage.

"Final action on the health insurance matter was taken shortly before the adjournment of Tuesday's meeting of the Marshall County Board of Commissioners. Most of the daylong meeting was devoted to discussion of the health insurance issue.

"The board's action Tuesday reverses its decision last March to continue with the Northwest Service Cooperative Health Insurance Pool for 2008. The move for a 'buyout' of employee insurance coverage came, apparently, from an initiative by the county department leaders." - Warren Sheaf, Sept. 19, 2007

Local dog designated potentially dangerous

Red Lake Falls - "At the Red Lake Falls City Council meeting Sept. 10, Sheriff Mitch Bernstein presented the council with a resolution to designate a local dog as potentially dangerous after it aggressively chased someone in the Eagle Square parking lot Sept. 7." The council unanimously passed the resolution.

"Bernstein responded to the call and 'observed this particular dog running at large and was also aggressively confronted by this dog on Hamilton Avenue Northeast in Red Lake Falls,' as the resolution reads.

"The dog is owned by Maykin Davis, who resides at 409 Hamilton Ave. N.E. in Red Lake Falls. The resolution describes the dog as 'a light brown colored female dog looking like a pit bull.'

"Davis was issued a citation for allowing the dog to run at large within the city limits of Red Lake Falls on Sept. 7 and another time within the past six months."

"A copy of the resolution will be personally served upon Davis, who will then have an opportunity to respond to the resolution, either by declaring the dog is not dangerous or by dismissing the dog." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, Sept. 19, 2007, by Destiny Harmoning

Former Greenbush resident returns after 35-year absence

Greenbush - A canoe outing Monday, April 12, 1956, became "a tragedy that claimed three lives, probably one of the worst tragedies in the history of Greenbush."

"Merlin Pierson, 44; his 43-year-old wife, Hulda, and their 9-year-old daughter, Gwen, were out in their canoe on the south fork of Two Rivers, which runs through Greenbush. The spring waters had overflowed the riverbank. Swift currents, extremely cold water and trying to pass underneath a bridge with very little clearance were thought to be contributing factors to the loss of lives.

"The lone surviving member of the family, a son named Kenneth, was attending college in Angwin, Calif., at the time."

A couple of weeks ago, Ken and his wife, Gloria, flew to Greenbush. "Ken had not been back in Greenbush for 35 years." - The Tribune of Greenbush, Sept. 19, 2007, by Mavis Gonshorowski

College Fair attracts area students

by David Hill
Editor

Over 850 students from 17 area schools attended the Minnesota Association for College Admission Counseling Education Fair at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, Sept. 19. There were 63 colleges and universities at the event, which allowed students an opportunity to obtain information about the colleges and universities.

"It's a well-organized fair," said Dale Westley of Minnesota State Community and Technical College in Detroit Lakes. Westley said student arrivals at the fair were evenly staggered so it wasn't overwhelming. And, he said, the students attending the event were motivated to ask direct questions about the programs offered at the college.

This was the third education fair of several education fairs scheduled around the state this year.

According to the MACAC Web site, the goal of the MEF program is to coordinate the flow of information about post-secondary educational opportunities to students in Minnesota. Through each MEF, MACAC aims to:

- Serve the public by providing one central location for prospective students and parents to browse freely and meet with professional staff members from post-secondary institutions.
- Supplement high-school guidance programs with timely information on higher education.
- Provide admission and recruitment personnel a convenient fall travel schedule, increasing the opportunity for personal contact with more high school students.

Auna Pelowski of Roseau agreed that the event was Lifesaving donation

Thief River Falls resident Kenny Poole has donated 20 gallons of blood at local blood drives. He donated his 160th and 161st units of blood Aug. 27 at a blood drive at the Eagles Club in Thief River Falls.

Driven to donate blood

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

Red could be Kenny Poole's color. So far, he has donated a total of 20 gallons and one unit of blood at local blood drives.

The Thief River Falls resident began donating blood in 1952, and he has donated ever since that time. "There's no reason I can't. I'm healthy," he said.

Poole donated his 160th and 161st units of blood Aug. 27 at a blood drive at the Eagles Club in Thief River Falls. For about the past two years, he has donated blood on the 2RBC machine, which collects two units of red blood cells at a time. Provided they are eligible, blood donors who use the 2RBC machine are able to donate blood once every 120 days. Donors who give one unit of blood at a time are able to donate once every 60 days.

Poole plans to donate blood for as long as he is able. His experiences serving in the Korean War led to his decision to donate blood. He was drafted into the Army in 1952 and served in Korea for 16 months.

Blood donors

Generally, you are eligible to donate blood if:

- ☐ You are 17 years or older;
- ☐ You weigh at least 110 pounds;
- ☐ You haven't donated blood in the past eight weeks or 16 weeks (for double red cell donors);
- ☐ You're healthy;
- ☐ You're not taking antibiotics;
- ☐ You don't have cold or flu symptoms on the day of your donation;
- ☐ You feel well on the day of your donation;
- ☐ You have never used a needle to take non-prescription drugs;
- ☐ You haven't had Hepatitis after the age of 11;
- ☐ You haven't ever had a positive Hepatitis B or C test; and
- ☐ You aren't at risk of catching or spreading the AIDS virus.

Legislative committee visits area

by David Hill
Editor

City officials were positive about a legislative committee visit to Thief River Falls Wednesday, Sept. 19. Included in that visit was discussion of a proposal to extend a bike and walking trail system in the community, and a proposed aquatic center.

The city's position on the aquatic center, which is Phase II of the Multi-Events Center, has flip-flopped since it was proposed. The initial proposal was made in a hurry, and to everyone's surprise was included on the House and Senate Capital Investment Committee tours for Sept. 19 and 26, respectively. At later meetings, city officials apologized for not including Pennington County, Northland Community and Technical College and School District 564, which are all signatories of the joint powers board agreement for the MEC, in discussions prior to the application for grant funding, but time was short. After learning that the proposal was included in the agenda, city officials met with representatives from the county, school district and NCTC. During discussions, it became obvious that officials were concerned about the scope of the project.

City reinstates Aquatic Center

by April Scheinoha

The Thief River Falls City Council has reversed its decision regarding a request for state funding for a proposed aquatic center at the Multi-Events Center. At its meeting Tuesday, the council voted to reinstate its request.

Council member Emery Lee, who made a motion Sept. 11 to withdraw the city's request, made the motion Tuesday to reinstate the request. Council member Ken Schmalz seconded the motion at Tuesday's meeting. The council unanimously approved it. Council member Glen Kajewski was absent from the meeting.

At the meeting, there was no indication as to why Lee made the motion. On Thursday, Lee told The Times that state officials encouraged the city to keep its application on the table. He added that individuals who were involved

Outdoor Education

Area students explore science

On Sept. 12, sixth graders from throughout the area experienced science class in an outdoor setting at Oakland Park in Thief River Falls. The Pennington Soil and Water Conservation District sponsored its 10th Annual Outdoor Education Day for Franklin, Goodridge, Grygla and home-schooled students.

The kids enjoyed hands-on learning stations such as the Incredible Journey of a Water Drop, making an Incredible Edible Landfill, Tree Bingo, For the Birds, Glaciers, Tree Rings, Water Hauling Game, Water Arcade and survived the Deer Population Game. Comments from the kids included: "Awesome, it was educational," and "It was very fun, I learned a lot."

Presenters for the day included staff from the Pennington, Red Lake, Marshall-Beltrami and West Polk SWCDs, SWCD TSA 1, NRCS and the Red Lake Watershed District.

Rod Heschke, Natural Resources Conservation Service soil scientist, demonstrates glacier formation at the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation District Outdoor Education Day Sept. 12 at Oakland Park in Thief River Falls. The popularity of the activity was expressed in one student's comment: "I loved glaciers, it was cool when that guy smooshed all of the ice cream, M&M's® and crushed Oreos!" (Submitted)

I would like to thank the City of Thief River Falls, the Pennington County Fair Board and the CVB of Thief River Falls for working with me on this year's Kick'n Up Kountry music festival. I would also like to thank the many sponsors and volunteers that helped to make this year's festival a huge success. Mona Bjerkness and Kerry Juneau, my volunteer coordinators, cannot be thanked enough for working so well with the volunteers and finding people to fill the positions that were needed. The team leaders did an excellent job working with each group. Brian Holmer and Dale Narlock need to be commended for always helping in many different areas that were needed. Barry and Ryan, who came to help out with Security and the campground duties, did an excellent job of keeping things under control. Linda Ottesen and Ashlee Hewitt did a great job helping to keep the show on time and coordinating everything backstage. Thanks to Jason Rominski for a fine job of auctioneering to raise money for the Hopes, Dreams and Smiles Fund. My staff, Patricia Nerguson and Katrice Hausker went the extra mile to make this year's festival a great event for Thief River Falls. The Elks Lodge is to be commended for the wonderful meals they prepared for the VIP section and for all of their hard work in helping to make the event a fun and memorable time. Thanks to the Seven Clans Casino Hotel and Waterpark for helping out by feeding some of the entertainers and helping wherever they were needed. It is great to work with fun and willing people. If I have forgotten anyone, it is not intentional and I apologize.

Sincerely,
Ardell Larson, President

Gardens are winding down and what to do, what to do with all that "stuff"? Here are some completely meat-free ways to use your healthy veggies and they all have the nutritional information for you too. They are from my new Taste of Home Cookbook, which I love. You'll find it so easy to eat your veggies today.

Here are two salsa recipes. Please remember to use rubber gloves when you work with those nasty little jalupenos. I didn't when I made salsa last weekend and I never will forget the gloves again. Of course, I removed the seeds and membrane by rubbing the pepper with my thumb, and used my other fingers, too, cutting and slicing merrily - no pain at all. About 15 minutes after I finished cutting them, I was in utter, burning pain. My hands hurt for two days and the first two or three hours were just excruciating, as if I had held them in a flame and burned every single finger. Don't take a chance - use gloves. It's really hard to do anything in the kitchen when your hands turn into burning coals when you have them near anything hot, like hot water, hot pan lids and handles (even with pot holders), hot coffee.

Use your little food processor to prepare most of the ingredients and you'll have this one on the table in no time. Remember to use gloves when you work with jalapenos:

GARDEN SALSA
6 medium tomatoes, finely chopped
3/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/2 cup finely chopped onion
1/2 cup thin sliced green onions
6 garlic cloves, minced
2 teaspoons cider vinegar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons olive oil
1-2 teaspoons minced jalapeno pepper
1 to 2 teaspoons ground cumin
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon cayenne pepper
Tortilla chips

Combine first 12 ingredients in large bowl. Cover and refrigerate until serving. Serve with chips. Makes 5 cups.

Nutritional info: 2 tablespoons of salsa (without chips) equals 17 calories, trace fat, 0 chol, 62 mg sodium, 3 g carb, trace fiber and trace protein.

It doesn't take long to make this dish for a party. I think a bean salsa would be just great to accompany the above salsa on the buffet table. Be sure you use gloves to handle those peppers:

BLACK BEAN SALSA
4 jalapeno peppers
2 (15 ounces each) cans black beans, rinsed and drained
2 cups fresh or frozen corn
1 medium sweet pepper, diced
1 cup chopped, seeded tomato
1 medium red onion, chopped
1/3 cup lime juice
2 tablespoons minced fresh cilantro
1 garlic clove, minced

Place jalapenos in broiler pan and broil 4 inches from heat until skins blister (2 minutes). With tongs, rotate peppers a quarter turn. Broil and rotate until all sides are blistered and blackened.

Immediately place in bowl, cover tightly and let stand 15-20 minutes. Peel off and discard skin. Remove stems and seeds. Finely chop. (Keep those gloves on for this step.)

In bowl, combine remaining ingredients. Add jalapenos and mix. Cover and refrigerate several hours. Serves 12.

Nutritional Info: 1/2 cup equals 93 calories, trace fat, 0 chol, 137 mg sodium, 19 g car, 4 g fiber and 5 g protein.

If we're talking about garden produce, you can't beat this delicious sandwich: Mix and match other things in your sandwich too, like a slice of turkey or ham, an olive or two, a little crunchy lettuce, same cheese. Yum:

ROASTED VEGGIE SANDWICH
3 tablespoons balsamic vinegar
2 teaspoons olive oil
1/4 cup minced fresh basil or 1 tablespoon dried
1 small eggplant, peeled and sliced lengthwise
1 medium sweet red pepper, sliced
1 small onion, sliced and separated into rings
1 small zucchini, sliced thinly
1 small yellow summer squash, sliced thinly

Yogurt Spread for Sandwich
1/4 cup fat free plain yogurt
2 tablespoons reduced fat mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced fresh basil
1 teaspoon lemon juice
4 French rolls, split and warmed

In large bowl, combine vinegar, oil and basil. Add eggplant, red pepper, onion, zucchini and yellow squash. Toss to coat. Place vegetables in a single layer on a large roasting pan.

Roast, uncovered, at 450 degrees for 20-30 minutes, until tender, stirring occasionally.

Meanwhile, make Yogurt Spread. In small bowl, combine yogurt, mayonnaise, basil and lemon juice.

Hollow out rolls if necessary. Serve roasted veggies on rolls with yogurt spread. Recipe serves 4.

Nutritional Info: Each serving contains 275 calories, 7 g fat, 3 mg chol, 421 mg sodium, 47 g carb, 8 g fiber and 9 g protein.

Something warm in the tummy will taste good on a cool fall day. This is an all-veggie meal too. Serve some of your good salsa and chips with it for a very interesting meal:

CORN CHOWDER
1 large onion, chopped
1/2 cup butter
2 1/2 cups water
2 cans cream-style corn
4 medium potatoes, peeled and cut into 1/2 inch cubes
2 cups milk
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
3/4 teaspoon pepper
Minced fresh parsley

In a Dutch oven, sauté onion in butter until tender. Add water, corn and potatoes and bring to a boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer 16-20 minutes, until potatoes are tender. Reduce heat to low.

Stir in milk, salt and pepper. Cook 15-20 minutes or until heated through, stirring occasionally. Sprinkle with parsley. Recipe serves 8.

Nutritional Info: Each 1 cup serving contains 271 calories, 14 g fat, 39 mg chol, 889 mg sodium, 35 g carb, 3 g fiber, 5 g protein.

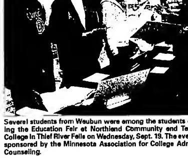
Russ Sorenson completes Bismarck Marathon

Russ Sorenson, Roseau, finished second in his age group at the Krolls Diner North Dakota Roughrider Marathon in Bismarck, N.D., Sept. 15. Sorenson finished 18th overall.

Sorenson, 48, has completed 28 marathons in his running career. This summer, he completed the Fargo Marathon in Fargo, N.D., Grandma's Marathon in Duluth, and now the marathon in Bismarck. In addition to racing in marathons, Sorenson participated in the American Cancer Society Relay For Life in Roseau this summer. During this event, Sorenson ran between Warroad and Roseau, a distance of 22 miles, and then added another four miles, to complete his own marathon. He raised over $400 in pledges in one week for the cancer event.

In the Bismarck Marathon, the overall winners were Bert Moniot, 55, Manitoba, Canada, in 2:48, and Sahar Zamir, 23, Bismarck, in 3:24:07. Sorenson said temperatures at the start of the early morning start were in the upper 30s, which is comfortable for racers. The temperature at the finish was in the 50s. Sorenson completed the 26.2-mile course in a time of 3:25:24.

Minnesota State University Mankato releases honor and high honors lists



The Academic High honorand Honors lists (dean's list) for the past spring semester at Minnesota State University, Mankato have been announced by Dr. Scott R. Olson, MSU provost and vice president of academic affairs.

Of the over 14,000 enrolled students, a total of 1,182 students have qualified for the high honor list by achieving a 4.0 straight "A" average, while 2,047 students earned a 3.5 to 3.99 average to qualify for the honor list. To qualify for academic honors, undergraduate students must be enrolled in at least 12 credit hours for a grade. Local students who were named to the honor and high honor lists include:

Roseau - Scott Sandstrom, honor;

Warren - Maureen Fredrickson, high honor; and Travis Loeslie, high honor;

Warroad - Roxanne Berry, honor.

Several students from Waubun were among the students attending the Education Fair at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, Sept. 19. The event was sponsored by the Minnesota Association for College Admission Counseling.

"The Enlightened Workout"

I understand most parables in the Bible; however, I find some verses a little confusing. One such verse is "the meek shall inherit the earth." I thought the meaning of this verse was that the weak or destitute would one day have the keys to the kingdom, to which my attitude was that life would last longer than I wanted unless I lived it strong and earned a good living.

I later learned that this phrase was not about being weak as a way to eternal wealth. The verse means that when we are needy or sick and cannot remedy the situation by our own means, then we are truly in the presence of God. When you are sick or otherwise broken and your pride no longer seems important, then that is when you ask for help, and that is when you "inherit the earth" - by finally embracing the power of God and letting him take your problems. It's a good feeling, but such a shame that we have to be beaten to near submission before we accept this free gift. I am guilty of this conduct, but recently, I realized that I accept this gift quite often. I often say that if asides were good enough for Shakespeare (I use them often), then they are good enough for me. I guess if parables were good enough for Jesus, then I should also use them when I communicate, and so I will.

I don't lift weights anymore. I used to lift weights a lot but was tired of joint pain and boredom and opted for something called "combat conditioning." This sort of workout looks a little like yoga, but even more like wrestling practice at your local high school. One of the exercises is the neck-bridge, in which you lay flat, then bridge your body up to where all of your weight balances on the top of your head or the balls of your feet. I hold this position for two to three minutes at a time, and it is a time when I feel the need for help outside of my own body or will. I feel sometimes like it is an impossible task, and the position makes me feel a little out of control of myself. During my workouts, I learned that placing my mind on something else helped me to forget the pain I felt, particularly when I first started this regimen. I also learned that I could recite "the Lord's Prayer" in about 20 seconds, and that if I did so about three times, then I could dispatch a minute with little effort. In my own way, and with little forethought, I was in a situation where I needed help and my remedy was to reach out for something very basic that brought me close to my creator. I prayed to ease the pain of a situation I'd created for myself.

It's quite a lesson that took many years of time and many minutes perched on my head in the gym to understand; I was trying to make myself strong, but to my great fortune, had made myself meek, and in doing so, inherited something greater than myself. I wonder what my Hindu squats will teach me next week?

Fall gathering of Cluster 1 in Warroad Sept. 29

The Cluster 1 Women of the ELCA will gather for their fall meeting at Zion Lutheran Church in Warroad on Saturday, Sept. 29. Coffee will be served. Registration begins at 9 a.m.

The theme of the meeting is "Lift Your Hearts to the Lord." The speaker will be Judy Gubbels of Baudette. In addition to the speaker, there will be special music, socializing, hymn singing and a short business meeting, which will adjourn in time for a noon luncheon. Participants should wear a hat or rent one, with the proceeds going to Lutheran World Relief.

Local charitable gambling groups to meet in TRF

Allied Charities of Minnesota, the statewide organization of charitable gambling groups, will be hosting an informational meeting for all charitable gambling organizations in the region at 7 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 27, at the American Legion, Post 117, in Thief River Falls.

King Wilson, executive director of ACM, will be the featured speaker. Terry Buroas, ACM director at large from East Grand Forks, will convene the meeting.

Dick Hom, president of ACM, said, "There were a number of changes to our charitable gambling laws during the 2007 legislative session. Charitable gambling organizations need to know about these new laws and any changes to charitable gambling regulations over the past year."

Hom continued, "We'll be providing the latest information on important issues like the impacts of the statewide smoking ban on charitable gambling at these important regional meetings."

Topics for discussion will include a wrap-up of the 2007 legislative session, including charitable gambling law changes, statewide smoking ban - impacts and opportunities, Gambling Control Board Rules update, the 2008 ACM legislative program development, the 17th Annual Minnesota Lawful Gambling Convention and Expo program in St. Paul Nov. 15-17, and general question and answer session.

The meeting is open to anyone involved in or interested in charitable gambling. For more information on this meeting, call Terry Buroas at 701-772-8050 or King Wilson at 651-224-4533.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from 032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Annual First Care Hospice spaghetti dinner on October 1

The 17th Annual First Care Hospice of Thief River Falls Spaghetti benefit dinner will be from 5 to 7 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 1, at Redeemer Lutheran Church, Thief River Falls. A freewill offering will be accepted for the dinner. This event is co-sponsored by Redeemer/Black River Parish. Supplemental funds will be provided by Thrivent Financial for Lutherans.

Tickets still available for Robert Robinson concert

Tickets are still available for the Robert Robinson concert, which is scheduled Sunday, Sept. 23 at 4 p.m. at the Lincoln High School auditorium in Thief River Falls. Tickets will now be offered at the door. Reserved tickets are also available at Kezar Music in Thief River Falls.

A Minnesota native, Robinson is perceived as the "Pavarotti of Gospel" in the Twin Cities. For 15 years, he toured with Lorie Line and her Pop Chamber Orchestra. He also has seven other solo projects to his credit.

LMC regional meetings to be held in TRF, Detroit Lakes

The League of Minnesota Cities is conducting several regional meetings in September and October designed to engage elected and appointed city officials in discussions of timely issues affecting Minnesota cities. Two of the meetings will be held in this area.

One of the regional meetings will be held Tuesday, Sept. 25 at Ralph Engelstad Arena, 525 Brooks Ave. S., Thief River Falls. Another regional meeting will be held Wednesday, Sept. 26 at Holiday Inn Lakeside, 1155 Hwy. 10 E., Detroit Lakes. Those two meetings and the other seven regional meetings will be held from 2 to 8:30 p.m.

Scheduled agenda topics include citizen commissions, open meeting laws, planning for pandemic flu, and collaborative efforts among cities. Additionally, LMC intergovernmental relations staff will provide city officials with an overview of the 2007 state legislative session and a discussion of what to expect in 2008.

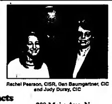
Pembina Trail RC&D to celebrate National RC&D Week

Pembina Trail Resource Conservation & Development (RC&D) Council joins the 375 RC&D councils across the country in celebrating RC&D Week, Sept. 23-29. This week is designed to raise greater public awareness of RC&D councils and their activities in local communities. National RC&D week coincides with the anniversary of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962, which established the RC&D program that covers 85 percent of the United States and its territories.

William Hunt, state conservationist with the Minnesota Natural Resource Conservation Service, expressed pride about the results RC&Ds have accomplished in Minnesota. "RC&D stands for Resource Conservation and Development, and the purpose of the RC&D Program is to encourage and improve the capability of volunteer local elected and civic leaders in designated RC&D areas to plan and carry out projects for resource conservation and community development," said Hunt.

The Pembina Trail RC&D Council's mission is "to provide leadership and assistance in coordinating the development of our human and natural resources." The council is made up of volunteers and local leaders, and the area is locally organized, sponsored and led. Because of this, local people make choices for the area – whether they work on land conservation, water management, environmental enhancement, community development, or something unique to their particular area. The council determines its area needs and creates solutions. Selecting places for dry hydrants, creating an outdoor classroom and holding grazing tours have been a few projects the council has been involved in in recent years.



If you would like to become a volunteer for an RC&D or have a project that meets the council's objectives, contact the Pembina RC&D Office at (218) 253-2646, ext. 4.

For more information about RC&Ds in Minnesota, visit the Minnesota NRCS Web site (www.mn.nrcs.usda.gov).

Emphasize safety in farming operations

We pay tribute this week to America's farmers and ranchers - good stewards of our land and providers of healthful, safe and abundant food. For farmers in this region of the nation, it is an especially busy time of year - the days of harvesting and hauling that harvest never seem to end. This past week, the White House declared this week National Farm Safety and Health Week for the very reasons we have outlined already.

"During National Farm Safety and Health Week, we pay tribute to our farmers and ranchers and their families for their contributions to our nation, and we raise awareness of the importance of practicing and promoting safe work habits and conditions on farms and ranches," states President George W. Bush in his proclamation.

According to the National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health, agriculture ranks among the most hazardous industries. Farmers are at very high risk for fatal and nonfatal injuries. Farming is one of the few industries in which the families (who often share the work and live on the premises) are also at risk for fatal and nonfatal injuries.

• Approximately 1,842,000 full-time workers were employed in production agriculture in the U.S. in 2005.

• An estimated 1.26 million children and adolescents under 20 years of age resided on farms in 2004, with about 699,000 of these youth performing work on the farms. In addition to the youth who live on farms, an additional 337,000 children and adolescents were hired to work on U.S. farms in 2004.

• On average, 103 children are killed annually on farms (1990-1996). Approximately 40 percent of these deaths were work-related.

• In 2004, an estimated 27,600 children and adolescents were injured on farms; 8,100 of these injuries were due to farm work.

• In an average year, 516 workers die doing farm work in the U.S. (1992-2005). Of these deaths, 101 are caused by tractor overturns.

• Every day, about 243 agricultural workers suffer lost-work-time injuries, and about 5 percent of these result in permanent impairment.

In his proclamation, Bush notes that, "Making a living off the land exposes agricultural workers to many potential dangers, such as extreme weather conditions, fertilizers and chemicals and heavy machinery. Taking steps to identify these hazards and instructing family members in safe practices will help save lives and prevent injuries. Farmers and ranchers can help avoid accidents and protect lives by staying informed, being proactive and remaining vigilant."

The message everyone wants to convey is simple: farmers provide us with a tremendous service, but they should be careful, too.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Challenger Book Fair scheduled for Sept. 24 - 28

The Challenger Elementary School Annual Scholastic Book Fair will be Sept. 24 through 28. The Scholastic Book Fair offers many popular books and educational products for all ages. Parents, children, teachers, and the entire community are invited to visit our Book Fair Blizzard.

Maryfran Twistol, volunteer coordinator at the elementary school said, "The event, which is hosted by PTSP (Parents, Teachers and Students in Partnership) is an important fundraiser for Challenger as all profits earned from the Book Fair are gifted in books to classroom teachers."

Book Fair hours are: Monday, Sept. 24, noon to 4 p.m.; Tuesday, Sept. 25, 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m.; Wednesday, Sept. 26, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Thursday, Sept. 27, 7:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Friday, Sept. 28, 7:30 a.m. to noon. As an added convenience the Book Fair accepts all major credit cards.

This year, Challenger's Book Fair will host two special family evening events. The first family event is a cozy pajama night at the Book Fair on Tuesday, Sept. 25, from 4 to 8 p.m., which will consist of door prize registrations for children attending the event, story read-aloud, and Clifford the Big Red Dog, who will be visiting the Book Fair. PTSP will serve grilled hot dogs and chips or nachos with juice boxes. Make it a family night at the book fair and join PTSP for supper for $2 as you shop.

On Thursday, Sept. 27, another family evening will be offered from 4 to 8 p.m. It will consist of registration for a family package door prize, a guessing jar filled with treats for a child to win and share with their classroom, and PTSP will be serving root beer floats.

Please join in the fun and special activities of the Book Fair Blizzard next week at Challenger.

Thief River Falls cross country...

Prowlers are meeting goals

Just past the midway mark of the 2007 season, Thief River Falls cross country coach Rick Karboviak has adjusted the goals he set for his team at the start of the year. The changes were needed since the Prowlers have already met or exceeded earlier expectations.

The Prowlers' small, young roster doesn't make them a team threat, and they don't have runners who are varsity-level top-ten finishers. However, the sport still offers individuals an opportunity to achieve success as they run against the clock. Time drops become the objective.

Thief River Falls' sixth meet of the season was the Bagley/Fosston Invitational Monday. They have four races left in the regular season, including the Monday, Oct. 1, Thief River Falls Invitational.

"We just need to focus more each week as we wind down the second half of the season," said Karboviak. "Since a lot of personal-best times have been broken, we have some new goals to aim for."

Bemidji boys and Park Rapids Area girls won Tuesday's team titles. Individual winners were Moses Heppner of Warroad and Lydia Lutz of Park Rapids Area.

Thief River Falls ran ninth in the ten-team boys varsity race. The Prowlers did not field a full girls varsity squad. Thief River Falls also had runners at the boys junior varsity and boys/girls junior high levels.

"I was very pleased with everyone's efforts today," said Karboviak. "We brought home five medals with top-15 finishes in out divisions. That's more than one-third of the team. I'm pretty impressed with that."

Varsity Boys

■ Team totals - Bemidji 25, Warroad 43, Bagley/Fosston 129, Grand Forks Central JV 131, East Grand Forks 138, Pine River-Backus 162, Roseau 165, Menahga/Sebeka 181, Thief River Falls 234, Pelican Rapids 237.

■ Individual winner - Moses Heppner, Warroad, 16:17.

Amie Salvhus selected for Player/Week award

Amie Salvhus, a Northland Community and Technical College sophomore setter from McIntosh, was named Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division volleyball Player of the Week Tuesday.

Salvhus had 79 assists and 31 digs in Northland losses to Central Lakes and MSCTC-Fergus Falls.

She is the first Northland player to collect 1,0000 career assists.

Red Lake Co. Central sweeps Sacred Heart in Tuesday volleyball

Together, strong serving and solid net play carried Red Lake County Central to a 25-16, 25-14, 25-16 high school volleyball win over East Grand Forks Tuesday at Plummer.

"Our serving was greatly improved," reported Mustangs coach Nancy Bray as she looked at her team's 93 percent success figure for the night at the line.

Faith Kruchowski had 10 kills and Jill Rewertz finished with 21 assists for the winners, who improved o 7-5. "We were more aggressive at the net tonight," said Bray.

Northern Freeze winning close volleyball matches

Winning close games has been the key to a 10-2 start for the 2007 Northern Freeze high school volleyball team.

It happened again Tuesday when the Marshall County Central/Tri-County cooperative got by Lake of the Woods in Karlstad 25-21, 19-25, 25-19, 25-22.

Northern Freeze coach Missy Thompson said emphasis has been placed on playing well in close, competitively intense situations this fall. "That's something we haven't always done in the past," she admitted.

Alycia Dahl recorded 19 kills while Chelsey Davidson (17) and Molly Magner (15) combined on 32 assists for the winners.

"It was a close match, a good match," said Thompson. "My blockers in the front row (Dahl, Kinzie Magner, Sasha Magner) had a lot of touches."

Scoring

■ Kills - (NF) Alycia Dahl 19, Sasha Magner 12; (LOW) Cassie Langrehr 9, Ashley Feldman 7, Ali Hasbargen 4

■ Assists - (NF) Chelsey Davidson 17, Molly Magner 15; (LOW) Katelyn Thompson 14, Jessie Markan 9

■ Ace serves - (NF) Ashley Hestekind 3, Molly Magner 3; (LOW) Jordan Markan 3, Jessie Markan 2, Krystal Canfield 2

Swim meet is canceled

A Tuesday Thief River Falls girls high school swim dual at West Fargo, N.D., was canceled due to a scheduling mix up on the part of the Packers.

Fosston/Bagley dual foe...

Thief River Falls swimmers notch Thursday victory

Thief River Falls girls high school swimming coach Lacy Knott mixed up her line-up Thursday, but that didn't slow down the Prowlers, who out-scored Fosston/Bagley 91.50-73.50 in front of a large crowd at the Franklin Middle School pool.

"The girls swam very well," said Knott, whose team pushed its dual meet record to 4-0.

Kailey Bakken won two individual events (100 freestyle, 200 I.M.) and swam on two first place relay teams (200 medley, 200 freestyle) for the Prowlers.

Lacey Stennes (50 freestyle, 500 freestyle) was also an individual double-event winner and joined Bakken, Mariah Steenerson and Danielle Simenson on the first place 200 medley relay team.

Gracie Daniels won the 100 backstroke and teamed with Maura Nelson, Simenson and Bakken on the winning 200 freestyle relay unit.

"Most girls swam at least one event that was not one of their normal ones, but they really stepped up and surprised us," said Knott. "Many of the girls swam best times in both events."

Tennis team rained out

Rain stopped the Thief River Falls girls tennis team again Thursday when wet weather erased a scheduled home dual vs. Bemidji.

It was the fifth rain-forced postponement of the 2007 season for the Prowlers.

Thief River Falls is 4-1 in dual meet competition.

Northern Freeze beat East Grand Forks in the Silver Division final at the Sept. 8 Ada-Borup Invitational high school volleyball tournament. The Freeze out-pointed Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke and Bagley while losing to Ada-Borup during the three-pool round-robin portion of the 12-team event that determined trophy round positions, then knocked off Red Lake County Central in the Silver Division semifinals. The host Cougars went on to win the Gold Division bracket. Northern Freeze team members include, front, Kate Holmstrom; kneeling from left, Melissa Blewet, Ashley Hestekind, Jessica Voytille, Chelsey Davidson; standing, Alycia Dahl, Sasha Magner, Kelsey Gullickson, Kayla Halvorson, Kenzie Magner, Molly Magner and head coach Missy Thompson. Gators lose 3-0 match

Warroad followed a close Game 1 win with two one-sided victories in a 25-21, 25-9, 25-9 Tuesday high school volleyball win over host Badger/Greenbush-Middle River.

It wasn't a good outing for her squad, admitted Gators coach Stacy Dahl. "They (Warroad) are a tough team and make few mistakes," she said. "When playing a better team, we can't afford to make un-forced errors. We didn't pass well and didn't play our typical game. There was minimal effort from us, and Warroad came ready to play."

The loss dropped the Gators to 5-4.

Scoring

■ Kills - (B/G-MR) Jessica Dvergsten 5, Hannah Berg 3; (Warroad) Paula Hebel 12, Nikki Laufman 6.

■ Assists - (B/G-MR) Vanessa Dvergsten ?; (Warroad) Morgan Pieper 21

Tailgate contest will be a part of TRF homecoming

Universal Screenprint and Thief River Falls Touchdown Club Tailgate Contest will be held Friday, Sept. 28, at Lowell T. Swenson Field parking lot prior to the Prowlers' homecoming football game against Duluth Denfeld.

The tailgate competition will take place from 4:30 to 5:45 p.m. The North Country Conference game has a 6 p.m. kickoff.

Contest judges will be Thief River Falls football coaches in grades 6-10. They will decide their selections on set-up/creativity, food selection and best-tasting food.

There is no limit on the number of people who can make up a tailgate contest entry. The winning group will receive a $150 gift certificate from Universal Screenprint.

Mustangs beat Wolverines

A one-two attack featuring Kayla Pelletier with 14 kills and Faith Kruchowski with 13 sparked Red Lake County Central to a 25-17, 21-25, 25-15, 27-25 Monday high school volleyball win over Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke in Oklee.

Brianna Spong added nine kills to the Mustangs' offense and also had a big night away from the net with 23 service points.

"The team played up and down," reported Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray, whose squad went back above .500 at 6-5. "We had a little tough time serve receiving."

Rebecca Polansky had 10 kills and Brittney Forsberg served seven aces for the Wolverines, who fell to 3-7.

Scoring

■ Kills - (RLCC) Kayla Pelletier 14, Faith Kruchowski 13, Brianna Spong 9, Hannah Vettleson 7; (G/G-G) Rebecca Polansky 10, Adelle Prestebak 6, Kayla Tharaldson 6, Brittney Forsberg 6.

Pioneers playing final Southern Division foe

Northland will face its final Minnesota Community College Conference football Southern Division opponent of the 2007 regular season today (Saturday) when the Pioneers host Fond du Lac in a 1:30 p.m. game at Lowell T. Swenson Field.

The season will be over half completed after today's game against the Thunder. The Pioneers will finish with Northern Division games Sept. 29 at Vermilion, Oct. 6, at home against Mesabi Range; Oct. 11, at Rainy Rive and Oct. 18 at home vs. Rainy River.

Northland games against Southern Division teams are worth one point each in the MCCC standings. The Pioneers' match-ups with Northern Division opponents are two-pointers.

Top two regular season finishers in the Northern and Southern Divisions will advance to the MCCC state semifinals – at the home field sites of the divisional champions.

helpful. Pelowski, a seniur, said however, that "if you really want to see what a college is like, you have to go visit it in person." But she added that the fair had been helpful in that she was able to obtain information about several schools in one location.

Tyler DeGroat of Wauben is a junior, so this was his first time at a college foir. He said he wants to attend college, but isn't sure what he wants to major in, maybe art or music. He said the college fair was interesting and informative, and it gave him an opportunity to look at what various colleges hed to offer.

All Lincoln High School seniars and some juniars were encouraged to attend the fair, said Lincoln High School Caunselor Bill Stock.

Like many schools in the region, students at Lincoln High School are encouraged to start thinking about their post-secondary optians early in high school. Fairs like this one offer a wide range of choices for students to explore.

Rebecca Polansky, a senior at Grygla, has been looking at colleges for awhile now. She plans to attend college and focus on a career in occupational therapy. She said it was nice attending this event where she could get a lat of information about many colleges at one location. "It's easier than going to each one separately."

Peter Larson of Concordia College in Moorhead said it was a well-organized fuir. Most students stopping by his booth, he said, were asking questions about academics, course offerings, athletics and music.

There were representatives fram two- and four-year colleges, military recruiters, and academies at the event. Some of these colleges and universities focus on specific areas of study - culinary schools, visual arts, hair styling and design, music, engineering and much more.

Nicki Carlson, adviser/admissions representative at NCTC, said they had many positive comments about the event fram students, high school counselors and college representatives.

Carlson said anytime NCTC can have students on campus and taur the campus it's a positive experience. She added that the college fair, which has been offered at NCTC since the mid 1980s, has been a great promotional tool for the college and they were very pleased to host it again this year.

in the formation of the MEC Jaint Powers Board had suggested that the city put off its withdrawal of the application.

The mation came a day befare several members of the Minnesota House of Representatives toured potential areas for a praposed bicycle and walking trail, and the potential area for the praposed aquatic center. Several members of the Minnesota Senate are slated to taur those areas next week.

In June, the city of Thief River Falls applied for funding fram the state for both of the projects. Due to short deadlines, the application was hurried and officials from the Pennington County Board, the Thief River Falls Schaal District, and Northland Community and Technical College weren't consulted prior to the application's submission. They weren't able to meet face-to-face until Aug. 30. At a Sept. 10 meeting between the four graups, the council learned that the three other member entities of the MEC Board wouldn't be able to financially support the aquatic center praposal.

The council will hold its Committee of the Whole meeting at 12 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 25 at City Hall. The meeting has been moved to that time since the League of Minnesota Cities is holding a regional meeting later that day.

Legislative committee visits area

received comments about the authority and status of the MEC joint powers board, and heard concerns about how to pay for operating costs. During a Thief River Falls City Council Committee of the Whole meeting on Tuesday, Sept. 11, the city council unanimously agreed to withdraw its application for funding. A week later, the city council unanimously voted to reinstate its application for funding. At that Sept. 18 meeting there was very little discussion about the motion, and none about why the council suddenly had a change of heart.

In an interview with The Times this week, Emery Lee, the city council representative who made the motion to reinstate its application, explained that state officials encouraged them to keep their application on the table. He also said comments during earlier meetings about the MEC joint powers board had led them to believe that it was futile to move forward

Most of the people commenting on the MEC board and its role are new to the various boards and councils represented on the MEC joint powers board, and admitted that they had very little information about the MEC board and operating agreements.

Lee said other individuals who were in on the start up of the MEC joint powers board gave them a very different perspective and suggested that they meet with the legislative representatives and put off their formal withdrawal. Lee said he realized that the item was not on the city council agenda, but they had to move quickly because they would be meeting with the legislative committee the very next day.

Regardless of the publicity surrounding these events, city officials said committee members visiting the community were very impressed by the presentation, and the community - its industry, facilities, aesthetics and recreational opportunities.

"Overall, I think they were very pleased with what they saw in Thief River Falls," said Mayor Steve Nordhagen.

(The committee arrived on a bus and they looked at the areas identified in the proposal request by the bus.)

Nordhagen said they gave representatives a one-hour tour of the community. He said the city had five staff people and representatives on the bus with committee representatives, adding that he thought they presented the city in a pretty good light. They hadn't intended on giving the committee a tour of the Ralph Engelstad Arena, but Nordhagen said when they saw the arena they wanted to go inside and look at the facility.

Nordhagen said they almost never get these people up here, so it was good to let them see the community. Even if the city doesn't receive the grant funding, he said, the next time a request comes before the committee maybe they'll remember what they saw here and grant the request.

This Harlem Ambassadors team member didn't seem to have any trouble dunking the ball. The Harlem Ambassadors played Buhly's Bombers in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, Sept. 18. The event was sponsored by the Thief River Falls Education Foundation.

It didn't take long for members of the Harlem Ambassadors to exert a little dominance on the basketball court with dunks like this. The Harlem Ambassadors and Buhly's Bombers played at Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls on Tuesday, Sept. 18. The event was hosted by the Thief River Falls Education Foundation.

Over 850 students from 17 area schools attended the Minnesota Association for College Admission Counseling Education Fair at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, Sept. 19.

Experience Works recruits mature workers

Sept. 23 through 29 is National Employ Older Workers Week – a perfect time for people 55 and older who need extra income to consider getting the training they need to get a job.

In Minnesota, Experience Works, the country's largest provider of mature-worker training and employment, is currently recruiting individuals 55 and older with limited income, who want to learn new skills, gain job experience and ultimately work full- or part-time in their local communities. Thruugh the Senior Community Service Employment Program, Experience Works collaborates with nunprafit organizations and community-service agencies to provide paid wark experience, training and jab-placement services to seniors in local communities.

"People are never too old to learn new skills and continue contributing to society," said Jean Bennett, Experience Works regional director for the five-state area of South Dakota, Minnesota, North Dakota, Montana and Wyoming. "Experience Works offers essential services to seniors at a time of grawing need in this country. Experience Works has examples of hundreds of seniors who have started new careers in their 60's, 70s and even 80s. More than 26,000 seniors with economic challenges have found employment through Experience Works services in the past five years."

National Employ Older Workers Week pramates employment opportunities and acknawledges the special contributions of older Americans nationwide. The week is also an opportunity to recognize the employers of older warkers who establish age-friendly wark environments by training, recruiting and retaining qualified older workers.

Far more information about Experience Works and its services in this area, cantact Pat Fixter at (218) 681-7579 or the regional office at 1-800-450-5627.

Agassiz NWR provides furbearer trapping opportunities

Furbearer trapping opportunities are available at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge from Oct. 27, 2007, through Feb. 29, 2008; however, the raccoon and red fox season will go through March 15, 2008, and the beaver and striped skunk season will go thraugh April 30, 2008.

A total of four trapping units will be awarded to qualified trappers through a sealed bid system. Under this system, applicants make sealed monetary bids on one or all units. Only one unit will be awarded to each trapper. All successful bids require full payment no later than Friday, Oct. 26, 2007. Minimum bids are $40 per unit.

Applicants interested in bidding are nat to include payment with their bids. Applicants must have appropriate state trapping and small game licenses and a minimum of two seasons of trapping experience. This informatian must be on the bid sheet form, which requires that both licenses must be purchased befare the bid is submitted.

Permittees (successful bidders) are allawed one helper who can help trap only when accompanying the permittee on the refuge. Permittees are required to trap predator mammals for at least two trapping nights between Oct. 27, 2007, and Thursday morning, Nov. 1. On the day before and during the firearms deer season, Nov. 2-11, trappers will be allowed to drive only on roads open to deer hunters. Trapping is not allowed in the two closed deer hunting areas during this time period.

Inspection of the trapping units is allowed and encouraged between the hours of 8 a.m. and 3 p.m., Monday, Oct. 1 thrmugh Tuesday, Oct. 9, excluding Saturday, Oct. 6; Sunday, Oct. 7; and Monday, Oct 8, which is a federal holiday.

Water levels are low and variable in refuge pools. Water levels in several pools are scheduled to change during the fall-early winter. Prescribed burns have been completed in several of the units with more burns scheduled prior to and during the trapping season.

Sealed bids must be hand delivered or postmarked no later than 4 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 9. Application farms, refuge regulations, refuge maps showing unit locations, and other pertinent information are available at refuge headquarters. Successful applicants will be notified by Friday, Oct. 19. All successful applicants will be required to discuss the trapping pragram with Wildlife Refuge Specialist Gary Tischer priar to Oct. 27, 2007.

Species open to trapping include mink, raccoon, striped skunk, red fox, muskrat, beaver and otter. Two otters per trapper will be permitted during the otter trapping season. Otter and beaver trapping will be restricted in several areas. All other wildlife species are protected.

Additional informatian relative to special permit canditions shauld be obtained before bids are submitted by contacting Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, 22996 290th St. N.E., Middle River, MN 56737, or by phaning (218) 449-4115, extensions 203 or 0.

Arctic Cat plans to sell South Dakota facility

Arctic Cat Inc. announced Wednesday that it has an agreement to sell its Madison, S.D., facility, which does painting, welding and subassembly work. The sale allows Arctic Cat to further leverage the company's lean manufacturing and strategic sourcing initiatives.

Arctic Cat's Madison operations will migrate to the company's main manufacturing facility in Thief River Falls, which employs more than 1,500 people. Arctic Cat plans to hire 50 to 60 employees in Thief River Falls to handle the additional work. All 89 jobs at the company's plant in Madison will be eliminated. Affected employees will be offered opportunities to work in the company's other plants, as well as employment assistance. The company intends to close the Madison facility in February.

"We decided to sell our Madison facility and consolidate those operations with our core manufacturing in Thief River Falls," said Christopher A. Twomey, chairman and chief executive officer. "We believe this decision makes good business sense and is in keeping with our strong commitment to enhance operational efficiency."

He added, "We recognize that this decision is difficult for our Madison employees, with whom we have developed a great relationship. By providing this long notice, we expect that most of these employees will be able to find other employment either in the Madison area, where current employment opportunities seem strong, or at another Arctic Cat facility. We appreciate their hard work and dedication."

Arctic Cat expects the sale of the Madison property will have no material impact on its balance sheet. Longer term, the company anticipates this action will save approximately $1 million a year in operational costs. The company expects to record a charge of $0.01 to $0.02 per diluted share in its fiscal fourth quarter ending March 31, 2008, related to this announcement.

500,000th ATV

Jesse West's ATV, which he used to claim the World PowerSports Association's Quad Terrain Points Championship, was on display during a company-wide Arctic Cat celebration on Tuesday, Sept. 25. The company was celebrating the win and a milestone in production - its 500,000th ATV.

Johnson awarded medal for rescue

Fertile - Marine Cpl. Coty Johnson, 21, was in Fertile last week, visiting his mother and stepfather, Norma and Doug Nephew. "He is a 2004 graduate of Lafayette High School in Red Lake Falls."

"In August, he was awarded the Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal with a combat distinguishing gold V on the ribbon. He was cited for 'heroic achievement' in the superior performance of his duties.'

"On March 9, Johnson was a mortarman with a mobile assault company of a Marine Regimental Combat Team on patrol along the Dra Digla Canal."

While the team went to help some women push a cart up a slope, the group began taking sniper and machine gun fire. A fellow Marine took two rounds in his leg and tried to crawl to the group but was unable to do so. There was no cover. "According to the citation, 'Johnson rushed to the aid of the Marine, exposing himself directly to the enemy fire, dragged him 25 meters and placed himself between his fellow Marine and the enemy fire.'

"Johnson gave the other Marine first aid until a corpsman arrived. 'He then established a security position as the corpsman prepared the casualty for medical evacuation,' according to the citation." The other Marine was later sent to a hospital in Germany. He is now back in the United States. "Johnson never found out what happened to the attackers or the women." - Red Lake Falls Gazette, September 26, 2007, reprinted from the Sept. 19, 2007, Fertile Journal, by Twyla Altepeter

Arctic Cat ATVs hit milestone and performance goals

by David Hill
Editor

Tuesday, Sept. 25, the 500,000th ATV rolled off the assembly line at Arctic Cat in Thief River Falls.

In addressing Arctic Cat's 1,300 or so employees in Thief River Falls, Chris Twomey, chief executive officer at Arctic Cat, put that in perspective. He explained that it took seven seasons for the 100,000th Arctic Cat snowmobile to roll off the assembly line, and 31 seasons before they had produced 1 million snowmobiles.

Twomey said that when they began the ATV line they did dream about this day, but they never dreamed it would happen in 13 seasons.

The fact that Arctic Cat was able to produce 500,000 ATVs in 13 seasons is phenomenal. Twomey said it's an example of phenomenal growth in the market, but it is also due to the hard work and sweat employees put into building the ATVs. And, he said, that's what they were celebrating Tuesday.

It has also become a successful racing platform for Arctic. Ole Tweet, Arctic Cat ATV general manager, announced that for the second consecutive year in a row, an Arctic Cat ATV had won the World PowerSports Association Quad Terrain Points Championship. Tweet introduced Jesse West of Strandquist who won the WPSA Points Championship, and his brother Josh

TRF committee curbs some parking

No parking allowed near tennis court

by April Scheinoha
Reporter

If you're going to an event at Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls, you will no longer be allowed to park on the southwest side of the tennis court. On Tuesday, the Thief River Falls Committee of the Whole approved a request for no parking in an area on the east side of the 100 block of Arnold Ave. S. The request was approved against the recommendations of two city department leaders. On Wednesday, the curb was painted yellow.

The "no parking" area includes six parking stalls. In the past, parking was restricted in that area from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day. The affected stalls are located south of another "no parking" area.

Hartz Foods Inc. requested the parking prohibition. Warren Hanestad, a Hartz Foods employee, indicated the company was making the request on behalf of one of its tenants, Northern Pride. He said Northern Pride has had "considerable difficulty backing" tractor-trailers into the docks due to nearby parked vehicles. In the past, Northern Pride had to try to find the owners of the parked vehicles to have the vehicles moved.

"We see the problems. We can empathize with what their needs are," said Police Chief Kim Murphy, who added that police officers have ticketed people who have parked their vehicles around LHS.

However, Murphy said he was not in favor of painting the curb

Freedom to Breathe takes effect Oct. 1

Smoking ban takes effect on October 1

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Effective Oct. 1, the Freedom to Breathe Act of 2007 prohibits smoking in all indoor public places in the state of Minnesota, including all businesses that employ two or more people.

Proprietors face a fine of up to $10,000 for non-compliance, while individual violators could face a $300 fine (petty misdemeanor) for failing to comply with the Freedom to Breathe Act.

Under the Freedom to Breathe Act (Minnesota Statute 144.411 to 144.417), smoking is prohibited in all banquet facilities, bars and liquor establishments, bowling establishments, elevators and hallways, employee cafeterias, factories, libraries, lounges, museums, offices, restaurants, restrooms, retail stores, theaters, vehicles used for work purposes, warehouses, buses, enclosed bus and transit stops, limousines and other for-hire vehicles, light and commuter rail transit, taxis and public transportation terminals. The act also prohibits business owners from providing smoking equipment like ashtrays in non-smoking areas.

Smoking is also prohibited in the portion of private residences that are used to operate a business with two or more employees or the space business owners use to meet with clients, customers or patients, and in home daycare settings if the daycare provider permits smoking in the home outside of business hours.

Several counties and cities had established their own public smoking ordinances in recent years. Some of those ordinances allowed smokers to use a designated indoor smoking area that was separated from the rest of a restaurant or bar. Under the new legislation, smoking is also banned in these designated areas.

Dave Olin, Minnesota House District 1A Representative, said he's heard comments from smokers and non-smokers alike, as well business owners who could be negatively affected by the ban.

"I've heard a few comments and concerns from the bars, but I've also heard a lot of people say the bill was long overdue," Olin said. "It will be interesting to see exactly what does happen."

Physicians discuss opportunities for advocacy

by David Hill
Editor

Physicians at Dakota Clinic - Thief River Falls, met Tuesday, Sept. 25, to discuss new opportunities for physician advocacy, particularly when it comes to the Freedom to Breathe provisions.

In May of 2007, the Minnesota Legislature approved amendments to the Clean Indoor Air Act of 1975 that sets in motion a complete ban on smoking in indoor facilities. The provisions of the amendment take effect on Oct. 1.

Rebecca Thoman, M.D., a Minnesota Medical Association grassroots advocate, said that while the legislation passed by a 2 to 1 margin, that doesn't mean their job is over. The next phase is implementation.

Thoman encouraged physicians to promote smoking cessation programs at the Clinic and with their patients, and promote and supporting the legislation by speaking to groups and organizations within their communities.

The legislation prohibits smoking in virtually all indoor public places and indoor places of employment including bars, restaurants and private clubs, offices and industrial workplaces, retail stores, common areas of rental apartment buildings and hotels, public transportation including taxis, work vehicles if more than one person is present, home offices with one or more on-site employees or used as a place to meet or deal with customers, public and private educational facilities, auditoriums, arenas and meeting rooms, daycare premises, and health care facilities and clinics.

The Freedom to Breathe provisions do not prohibit outdoor smoking [illegible] of distance from building openings such as doors, windows and ventilation intakes.

One aspect of advocacy, Thoman pointed out, may involve explaining what the law says and doesn't say. Proprietors may be one group seeking assistance in understanding what their responsibilities entail. According to a Minnesota Department of Health Fact Sheet, proprietors are required to:

- Post "No Smoking" signs.
- Ask persons who smoke in prohibited areas to refrain from

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacours@mncable.net

Fall is definitely here and it calls for more substantial meals even though we are busy as ever. Try some of the following dishes for easy fixing.

Here's a traditional hearty dish that you can set to cook and forget until dinnertime:

RIBS AND SAUERKRAUT

1 cup water, ham or chicken broth
2 (16 ounces each) jars sauerkraut, drained
1 tablespoon caraway seed
2 medium onions, halved
2 tart green apples, peeled and cut into wedges
1/4 cup packed brown sugar
2 pounds pork spareribs

In Dutch oven, layer all ingredients in order listed. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer, covered, 2 to 3 hours, until ribs are tender. Recipe serves 6.

One way to use that leftover pork roast - and so nice to have ready and waiting for supper - just serve with some crunchy buns or toasty French bread:

CRUNCHY PORK AND RICE DISH

1 head Chinese or green cabbage, shredded (6 cups)
2 cups cubed or shredded leftover cooked pork roast
1 1/2 cups leftover cooked rice
1 (10 ounces) package frozen peas, thawed
1 (8 ounces) can water chestnuts, drained and sliced

Dressing:
1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 teaspoon celery seed
1/2 teaspoon salt

In large bowl, toss main ingredients. Combine dressing ingredients, mixing well, and pour over salad. Stir gently to mix. Chill several hours. Serves 8-10 people.

One more easy meal, this one can be prepared in a hurry for a great fall dinner:

PEPPER STEAK CUBES

2 tablespoons oil
1 1/4 pounds beef round or sirloin steak, cut into 1 inch cubes
1 garlic clove, minced
1 medium onion, cut in wedges
1 medium red bell pepper and 1 green pepper, both seeded and cut into strips
1 (10 ounce) can beef broth
1/4 cup water
3 tablespoons cornstarch
Salt and pepper
Hot cooked rice

Heat oil in skillet. Brown beef on all sides. Add garlic and cook 2 minutes. Add onion, and peppers and cook until onion is translucent. Add broth, cover and simmer 20 minutes.

Combine water and cornstarch and stir into broth. Cook and stir until gravy is thickened and shiny. Add seasonings. Serve over hot cooked rice.

Use any leftover rice in this quick dessert dish:

EASY RICE PUDDING

1 small package instant vanilla pudding
2 cups cold milk
1 cup cold cooked rice
1/2 cup raisins
Whipped topping
Maraschino cherries

In a mixing bowl, combine pudding mix and milk. Beat for 1-2 minutes until well blended. Stir in rice and raisins. Place in individual bowls and chill. To serve, garnish with whipped topping and a cherry. Serves 6.

TRF Chamber to hold workshop about giving

Every business, large or small, is familiar with this quandary – solicitation for donations. You want to be a good community supporter, but after all, you can only give so much. Ever wonder how other businesses handle the donation requests? Think you need a better plan? Do you want to know when you should say yes - and how to say no?

The Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce has the answer: the Business Gives Workshop: When to Say Yes and How to Say No. The workshop will be held Wednesday, Oct. 3 from 8 to 10 a.m. at the Best Western Inn.

The two-hour workshop will give all business participants an easy-to-follow strategy for developing a specific business giving plan. This interactive hands-on workshop is complete with hand-outs, sample forms and examples from other businesses to help your company handle donation requests with ease. You'll be amazed at how much you will learn in just two short hours and how easy it is to implement these giving strategies.

The workshop is open to private sector, for-profit businesses only. Reservations are required. The cost per person is $10 for Chamber members and $25 for non-members. The cost includes coffee and rolls and a free copy of The Minnesota Business Giving and Community Involvement Workbook (a $24.95 value).

The workshop is offered by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce in partnership with the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce.

Reservations may be made by phoning the Chamber at (218) 681-3720 or by e-mailing lori.trfchamber@wiktel.com. Seating is limited.

TRF man injured after semi rolls Tuesday

A Thief River Falls man was injured Tuesday afternoon after his semi rolled along Highway 2 in Polk County.

LeRoy B. Ose, 55, suffered a minor injury in the crash, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report. The report doesn't list whether Ose sought medical attention.

At the time of the accident, Ose was driving a 2000 Peterbilt conventional semi westbound on Highway 2. According to the report, he reached for his briefcase. The semi then went off of the highway and into the center median. Ose moved the semi back into the left lane, but the semi skidded out of control and went sideways into the center median. The semi rolled, losing its load of lumber. The report indicated that it was not known whether Ose was wearing his seat belt. The semi was totalled. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 2:36 p.m. Tuesday.

MN Farmers Union honors Peterson

Minnesota Farmers Union President Doug Peterson recently presented House Agriculture Committee Chairman Collin Peterson with the Farmers Union Golden Triangle Award, the organization's highest award of recognition for leadership on behalf of farmers, ranchers and rural communities.

"I appreciate this honor, but more than this award, I value the support and leadership that the Farmers Union gave me during the Farm Bill process," said Collin Peterson. "Farmers Union was there every step of the way, and they helped us pass a bill that will continue to provide a strong safety net for American agriculture."

"Collin has been a steadfast supporter of Minnesota's family farmers, ranchers and rural communities," said Doug Peterson. "His leadership in getting the Farm Bill through the House Agriculture Committee was irreplaceable. We are fortunate to have Chairman Peterson as our leader in the United States House of Representatives, working to improve the quality of life in rural America and I look forward to working with him in the future."

The Golden Triangle Award is presented to select members of the U.S. House of Representatives, and Senate in recognition of their leadership on issues important to rural America. The award was presented during the National Farmers Union legislative fly-in in Washington, D.C.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

The comments published in this column are intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. They are written by independent columnists and do not represent the opinion of the staff or management of The Times/Northern Watch

Dear Dave,

It's a mystery how this letter will read, as I'm not sure if I'm sleep-deprived or if I've slept too much. In the last two weeks, I have gone from working days to working nights and finally adopting a sleep pattern somewhat similar to our cat's schedule. It's my good fortune to be fairly flexible with my bedtime, as the variety of jobs in my past have demanded I stay awake for 19 of the 24 hours in a day (for real - I figured it out yesterday.)

We are heading back to the sugar beet harvest on Saturday. I always have mixed emotions when faced with another harvest. I enjoy the people I work with but feel I should be at home taking care of business. This harvest is special for me, as I have a new ride - a 2002 Volvo truck. I actually took a little time last week during pre-pile to say goodbye to the International truck I've driven the past few years. I always loved that truck. The Volvo, however, will be more comfortable and features much better visibility and an air-ride suspension. Next week, Dave, I will share tales of bravery and stupidity (more of the latter than the former) from the beet harvest.

Now, some standard questions: How's the family? How's the harvest around Carrington, N.D.? How's the weather, and what have you been up to? I guess I can answer the last of the four questions myself based on your last e-mail. I know you were to "Big Iron" in Fargo, N.D., this month and saw the first tractor Steiger Manufacturing ever made at its converted dairy barn just west of St Hilaire. The tractor was on loan from the Bonanzaville museum and was on display along with a column I'd written some years ago about the Steiger family. I wrote the column during a time when Case/New Holland was revealing its 50,000th Steiger tractor. I was honored that one of my columns was able to ride on the coattails of such a great innovation in agriculture. I told Bryan Steiger about the display, and he was going to check it out while he was in Fargo.

Now, a subject of great importance, Dave. As you read this letter, I will be sitting in a church near Goodridge with my wife and Mother Walseth awaiting a wedding ceremony. I know my focus should be on the bride and groom, but my focus will be aimed elsewhere. Once again, I will be wearing dress pants with single-stitched seams. At a time when I should be cooing about the beautiful bride and handsome groom, I will concentrate solely on not splitting the seams of my pants. I split my pants at your son's wedding and did my best not to split them (unsuccessfully!) during our niece's wedding dance last year. I plan to keep my knees pressed firmly together and follow the instructions from my vintage 1956 edition of the Miss America handbook on how to properly sit and stand (a lady reveals nothing), to keep my pants together through one more wedding ceremony.

I was going to enthrall you with tales of my new cattle corral, Dave, but it's not finished, unlike today's column, so just greet your family and think positive thoughts about my pants.

Your little bro'

Groundwater symposium in Marshall County October 10

Marshall County Water Resources Advisory Committee will host a groundwater symposium from 9 a.m. to 12:15 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 10, at the Spruce Valley Community Center in Middle River.

During the groundwater symposium, participants will learn about groundwater in Marshall County. Three speakers will present groundwater information to assist county decision makers with better land-use decisions. The speakers include Jim Lundy of the Minnesota Department of Health, Don Hansen of the U.S. Geological Survey, and Bob Merritt of the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources.

This event is open to the general public. Registration is requested. To register or find out more information about this event, contact Jan Kaspari at 218-745-4217 or e-mail her at jan.kaspari@co.marshall.mn.us.

The Swordsmen to perform Sept. 30 at the Embassy Center

Once again, the gospel group The Swordsmen from the Tenstrike area will be in concert at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston on Sunday, Sept. 30 at 3 p.m. The Swordsmen are well-known throughout the northern area for their musical style and expertise, and varied stylings of music.

The concert is free, but a freewill offering will be taken to aid the group in their ministry of music. Refreshments of a potluck nature will follow the concert, allowing for folks to visit with the group of talented entertainers. This is one of the largest groups in concert to appear at the Embassy, and they return with their musical witness by popular demand.

Freedom to Breathe Act takes effect on Oct. 1

The Freedom to Breathe Act takes effect in Minnesota on Oct. 1, 2007. It prohibits smoking in any workplaces, including bars, restaurants, and private clubs. This act is an extension of the Clean Indoor Air Act, which took effect in 1975. This Act protected people from tobacco smoke in the workplace, but it was focused mainly on office workers. Thousands of workers were left unprotected, including employees of bars, restaurants, and private clubs.

Freedom to Breathe, the 2007 law, says that a worker in a bar or restaurant deserves the same protection from proven health hazards of secondhand smoke as the office workers protected under the 1975 law. Under the new law, smoking will not be allowed in almost all indoor workplaces. There are some exceptions, including indoor smoking that is part of a scientific study, theatrical productions, or traditional American Indian ceremonies. Smoking will also be allowed in hotel rooms, tobacco shops (for sampling purposes), and by workers on family farms.

Smoking will be permitted on outdoor patios, but communities can regulate these outdoor spaces.

Certainly, implementation of Freedom to Breathe will require some patience from businesses, employees and customers as it is implemented. But observers who remember the 1975 law aren't expecting major problems. Jeanne Weigum, a long-time advocate of smoke-free workplaces, recalled implementation of the 1975 law in an interview for a public television documentary on the history of tobacco in Minnesota. "There was no money attached to enforcement of the Clean Indoor Air Act," Weigum said. "There was sort of faith that Minnesotans were good people, and if they found out what the law said, they'd obey it. And that was largely what happened."

ClearWay Minnesota, an independent nonprofit organization working to reduce the harm of tobacco, will help ease the transition by sponsoring an information campaign to educate the public and businesses on the new law. The campaign Web site - www.freshairmn.org - offers these tips for business owners:

• "Remove ashtrays. The law prohibits the provision of ashtrays, matches and other smoking equipment in places where smoking is prohibited. Most people understand that if there are no ashtrays there is no smoking.

• "Talk to your employees about the new law and make sure that your managers or other persons in charge know how to approach a customer who is smoking.

• "Some people don't like surprises. Please remind your customers about the new law before it goes into effect.

• "Use a little humor if someone gets cranky. Everyone loves to laugh, even at themselves.

• "Consider reinforcing the message by using extra 'No Smoking' signs."

The Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says that communicating with employees is an important part of going smoke-free. Among the suggestions included in CDC's publication, "Save Lives, Save Money: Make Your Business Smoke-Free," are the following:

• "Mention the documented health risks of secondhand smoke." The www.freshairmn.org Web site provides good information on health risks.

• "Voice your commitment to help smokers who want to quit." Quit-smoking services are available to any Minnesotan who wants help through QUITPLAN Service by calling 1-888-354-PLAN (7526) or visiting www.quitplan.com.

• "Treat all workers fairly, regardless of title or smoking status." For example, smokers shouldn't receive extra work breaks.

The new law will create challenges for some small businesses as employees and patrons change their customs. The good news is that the statewide smoke-free law creates a level playing field for business competition.

Bars and restaurants also will find marketing opportunities with people who may have shied away from eating or drinking in smoke-filled rooms. A 2005 survey of residents in Beltrami County and other Minnesota communities that passed smoke-free ordinances found that support for the new laws exceeded 70 percent. And more than eight of 10 residents in each of the communities said they are going to bars and restaurants more frequently or at least as often as they did prior to the smoke-free ordinances taking effect.

The economic facts from other communities show that bars and restaurants survive and even grow their businesses under smoke-free laws. And the scientific evidence is clear that smoke-free workplaces are healthier for employees and customers. The transition will take time and patience, but in the end, benefits of the new law can be shared by everyone.

Arctic Cat's Chief Executive Officer Chris Twomey thanked employees for helping the company set new standards of production and performance.

Tuesday, the company's 500,000th ATV rolled off the production line.

Arctic Cat ATVs hit production, performance goals

West, also of Strandquist. Josh was named WPSA Rookie of the Year. Arctic Cat was also the WPSA/ATV championship with its Prowler.

Tweet said they race for a reason - to create the best possible ATV for Arctic Cat customers. That the West brothers were able to take an ATV almost directly from its crate, and with virtually no modifications, win championships with it, he said, is a tribute to the employees of Arctic Cat.

Tweet noted that not only has Arctic Cat advanced its product line with quality ATVs, they've challenged the industry standards. Arctic Cat's alternatively-fueled 2008 Diesel 700 is something no other OEM is producing. The 700 twin cylinder, SOHC diesel engine, provides 50 percent greater fuel mileage over a conventional gasoline engine and provides lots of low-end torque. The engine runs efficiently on six forms of diesel fuel (DF 1, DF 2, DF A Arctic, JP 5, and up to B20 Bio Diesel).

WIC clinics to be offered in October

The Women, Infants and Children's Supplemental Nutrition Education Program (WIC) is being held during the month of October.

Infants, children up to the age of 5 and women who are pregnant or breast-feeding may be eligible for the program. WIC Quin County is very interested in enrolling pregnant women in the program. It feels that prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is important to apply for WIC early during pregnancy. No proof of pregnancy is required.

All potential clients must write or call the WIC Program to schedule an appointment. The following is the schedule of WIC clinics for the month of October:

• Tuesday, Oct. 2, at the Newfolden Community Center

• Wednesday, Oct. 3 and Thursday, Oct. 4 at the Warroad Community Center

• Wednesday, Oct. 3, at the Kittson County Courthouse in Hallock.

• Thursday, Oct. 4, at the Red Lake Falls Community Center.

• Monday, Oct. 8, through Thursday, Oct. 11, at Redeemer Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls.

• Monday, Oct. 15, at the Evangelical Covenant Church in Warren.

• Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the Karlstad Community Center.

• Wednesday, Oct. 17 and Thursday, Oct. 18, at the Roseau Area Hospital Basement Auxiliary Room.

North Valley Home Health will hold immunization clinics at the Newfolden and Warren clinics from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. An immunization record is needed before immunizations will be given. For more information, contact North Valley Home Health at 218-745-5154.

For further information concerning the WIC program, call or write WIC Quin, PO Box 248, Newfolden, MN 56738, phone 874-7845 (Newfolden, Viking, Middle River, Holt or Thief River Falls residents) or 1-800-223-1591, or e-mail quinchs@wiktel.com.

Family caregivers concerns group to meet Oct. 1

A meeting for family members or friends who provide care and/or support to elderly persons will be held on Monday, Oct. 1, in the community room at the Good Samaritan Apartments in Warren, beginning at 10 a.m.

Many of the group's members have a loved one diagnosed with Alzheimer's Disease or other related disorders. Individuals with a loved one in the nursing home or at home are encouraged to attend.

Marshall Manor has a unit specializing in care and services for people with Alzheimer's or related disorders. It is the group's desire to provide a supportive environment for families of people with these disorders.

Bethel Lutheran to host dinner Oct. 6

NWRDC seeks representatives

The Northwest Regional Development Commission is seeking nominations for 13 public interest representatives on the commission. The categories are in the following areas: agriculture, business, financial institutions, industry, labor, low income, minorities (two), seniors, soil and water conservation districts, vocational schools, watershed districts, and women.

The commission encourages groups with expertise or special interest in any of these areas to nominate a representative for a position. The positions carry two-year terms, and members receive a $50 per diem payment, as well as travel expenses, for the days upon which they attend commission meetings.

The NWRDC is a multipurpose planning organization serving Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties. The NWRDC is a policy-making body comprised of 35 individuals who serve as representatives of counties, municipalities, townships, school boards and "public interest" areas.

To place a nomination, contact the NWRDC for the "Nomination for Membership," which is to be used when nominating an individual. Nominations should be submitted by Nov. 2. Appointments for public interest seats will be made at the commission's Annual Meeting scheduled in December.

Citizen participation in the decision-making process of the NWRDC is essential to the agency's regionwide planning mission. Therefore, it encourages the public to give serious consideration to this nominating process.

Contact Carol Sorensen at (218) 745-6711 for a nomination form or for further information.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS

Dave Hill, Editor

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Smoking ban takes effect on Oct. 1

On Oct. 1, tobacco smoke will no longer be allowed in indoor Minnesota workplaces of all types, including bars and restaurants. Proponents of provisions of Minnesota Clean Indoor Act, known as the Freedom to Breathe Act, that go into effect on Oct. 1 are anticipating a challenge. Because of the opposition to the law, I can easily envision legal challenges that put the law in limbo until the issue is resolved in the courts. With no evidence to support that assumption, however, the law goes into effect on Oct. 1, and businesses and individuals will be forced to make that transition.

The handwriting was on the wall a long time ago. In 1975, Minnesota led the way in approving the Clean Indoor Air Act. By the time it got around to approving the Freedom to Breathe provisions, however, it was the 20th state to do so. It won't be the last because experts, legislators and citizens believe smoking is bad for your health. Anecdotally, many people can point to smoking as the underlying cause of cancer or poor health in their families. And as far as smoking bans violating smokers' rights, proponents argue what about the rights of non-smokers not to have to inhale second-hand smoke. Scientific proof that smoking and secondhand smoke causes cancer appears very convincing and overwhelming. We also know that smoking has a significant impact on health insurance costs, and that many businesses, including The Times/Northern Watch, have banned smoking within their buildings. With so much experience and evidence, the handwriting was on the wall - whether it was this year or the next, smoking in indoor public places was going to be prohibited.

Will there be a public outcry or lawsuit when the law goes into effect?

There remains considerable opposition to the law in northwestern Minnesota. Opponents argue that it's an infringement on their rights, it will cause economic loss, and they argue that the science that says smoking is bad for health is poor.

Opponents also argue that adjusting to the change will be economically painful for some restaurants, bars and clubs. Proponents of the law point to some recent studies that seem to indicate that the adjustment won't be as painful because non-smokers start returning to the restaurants, bars and clubs. I doubt the transition will be easy or occur overnight. Owners of bars, restaurants and places where smoking has generally been accepted will have to make it happen, if they are to survive.

I doubt that the transition from smoker to non-smoker, is easy. I am not a smoker and never have been, so I can't relate to what has been described as a very difficult habit or addiction to break, but I encourage smokers to consider the options to quitting. This law may provide the incentive smokers need to quit. In addition, in Minnesota, no adult smoker who is ready to quit is denied effective quit-smoking help because of insurance or affordability. Minnesota smokers can utilize QUIT-PLAN services, which were funded by the tobacco settlement Minnesota received from the tobacco companies in 1998. Now, if only businesses owners had something to rely on to help them make the transition.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Engineering is critical to safe transportation

To the Editor:

On Sept. 13, Minnesota traffic safety officials increased the death toll on Minnesota's roads to include the people who lost their lives in the tragic I-35W bridge collapse. The lives lost in this incident will be recorded as traffic fatalities because when the bridge fell, the victims were involved in an unintentional event involving a motor vehicle on a roadway. This adjustment to the overall number also puts Minnesota exactly 13 ahead of the preliminary fatality figures for the same date last year.

Justifiably, citizens, public officials and public servants nationally and locally are focusing attention on the event that took those 13 lives. In Washington D.C., Saint Paul, and other Capitol buildings across the country, we have begun a vigorous debate that will likely result in changes to the infrastructure of our transportation system.

Unfortunately, while better bridges and roads will indeed provide a safer transportation environment, it will probably not significantly curb the annual loss of life on our roadways.

We should also remember that Minnesota families suffer the same number of deaths (13) approximately every 10 days on our roads. Those deaths, injuries, and losses should also not be forgotten or brushed aside as mere statistics because they occurred in separate events.

Many of the life changing events that take place on Minnesota's roadways are not due to engineering shortcomings, but rather, human behavioral issues. Impaired driving, speeding, inattentive driving, failure to wear seat belts, driver inexperience, and just plain carelessness, all play major roles in traffic crashes. Just as numerous public safety personnel responded to the bridge collapse in August, state troopers, deputy sheriffs, local police officers, and EMTs respond daily to the carnage on our roadways. All too often we see predominantly preventable events that will forever change the lives of so many of our fellow citizens, neighbors and friends.

Engineering is critical to a safe transportation system; but equally important are education, enforcement, and emergency response abilities. As the discussions and debates about the safety of our roadways and bridges continue, policymakers should consider and examine the total scope of transportation safety.

We owe that to the 13 men, women and child who died on the I-35W bridge; we owe it to the 13 people who died in the past 10 days; we owe it to almost 500 Minnesotans who will die on our roadways this year, and the nearly 50,000 men, women and children who will die nationally on our highways this year alone.

MPCA announces availability of grants for water projects

The Minnesota Pollution Control Agency announced Wednesday the availability of about $2.3 million in grant money for lake and stream monitoring projects. Eligible applicants may apply through a competitive application process from now to Nov. 15.

The MPCA and the Minnesota Board of Water and Soil Resources will hold joint meetings to provide information about the available funds and the application process. A local meeting will be held Friday, Oct. 5 from 1 to 3 p.m. at the Beltrami County Administration Center, 701 Minnesota Ave. N.W., Bemidji.

The funding is part of the 2007 Clean Water Legacy funding, approved by the Legislature and Gov. Tim Pawlenty. In addition, the MPCA, BWSR, and Minnesota Department of Agriculture have funding for protection and restoration activities designed to improve surface water quality.

Eligible applicants for all funds available include counties, soil and water conservation districts, watershed districts and water management organizations. Nonprofit organizations, Minnesota colleges and universities, and American Indian tribes are also eligible for the water quality monitoring, training and promotion funds.

To receive funds for protection and restoration activities, groups must be operating under a currently adopted, state-approved comprehensive water management plan, or executing an MPCA-approved Total Maximum Daily Load implementation plan. The TMDL implementation plan must be associated with a project that has been approved by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency.

For more information, visit the MPCA Web site (www.pca.state.mn.us/water/swagrant.html) or the BWSR Web site (www.bwsr.state.mn.us/CWL/index.html).

RLF man charged with failure to register as a sex offender

A Red Lake Falls man has been charged with a felony offense of failing to register as a sex offender.

William Clint Poe, 54, has prior convictions for sex crimes in Michigan and Indiana, according to the Red Lake County Sheriff's Office. He has been living at P & S Apartments in Red Lake Falls for approximately two months, and he allegedly hasn't registered as a sex offender. The sheriff's office learned about Poe's situation while investigating a bicycle theft at the apartment complex.

Poe made his initial court appearance Thursday in Pennington County District Court for the Red Lake County offense, according to the Red Lake County Court Administrator's Office. His next court appearance is scheduled at 9 a.m. Monday in Red Lake County District Court.

Thief River Falls setter Beth Marben (1) went on the attack herself when she sent this ball over the net and past a pair of Moorhead defenders during Tuesday's volleyball match in the Lincoln High School gym. The Spuds edged the Prowlers 3-2.

Spuds hold off Prowlers

Opportunities like this just don't come around very often. Thief River Falls was in a position to pick up a rare win over Moorhead Tuesday, taking the Spuds to five games before losing the tie-breaker 16-14 in a two-hour high school volleyball match.

Moorhead got out of the Lincoln High School gym with a 25-22, 19-25, 25-14, 20-25, 16-14 victory.

A win would have been Thief River Falls' first in the series since 1997. Instead, the Prowlers will have to be satisfied with the fact they won their first games in the best-of-five match-ups against the Spuds since losing 3-1 in 2000. In fact, in the previous 14 meetings between the two teams, Moorhead had 11 sweeps.

"We were close," offered Thief River Falls coach Tammy Sparby. "It was marathon volleyball. The girls (Prowlers) came to win. They played great. They played as a team."

A kill by Moorhead freshman Cory Gilbertson broke a 19-19 tie and the Spuds gained the upper hand with a three-point Game 1 win.

Thief River Falls had the early edge in Game 2, but Moorhead tied it at 16-16 and 18-18 before making a rash of mistakes down the stretch. Haley Teie picked up a point at the net to put the Prowlers up 21-18, then four straight hitting errors by the Spuds – one at the service line – sealed their fate.

Moorhead led Game 3 from start to finish for a 2-1 match edge, but Thief River Falls did the same in Game 4 when a late rally by the Spuds ended with a missed serve and a Brittany Wiseth kill.

In a down-to-the-wire finish, the two teams were never separated by more than three points in Game 5.

The Spuds led 13-10 following a hard-hit cross-court kill by Kassandra Hooten. But a service line error and a net violation tightened things and when the Prowlers' Cassie Gunderson scored off a free ball at the net, it was a 13-13 tie.

Another Hooten kill was countered by a well-placed spike by Frannie Twistol for a 14-14 deadlock to extend Game 5 past the regulation 15 points.

Gilbertson, the youngest player on the floor, produced the final two points of the match for the Moorhead win. She drove a ball to the back line that was ruled in, much to the dismay of the Thief River Falls crowd, to break the tie and then served an ace to finish it.

Hooten led Moorhead with 19 kills. Teammate Kaitlyn Rogalla had 13. Wiseth and Twistol led a balanced Thief River Falls attack with 9 and 8 kills, respectively.

Thief River Falls fell to 10-5 with the loss. Moorhead improved to 5-7.

"Moorhead always has a tough team," said Sparby, dismissing the Spuds' record, "but we showed we can play with them. We've brought our level of play up. We've been consistent. Our teamwork has been great, especially with our back row passing."

Hannah Kainz of the Prowlers (2) beat the block of Moorhead's Emily Bruggeman with this shot during Tuesday high school volleyball action in Thief River Falls. The Spuds' Cory Gilbertson looked on.

TRF swimmers beat Crookston

Three relay race wins were worth 24 points, securing a 107-74 Thief River Falls win over host Crookston Tuesday in girls high school swimming.

Mariah Steenerson, Kailey Bakken, Corissa Kruse and Lacey Stennes got the Prowlers off on the right foot with a first place swim in the meet-opening 200-meter medley relay.

Later, Maura Nelson, Gracie Daniels, Krystal Roy and Danielle Simenson would win the 200 freestyle relay.

Bakken, Daniels, Simenson and Stennes closed out the meet by winning the 400 freestyle relay.

Nelson (200 freestyle), Simenson (200 I.M.) and Steenerson (50 freestyle) were also individual event winners.

The Lacy Knott-coached Prowlers are 5-0 in dual meet competition.

EGF is latest meet site for TRF runners

Thief River Falls eighth grader Emily Jones was a second place finisher in the girls varsity portion of the East Grand Forks Invitational high school cross country meet at the Valley Golf Course Thursday.

First place JaNae Pahlen of Roseau ran a 16:41 over the 4k course, with Jones turning in a 17:03.

Moses Heppner of Warroad turned in the top time for the boys with a 16:32 on a 5K layout.

Team titles went to the East Grand Forks girls and Warroad boys.

"A perfect day for some attempts at personal-bests and to work on being more competitive," said Thief River Falls coach Rick Karboviak. "We had great efforts from everyone with nine top-14 finishes."

Thief River Falls did not field a complete team for either varsity race, but led by freshman Brendan Skime, the Prowlers won the boys junior varsity team title – their second win of the year.

"Our boys JV is a shining example of what we can do when we work hard and decide to focus on our strengths," offered Karboviak.

Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Invitational will be held Monday at the Thief River Golf Club. Elementary Fun Run for fourth and fifth graders will kick off the meet at 4 p.m. Junior high girls run at 4:15 p.m., junior high boys 4:45 p.m., varsity/junior varsity girls 5:15 p.m. and varsity/junior varsity boys 5:45 p.m. A coaches' race that has a 6:15 p.m. start time will wrap things up.

Panthers take team crown in TRF Quad

Park Rapids Area was the team champion Thursday during the Thief River Falls Quad girls high school tennis meet.

The Panthers collected 14 points, Thief River Falls had 11, East Grand Forks 9 and Roseau 8.

Park Rapids Area had individual champions at No. 2 singles (Holly Roepke), No. 4 singles (Bailey LaCoursiere) and No. 1 doubles (Mindy Lawrence, Mary Kading).

Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks both had two individual winners. The Prowlers won at No. 2 doubles (Kristine Sletten, Chelsea Daley) and No. 3 doubles (Sam Buck, Cheyenne Horien). The Green Wave picked up first place points at No. 1 singles (Jessamy Jones) and No. 3 singles (Bailey Mankie).

The Corey Thorson-coached Prowlers will close out the 2007 regular season with a quadrangular at Alexandria today (Saturday) and a home dual vs. Roseau Tuesday.

Prowlers claim 3-0 road match against Ponies

A close Game 2 win carried Thief River Falls past Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 25-18, 29-27, 25-20 in a Thursday high school volleyball match hosted by the Ponies.

The Prowlers were led by Brittany Wiseth with 11 kills and 3 blocks, Beth Marben 17 assists, Haley Teie 6 ace serves and Kayse Lee 21 digs.

A busy week for the 11-5 Prowlers will include a Monday home match vs. Win-E-Mac, a Tuesday trip to East Grand Forks, a Thursday home contest with Detroit Lakes and a Saturday appearance at the Perham Invitational.

Warren-Alvarado-Oslo won the junior varsity match 15-25, 25-14, 15-12 and took the C squad match 25-23, 25-12.

Scoring

■ Kills - (TRF) Brittany Wiseth 11, Cassie Gunderson 8, Frannie Twistol 7; (W-A-O) Jessica Aakre 11, Nikki Groves 5, Marissa Gornowicz 4

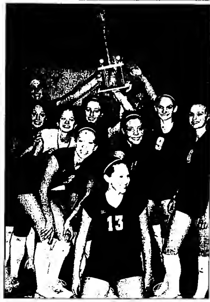
Northland begins Northern Division schedule

Northland begins its Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division football schedule today (Saturday) with a 3 p.m. game against Vermilion in Ely.

The 3-2 Pioneers will finish the regular season with games Saturday, Oct. 6, vs. Mesabi Range; Thursday, Oct. 11, at Itasca; and Thursday, Oct. 18, vs. Rainy River.

Thief River Falls 22-14 winner over Rams' JV

A fourth quarter touchdown and conversion lifted Thief River Falls past host Roseau 22-14 Thursday in junior varsity high school football.



The 3-3 Prowlers led 8-6 at the end of the first quarter and had a 14-6 halftime edge. It was a 14-14 tie going into the final quarter.

Tie-breaker was a 3-yard run by Stewart Baxter. Jacob Langevin and Josh Watne hooked up on the conversion pass to finish the scoring.

Langevin threw a 3-yard first quarter touchdown pass to Riley Simenson and tossed an 8-yard scoring pass to Watne in the second quarter. Casey Swanson caught a conversion pass from Langevin after the first touchdown.

A kill is reason to celebrate in high school volleyball. The Prowlers' Frannie Twistol (8) enjoyed the moment with teammates Cassie Gunderson (15) and Alie Dorn during Tuesday's match against Moorhead.

Championship trophy in the Sept. 22 Thief River Falls Northern Lights Invitational high school volleyball tournament went to the Northern Freeze following a 2-1 title match win over the host Prowlers. The Freeze tournament roster included Kelsey Gullicks, Kinzie Megner, Ashley Hestekind, Kate Holmstrom, Chelsey Davidson, Sasha Megner, Molly Megner, Melissa Blewat, Alycia Dahl and Kayle Helvorson. Northland is a 3-2 winner vs. Mesabi

Four Northland hitters reached double figures in kills Tuesday afternoon as the Pioneers outlasted Mesabi Range 35-33, 30-19, 28-30, 26-30, 15-9 in Minnesota Community College Conference volleyball.

The Pioneers' balanced attack featured Brooke Conely with 19 kills, Alicia Lindquist 18, Leigha Curfman 16 and Sarah Michaels 12.

It was a make-up match from an earlier postponement.

The win elevated Northland above the .500 mark for the year at 9-8. It was their fourth MCCC Northern Division win in six starts.

With just one MCCC loss, Mesabi Range began the week tied for second in the Northern Division with Hibbing, just behind unbeaten Central Lakes and ahead of Northland.

Northern Division (through Sept 21)

	div.		all
Central Lakes	5	0	12	3
Hibbing	4	1	11	9
Mesabi Range	4	1	5	8

■ Service aces - Shewna Rogalla 3, Jenny Fransten 2, Alicia Lindquist 2, Amie Salvhus 1, Leigha Curfman 1, Sarah Passa 1.

■ Digs - Amie Salvhus 24, Alicia Lindquist 17, Kelsey Gust 6, Sarah Michaels 2.

■ Blocks - (solo-assist) Sarah Michaels 2-3, Alicia Lindquist 2-2, Brooke Conely 2-0, Leigha Curfman 2-0, Sarah Passa 0-1.

RLCC beats rival RLF 3-1

Close games went in the favor of Red Lake County Central Tuesday in a 25-18, 19-25, 25-13, 26-24 high school volleyball win over host Red Lake Falls.

Hannah Vettleson had 13 kills and Faith Kruchowski 12 for he Mustangs, who got a 35-assist match from Jill Rewertz.

The win put Red Lake County Central back above the .500 level at 9-8.

"We played okay, except for our serving in Game 2," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray.

The Mustangs had a 20-15 lead in Game 4 before the Eagles closed the gap and threatened to make it a five-game match.

RLCC Scoring

■ Kills - Hannah Vettleson 13, Faith Kruchowski 12, Brianna Spong 9.

■ Assists - Jill Rewertz 35

■ Service aces - Brianna Spong 3, Hannah Vettleson 3, Faith Kruchowski 2.

Freshman lose pair, but knock off Detroit Lakes

Thief River Falls freshmen rebounded from a 40-0 loss at the hands of Grand Forks Central and a 26-16 setback to Roseau with a 22-6 Monday football win over Detroit Lakes.

Central turned a 28-0 halftime lead into a six-touchdown spread in a Sept. 13 match-up.

Thief River Falls led Roseau 16-14 through three quarters in a Sept. 17 meeting when Drew Erickson scored on a 50-yard run, threw a 39-yard touchdown pass to Dylan Langevin and tossed a two-point conversion pass to Brady Meunier.

Two fourth quarter Thief River Falls touchdowns shattered a 6-6 tie with Detroit Lakes. Meunier caught a 3-yard touchdown pass from Erickson, scored on a 35-yard fumble recovery return and threw a conversion pass to Steve Keogh. Ethan Redd added a 2-yard touchdown run and Langevin finished the scoring with a two-point conversion.

Wolverines rally for win

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke shook off a shaky start to beat East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 3-2 in Tuesday high school volleyball action.

The 5-11 Wolverines won for the first time outside of a tournament format 10-25, 21-25, 25-20, 25-19, 15-9.

"The first game was awful, the second was a little better, even though we lost," reported Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke coach Jean Schulz. "The girls never game up and finished with a win."

Rebecca Polansky had 16 kills, Adelle Prestebak had 11 and Nicole Schulz picked up 28 assists and had 7 ace serves for the winners.

Wolverines Scoring

■ Kills - Rebecca Polansky 16, Adelle Prestebak 11, Brittney Forsberg 6.

■ Assists - Nicole Schulz 26

■ Service aces - Nicole Schulz 7, Alisha Verbout 5, Rebecca Polansky 4

Kayse Lee was successful on this Thief River Falls serve receive with a bump during the Prowlers' Tuesday high school volleyball match against visiting Moorhead.

Gators 3-1 winners over Ponies

Vanessa Dvergsten collected 40 assists, while Jessica Dvergsten (19) and Anna Wicklund (15) combined for 34 kills Tuesday as Badger/Greenbush-Middle River beat visiting Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 3-1 in high school volleyball.

The 20-25, 25-19, 25-17, 25-23 victory improved the Gators' record to 8-6.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Stacy Dahl wasn't happy with the Gators' play at the outset.

"Warren-Alvarado-Oslo came ready to play and really gave us a challenge," noted Dahl. "We need to control our side of the net better. We were getting offensive plays, but had trouble converting those chances into points at times."

Dahl is looking for more consistent play. "We need to continually step up our game against every team and show gains. At this point in the season, improvement will be key for wins."

Scoring

■ Kills - (B/G-MR) Jessica Dvergsten 19, Anna Wicklund 15, (W-A-O) Jessica Aakre 10, Nikki Greves 5, Marissa Gornowicz 4

■ Assists - (B/G-MR) Vanessa Dvergsten 40, (W-A-O) Liza Zutz 7, Kristie Novak 4

■ Service aces - (B/G/MR) Liz Schenkey 8, Hannah Berg 6

Scott Bergland will be assistant hockey coach

First part of the switch was reported earlier. This week, the Thief River Falls boys hockey swap was completed when Scott Bergland was named assistant coach under new head coach Tim Bergland.

School District 564 Activities Director Mike Biermaier made the coaching announcement Tuesday.

Tim Bergland was named Thief River Falls head coach in July.

Scott Bergland served as the Prowlers' head coach for ten years before resigning from that position at the end of the 2006-07 season.

Tim Bergland, a former head coach at Fergus Falls, worked as an assistant on his brother's coaching staff the past three years. Now the roles are reversed.

Local pair compete in state 4-H shooting sports, wildlife events

Tanner Peterson and Richard Holand were Pennington County representatives at the 2007 Minnesota 4-H State Shooting Sports & Wildlife Invitational June 8-9.

Held at the Beaverbrook Sportsman's Club near East Bethel, the event drew 219 participants ages 9-19. Competition was held in 16 different events, including various forms of air pistol, air rifle, .22 pistol, .22 rifle, bb gun, archery, black powder, trap shooting, wildlife project bowl and conservation exhibits.

Peterson placed eighth in Intermediate 3 position air rifle, 13th in Intermediate .22 rifle target grade, and 21st in Intermediate air pistol.

Holand was seventh in Intermediate .22 rifle target grade, 12th in Intermediate archery Class C, 12th in Intermediate 3 position air rifle, 13th in Intermediate wildlife bowl presenter - county conservation exhibit, and 17th in Intermediate air pistol.

Northwest Quad tennis title goes to Crookston

Host Crookston dominated the winner's circle Tuesday during the annual Northwest Quad girls high school tennis competition.

The Pirates won six of the seven individual titles to run away with team honors. Playing for a possible 21 points, Crookston finished the day with 19 points, followed by Thief River Falls with 10, East Grand Forks 8 and Moorhead 7.

Crookston champions were Molly Simmons, No. 1 singles; Sarah Derosier, No. 2 singles; Hayley Myrold, No. 4 singles; Rachel Buchmeier-Allisyn Buchmeier, No. 1 doubles; Danielle Persson-Sarah Colley, No. 2 doubles, and Birgetta Martin-Brittny Boetcher-Rachel Lariviere, No. 3 doubles.

The only non-Crookston winner was Bailey Manke of East Grand Forks at No. 3 singles.

Thief River Falls had four second place finishes: Chelsea Daley, No. 3 singles; Jaime LaCoursiere, No. 4 singles; Kristine Sletten-Laura Heske, No. 1 doubles; and Katie Rook-Hannah Anderson, No. 3 doubles.

TRF JV team a 16-12 winner over Detroit Lakes

It was the Thief River Falls junior varsity that beat Detroit Lakes 16-12 in a Monday, Sept. 24, high school football game, not the freshmen as it was reported in the Sept. 26 Times.

Matt Lindquist (15 yards) and Cody Knott (55) scored touchdown runs for the Prowlers, with Jacob Langevin throwing conversion passes to Casey Swanson and Josh Watne.

Roseau Area Hospital & Homes, Inc. Home Care department is seeking applicants for part time aide positions to be employed at Oak Crest Senior Housing. Part time positions are available for all shifts - day, evening and night, which includes every other weekend. Responsibilities include, but are not limited to, personal cares of residents, light housekeeping, laundry and assisting with activities. Applicants must be willing to work independently as well as being a team player.

Home Health Aide
Roseau Area Hospital and Homes, Inc. is seeking applicants for a Home Health Aide position to be employed at Roseau County Home Health Care. Applicants must be willing to work independently as well as being a team player. Prefer candidates with Home Health Aide, registered nursing assistant certification or its equivalent. This 24 hour per week position requires the ability to travel to client homes in the Strathcona, Greenbush, Badger and Roseau areas.

Licensed Practical Nurses - Sheltering Oaks
Sheltering Oaks Manor is currently recruiting to fill a part time Licensed Practical Nurse position. The successful candidates will work in many capacities, including direct care, supervisory work and other duties related to compliance of nursing home regulations. Hours will be every third weekend and 16 hours per week.

Float Staff - Registered Nurse
Roseau Area Hospital & Homes, Inc. is currently recruiting a Registered Nurse for a position on the Float Staff Department. Working sites for our float staff are Med/Surg, Sheltering Oaks Manor, Greenbush Nursing Home and Continuous Care Hospice. This is a 32 hours per week position with hours varying between shifts. Float staff employees are guaranteed their FTE and are accountable to work a minimum of two weekends per month. Applicants must possess good clinical and communication skills and enjoy flexibility. Float staff employees are required to have at least one year experience in hospital, long term care or home care nursing.

Speech Language Pathologist
Join our comprehensive rehabilitation program to work full time as a registered Speech Language Pathologist to meet the needs of our acute care, outpatient, nursing home and home health patients. Applicant must be concerned with evaluating and treating patients with communication disorders, which include difficulties in the area of speech, language, fluency and voice. Supervision for Clinical Fellowship Year (CFY) is available.

Maintenance Mechanic
Roseau Area Hospital & Homes, Inc. has a full time position open at our Roseau facility for a maintenance mechanic. Normal work hours for this job are Monday through Friday with weekend and on-call hours. Duties include building and equipment maintenance. Prefer applicants with some building, plumbing, carpentry, electrical and mechanical skills. Boiler license preferred or ability to attain necessary. For more information contact: Bruce Grafstrom, Director of Facilities Management.

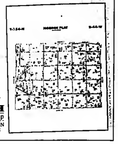
Rep. Dave Olin (right) receives a signed letter of appreciation from Dr. Ashok Petel of Dakota Clinic in Thief River Falls. The doctors at tha clinic thanked Olin for supporting the Freedom to Breathe provisions of the Clean Indoor Air Act. The provision, which goes into effect Oct. 1, basically prohibits smoking in indoor places of employment in Minnesota.

Stephen man injured in accident Wednesday



A Stephen man was injured in a one-vehicle accident Wednesday night six miles east of Donaldson.

George S. Beasecker, 48, was treated and released from Kittson Memorial Healthcare Center in Hallock, according to the Minnesota State Patrol report.

At the time of the accident, Beasecker was driving a 1993 Isuzu westbound on Highway 11. (The model of the vehicle is not known.) He lost control of the car. The car then went into the south ditch, striking an embankment. After lofting into the air, the car landed on its passenger side. The report indicated that it was not known whether Beasecker was wearing his seat belt. The car sustained severe damage. The State Patrol was dispatched to the scene at 11:20 p.m. Wednesday.

made is in the area of lawful gambling. The Freedom to Breathe Act has directed the Gambling Control Board and the Commissioner of Revenue to study the statewide smoking ban's impact on lawful gambling. Olin said the study will specifically focus on the Freedom to Breathe's impact on charitable gambling. Results from the study will be presented to the governor and the legislature on or before March 31, 2008.

Compliance

The Freedom to Breathe Act of 2007 states that proprietors must make reasonable efforts to prevent smoking in their business, including the posting of "No Smoking" signs within their establishment. If an individual is smoking, the proprietor or manager is required by the new law to ask the individual to refrain from smoking.

If the customer refuses to stop smoking, the proprietor or manager is required to ask him or her to leave the establishment. If he or she does not willingly leave, the proprietor or management is required to use lawful methods for removal. The law also allows proprietors the authority to adopt more stringent policies, to ensure that their business is smoke free.

The statute states "it is a petty misdemeanor for a person to smoke in an area where smoking is prohibited, or for a proprietor or person who manages, leases, operates or otherwise controls the use of an area where smoking is prohibited to knowingly fail to comply with the law." It also "prohibits the retaliation by the proprietor against an employee who reports a violation and prohibits an employer from discharging, refusing to hire, penalizing, discriminating or retaliating against any employee, applicant or customer because that person exercises any right to a smoke-free environment."

Outdoor air vs. indoor air

The Freedom to Breathe Act bans smoking in all indoor public places, but the ordinance does not regulate smoking in outdoor public places, regardless of distance from building openings. Outdoor regulations are left up to individual counties and municipalities.

Emily Cleveland, legislative analyst for the Minnesota House said local ordinances will address the issue of smoking outdoors in public places. "As long as these outdoor areas are truly outdoors – they can't have walls covering 50 percent or more of the area – they are in compliance."

In Thief River Falls, this has led several bar and restaurant businesses to apply for outdoor dining permits or extensions of alcohol licenses to include an outdoor patio.

Under the Freedom to Breathe Act, "an indoor area is defined as the space between a floor and a ceiling that is bounded by walls or doorways, which cover more than 50 percent of the perimeter of an area." The new law says that "temporary barriers, such as retractable dividers or garage doors are considered walls, but window screens are not."

Physicians discuss opportunities for advocacy

smoking and to leave if that person refuses to refrain from smoking;

- Use lawful methods consistent with handling disorderly persons for patrons that refuse to comply:
- Refrain from providing ashtrays and other smoking equipment;
- Withhold service for noncompliant patrons.

Thoman said they expect challenges to the law, basically along the same lines they've already seen - economic loss, criticism of the science, and arguments regarding their "rights" and "freedom of choice."

Thoman said numerous studies show that the impact of smoking bans show no negative impacts; and the science is quite clear - smoking, and second-handing smoke causes cancer, heart disease and SIDS. In addition, smoking causes significant negative economic impacts on the economy.

Thoman said it's important for physician's voices be heard on these issues.

In addition to discussing these important issues, Thoman said it's important to thank legislators who supported the Freedom to Breathe Provisions in the Minnesota Clean Indoor Air Act. With that, Dr. Ashok Patel of Dakota Clinic presented Rep. Dave Olin of Thief River Falls a certificate of appreciation for supporting Freedom to Breathe provisions.

Olin admitted that it was a difficult vote. But, he explained that he was able to vote for it in good faith because of his family's experience with cancer, the opportunity this provides to impact cancer in this country and health insurance costs.

Olin said Minnesota may have been a leader on the Clean Indoor Air Act in 1975, but it was far from leading the battle for the Freedom to Breathe provisions. Minnesota was, in fact, the 20th state to approve the act. He said he tells critics that Minnesota won't be the last state to pass the law, and that in the long-run, non-smokers will replace smokers who leave businesses because of the provision. More importantly, Olin said he's already seeing people making decisions to change their lives - to stop smoking.

Stopping domestic violence is everybody's business

October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month, a time when every person should consider what he or she can do to help end the epidemic of domestic violence that plagues the United States.

The statistics are staggering. In the United States, 31 percent of American women report being physically or sexually abused by their husbands or boyfriends at some point in their lives. In Minnesota, as reported by the Minnesota Coalition for Battered Women, 20 women were murdered in instances where the alleged, suspected or convicted perpetrator was a current or former husband, boyfriend, or family or household member. As a result, 29 children were left motherless due to domestic violence.

In Marshall County, 21 protection orders were issued by the courts in 2006. In addition, there were 35 calls for assistance to the Marshall County Sheriff's Office for domestic disturbances. Marshall County Victim Services provided services to 49 new contacts in fiscal year 2006, and in fiscal year 2007, the program worked with 64 new contacts. There were approximately 64 children in Marshall County who witnessed some degree of violence in the home during the two preceding years.

Domestic violence is everyone's business. Abuse affects everyone in the community, and the community must come together to stop this epidemic. Would you like to be a part of the solution to change the attitudes in your community? If so, strengthening your knowledge and skills is the first step. MCVS is willing to come to organizations to provide information, knowledge and awareness on what people can do to help change the attitudes in this community. To schedule a presentation or to find out more information, call (218) 745-5523.

If you are a victim of domestic violence, help is available. MCVS staff are available to provide you with a safe, confidential place to discover what you can do to keep yourself and your family safe. The agency operates a 24-hour crisis line and has office hours of 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, or anytime by appointment by calling (218) 745-5523 or toll-free 1-866-977-4357.

TRF committee curbs parking

yellow. He cited concerns about maintenance and about drivers not being able to see the yellow curb during the winter months.

Public Works Director Ron Lindberg agreed with Murphy, saying that a clarification of the "no parking" hours may instead be needed. He added that he had been told by a Northern Pride employee that the business has three trucks per day, five days a week traveling to the dock.

"If you paint [the curb] yellow, it means nobody can park there anytime," said Lindberg, who added that most of the current "on parking" areas are only designated by signage.

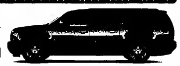
"We go out to the [Ralph] Engelstad Arena, it looks like a paint sale out there," replied Hanestad, who added that he didn't think that the latest request was unusual.

"I certainly don't think it's an unreasonable request either," said Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen, who later asked why the curb was painted yellow outside of REA.

It was painted yellow in spite of the objection of city staff, Lindberg replied.

The curb is painted yellow at Challenger Elementary School, and it doesn't do any good, said council member Floyd Erickson, a retired Thief River Falls School District employee. Erickson said that parents still park there to drop off and pick up their kids.

Council member Ken Schmalz said the need for the "no parking" area on Arnold Avenue South outweighs the public benefit.



After some discussion as to when the curb should be painted, the Committee of the Whole decided to have it painted this fall. The council then unanimously approved the "no parking" request.

The next Thief River Falls City Council meeting is scheduled Tuesday, Oct. 2 at 5 p.m. at City Hall. At that meeting, it is expected that the council will again discuss its share of the bill for a public radio system at the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center.

Grassroots opposition group says, "No!"

Erskine - More than 100 people attended a meeting Monday on the proposed ethanol plant near Erskine. Concerned Citizens of East Polk County, a grassroots group, hosted the meeting at Win-E-Mac School.

"A panel of representatives from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Minnesota Pollution Control Agency, Agassiz Energy LLC and Natural Resource Group LLC answered questions from the audience of primarily Erskine area residents who either oppose the project or want a number of issues addressed before they would support it. Agassiz Energy is the investors group proposing to build the plant while NRG is a contracted firm working with the company on several environmental issues."

"The tone throughout the two-hour meeting, which CCEPC Chairperson Lee Hoaas called a public forum, was noticeably tense." - Crookston Daily Times, Oct. 2, 2007, by Natalie J. Ostgaard

Warroad Police Dept. receives Star Award

Warroad - "At the annual Toward Zero Deaths Conference held in Duluth, Warroad Police Chief Robert Cudaback was presented with the Star Award from the Minnesota Department of Public Safety, Office of Traffic Safety. ... The Star Award is given annually to three law enforcement agencies from around the state that show outstanding work in traffic safety. The award was presented to Cudaback by Cheri Marti, OTS director, and Bernie Arseneau, Minnesota traffic engineer." - Warroad Pioneer, Oct. 3, 2007

County Board faces additional wage, benefits issues Tuesday

Warren - "Steps to implement its new group health insurance buyout program were approved by the Marshall County Board of Commissioners at its meeting Tuesday as commissioners were handed information about a regional pay disparity for a group of employees.

"Late in the meeting, Marshall County Auditor-Treasurer Scott Peters presented commissioners with the results of a wage survey he had conducted for 10 positions in five neighboring counties – Beltrami, Kittson, Pennington, Polk and Roseau.

"Peters said the survey shows that Marshall County's average pay rates for those positions are consistently somewhat lower than the average for comparable positions in the neighboring counties. He reminded the board that it recently approved wage adjustments for the county Highway Department that pegged salaries at 110 percent of the regional average. Peters told commissioners they should consider adopting that same standard in reviewing compensation for the 10 positions he surveyed. All 10 positions are in the auditor-treasurer area of county government and include the license bureau and the custodial-maintenance staff."

Peters proposes salary adjustments for 2008 that total $64,000. "He said funds for the increase are included in his departmental budget for next year but admitted the board may expect him to trim back in non-salary areas of his department's budget." - Warren Sheaf, Oct. 3, 2007

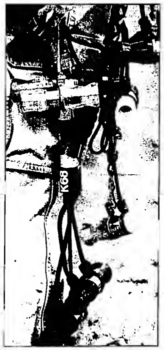
Sunday liquor turned down in Middle River

by David Hill
Editor

Middle River voters have turned down a proposal to allow the sale of intoxicating liquor on Sundays. That doesn't mean proponents are ready to give up, though.

Seventy percent of the 153 registered voters in Middle River, voted in the election on Tuesday, Oct. 2. When votes were counted 42 voted in favor of the proposal, but 63 voted against it.



Sue Grindeland, Middle River city clerk, said the issue has been presented to Middle River voters before, but she's not sure when. This time, she thought the outcome was a lot closer.

Grindeland explained that had it been approved, the law would have allowed intoxicating liquors to be sold at clubs or restaurants, which means intoxicating liquors had to be sold in conjunction with the sale of food.

American Legion manager Donovan Ruud, said it would have been nice if the measure had passed. The American Legion, he said, is never open on Sundays except on or during certain occasions - maybe four times a year - and then the Legion applies for a special license from the city to sell intoxicating liquor.

Ruud said that with the recent implementation of the no smoking law in public facilities, the club needs Sunday liquor to make up for its losses. Since the measure went into effect on Monday, he said it seems like a lot of people are staying away from the club. He said it might be because they are trying to prove a point, and it also might be because the Middle River Goose Festival was last weekend. In any event, he said he thinks the true test of whether it affects their business

Promoting hunting in NW Minn.

TRF, Middle River promote hunting in NW Minnesota

Area tourism and hunting got a shot in the arm this past week. The communities of Thief River Falls and Middle River sponsored a venture that brought outdoor media representatives to the region. During that event, outdoor media representatives learned more about the area, went on goose and duck hunts led by host families, and attended the Middle River Goose Festival.

"It worked really well," said Dave Bergman, Explore Minnesota representative in Thief River Falls.

Bergman said the media representatives interviewed many local guests and experts early Friday morning from Middle River. These interviews were broadcast throughout Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Canada.

The result, Bergman said, is that everyone seemed to be happy, and northwest Minnesota got a much-needed publicity boost.

Friday afternoon, representatives missed some shots, but not story opportunities. Media representatives attended a meet and greet session with the Northwest Sporting Clays Association at the Thief River Falls Trap Club. During that session, media representatives heard presentations from Sporting Clays Club President Tony Dorn, Jr., the President of the Convention and Visitors Bureau Board Larry Rohlf, Thief River Falls Mayor Steve "Beaver" Nordhagen, Clayton Troskey of Middle River, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Conservation Officer Angie Warren, and Thief Lake Area Wildlife Management Area Manager Randy Prachar. Subjects ranged from a simple welcome to a safety discussion and presentation of waterfowl production forecasts.

Then, media representatives got down to the business of missing - shots at sporting clays, that is. Media representatives and guests were given an opportunity

Impact of Clean Water Restoration Act debated

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

On Sept. 27, Thief River Falls was the site of a public hearing about the proposed Clean Water Restoration Act.

The American Property Coalition sponsored the public hearing and three other public hearings in the state. The coalition opposes the Clean Water Restoration Act, which Rep. Jim Oberstar has introduced in the U.S. House of Representatives. Oberstar's bill has 170 cosponsors.

About 20 people, including at least four meeting facilitators, attended the morning session of the public forum at Ralph Engelstad Arena.

Oberstar said the bill will reverse two U.S. Supreme Court rulings and will allow the federal government to enforce the Clean Water Act of 1972 like it had in the past. He indicated that the most recent ruling – in 2006 – meant some waters were no longer regulated by the federal government. "The court then required the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and the Environmental Protection Agency to implement a complex process to decide which waters are regulated and which are not," according to a press release from Oberstar's office. This new process led to a permit backlog at the Corps' office in St. Paul.

"We've seen a 30 percent increase in the cost of cement, steel and aggregate over the past five years and it's accelerated even more in the first six months of this year. This delay, following the Supreme Court decisions, is driving up the cost of highway construction and maintenance, delaying projects, and

MFU president supports Ag bill

MFU president addresses county convention delegates in Thief River Falls

by David Hill
Editor

Doug Peterson, Minnesota Farmers Union president, believes that the final ag bill will be closer to the reform-minded bill shepherded through congress by 7th District Congressman Collin Peterson.

Speaking to MFU county representatives from Clearwater, Pennington, Marshall, Red Lake, Roseau and Kittson counties at their joint county convention, which was in Thief River Falls at the Evergreen Eating Emporium on Thursday, Sept. 27, Peterson gave Congressman Peterson and the MFU credit for an ag bill that makes numerous reforms.

Peterson identified some of the highlights of the U.S. House of Representatives' Farm Bill.

The bill includes Mandatory Country of Origin Labeling for fruit, vegetables and meat after years of delay.

Doug Peterson,

It expands the USDA Snack Program, which helps schools provide healthy snacks to students during after-school activities to all 50 states and continuing the DOD Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Program which provides a variety of fresh produce to schools.

It strengthens payment limits to ensure that people making more than $1 million a year (adjusted gross income) can't collect conservation and farm program payments and closing loopholes that allow people to avoid payment limits by receiving money through multiple business units.

Annexation hearing held

North Township Board in Pennington County receives petition

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

The North Township Board received a petition Monday to annex about 20 acres into the city of Thief River Falls. The petition drew a considerable amount of discussion about communication between the city and the township, and about a utilities and street improvement project that has started in that area.

Seven people attended the meeting, including five people involved with the annexation petition. Dave Beito presented the petition on behalf of his parents, Gene and Gretchen Beito, and on behalf of Everett Ault; William and Henrietta Ness; and Wayne, Mike and Beth Konickson. The Nesses and Gene and Gretchen Beito plan to develop their properties in that area of the township.

The only reason that annexation is being considered is due to utilities, said Thief River Falls Public Works Director Ron Lindberg, who attended the township board meeting. He added that city utilities will serve properties in the proposed annexation area and also other properties that may want to have city utilities in the future.

At the time of the township board meeting on Monday, the Thief River Falls City Council hadn't yet received the petition. At its meeting Tuesday, it received and accepted the petition for annexation.

The council was aware that the property owners were requesting to be annexed into the city. In 2006, Gene and Gretchen Beito, Ault and the Nesses requested minor street improvements to Greenwood Street East and the extension of utilities in

Dine and dance with the Legends at fundraiser

by David Hill
Editor

Thief River Falls Rotary Club is presenting a dinner and dance fundraiser for two projects - the new basketball floor for the Ralph Engelstad Arena - Thief River Falls and PolioPlus. The event will take place at 6 p.m. on Saturday, Oct. 13 at the Ralph Engelstad Arena, Thief River Falls. This fundraiser will feature dinner, dancing and entertainment by the Thunder Bay Legends, a dedicated and talented group of singers and musicians.

Performers scheduled for the event in Thief River Falls include Shane Comeau as Elton John, Jim Roukema as Neil Diamond and Marlo and Lorraine as the Ladies of Abba. All of the performers are accomplished musicians. Tickets cost $75 and are available at Kezar Music or from [illegible] 4191. Dinner includes Chicken Rosemary catered by the Best Western.

Mike Barry, local [illegible] president of Rotary, said [illegible] great night of fun and entertainment. And, it's for the basketball floor and polio eradication.

The basketball floor used at the arena is beyond repair.

Dale Wennberg, Thief River Falls arenas marketing and events coordinator, said the basketball floor was purchased from the Ralph Engelstad Arena in Grand Forks, N.D., and they had purchased it used. Wennberg said it's in need of so much repair and is so thin at some [illegible] that a repairman who repairs floors for a living [illegible] repair the floor, but didn't think it was worth it.

Wennberg said they looked at costs to buy a new floor and learned that it would cost in the neighborhood of $90,000 to replace the floor. Currently, the city is borrowing basketball standards, so it also would have to purchase those two. Wennberg guessed that the total cost would be around $100,000.

The court is being used about three weeks out of every year, but Wennberg said that if they had a better floor they would use it more often, such as for camps and other activities. Right now, they spend so much time maintaining and repairing the floor that it's very time consuming.

Wennberg said a donor has already made a $30,000 donation. He said he has contacted three or four other individuals or businesses about donations. He also hopes that this fundraising project will raise $10,000 for each cause - the basketball floor and PolioPlus.

Barry said he hopes the event is

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

A couple of weeks ago in my column in The Times I wrote about the "Who had coffee where" columns that are in the paper. I called it "Coffee, Cake and Caring." Today's cake recipes would surely go good with that "eggshell" coffee the old cooks make so well.

The recipes are from the Strathcona Grace Evangelical Ladies Aid Cookbook, published in 1977. Good cooks there.

This is a wonderful harvest-type cake, just right for serving to coffee guests:

CARROT WHIPPED CREAM CAKE
Mrs. James Bentow

3 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups oil
4 eggs
3 cups grated carrots

Beat sugar, oil and eggs until smooth. Add carrots. Whisk dry ingredients together and gradually add to carrot mixture. Batter will be thin. Pour into greased and floured 9x13 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees until cake springs back and/or tests done.

Whipped Cream Frosting:
2 cups heavy cream
1/2 cup powdered sugar
Vanilla
Walnut halves

Whip cream. Add powdered sugar and vanilla.

Frost cake and decorate with walnut halves.

I love this cake and it's easy to make in a hurry. No fussing with frosting either - the broiler does the work:

OATMEAL CAKE
Mrs. Conrad Colton

1 cup quick oatmeal
1 1/4 cups boiling water
1/2 cup butter (or shortening)
1 cup white sugar
1 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1 1/3 cup flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 or 1/3 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cloves

Toasted Frosting
5 tablespoons brown sugar
3 tablespoons sweet cream
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup coconut

To make cake, pour water over oatmeal and let stand 20 minutes. Mix in order given, adding oatmeal mixture at end. Use an electric mixer to make sure oatmeal is not lumpy.

To make frosting, mix all frosting ingredients together and spread over hot cake. Return to oven and toast under broiler on rack raised near broiler for about 1 1/2 minutes. Watch closely as it burns easily. Toast until golden brown.

How about this cake for a fall treat for friends, or even as one of your Thanksgiving desserts:

PUMPKIN PECAN PIE BUNDT CAKE
Mrs. Quentin Johnson

1 (18 1/2 ounce) spice cake mix
1 can pumpkin
1/2 cup vegetable oil
1 package vanilla instant pudding mix
3 eggs
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup chopped pecans

Combine cake mix, pumpkin, oil, pudding mix, eggs, spices and water. Fold in nuts. Bake in greased and floured bundt cake pan at 350 degrees for 40-45 minutes or until well done. Cool in pan 15-30 minutes and then turn out on wire rack.

Serve with whipped cream or frost with powdered sugar icing flavored with orange (rind and juice).

I have some fresh zucchini that I saved from the frost (does it ever die?) and I'm going to try this cake - I love date stuff:

ZUCCHINI DATE CAKE
Mrs. Randall Lorenson

3 eggs
2 cups sugar
1 cup oil
3 cups grated zucchini
3 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups flour, sifted
1/4 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons soda
1 cup nuts, chopped
3/4 cup dates, chopped

Frosting
2 1/2 cups powdered sugar
1 stick butter or margarine, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 (3 ounce) package soft cream cheese

Mix eggs, sugar, oil, zucchini, vanilla and flour. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into greased and floured 9x13 inch pan at 350 degrees for 45 minutes. Do not over bake. Cool completely.

To frost completely cooked cake, mix all ingredients and beat with mixture until light and creamy. (May also frost with caramel or butterscotch frosting.)

Leftover deer lottery permits will be made available on Oct. 15

Successful applicants for both lottery deer areas and special hunts have been notified via postcards.

Hunters can also check results on the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Web site at www.dnr.state.mn.us/licenses/lotteries/antlerless.html. Hunters who were unsuccessful in the lottery will be awarded a preference for next year.

For 2007, leftover either-sex permits will be available on a first-come, first-served basis beginning at 5 p.m. on Monday, Oct. 15. To pick up a permit, a hunter must have a license valid for that zone and area or purchase one at the time. There is no additional cost for the permit.

An individual can only have one permit, which is valid for that area only. The permit will allow an individual to take one antlerless deer in that deer area only. As illustrated in the 2007 hunting regulations handbook, the bag limit for lottery deer areas is one deer. This permit simply authorizes a person to take an antlerless deer during the firearm season.

All-season license holders who obtain an either-sex permit may use that permit during either the firearm or muzzleloader season.

Hunters younger than 18 do not need a permit as they can take an either-sex deer without applying. In lottery areas, it is illegal to take antlerless deer for youth hunters.

In lottery deer areas, all-season and regular firearm license holders who intend to take an antlerless deer during either the firearm or muzzleloader season must possess an either-sex permit; otherwise, they are restricted to hunting bucks.

Beltrami County Sheriff's Office mobilizes for seat belt enforcement

The Beltrami County Sheriff's Office will conduct added patrols Oct. 12-21 during a statewide Safe & Sober "Click It or Ticket" seat belt enforcement sweep. About 400 agencies statewide will participate in the nationwide campaign that leads into the summer driving season, the deadliest time on the roads.

Young adults most often neglect to buckle up. A 2006 Minnesota Department of Public Safety observational survey indicated that seat belt use among 16- to 29-year-olds decreased from 79 to 74 percent. Teen drivers specifically are over-represented in traffic crashes and deaths, and the lack of seat belt belt use is a major factor.

The Safe & Sober effort is coordinated by the DPS Office of Traffic Safety as a component of the state's Toward Zero Death initiative. TZD is a multi-agency approach to address traffic issues regionally through enforcement, education, engineering, and emergency trauma care and response.

RLF RiverView Rehab Services to host open house

RiverView Rehab Services will host an Open House for the Red Lake Falls community on Tuesday, Oct. 16, from 4 to 6 p.m. In celebration of National Physical Therapy Month There will be free health screenings provided, including blood pressure checks, blood sugar checks, fall prevention screens, and upper extremity strength assessments. There will also be information available on various programs and services, an assistive devices display, tours of the rehab services department and free refreshments. Flu shots will be available to the general public for $25 during the open house.

Following the open house, a drawing will be held for a free home safety inspection to be completed by the Rehab Services Department. This will involve a rehab professional assessing ways to make the recipient's residence a safe place to live by identifying things that may cause falls or put the family at risk for other injury.

The open house will be held at the RiverView Clinic located in the Park Place Mall in Red Lake Falls. The Rehab Services Department provides occupational, physical and speech therapy services to outpatients and nursing home residents at Hillcrest Nursing Home and is located adjacent to the RiverView Clinic.

Card Of Thanks

We would like to thank the Plummer Lions Club, the City of Brooks, the Tri River Pioneers and all who helped with preparing the meal and organizing the silent auction for the LeRoy Berberich benefit.

We would also like to thank all those involved with the afternoon entertainment provided, with the classic car show, the tractor pull, the threshing bee and the great music by Wes. A special "thank you" goes out to all who attended and were so generous in giving of their prizes and donations.

Your expression of kindness will forever be remembered! May God bless you all!

Annexation hearing held

that area. The improvements were deferred for a year to allow for more discussion after other nearby property owners raised concerns about annexation.

In July 2007, the Thief River Falls City Council awarded a $1,204,932.35 contract to Davidson Construction for that project and the Midwest Minnesota Community Development Corporation project near Challenger Elementary School. That contract award was subject to the annexation of the properties near Greenwood Street East and Nelson Drive. MMCDC has already annexed its property into the city.

After the annexation petition for the Greenwood Street East area is filed with the state, the township has 90 days to object to the annexation request if it chooses to do so, said Art Drenckhahn, the township's attorney. He added that if the township files an objection to the annexation request, the Minnesota Department of Administration will hold a hearing about the request.

The township board took no action Monday on the annexation request; however, it approved a motion related to the request. The township board approved easements for the city from Greenwood Street east to Nelson Drive and from Nelson Drive north to the end of where the city plans to install a water line and a sewer. As a part of that motion, it also approved an easement for the future Nadine Street, but it didn't accept the maintenance of that future street. The motion is also subject to the township being listed on Davidson Construction's certificate as an additional insured party. In addition, the motion is subject to a "hold harmless" agreement with the city. At its meeting Tuesday, City Council approved a resolution that would hold the township harmless if the city's or contractor's actions led to an incident on a township road in that specific area.

Concerns about a lack of communication

At the North Township Board meeting Monday, Lindberg indicated that annexation in the Greenwood Street and Nelson Drive area was requested in May or June 2007.

Township supervisors apparently weren't aware of it. "Here we are in October, and we're first aware of it," said Township Supervisor Scott Bergland, who indicated that no one came to the township board until Monday night's meeting.

Bergland wasn't the only supervisor who was upset that the township hadn't been notified. Was there a public hearing, asked Township Supervisor Dave Strong, who indicated that he had double-checked and found that the township hadn't been notified.

"It's not the first time it happened," said Township Board Chairman Duane Vatsaas before Lindberg could respond.

The township wasn't notified, but all of the property owners were notified, replied Lindberg, who noted later in the meeting that a public hearing notice was printed in The Times.

Strong said that his wife, Joan, never received a notice for their property along Nelson Drive. The Strongs' property isn't among the properties that may be annexed into the city. Yet, other nearby property owners whose properties aren't included in the annexation petition were notified.

"We've always taken a position of it should really be the property owners," said Lindberg in reference to requests for annexation into the city. He said that Dave Beito assumed the city would notify the township board and the city assumed that Dave Beito would do so.

Lindberg said he has told City Attorney Paul Ihle and City Administrator Jodie Torkelson to make a recommendation to the council regarding future annexation requests. That recommendation would be to have a city representative attend township board meetings with the property owner(s) requesting annexation, noted Lindberg with regard to potential annexations involving North or Rocksbury townships.

"In the future, obviously, communication needs to be better," Bergland said about communication between North Township and the city of Thief River Falls.

Concerns about improvement project

Bergland also cited a number of concerns regarding the annexation request and the related improvement project. He said that the city's contractor started digging in the proposed annexation area without approval from the township board.

Referring to the city's project, Bergland said, "Obviously, if they're going to let bids on this, they feel like they own this."

Bergland asked Lindberg what the city's reaction would be if their roles were reversed, "How big of a cow do you think the city is going to have?"

Lindberg replied that the property owners had signed the petition before digging began in that area.

Bergland wondered whether the city's contractor was working on township property. "Are they touching township right-of-way?" he asked.

Strong replied in the affirmative.

"They should've obtained an easement if they're on a township road," Drenckhahn said.

Lindberg said he could tell the contractor and the city could file a cease and desist order. However, he added that the city would incur penalties if that happened. Lindberg went on to say that if an attorney recommended an easement, the city could at least do water main work.

Bergland had additional concerns. "What kind of liability do we have if something was to go wrong on this road?" he asked.

The township could be sued, said Drenckhahn, who noted that the township's liability would be dependent on the facts of the situation. He added that the city could sign a "hold harmless" agreement that would give the township some protection. Even if there were a "hold harmless" agreement between the city and the township, Drenckhahn indicated that a person could still sue the township. He went on to say that the township could be listed on the contractor's certificate as an additional insured party.

Bergland was also concerned about the amount of land that would be located in that particular area of the township if the annexation request were granted. About that area, which he referred to as an island, he said, "For us right now, it's in the middle of nowhere. It really makes no sense to our township."

Lindberg responded that the city's Comprehensive Plan includes plans to "square away" the island.

Sunday liquor turned down in Middle River

or not will be known in a month or so. He said he thinks it will and that the state "went about the no smoking law all wrong."

As far as Sunday liquor, Ruud said he didn't push the issue too hard.

David Thompson, owner of The Wheel in Middle River, is ready to start planning for putting the issue in front of voters, again.

Thompson said it was interesting that the turnout was so high. When it's that high, he said, there's usually some motivation behind it. He said he's not sure what motivated voters to object to Sunday liquor.

With the Freedom to Breathe provisions of the Clean Air Act going into effect, Thompson said it would have been nice to get back some of the income he thinks they will lose.

He said he plans to request that the Sunday liquor issue be put on the ballot next year, too. He's willing to do that because many of his customers are not registered voters and expressed some frustrations about being able to become registered voters. He also hopes that people will see what's happening in the industry and decide to support the proposal. He noted that Sunday liquor is allowed in Crookston and Thief River Falls. "Really," he said, "it's common, now."

Clean Water Act debated in TRF

delaying hiring and job opportunities," Oberstar said.

At the forum, several people spoke in opposition to the bill. "It's not a restoration. It's an elimination of all limits on authority," said R.J. Smith, who works with public policy think-tanks in Washington, D.C. He added that Oberstar's bill gives the federal government jurisdiction over all U.S. waters.

If the act were passed, Smith said, "It's going to go back to the courts again."

Thief River Falls Planning Commission member Don Barron and Polk County Commissioner Warren Affeldt both testified about problems that have occurred with the enforcement of the current Clean Water Act and the state's wetland conservation policies.

Barron said he was speaking at the public hearing on behalf of Thief River Falls developer Gene Hanson. Someone dug a six- to 10-inch ditch and put the spoil on a piece of property that Hanson wanted to develop, Barron said. An embankment was created, and several poplar trees were growing in the spoil. Barron noted that it was obvious that it was a manmade ditch.

According to Barron, Hanson paid $6,000 to mitigate the wetland before he could sell the property and the landowner could build a house. "That's a sad, sad case in my opinion," Barron said.

Affeldt said property owners are paying thousands of dollars and tens of thousands of dollars to mitigate wetlands in Polk County. "It has to end, and I don't understand Congress and Oberstar wanting to continue on with this," he said.

Affeldt was also concerned about the bill's impact on farmland. If county ditches can't be maintained, farmland will become swampland, he said.

Oberstar's bill received support from at least one person testifying at the hearing. "It's going to be aggravating to some," said Soudan resident Bob Tammen, who noted that he supported Oberstar's bill. He added that the Supreme Court "keeps nibbling away" the protections for water in the U.S.

Peat fires burning at Agassiz Refuge

Currently, peat is burning within the boundaries of a 2,025 acre wetland management unit at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge (NWR).

This unit has been in drawdown for four years in an attempt to dry out the organic soils and peat. Last year's drought helped to create the ideal conditions for an effective burn. It has been 18 years since similar environmental conditions have occurred.

This unit was burned for cattail control on Aug. 16, 2007. Since that day, when weather conditions are ideal, multiple areas of burning peat are evident throughout the unit. Refuge fire personnel monitor the burn on a daily basis. Several study plots for a multi-state research project involving the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and U.S. Geological Survey lie within this unit; therefore, an excellent opportunity exists for Agassiz NWR staff to learn more about the role of peat burns in controlling invasive species, such as cattails.

Although prescribed fires in this area are most commonly carried out in spring and fall, Agassiz NWR has been experimenting with summer burns for the last few years in an attempt to better reduce the coverage of invasive wetland plants like cattail, common reed grass, and several woody species. The thought is that burning these areas while the target plant species are growing, rather than dormant, will allow better results.

In past years, when conditions were ideal, peat fires have occurred in various parts of Agassiz NWR, as a result of fall burns. When the peat within the boundaries of these burns was allowed to continue to burn, winter snow events usually extinguished them.

Prescribed fire has been used as a habitat management tool on national wildlife refuges and state lands for many years. There are specific resource objectives for every burn. Some general objectives include: reduce hazardous fuel loads, reduce coverage of multiple invasive plant species (e.g., cattails), and setback natural vegetative succession.

At Minnesota's 61,500-acre Agassiz NWR, controlled burns are the most cost-effective tool for maintaining wetland, grassland, and shrubland habitat for nesting birds, as well as providing preferred habitat for moose and deer. Typically, prescribed burns are completed (extinguished) the same day the fire is lit. What makes certain burns at Agassiz NWR different than most other areas? It's the peat. Peat is an accumulation of partially decayed vegetation matter that forms in wetlands/bogs. Acidic conditions prevent this organic matter from fully decaying.

One of the benefits of allowing peat to burn is that a mosaic of wildlife habitat is ultimately created, including numerous small wetland pools which are especially beneficial to breeding waterfowl and a host of other wetland-dependent wildlife species. Also, allowing peat to burn when conditions are ideal best replicates what occurred during the pre-European settlement when wildfires periodically swept through this aspen parkland landscape.

If you have any questions or concerns regarding peat fires at Agassiz NWR, please call the headquarters at 218-449-4115.

Operation Round Up grants total $11,245

The Red Lake Electric Trust Inc. Board of Directors recently made 22 grants to area nonprofit and community organizations that totalled $11,245. Red Lake Electric Trust receives money for grants from the Operation Round Up® program administered at Red Lake Electric Cooperative. Today, 88 percent of Red Lake Electric's members voluntarily "round up" their monthly payments for the Operation Round Up program.

Two community building projects received grants. The city of Brooks received a $1,000 grant for the construction of its new community center building, and the Pennington County Fair Board received $500 for the construction of its new fairgrounds building.

Organizations providing emergency services received grants. Tri-County EMS of Karlstad, Goodridge Fire and Rescue, and the Thief River Falls Volunteer Fire Department all received $500 grants for new pagers. The Plummer Fire Department received $750 for new flashlights and portable lighting.

Little Brother/Little Sister organizations in Thief River Falls and Warren received $500 and $300 grants, respectively, for their youth programs. The Thief River Falls FFA chapter received a $500 grant to help with the purchase of a new computer and software for its participants' use.

Three organizations received $500 grants for their Christmas gift programs for needy youth and adults in the area. The Pennington County Law Enforcement Center administers the program for Pennington County. Marshall County Social Services administers its county's program, and Inter-County Nursing Service administers the program for Red Lake County.

Area youth will benefit from additional grants that were made. The Pennington County/Thief River Falls Safety Camp received $500, the Red Lake Falls Early Childhood Family Education Safety Camp received $300. The Plummer/Oklee ECFE Health Fair received $250, and the Red Lake Falls Public Library received $345 for a new "child's rug" for its child reading area.

First Care Medical Services Home Health & Hospice of Thief River Falls received $1,000 for its volunteer training program. The Pennington County Community-Based Service Program received $500 to administer programs for the chronically mentally ill and their families. A $500 grant was given to the Thief River Falls Area Shelf.

Pennington-Red Lake Victim Services and the Violence Intervention Project of Thief River Falls each received $500 to fund support group sessions for assault victims.

The Red Lake Electric Trust Board of Directors determines grants semi-annually in March and September. Serving on the Board are Kim Swanson, Thief River Falls, president; Bonny Cote, Trail, vice president; and Rodney Hoffman, Goodridge, secretary-treasurer. Ex-officio directors are Kelly Lundeen, Trail, and Ron Kennedy, Red Lake Falls, president and general manager of Red Lake Electric. For more information, contact Ron Kennedy at Red Lake Electric Cooperative at (218) 253-2168.

Arts Council accepts grant applications

Northwest Minnesota Arts Council, Warren, is accepting applications in four grant categories. The Arts Council serves the Minnesota counties of Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau. Therefore, organizations, schools or individual artists applying must be from those counties. All programs have postmark deadlines of Nov. 1, 2007.

Individuals who would like assistance with the grant application are encouraged to attend a grant writing session at 4 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the Arts Council office in Warren. Other sessions may be added. Log onto the Arts Council Web site, www.nwrdc.org/arts.htm, for more details.

Application materials for all the grant programs are available from Mara Wittman, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 115 South Main, Warren, MN 56762, or 218-745-6733, or mara@nwrdc.org, or through the agency Web site at www.nwrdc.org/arts.htm in the grants section.

Artist Fellowship Grants for $1,200 and $4,000. The Arts Council is accepting applications for grants of $1,200 for adult individual artists. The Council also has the option of selecting one artist from the pool of candidates to receive a fellowship grant of $4,000. Supported with funding from the McKnight Foundation, this program provides artists with mini-fellowship grants for specific projects that contribute directly to their creative and professional growth and development.

Artists may apply for assistance with costs associated with the production and presentation of work, professional training and mentorship including training in other states or countries, supplies related to specific projects and other services. Applications are encouraged from individuals working in literary, performing or visual art.

Student Artist Grants for $500. High school students are encouraged to apply to the Arts Council for training and mentorship grants in the arts. Grants of $500 can be applied toward attending a workshop or working one-on-one with an artist mentor to learn a new technique. The deadline to apply is Nov. 1, 2007. Applications are encouraged from students in grades 8 through 12 working in literary, theater, dance, music, media or visual art. Students must either be Minnesota residents from the seven-county service area or attend a public school in the service area.

Supported with funding from the McKnight Foundation, this program provides talented students with training opportunities, confidence building experiences, and assistance with planning for the future. Students receiving awards have made great progress in their technical skills, built up their confidence and self-esteem, and added a nice reference to their future scholarship applications.

Hispanic Arts Grants for $1,200. This new program is the Hispanic Arts Initiative grants. This category is open to projects that celebrate, educate or enhance the development of Hispanic Arts. Schools, community groups, adult individuals and libraries are all eligible applicants for the $1,200 grants. Successful activities this past year include Cinco de Mayo and salsa dancing experiences. Other eligible projects are after school arts activities that bring Hispanic students together to create art, school residences that bring in a Hispanic artist, or a library gallery featuring the art of a traditional Hispanic artist. Hispanic high school student artists are encouraged to consider applying in the Student Artist Training Mentorship, which also has a Nov. 1 deadline date.

Arts Project Grants for up to $3,000. In the Arts Project Grants program, organizations may apply for a maximum of $3,000 in matching funds per grant. Each organization may receive up to $3,000 in grant funds annually. Arts projects can include the creation, performance or exhibition of arts, as well as grants to host guest artists or touring groups.

TRF elementary students vote for school lunch

Challenger Elementary School students in Thief River Falls will vote with students nationwide in the second round of lunchroom elections to learn more about healthful meal choices at school. This year's candidates include Jesse Wrap, Pippa Potato, Patty Mac'n Cheese, Biff Burger and Yumi Rice Bowl.

The "candidates" are campaigning on their platform of sound dietary values, great taste and lunchroom versatility. Challenger students will be voting Friday, Oct. 12, after eating lunch during the week that incorporates each candidates' menu. The school and national winner will be named this year's "Favorite School Lunch" on Monday, Oct. 22.

Students can learn more about candidates now through National School Lunch Week, Oct. 15 through 19 at www.VoteForSchoolLunch.org. The 2007 winner will go on to compete in the 2008 Presidential-year election against Pete Pizza - the 2006 and first-ever "Favorite School Lunch" campaign winner - and three student-designed "Design a Candidate" contest winners.

The "Vote" campaign and activities will help educate parents and students on the nutritional programs available in schools and reveal the many ways school lunches have evolved. In addition to getting students excited about making healthful choices in the lunchroom, the campaign will relay facts on what balanced school meals consist of today.

Signed into law by President Harry Truman, the National School Lunch Program provides nutritionally balanced low-cost and free meals to students. Nationwide, 95 percent of schools participate serving 30 million children daily. The Thief River Falls Public School District serves about 450 breakfasts and 1,300 lunches each day.

Parents are encouraged to eat lunch with their students during the week of Oct. 8 through 12. Reservations are requested. Please call the Challenger Food Service Department at 681-6851 or the District food Service office at 681-8675.

Boy Scouts begin popcorn sale efforts

Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts launched its annual Trail's End popcorn sale on Monday, Oct. 1. Boy Scouts in almost every community across the Northern Lights Council, which covers the entire state of North Dakota, 18 counties in northwest Minnesota and two counties each in South Dakota and Montana, will sell popcorn this fall to finance local Boy Scout programs. Funds from the popcorn sale are used to provide camping opportunities, citizenship training and leadership development.

The Boy Scouts will be selling 11 different products, including chocolate, caramel corn, cheese, microwave, kettle corn and hot air popcorn. "The safety of any products sold by the Scouts is of the utmost importance to our Boy Scout Council," said Mark Holtz, Scout executive, "and we are pleased to announce that Trail's End Popcorn is the first microwave popcorn to eliminate the flavoring ingredient diacetyl from its products."

New this year, the Northern Lights Council has joined Trail's End Popcorn and Support Our Troops in a program that gives popcorn buyers the opportunity to donate $25 in addition to their regular popcorn purchase. Trail's End will ship popcorn directly to active duty troops and their families. The Scouts want to help support those who are sacrificing so much to keep us safe.

Crop residue provides protection to soil resources

Staff from the Natural Resources Conservation Service in Minnesota are encouraging farmers to do less fall tillage operations. "With such an early harvest, you might be tempted to get back on that equipment and till things up a bit," said NRCS State Conservationist William Hunt. "Too much tillage destroys good soil structure and wastes fuel. I'd ask you to do something else this fall - but leave that residue alone and let the soil quality you've built over the last year sit tight. Resist that urge to turn that soil over," adds Hunt.

Whether landowners planted corn, beans, or wheat this year, leaving crop residue on the soil surface over winter is a valuable contribution to the quality of the soil and erosion protection available on the farm. For landowners committed to a no-till operation, a strip till operation or any conservation tillage system, resisting this urge to till saves money and offers a variety of other environmental benefits. On the more poorly drained glacial till or lacustrine (lake sediment) soils of the state, University of Minnesota research has shown that fall strip tillage can produce yields similar to more conventional systems while maintaining adequate residue, thus eliminating the risk of a no-till system and keeping environmental benefits.

"It means fewer trips across the field, less wear and tear on equipment, better erosion control, improved soil quality, wildlife habitat establishment, and water quality enhancements, just to name a few," Hunt explained.

"Nitrogen loss also represents an economic loss to producers and is detrimental to water quality at the same time," noted Hunt. Farmers are reminded to delay fall applications of nitrogen until soils remain at least 50 degrees or cooler.

For more information about managing residue and nutrients or how tillage might impact your conservation plan, please contact your local NRCS field office located in USDA Service Centers throughout the state of Minnesota.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS

Where have all the hunters gone?

In reference to the attendance of media representatives from a three-state area, an area resident attending the Middle River Goose Festival seemed to be asking whether this was really necessary.

Hunting season is upon us and it's becoming more important than ever to protect and enhance opportunities for hunting and fishing. Area residents who hunt and fish know why these pastimes are important, but maybe we should review why for everyone.

Hunting and fishing certainly has a significant impact on our economy. The 2006 National Survey of Fishing, Hunting, and Wildlife-Associated Recreation, which was issued by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in July 2007, stated that fishing participants in Minnesota spent an estimated $2,489,098,000, while hunting participants spent $475,878,000.

In 2006, 87 million U.S. residents - 38 percent of the population 16 years old and older - enjoyed some recreational activity relating to fish and wildlife. Almost 34 million people spent time fishing and/or hunting and 71 million engaged in wildlife-watching activities such as closely observing, photographing, and/or feeding wildlife. Expenditures related to wildlife-related recreation totaled $120 billion nationally, 1 percent of the nation's gross domestic product. Sportspersons spent $75 billion and wildlife watchers spent $45 billion in 2006.

In Minnesota, there were 1,435,000 fishing participants and 541,000 hunting participants.

The purchase of licenses and payment of fees also supports various conservation funding programs that obtain and protect wildlife habitat around the state. Many hunting, fishing and wildlife viewing opportunities exist only because of the fees paid by sponsmen. In an era when we have become increasingly concerned about green space, global warming and protecting our environment from urban sprawl and pollution, these efforts are vitally important.

Hunting and fishing are also important from the standpoint of the wildlife manager. Declining numbers of hunters could certainly have an impact on the population and health of wildlife. In recent years, significant efforts have been exerted to control the population of a snow goose population that threatens nature's delicate balance on the tundra, and a burgeoning white-tail deer population that has threatened driver safety.

In many areas of the United States, as in northwest Minnesota, hunting and fishing support activities that promote traditional family values. Hunting and fishing often involves several generations in a family. In these times, when more and more pressures are placed on the family, these activities allow everyone to participate; and, they participate in an activity that promotes an active lifestyle.

Hunting and fishing provides conservation officers, clubs and organizations opportunities to promote the values of conservation and safety.

Hunting was a favorite pastime for millions of Americans in 2006. Nationwide, 5 percent of the population 16 years old and older went hunting in 2006. Unfortunately, the United States is reporting a decline in the number of hunters. Nationally, there was a 12 percent decline in anglers from 2001 to 2006, and a 4 percent drop in hunters nationwide from 2001 to 2006.

In January 2007, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources identified the problem and proposed some solutions. The report states that in Minnesota, Electronic Licensing System data analysis indicates that younger adults are not participating in fish and wildlife-associated activities like their elders and the hunting population is growing older faster than the overall population. To address these declines, which have a direct economic impact on communities, conservation funding, wildlife management, safety and cultural values, the state should, as proposed in their report, implement an approach that involves analyzing data, developing marketing strategies, expanding mentoring/education/skills development programs to youth, adults and stakeholder organizations, and reducing barriers to participation.

The impact of a declining number of participants highlights the importance of such promotions as the co-venture between Middle River and Thief River Falls to invite media to the Middle River Goose Festival. It's one of many steps that can help solve several problems that could have a significant impact on our economy and environment.

Nordlys Sons of Norway needs help, active members

All dues-paying members, former members and anyone who has been thinking about joining the Nordlys Chapter of the Sons of Norway are urged to attend a special meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 30 at 7 p.m. at the library conference room in the Roseau City Center, where they will be asked to offer suggestions to help the local organization survive.

In response to a gradual, but steady decline in membership, and a shortage of willing people who are able to fill offices and serve on committees, current officers of the Nordlys chapter have called this meeting to discuss the future of the 37-year-old lodge. Departing from the traditional time and usual meeting place emphasizes the urgency of this session. Attendees, use the main entrance across the street from the post office. Beverage and napkin refreshments will be available as people arrive.

Everyone is asked to think seriously – before the meeting – about ways (large and small) that they can help Sons of Norway to continue nourishing the Scandinavian heritage which can be claimed by so many residents of Minnesota. Consider inviting sons, daughters, other relatives, neighbors, friends and anyone else who may be interested in joining SON efforts. Non-members who are recent travelers to Norway may volunteer to report on their trips at future meetings. In spite of the organization's old-fashioned name, both women and men are welcome to join – also junior members.

Personnel needed in order to continue include at least three new officers and several active committees to handle publicity, hospitality, programs, service projects and various activities. Current officers have served continuously for five to 12 years. Because of family and personal health reasons, all of them, except one, have given notice – with regret – that they will not serve another term. So far, only one new person has volunteered to be a nominee – for vice president.

It is hoped that a return to a downtown location with adequate parking will improve participation. It is also hoped that future meetings on Tuesday evenings, rather than Saturdays, will enable weekend travelers to come and enjoy traditional SON activities.

After devoting the October meeting to discussion of specific needs and options for the future, interested persons will have a three-week opportunity to participate in "rescue efforts" by encouraging lapsed members to pay dues; recruiting new members, especially some who are willing to hold an office; and volunteering for duties necessary to conduct the November and December meetings and eight to nine regular meetings in 2008.

If the membership doesn't come up with satisfactory solutions by the Nov. 20 meeting, a motion to disband will have to be considered at that meeting. (Only members whose dues are paid at that time may vote.) If that drastic step has to be taken, current members will continue to receive the informative Viking magazine and retain their membership at the district and national levels. They can choose to realign with the nearest SON lodge (Thief River Falls). Individuals who have invested in SON insurance will continue with that as usual.

New and renewing members may pay dues at the October meeting. For information, contact the treasurer, Lou Hermansen. Couples who join may do so at a reduced rate.

An interesting program is planned for Nov. 20 at 7 p.m. with the business meeting to follow. Whether or not there is an election depends on response to this appeal. If the organization is able to continue, the tentative date for the traditional potluck smorgasbord is Dec. 18 (third Tuesday) at 6:30 p.m. If results of the October and November meetings are positive, it will be a double celebration.

Happy 13th Birthday TaeLeigh!

Smile, it's time to pile

Short of a fire, nothing gets me out of bed at two in the morning except sugar beet harvest. If I have to go to work then so do you, so let's try and avoid the deer as we drive to R and R Farms near Warren. Tonight, we'll harvest something for you to put in your coffee and something for me to stuff into my wallet.

You should first meet the guys on the harvest crew; diverse is a nice word to describe them. The guys, who scalp the green, leafy tops from the beets, are rota-beater operators. They range in age from fresh recruits to seasoned vets. They top sugar beets in between naps all night long and are an important first step in a storable sugar beet. Next, the harvester digs the beet from the ground, then conveys it high enough to drop it into a truck, which drives immediately to the harvesters' right. The harvester operators are like the quarterbacks on the field - they make a lot of decisions that affect how well the harvest goes. We've got a very good bunch, although the one problem I've noticed is that occasionally you'll find a guy who goes from "quarterback" to "Monday morning quarterback" and spends way too much time second-guessing how everyone else does their job; these guys, unlike real quarterbacks, get little respect and, apparently, no women.

Truckers deserve a paragraph to themselves, we are the knights of the harvest, we're are royalty, we are ... well, we're just truckers, but it's my column, so we get a paragraph. We bring the beets to the sugar beet pilers where the beets take a long winter's nap until they're trucked to the factory. Since 1991, I've driven trucks for R and R Farms. Larry Pederson was there even before me. Larry and I drive identical 2002 Volvos and share a kinship born of experiences from the beet field. My experiences have been mostly positive, except for the one harvest when the trailer I was pulling blew a huge hose and sprayed hydraulic fluid everywhere. It was snowing that night while I laid in that pool of oil like a huge sponge and tried to make the repair. I got the final laugh, however, as after I wrung out my clothes (and underwear), I discovered I'd walked away that evening with about five gallons of very expensive John Deere Hy-Gard. I'm sure my pending skin cancer will be well worth it.

I'd also like you to meet Will Hanson from Argyle, who has been a bright spot for us this year. He's good to drive, but more importantly he's good on the radio, which keeps us all entertained.

Allow me to introduce Eddy Kosendahl and John Rehder as the proprietors of this little all-night, caffeine-filled road show. They used to drive the harvesters but have turned these duties over to the next generation. John sits in his pickup and makes sure the night goes well. Eddy works the day shift, though I don't see him as much as I hear him on the radio. I always imagine Eddy sitting next to his radio in his rocking chair with a blanket on his legs, like the little boy from the Red Sovine classic, "Teddy Bear." Eddy keeps us full of unhealthy, delicious, take out food and always asks me if I still name my cattle and how Lisa is doing.

O.K., you've met the crew and received a brief synopsis of what we do, if you'd like to see what "a night at harvest" is like, then show up next week. It's two in the morning now, so I have to work. I won't blame you if you just go back to bed and get some sleep.

The farm bill extends and makes significant new investments in popular conservation programs, including the Conservation Reserve Program, Wetlands Reserve Program, Environmental Quality Incentive Program, Farm and Ranchland Protection Program, and many others.

And, it makes important new investments in renewable energy research, development and production in rural America.

Peterson addressed a number of topics under the ag bill, including the inclusion of payment limitations, a permanent disaster program, and Country-Of-Origin-Labeling, which is something, Peterson said, the MFU has been advocating for years.

Considerable lobbying has been undertaken to influence what is included in the bill. Peterson noted that the rural areas don't have the votes anymore, so lobbying is very important. Thankfully, he added, the region's Senators and Congressmen have some clout and are listening to their constituents.

MFU is involved in advocacy at many different levels. At the State Fair, MFU conducted a survey regarding Country-Of-Origin-Labeling. At the fair, 2,700 people signed a petition supporting COOL.

MFU has supported COOL legislation for many years. It was included in the 2002 ag bill, but it was never fully implemented.

In conjunction with other organizations, MFU supported Minnesota Cooks at the State Fair. The one-day event challenged Twin Cities restaurants to prepare foods using Minnesota produced foods. The purpose of the event was to help promote local food.

MFU also supported the 4-H Club Purple Ribbon Livestock Auction. Peterson said this is a great way to reward the individual and their families.

Peterson also addressed energy efforts supported by MFU. One topic was the carbon credit program, which was extended this year to this region. This program allows agriculture producers and landowners to earn income by storing carbon in their soil through no-till crop production and long-term grass seeding practices. MFU, in partnership with the National Farmers Union, has earned approval from the Chicago Climate Exchange to aggregate carbon credits.

"You've got a great organization," concluded Peterson. He encouraged members to support membership drives and the advocacy efforts of MFU.

During county conventions, MFU representatives develop resolutions and elect delegates to the state convention. The state convention will take place in November. The national convention will take place in March.

MFU, a nonprofit organization, works to protect and enhance the economic interests and quality of life of family farmers, ranchers and rural communities.

RAHH changes its name

Roseau Area Hospital and Homes Inc. has changed its name to LifeCare Medical Center. The name change was effective Monday.

There will be no change in management or organizational structure, and it will continue to provide care to Roseau County and the surrounding counties, according to President and Chief Executive Officer Keith Okeson.

Homespun Gospel plans concerts in Fosston, Bagley

Homespun Gospel, a music group from Moorhead, will present a concert Sunday, Oct. 14 at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston at 3 p.m. and at the Berean Baptist Church in Bagley at 7 p.m.

About eight years ago, six people sitting in church pews recognized a God-given gift to "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord." The style of country and southern gospel music fit their talents and they began to hear, write and perform music that touched specific members of the group's hearts. That blessing has since been communicated to the audiences around the region.

Homespun is just finishing its third CD. Refreshments will be served following each concert.

A backhand return was made by Cheyenne Horien during Thief River Falls' final home girls high school tennis meet Wednesday against Roseau.

TRF girls start Section 8A tournament play Monday...

Prowlers finish home matches

Combining a sweep in doubles with a victory at No. 1 singles, Thief River Falls beat Roseau 4-3 Wednesday in girls high school tennis.

Wet weather that has followed the Prowlers throughout the 2007 season struck again Tuesday when they were forced to push the dual against the Rams back a day. Even then, bright morning sunshine gave way to clouds by the time the teams took the courts in mid-afternoon. This time, however, rain wasn't part of the equation.

Thief River Falls doubles wins came from seniors Chelsea Daley and Laura Heschke at No. 1; senior Kristine Sletten and junior Cheyenne Horien at No. 2; and sophomores Sam Buck and Zoe Pietras-Swanton at No. 3.

Senior Mauri Gonsorowski added the needed singles point to wrap up the win that hiked the Prowlers' dual record to 6-3 heading into the regular season final Thursday at Bemidji – another weather-related reschedule.

Post-season play starts with North Sub-Section 8A team tournament matches in East Grand Forks Monday, Oct. 8. Semifinals are scheduled to be played at 10 a.m. The championship match is planned that afternoon.

South Sub-Section 8A team play will take place that same day in Perham.

The North and South winners will meet in the state tournament-qualifying Section 8A team final Tuesday, Oct. 16, at the Grand Forks (N.D.) Racquetball & Fitness Center.

North Sub-Section 8A individual tournament for singles and doubles entries will be played Thursday, Oct. 11, at Crookston.

Qualifiers will advance to the Section 8A individual tournament Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the Grand Forks Racquetball & Fitness Center.

The Corey Thorson-coached Prowlers, the defending Section 8AA champions, were shifted from Class AA to Class A this year following the Minnesota State High School League's regularly-scheduled section/class realignment review.

Thief River Falls is joined in Section 8A girls tennis by Crookston, East Grand Forks, Mahnomen, New York Mills, Park Rapids Area, Perham, Roseau, Bagley/Clearbrook-Gonvick and Park Christian.

Doubles - 1. Chelsea Daley-Laura Heschke (TRF) def. Breanne Janzen-Amanda Monkman 4-6, 6-1, 6-2. 2. Kristine Sletten-Cheyenne Horien (TRF) def. Megan Foley-Emily Hallie 6-1, 6-0. 3. Sam Buck-Zoe Pietras-Swanton (TRF) def. Kirsten Didrikson-Kerie Olson 4-6, 6-3, 6-1.

EGF completes TRF sweep

Despite losing a pair of regular season matches to East Grand Forks, Thief River Falls head high school volleyball coach Tammy Sparby would welcome a another shot at the Green Wave in post-season play.

A 3-0 winner on a Sept. 11 visit to Thief River Falls, East Grand Forks took the Tuesday rematch at home, 25-23, 18-25, 25-17, 25-18.

"It was close," said Sparby. "Just a few things here and there that could have gone either way. East Grand Forks has a nice team, but I firmly believe we're as good if not better than they are. I'd love to play them again at tournament time."

The winners got big numbers from Kacie Reardon with 28 kills and Ashley Mertens with 40 assists.

"East Grand Forks did a nice job mixing it up on offense," explained Sparby. "They've got a good outside hitter, and they got some points on the inside, too."

Thief River Falls was led by Brittany Wiseth and Haley Teie with nine kills each, Brittany Guzek with 13 assists and Frannie Twistol with seven blocks.

"We played OK," offered Sparby. "We were consistent. The girls did a nice job defensively."

Thief River Falls is 11-6.

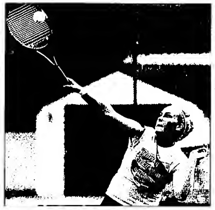
RLF is able to rally for a 3-2 volleyball win vs. Wolverines

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke watched a 2-1 match lead turn into a 3-2 Tuesday high school volleyball loss at the hands of Red Lake Falls.

The visiting Eagles won 20-25, 25-23, 19-25, 25-14, 15-6.

"I was very disappointed with the loss," said Wolverines coach Jean Schulz, whose team fell to 5-13. "The girls have to learn to fight to win."

Cassie Columbus led a balanced Red Lake Falls attack with nine kills. Teammate Shelby Weiss contributed six service aces.



Rebecca Polunsky had 14 kills, Brittney Forsberg 2 and Adelle Prestebak 11 for the Wolverines. Nicole Schulz collected 21 assists and had nine aces.

Scoring

■ Kills - (RLF) Cassie Columbus, Amelia Schmitz 7, Kylie Vatthauer 7; (G/G-G) Rebecca Polansky 14, Brittney Forsberg 12, Adelle Prestebak 11.

Chelsea Daley caught the ball in the center of her racquet as the Thief River Falls senior made a return shot at No. 1 doubles in the Prowlers' final home girls high school tennis meet Wednesday.

TRF Takedown Club to host wrestling clinics in October

The Thief River Falls Takedown Club will host free wrestling clinics Oct. 15, 16 and 18 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at Challenger Elementary School.

The clinics are open to students in kindergarten through sixth grade. There is no cost to attend the clinic, and no prior wrestling experience is required. Clinic participants can come to any or all of the three clinics to learn the basics of the sport.

Registration for the youth wrestling season will be Jan. 3 and Jan. 7, with practice beginning Jan. 7 at the Lincoln High School wrestling room.

For more information, contact Mike Hron, youth director, at 681-0459, or Club President Scott Fynboh, at 681-3736.

TRF football JV 36-14 winner over Warroad

A 28-14 halftime lead carried Thief River Falls to a 36-14 Tuesday junior varsity high school football win over visiting Warroad.

The Prowlers' Riley Simenson scored on runs of 2 and 10 yards; Matt Lindquist scored on a 2-yard run; David Stenson scored on a 1-yard run; and Casey Swanson caught a 5-yard touchdown pass from Jacob Langevin.

Thief River Falls was up 6-0 at the end of the first quarter and carried that 28-14 halftime advantage into the final period.

The Prowlers are 4-3.

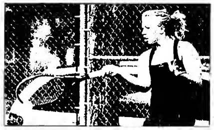
Mustangs overcome slow start to win 3-1

It took a while, but Red Lake County Central took care of Bagley down the stretch with a 27-25, 22-25, 25-13, 25-10 Monday high school volleyball win in the Flyers' gym.

While the Mustangs got back to .500 at 9-9, Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray wasn't satisfied with their performance.



"The girls did not play well - not at all up to their capabilities," she said. "We were not aggressive at all."

Sturgeon return to Red Lake

Ten thousand small, but a potentially very large primitive fish known as sturgeon, were reintroduced to Red Lake October 1. Employees of the Red Lake Department of Natural Resources and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Department released the five- to six-inch sturgeon at a landing on the southeast shore near where the Blackduck River enters Lower Red Lake. Tobacco was offered at the site by Spiritual Elder and Hereditary Chief Greeting Spears.

According to Red Lake DNR Director Al Pemberton, the sturgeon eggs came from the Manitou Rapids First Nation in Canada. "The eggs taken from the Rainy River, were procured and raised by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Genoa Fish Hatchery in Wisconsin," said Pemberton. There, they were fed brine shrimp at first, then bloodworm, and finally krill to reach their release size.

"Sturgeon were indigenous to Red Lake until the 1940s when the U.S. government, administered by the Army Corp of Engineers, placed a dam on the Red Lake River preventing the sturgeon from entering their traditional spawning area," said Red Lake DNR Administrative Officer Dave Conner, "although other issues contributed as well."

It is hoped that by releasing the five- to six-inch sturgeon into the Blackduck River that they will return there to spawn. "But it won't be for a long time," said Conner, "as sturgeon females take up to 20 years to mature and reproduce, although they should grow fast doubling in size by next summer." It is believed the sturgeon will acclimate well to the Blackduck River where there is considerable suitable habitat.

The last official sighting of sturgeon in Red Lake was by the Red Lake fisheries in 1943, but sightings were reported by fishermen into the early 1950s. "Sturgeon were important culturally to our ancestors," said Pemberton, "as they not only provided meat but lamp oil, and of course the large fish - not much more difficult to catch than a smaller fish - fed many more people". Sturgeon dries and smokes well and therefore was easy to store, Pemberton added.

According to Conner, funding for the reintroduction of the fish was provided by the Tribal Wildlife Grant Program, a program that the Red Lake DNR lobbied for and was instrumental in getting created. He said that money for the Tribal Wildlife funds comes from taxes on off-shore oil well drilling, a percentage of that tax going to the fund.

Sturgeon can reach four- to six-feet long, and weigh 100 to 150 pounds. Their natural life can reach 80 to 100 years. They are an ancient or primitive fish such as sharks and rays, and do not have a skeleton as most animals. The sturgeon has cartilage serving as an outer or exoskeleton. These "living fossils" of fish evolution once ranged widely throughout the Mississippi River, the Great Lakes and the Hudson River, as well as Red Lake.

In the last century, this large, bottom-feeding fish, browsing along the bottom, was often regarded as a nuisance because it became entangled in and ripped commercial fishing nets. Only later did the sturgeon become prized for its meat, eggs (caviar) and oil. A gelatin from the inner lining of its air bladder was used to make isinglass - a substance used as a clarifying agent in jellies, glues and in the isinglass windows of carriages and early cars.

Unfortunately, the sturgeon was exceptionally vulnerable to over-fishing, largely because of its slow reproductive cycle. The female requires more than 20 years to mature, and then it spawns only every four to six years during its lifespan.

At the landing, the Blackduck River welcomed the sturgeon, and the sturgeon showed their happiness at finally being released from stainless steel tanks that must have been getting quite crowded with their 10,000 brothers and sisters. As one watched from the landing, one could see many of these small primitive fish gleefully jumping out of the water over and over on a warm sunny October day. Free at last and happy to be home.

Sturgeon were reintroduced to Red Lake Monday with the release of 10,000 fish like this one in the five- to six-inch size by employees of the Red Lake Department of Natural Resources and the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service (Submitted photo) to shoot at three sporting clay stations. Each station presents shooters with a challenging look at clay targets. These targets travel at different speeds and altitudes, and are difficult to hit. It was all done to give everyone a last-minute opportunity to brush up on their shooting skills before they hit the fields for duck and goose hunting.

Promoting hunting in NW Minnesota

Host families took groups of hunters out to the fields Saturday and Sunday. Reports from the field Saturday indicated that some of the guests didn't get any shooting, while others were still in the field and shooting while the Middle River Goose Festival parade was starting. Encouraged, some of the media representatives stayed around for another day of hunting.

Randy Prachar, area wildlife manager at Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area, said locally, duck and goose production was poor this year. Cold weather in April affected duck nesting, and floodwaters in June destroyed many goose nests. But, production in Manitoba, Canada was good. As far as numbers of ducks and geese on Thief Lake prior to Saturday, Prachar said their estimates were very conservative with 4,000 to 5,000 ducks, and 8,000 to 9,000 geese. On Monday, Prachar said their game checks indicated that duck hunting was good with 2.5 ducks per hunter per day. Goose hunting was a little better on Saturday than Sunday, he said.

Diana Josephson, executive director of the Thief River Falls Convention and Visitors Bureau, said they're still analyzing everything, but she believed the media event went very well and everyone was satisfied. She said she hopes there will be a good return for Thief River Falls next year and every year after that.

Media representatives participating in a co-venture sponsored by Middle River and Thief River Falls met at the Thief River Falls Trap Club Friday afternoon to review safety rules and learn more about the region and the people who live here.

Anne Temte to speak at Oct. 9 Kiwanis Club meeting

Anne Temte of Northland Community and Technical College will be the guest speaker for the Oct. 9 meeting of the Thief River Falls Kiwanis Club. Sons of Norway Granlund Lodge to host meatball supper

The Sons of Norway Granlund Lodge No. 240 of the Sons of Norway will hold its next meeting on Thursday, Oct. 18 at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

The supper meeting will convene at 6:30 p.m. It will be catered by Gunderson Catering of Bejou. Reservations must be made with president Helen Sordahl, 218-268-4465, or Lodge Social Chairperson Mae Johannessohn, 218-435-1971. There will be a musical program by the Wold Brothers and Mae Johannessohn.

Deve Bergmen (center, standing), Explore Minnesota representative in Thief River Falls, visits with outdoor media about what this region has to offer.

Two sporting clay targets slip away into the forest. Sporting clays offers shooting enthusiasts a difficult challenge. Three stations were set up at the Thief River Falls Trap Club Friday for media representatives taking part in a joint venture between Middle River and Thief River Falls.

Marshall Co. drops health insurance

What happens when health insurance becomes more of a burden than a benefit?

by David Hill
Editor

When health insurance became more of a burden than a benefit, Marshall County decided it was time to do something different. They did and it has a lot of people concerned about the new direction.

On Sept. 18, the Marshall County Board of Commissioners approved a resolution to discontinue the county's group health insurance program and instead pay employees $600 per month for a single insurance policy bought by the employees on their own, or $900 for those needing to buy a family policy.

Not everyone has agreed with that decision. Now, an open forum is scheduled to discuss the issue at 9 a.m. prior to the Commissioner's meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 16.

County Commissioner Sharon Bring, who opposed the resolution, submitted a letter to a newspaper in Middle River recently that explained that as of 2008, the county board rescinded its previous decision to stay with the Northwest Service Co-op plan, which was to offer a Health Service Account along with a high deductible plan of $2,650 for single and $5,250 for family. The HSA account would have started out with a $1,425 contribution for each employee by Marshall County in an effort to ease the expense for employees who have high medical costs early in the year. The county has been paying $375 for a single policy and $844 for a family policy.

Bring said the county's insurance group hasn't always had a good rating due to illness among its insured, so it battled to keep insurance affordable by making adjustments to things like co-pays in drug purchases. In the past two years, the county offered high deductible plans including the VEBA health reimbursement arrangement in an effort to keep costs in line.

Bring said rate increases jumped over 14.4 percent for the year 2008, and the county's decision not to pay the entire amount of the insurance for the single plan and to not raise the amount paid for the family, did not sit well with some employees of the county. Those employees came up with an alternate plan.

The plan

The plan presented by Marshall County department directors and supervisors asked the county to discontinue offering group insurance

Drawing the Line: Boundary issues a concern during hunting season

Fosston - "Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Conservation Officers Dan Malinowski and Stuart Benson said the 2007 hunting season has gone well so far. According to Malinowski, black bears have increased their activity east of Highway 59. The reason is that a drop in natural food sources has caused the animals to widen their search for food.

"This is a benefit for hunters but is a nuisance for property owners. Malinowski said he has responded to 19 calls about problem bears. Seven had been taken by special permission in August. Bear season started Sept. 1 and ends this Sunday, Oct. 14.

"Despite the great start, conflicts over property issues have added to both Benson's and Malinowski's workload. Though a common problem during hunting, Benson stated that trespassing complaints make up 80 percent of the calls they receive.

"He went on to comment that most problems could be avoided if hunters would get permission on a yearly basis from property owners. Benson said this is especially important since properties often change hands. What may have been permissible under one owner may not be the same for a new landowner." - The 13 Towns of Fosston, Oct. 9, 2007, by Dan Kindall

Old safes, not so safe

Middle River - "Clayton Troskey said there were a few tears shed by veteran bank employees Jeanie Beito and LeMae Ryba as the old safe was removed from Border State Bank last Wednesday.

"The safe was built around 1900 and weighed about 2,500 pounds. The odd mushroom shape was common in the early 1900s, built so that it would tip over if it was moved and thus it couldn't be dragged by horses in a bank robbery. The safe was installed in the bank when it first opened, and though no one knows the exact year, Troskey thinks it was sometime in the 1920s.

"The old safe has been donated to the city of Middle River. In order to move it to its new location in the Fire Hall, steel plates were placed on the floor, and the safe was rolled out. It could only be moved three to four inches at a time. Once the safe was out into the street, it was loaded onto Davidson's Ford tractor with hooks on the bucket, chained into the bucket and driven to the Fire Hall. Safe Tech, a company from Fargo, N.D., which specializes in the removal and installation of safes, was hired to supervise the move.

"Although the safe is still in working condition, it was removed, and a new DieBold safe has been installed in the Middle River, Greenbush and Badger branches of Border State Bank. The installation was prompted by a problem at the Greenbush branch. Approximately three months ago, the gears went out on the safe, and because the safe was so old, it was impossible to get the parts to repair it. Men from Minneapolis had to come with special equipment to drill the safe open." - The Tribune of Greenbush, Oct. 10, 2007, by Barb Greer

Area school districts offer referendums

by David Hill
Editor

Four area school districts are asking voters to consider either a levy or bonding referendums. Two of the referendums are for operations, and two are for capital improvements.

The second-highest number of school districts ever are going out for an operating levy referendum this fall. The Minnesota School Board Association's 2007 Referendum Survey of 341 districts across the state show 99 districts are considering a ballot request this year. That's the highest number of districts since 188 districts went out for a referendum in 2001. It is the second-highest number since MSBA began tracking referenda in 1980.

An additional 40 districts have asked or are trying for bond referendums or capital project levies this year.

The MSBA says that though some are simply renewing levies that are expiring, many districts know that a 1 percent state increase for schools in FY08 won't go far with inflation, so they are asking local citizens for help to avoid budget cuts.

Election day is Nov. 6

Roseau voters will be asked whether the district should be authorized to issue general obligation school building bonds in an amount not to exceed $495,000 to provide funds for the acquisition and betterment of school sites and facilities.

Roseau School District Superintendent Larry Guggisberg explained that the School District seeks voter approval to retain local tax dollars collected to pay for construction bonds previously approved by voters. In 1989, the school district entered into an agreement with the state to build facilities. The District has been paying back the loans, and is scheduled to send nearly $450,000 to the State of Minnesota next year. Under state law, if the local taxes collected to pay for the construction bond exceeds the required bond payment, the District is required to pay the excess local taxes to the State of Minnesota. But, with voter approval, the local taxes collected

A wedding dress to remember

It cost only $25, but it has created priceless memories

At a family reunion on Aug. 15, four generations of a family tugged, squeezed, cried and giggled as they tried to put on a wedding dress. No, trying on wedding dresses is not the typical activity for a family reunion, but this was no ordinary wedding dress.

These four women share many things, but they each share a special bond that comes from wearing the same wedding dress at their weddings.

Adeline Lorentson bought a wedding dress in Minneapolis for $25 and wore it when she married Louis "Lou" Benson at the Mission Covenant Church in Thief River Falls on Nov. 4, 1943. Lou came to Thief River Falls to run a youth summer program, and play baseball for local teams. During World War II he flew transport planes in the Pacific Theater. He later became a school teacher, principal and superintendent of schools. Adeline and Lou had three sons and a daughter, and now reside in Watertown, Minn.

Lorraine Swanson, a cousin to Adeline, said she liked it, and wore the dress on Aug. 23, 1947 when she married Paul Sjulson. She worked for Fred Lorentson, then registrar of deeds in Thief River Falls. Paul was a teacher, carpenter and then owner of Sjulson Hatcheries in St. Hilaire along with Paul's brother Harry. Lorraine and Paul have four daughters and now live in Texas.

Shirley Kruse, a cousin of Adeline and Lorraine, who saw the dress and liked it, wore it Sept. 2, 1949 when she was the bride of Robert Sorvig. Both Robert and Shirley are lifelong residents of the area. They have six children, four boys and two girls. At their 40th anniversary, daughters Deb and Carol wanted to see Mom's wedding dress. Adeline Benson brought it to the celebration where it was displayed. It was then displayed again at Shirley and Robert's 50th wedding anniversary.

At the anniversary, Carol and Deb tried the dress on.

On Nov. 4, 1943, Adeline Lorentson married Louis Benson at the Mission Covenant Church in Thief River Falls. She paid $25 for the wedding dress, but that wedding dress was used by three other women.

TRF snowplowing policies discussed

As winter approaches, TRF will consider several snowplowing recommendations

by April Schelnoha
Reporter

Snowflakes fell from the sky Tuesday, the same day that the Thief River Falls Committee of the Whole discussed the city's snowplowing policy.

About three-fourths of the 55-minute meeting was spent on a discussion about snowplowing. It is anticipated that the issue will be discussed again at the Oct. 16 meeting of the Thief River Falls City Council. That meeting will be held at 5 p.m. at City Hall. At that time, it is expected that the council will receive recommendations regarding snowplowing, including a possible recommendation regarding calendar parking in municipal parking lots. The council will then review the recommendations and make a determination.

Plowing snow from municipal parking lots

At the Committee of the Whole meeting, a considerable amount of attention was given to municipal parking lots. Many drivers leave their vehicles parked in some municipal parking lots for extended periods of time. Motorists are only supposed to park in those lots for a maximum of 24 hours a day. One particular problem area is the municipal parking lot near Johnson Funeral Service.

"Some of them don't move for weeks," said Streets Supervisor Randy Konickson, who noted that the Street Department can't do a good job of plowing snow in those situations.

City leaders have tried to remedy the problem. "Yes, we've towed vehicles," said Police Chief Kim Murphy. "We've ticketed them."

Flyers have also been placed on vehicles belonging to downtown apartment dwellers in an effort to have them provide their contact information to the city. "That participation has been dwindling in the past couple of years," Murphy said.

City leaders have also discussed the possibility of having parking permits for those apartment tenants who park overnight in municipal

Gamble on Nashville is paying off for Roseau native

by Scott DCamp
Reporter

Last year, Kari Nelson took the gamble of a lifetime and opted to pursue her dream of a career in country music as a fiddle player, instead of attending college at the University of North Dakota. A year later, Nelson is not yet a household name in the country music business, but she has managed to balance a year's worth of online correspondence classes through UND while playing countless gigs in the country music capital, Nashville, Tenn.

Nelson, a 19-year-old Roseau native, made the difficult, life-changing decision in the summer of 2006, following a 10-day visit to Nashville. She didn't go into her short visit with any big expectations – but she had never been to the city before and she said it was a "good time for a visit."

The visit was precipitated by a chance meeting between Nelson's father, Kevin, and a fellow truck driver, Jim Newton. The two [illegible] the spring of 2006 and [illegible] cussing country music, when [illegible] mentioned that his sons [illegible] and Loren, were both country musicians who regularly play in Nashville. Kevin revealed his daughter's aspirations and Newton helped organize a short Nashville preview.

During her 10-day visit in June 2006, Nelson was able to play at many Nashville clubs, like the Crossroads, Second Fiddle, Legends Corner and Tootsie's Orchid Lounge. Those same clubs were the birthplaces of the careers of stars like Dolly Parton, Johnny Cash and Willie Nelson. Nelson was also

The following recipes were in a little cookbook called "Feeding the Flock" that I bought at a rummage sale. It appears to have been published in 1997 and was dedicated to "all the people that have cancer and who are handicapped in some way."

Here's an easy, quick and healthy soup to help you clean up the last of the garden goodies:

TOMATO RICE SOUP
Marlis Olson

2 tablespoons butter
1 large onion, chopped
6 large tomatoes, chopped
4-6 basil leaves
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 cups chicken stock
1 cup cooked brown rice

Melt butter in skillet. Sauté onion until wilted. Add tomatoes, basil and pepper and simmer, covered, for 15 minutes. Puree in a food processor or press through sieve to remove tomato skins and seed.

Place chicken stock, tomato pulp and rice in large pot. Heat gently and serve hot.

What better time than now to enjoy a dish like this:

HEARTY POT ROAST
Joann Meek

1/4 cup corn oil
4 to 5 pound chuck roast
2 medium onions, sliced
3 cups beef bouillon
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
2 bay leaves
1 pound carrots, cut in 2 inch pieces
1 pound small white potatoes
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 cup water

Heat oil in Dutch oven over medium heat. Add roast and brown on all sides.

Add onions, bouillon, salt, pepper and bay leaves, cover and bring to a boil. Reduce heat and simmer 2 hours.

Add carrots and potatoes and continue cooking for 30 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender. Remove meat and vegetables to platter and keep warm.

Stir mixture of cornstarch and water until smooth and then stir into juice in Dutch oven. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly, and boil for 1 minute. Serve over meat and vegetables or in a small pitcher alongside.

How about baking powder biscuits to go with either of the meals above - use a light hand and stir as little and as short a time as possible:

BAKING POWDER BISCUITS
Sugar Carlson

2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
2/3 to 3/4 cup milk

Mix flour, salt and baking powder. Mix milk and shortening together until creamy (I would mix with my pastry cutter and keep the shortening cold - SL.) Add to dry ingredients and mix just until moistened and holds shape (do not overmix). Roll out or pat to 1/2 inch thick and cut with glass. Place on cookie sheet and bake at 450 degrees for 10 to 15 minutes, until golden. Makes 16 biscuits.

For dessert, try this sugarless recipe. It was not in the "Flock" cookbook, but would be nice if you are watching your diet. And it is so healthy and tasty - makes a good breakfast, too (they freeze well). Use dried cranberries instead of or with the raisins if you desire:

SUGARLESS FRUIT MUFFINS

1 cup chopped dates
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup chopped prunes
1 cup water
1/2 cup margarine (or butter if OK), cut into pats
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup chopped nuts

In saucepan, combine dates, raisins, prunes and water. Bring to boil and boil 5 minutes. Stir in margarine (butter if it's OK for you) and salt and set aside to cool.

Add remaining ingredients to fruit and stir just until moistened. Spoon into individual mini-muffin pans and bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes. (Or bake in greased 11x7 inch pan for 30 minutes.)

Recipe makes 32 mini muffins. Each mini muffin equals 1/2 fruit, 1 fat, 1/2 starch, 94 calories, 52 mg sodium, 14 mg chol, 12 gm carb, 2 gm protein and 4 gm fat.

DEATH NOTICES

Agnes H. Olson, 85

Thief River Falls - Agnes H. Olson, 85, died on Tuesday, October 9, 2007 at MeritCare Hospital in Fargo, N.D.

A memorial service will be held at 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, October 13 (today) at Johnson Funeral Service in Thief River Falls.

Visitation will be one hour prior to the service on Saturday.

A complete obituary will appear in the next edition of The Times.

Leona Forsberg, 83

Pinewood - Leona Forsberg, 83, of Balm Lake in Pinewood and formerly of Thief River Falls, died Wednesday, October 3, 2007.

A family graveside service will be held Monday, October 15 at Cambridge Lutheran Church Cemetery with Pastor Paul Biegner officiating.

A complete obituary will appear in the next edition of The Times.

(More photos online at www.nwatch.com)

Carol was engaged to be married, and decided then that she wanted to wear the dress, too. She added some beadwork and made a new veil with her sister Deb's assistance.

Wearing the dress, Carol married Timothy Olson on Oct. 6, 1990 at Evangelical Free Church in Thief River Falls. She is a nurse at the University of North Dakota Student Health office. Tim is head of maintenance at Altru Rehabilitation in Grand Forks, N.D. They have a son and a daughter.

At a reunion Aug. 15, during which they also recognized Muriel Peterson of Thief River Falls on her 80th birthday, all four of the women who have worn the dress, were together and all tried it on again. They noticed, of course, that the satin has mellowed to a creamy, pearl sheen that seems to glow. Although often forgotten, everyone took care of that $25 dress. Each time it was used, it was dry-cleaned and hung in a closet covered by sheets ... until needed, again. That day, it brought back memories, tears and laughter, especially when not all the buttons on the back of the dress could be buttoned for some.

Shirley Kruse said tradition or family pressure wasn't the reason each of them wore the dress. For reasons that cannot be explained, all four women genuinely liked the dress.

Shirley said she couldn't recall any disasters taking place while anyone wore the dress - no spilled punch, coffee or cake. It did survive the Flood of 1997 in Grand Forks. Pictures, albums and recordings were damaged by floodwaters, but the dress was in an upstairs closet and undamaged.

It might be needed soon, Shirley said. There is a possibility that Lorraine Sjulson's granddaughter may wear it next year; and, Carol Olson said she would be happy if her daughter could wear it some day too, but there's no pressure or hurry to do so.

For the four women who wore this dress at their weddings, they share a bond - the bond of love, memories and of a dress.

And for the record, now 64 years old, the dress survives as witness to 199 years of marriage and no divorces.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS

Dave Hill, Editor

Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Unless specified otherwise, the editorials are written by Editor Dave Hill and do not represent opinion of other staff members. Opinions in items from other publications may not coincide with the editor's own views but are offered for their general interest.

How do we communicate?

Oh, boy. I hate to admit it, but "groovy" and "cool" were the hot slang terms of my generation. Obviously, I'm hopelessly out of touch with the popular slang used by this generation. No one likes being out of touch with current slang, so when the esteemed Boston Globe come out with a sampler of modern slang from www.urbandictionary.com, I sat up and took notice.

Perhaps, today's generation would say we adults are "earjacking" when we listen in on your conversations, or trying to relive our youth through our own children. But really, we're not trying to "break your crayons" (upset you), just understand you. Honestly, we want to understand you because past generations have taught us that if we don't try to understand you, you might sue us later in life for the trauma caused you by not buying you a new pair of shoes for the prom.

Trying to understand these kids is frustratingly difficult. This slang doesn't help. Sometimes I have the urge to, oh, I don't know, ask them: "Do you understand English?"

Maybe they're trying to upset us? You know kids; they do these things on purpose because they're always trying to see how much they can get away with. Maybe they're trying to be unique - you know, not wear what everyone else is wearing, and not using the same slang used by every other generation. They want to set themselves apart from everyone else, or every other generation.

We're here to listen because we need help understanding. We don't want to think you're being rude when you tell us to "anchor" or that you need an anchor for a boat or a school project. We want to know that you're not trying to really piss us off but telling us to wait patiently. Good grief!

We want to know that when you ask us for some "cheddar" or "Kraft singles," it doesn't mean you want cheese or for us to make you a grilled-cheese sandwich. Yes, that's right, they don't want cheese. They want money.

It's easy to get confused. Can you imagine someone asking if you've "checked your vitals" lately? Well, I really didn't want to get into the personal details of my last visit to the doctor, you say, but my blood pressure checked out OK. No? No, they say, they're referring to your computer. They're asking if you've run a diagnostics program on your computer lately.

Come to think of it, I use a diagnostics program on my computer about as often as I have a physical at the doctor's office, which isn't very often. Great! Now I have something else to feel guilty about.

This is one of the most technologically-connected generations we've ever had. We've even complained about this generation's fixation with computers and all their gadgets - cell phones, computer games, iPods, text messaging. What's most annoying is that they do all those things while drinking lattés or cappuccinos and driving down the road. Many of us have trouble programming our radio alarm to wake us up in time for work. So, leave it up to this multitasking generation to come up with the term "multislacking," which means slacking off at a series of things all at once. Hey, finally here's something I'm good at. I've been doing that for years. I must be hip - oops, er, cool? OK, I'm not even close.

And we want to know not to get upset when we ask you where you're going as you walk out the door and say "subwoofing." Past generations used to use monosyllabic gems like "out." This generation says things like "subwoofing." The word makes it sound like they're doing something they shouldn't - like sex. What they're really doing is sitting in their car and blasting their ear stereo system to show off. Maybe they shouldn't be doing that either. They might lose their hearing like us "old" people and not be able to hear their children when they ask for some cheddar.

If you're wondering where I'm at, which you probably aren't, I'm just "marinating" here in the office. Hey, what do you expect, the Hoola Hoop was popular back in my day.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Deer to be tested for bovine TB during early antlerless hunt

An early antlerless hunt, scheduled to occur Oct. 13 (today) and Oct. 14, will offer Minnesota Department of Natural Resources biologists another opportunity to screen hunter-harvested deer for bovine tuberculosis, a bacterial disease first discovered in cattle and wild deer in a localized area of northwestern Minnesota in 2005.

The discovery of bovine TB in cattle and wild deer resulted in the state losing its TB-free accreditation status, which has been costly to Minnesota's cattle industry. The Minnesota Board of Animal Health, the DNR and the United States Department of Agriculture have been working collaboratively to regain the state's TB-free status since the discovery of the disease.

To help reduce the local deer population and prevent the potential spread of bovine TB in wild deer, the DNR has created a new deer hunting permit area, deer area 101, in which an antlerless hunt will occur Saturday (today) and Sunday. Deer harvested during this season are required to be registered within the new permit area. DNR staff will collect tissue samples from hunter-harvested deer to test for bovine TB at four deer registration stations: Skime Store, Grygla Hartz, Fourtown Store, and the Riverfront Station in Wannaska. Hunters are encouraged to register their antlerless deer at these stations to assist with this disease surveillance effort. Hunters who submit a sample for bovine TB testing will be entered into a drawing to win a rifle that has been donated by the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association. To hunt in the area, hunters must have a 2007 firearm license (valid for any zone) or muzzleloader license, and must tag deer with either disease management or early antlerless permits only.

Although Hayes Lake State Park will be open during the regular firearm season, it is closed for the early antlerless hunt.

Additionally, DNR staff will collect tissue samples at 10 deer registration stations in northwestern Minnesota during the regular firearm season, with a sampling goal of 1,000 deer. Hunters are encouraged to properly dress and handle their wild game, and cook the venison to an internal temperature of 165 degrees Fahrenheit, which will kill all bacterial diseases, including bovine TB and E. coli.

For more information about the DNR management of bovine TB in wild deer, visit the DNR Web site (www.dnr.state.mn.us) or contact Michelle Carstensen, Wildlife Health Program coordinator, at (651) 296-2663.

The DNR also reminds hunters that they now have an opportunity to participate in a new venison donation program. The program, which provides venison to Minnesota food shelves and feeding programs, was developed to provide hunters an avenue to donate, at no cost to them, the extra deer they harvest, while benefiting those in need. For more information on the venison donation program or for a copy of the 2007 Minnesota Hunting and Trapping Regulations Handbook, visit the aforementioned DNR Web site or call the DNR information center toll-free at 1-888-646-6367.

Applications sought for Energy Assistance Program

Northwest Community Action is now accepting applications for the 2008 Energy Assistance Program. If you feel you may be eligible for this program, either write to Northwest Community Action Inc., PO Box 67, Badger, MN 56714 or call (218) 528-3258 or 1-800-568-5329, and an application will be mailed to you. You may apply only once during the program year of Oct. 1, 2007, to May 31, 2008.

Fuel assistance eligibility is based upon household income and household size. Assets are no longer counted for this program. Both homeowners and renters may be eligible. Households that live in subsidized housing but pay either heat or electricity costs may also qualify for fuel assistance. Subsidized housing residents who have both heat and electricity costs included in their rent don't qualify for energy assistance.

The eligibility guidelines for three months' gross income are listed below:

- Household size of 1 – A maximum income of $5,030
- Household size of 2 – A maximum income of $6,578
- Household size of 3 – A maximum income of $8,126
- Household size of 4 – A maximum income of $9,674
- Household size of 5 – A maximum income of $11,222
- Household size of 6 – A maximum income of $12,770

Successful applicants are responsible for their heating and electric bills until they hear from NCA.

NCA serves households located in Kittson, Lake of the Woods, East Marshall and Roseau counties. Upon request, home visits are available for homebound applicants. Households requesting assistance in completing the applications are encouraged to phone the NCA to set up appointments.

Caution urged near First Street bridge and NWMC

Thief River Falls Police Chief Kim Murphy urges motorists and pedestrians to be cautious in the area of the First Street bridge and Northwest Medical Center.

Murphy cited several instances that could have jeopardized individuals' safety in the area between the First Street bridge and the intersection of First Street and LaBree Avenue. Those instances included:

- Motorists failing to stop for pedestrians who are in marked crosswalks at the intersection of First Street and LaBree Avenue, and near the intersection of First Street and Horace Avenue;
- Pedestrians jaywalking in the area to the north of Northwest Medical Center; and
- Pedestrians walking in the marked crosswalk at First Street and LaBree Avenue even though a traffic control signal indicates that they should not be crossing the street.

"It's one of those things that if it continues to get worse, we'll start a traffic enforcement campaign," said Murphy, who noted some jaywalkers and motorists have already been warned in that area.

Murphy reminded motorists that pedestrians have the right-of-way in marked crosswalks. He encouraged both motorists and pedestrians to use extra caution in this particular area of First Street, especially since they are in a hospital zone and they are approaching a school zone. He also reminded motorists that the First Street bridge has a posted speed limit of 20 mph.

Northland hitter Alicie Lindquist drove the ball past Central Lakes blockers Shyne Foote (7) and Heather Feldewerd (5) in a Wednesday college volleyball match hosted by the Pioneers. The Raiders, the No. 2 ranked team in the country, returned to Brainerd with a 3-0 win.

Raiders prove they're No. 1

On paper, it was a match-up of the No. 1 and No. 2 teams in the Minnesota Community College Conference Northern Division. On the court, however, the gap was considerably wider as front-running Central Lakes swept away challenger Northland 3-0 in a Wednesday volleyball showdown.

The Raiders overcame a slow start to take care of the Pioneers 30-27, 30-19, 30-19 in front of a good-sized Thief River Falls crowd.

Central Lakes brought an 8-0 division record and 17-5 overall mark into the contest. Northland came in at 7-2 and 12-8.

"Central Lakes is the No. 2-rated team in the nation for a reason," said Northland coach Lisa Handley. "They have a good team. They might have played a little scared in the first game, and that's when we were able to stay close. But they played really well in Games 2 and 3. That's why they're No. 1 and we're No. 2 in the division."

Northland had a 21-18 lead in the opener, but couldn't close it out. A kill down the line by Lisa Kurtz put the Raiders at game point, 29-26. The Pioneers' Leigha Curfman kept play going with a kill that made it 29-27, but Erin Jugasek finished things with a put-back.

The Pioneers were up 10-8 in Game 2 before the Raiders took over, out-scoring the host team 22-9 the rest of the way. A kill by Jugasek made it 20-17; a drive by Krista Meyer put the Raiders up 25-18; and a block by Heather Feldewerd finished it.

A similar story line developed in Game 3 when a back row kill by Brooke Conely provided Northland with a 13-12 lead, only to have Central Lakes go on a match-closing 18-6 run that ended with a kill by Feldewerd.

Northland had trouble sustaining an offense, and the Pioneers missed a dozen serves in the three games.

"Our serve receive wasn't very good," acknowledged Handley. "The (missed) serves didn't bother me as much. Central Lakes is such a good team, you're not going to get by with just bumping the ball over the net. We had to serve aggressively, and when you do that, mistakes will happen."

The Pioneers, who hosted Rainy River Friday night, will close out their home schedule today (Saturday) with a noon match against Hibbing. The regular season ends with the Central Lakes Crossover Tournament Thursday.

Crookston beats TRF in North Sub-Section 8A final...

Pirates win tennis title match

Crookston broke a 2-2 tie with a pair of three-set victories en route to a 5-2 North Sub-Section 8A girls high school team tennis tournament championship match win over Thief River Falls Wednesday.

It was a down-to-the-wire finish for the No. 1-seeded Pirates and No. 2-seeded Prowlers.

With six courts available, the No. 1 singles players were spectators at the start as they waited for a court to open up. But what might have been a tie-breaking showdown between the Prowlers' Carli Sandahl and the Pirates' Molly Simmons never materialized. Wins by Hayley Myrold at No. 2 singles and Rachel Buchmeier-Allison Buchmeier at No 1 doubles put Crookston up 4-2 and Sandahl, battling arm trouble, retired.

A convincing 6-3, 6-1 Chelsea Daley win at No. 3 singles had given Thief River Falls an early 1-0 advantage.

The next two matches completed were wins by the Pirates' Sarah Derosier at No. 4 singles and Brittny Boetcher-Brigetta Martin at No. 3 doubles.

Cheyenne Horien and Sam Buck pulled the Prowlers into a 2-2 tie with a 7-5, 6-2 victory at No. 2 doubles.

Myrold got by Mauri Gonsorowski 6-3, 3-6, 6-1 at No. 2 singles and the Buchmeier combination came from behind to beat Laura Heschke-Kristine Sletten 2-6, 6-1, 6-3 at No. 1 doubles to sew up the title.

The Sandahl/Simmons match was in progress at that point then Thief River Falls coach Corey Thorson pulled his top player in an effort to save her for the singles portion of the tournament the following day.

"It was a very close match, and the scores showed it," said Thorson. "They (Pirates) just found a way to win the big points."

Thief River Falls finished the year with a 7-5 dual meet record. The Prowlers won the Section 8AA title last fall. They were moved to Section 8A by the Minnesota State High School League regularly-scheduled reclassification and realignment formula.

Crookston will advance to the Section 8A team tournament championship match Tuesday at the Grand Forks Racquetball & Fitness Center.

"I was very pleased with the way we competed today," offered Thorson. "The girls should be proud of the way they played. On this day, Crookston was the better team."

Prowlers win 4-3 semifinal

A sweep in doubles helped lead Thief River Falls to a 4-3 win over East Grand Forks Wednesday in the North Sub-Section 8A girls high school team tennis tournament semifinals.

With the possibility of playing back-to-back matches (the finals were scheduled that same day), the second-seeded Prowlers took on the third-seeded Green Wave without No. 1 singles player Carli Sandahl, whose court time is limited due to tendonitis in her hitting arm.

Mauri Gonsorowski, Chelsea Daley and Jaime LaCoursiere each moved up a notch in the singles line-up and were joined by Chelsie Weeding at No. 4.

Central Lakes defender Heather Feldewerd (5) blocked this spike by Northland's Sarah Michaels during Wednesday's Minnesota Community College Conference volleyball match in Thief River Falls. The Raiders beat the Pioneers 3-0.

Game 2 win is big in Prowler sweep at LOW

Thief River Falls and Lake of the Woods played a 64-point second game to highlight a Tuesday high school volleyball match in Baudette.

The Prowlers, after posting a 25-13 Game 1 win, outlasted the Bears 33-31 in the marathon second game then finished off the sweep with a 25-19 Game 3 victory.

Brittany Wiseth put together a solid all-around match for the winners with 10 kills, 6 blocks and 3 aces at the service line.

Five blocks by Frannie Twistol added to the Prowlers' strong defensive effort at the net as they improved to 15-9 heading into a final regular season home match Thursday vs. Fosston.

Lake of the Woods beat the Thief River Falls junior varsity 25-17, 25-18 and the Bears won the C squad match 27-25, 25-22.

Thief River Falls will close out the schedule Tuesday at Roseau.

Three Prowlers to advance in tennis

Three Prowlers – Carli Sandahl in singles and Kristine Sletten-Chelsea Daley in doubles – have earned spots in the individual portion of the 2007 Section 8A girls high school tennis tournament.

Competing in the North Sub-Section 8A meet Thursday at Crookston, Sandahl finished second to Abby Ness of Roseau in singles and Sletten-Daley had a similar runner-up effort in doubles, where they lost a title match showdown with Crookston's Molly Simmons and Haley Myrold.

Sandahl is a junior; Sletten and Daley are seniors.

Top four Thursday finishers in both singles and doubles qualified for the Section 8A individual tournament Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the Grand Forks Racquetball and Fitness Center.

RLCC comeback results in victory over B/G-MR, 3-2

Red Lake County Central lost Games 1 and 2, but came back to beat Badger/Greenbush-Middle River in a Tuesday high school volleyball match at Oklee.

It took a couple of extra points at the end to complete the rally as the Mustangs won 23-25, 20-25, 25-22, 25-17, 17-15 – overcoming a 13-8 Game 5 deficit in the process.

"Red Lake County Central wanted the win more," said disappointed Badger/Greenbush-Middle River coach Stacy Dahl. "We need to play an entire match with intensity and focus."

Brianna Spong (13), Faith Kruchowski (10) and Kayla Pelletier (9) combined for 32 kills for the Mustangs. Jessica Dvergsten and Anna Wicklund had 14 kills each for the Gators.

It was a 47-assist night for Vanessa Dvergsten of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River.

The Mustangs improved to 12-13; the Gators fell to 14-9.

"It was a great win and a confidence booster," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray. "The first two games were close, so the girls knew they could play with B/G-MR. They never gave up."

Scoring

■ Kills - (B/G-MR) Jessica Dvergsten 14, Anna Wicklund 14, (RLCC) Briana Spong 13, Faith Kruchowski 10, Kayla Pelletier 9.
■ Assists - (B/G/MR) Vanessa Dvergsten 47; (RLCC) Jill Rewertz 27.

Prowlers beat Greyhounds...

TRF closes out home schedule with sweep

Final regular season home appearance for Thief River Falls was a hit for the team and the fans as the Prowlers swept a Thursday volleyball match from Fosston 25-13, 25-21, 25-21.

The Prowlers were entertained with a choreographed dance line production by their parents just before player introductions and, after being cheered on throughout the night by a boisterous student section led by members of the football team, they were serenaded by their classmates at mid-court following the victory.

"The fans have been great," said Thief River Falls coach Tammy Sparby. "The football players are the greatest. They really show a lot of school spirit. I know the girls really appreciate it when they come to the games and cheer like that."

There was plenty to cheer about, too, as the Prowlers carried play at the net behind the hitting and blocking by Brittany Wiseth, Frannie Twistol and Cassie Gunderson. That trio combined for 25 kills and 10 blocks. Wiseth set the tone with early domination and finished the night with 12 kills and 7 blocks – one off the school record.

"Brittany has really been focused lately," said Sparby. "She's starting to take charge. We still stress balance. Frannie has been right with Brittany; Cassie's doing a nice job and Kayse Lee with her digs has played well in the back row. But Brittany is really stepping it up."

The early advantage went to the Prowlers, who had a 20-8 Game 1 lead following a Wiseth kill, got to game point on an ace by Jessie Clark and picked up the final point on a Fosston service error.

There was never much scoreboard separation in Game 2. Fosston sliced a 21-17 deficit to 21-20 after an ace by Kelly Munter, but the Prowlers scored the final four points, including a block by Twistol for No. 25.

Again, Fosston stayed close in Game 3, but Thief River Falls carried the lead down the stretch to complete the sweep. A Twistol kill put the Prowlers up 20-16. Ahead 22-19, the Prowlers finished off the Greyhounds on kills by Gunderson and Wiseth.

"The girls came in focused, ready to play," said Sparby. "I thought they did a nice job."

The win put the Prowlers at 16-9 heading into a regular season finale Tuesday at Roseau.

Fosston won the junior varsity match 25-23, 26-24 and took the C squad match 25-21, 25-20.

Scoring

■ Kills - (TRF) Brittany Wiseth 12, Cassie Gunderson 8, Frannie Twistol 5; (Fosston) Mariah Borstad 9, Janet Non 9.

Daley was a winner at No. 2 singles to get the extra point needed to go along with the doubles sweep by Laura Heschke-Kristine Sletten, Sam Buck-Cheyenne Horien and Katie Rook-Hannah Anderson.

"We had big wins at No. 2 singles and No. 3 doubles," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Corey Thorson. "One and two doubles played excellent, as well."

Gators beat Wolverines 3-0

Liz Schenkey and Hannah Berg had 10 kills each as Badger/Greenbush-Middle River beat Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 25-18, 25-19, 25-20 in a Monday high school volleyball match hosted by the Gators.

Adelle Prestebak and Rebecca Polansky led the Wolverines with 9 and 8 kills, respectively.

"Neither team had a whole lot of fire during the match," said Gators coach Stacy Dahl. "At this point, teams have played each other many times, so we need to change up our game to beat teams. To practice variety in game-like situations, we have to be ready to play every night."

TRF freshmen end with 32-8 loss to Crookston

Crookston turned a 6-0 halftime lead into a 32-8 freshman high school football win over Thief River Falls Tuesday.

The Prowlers went ahead briefly in the third quarter on a 2-yard touchdown run by Steve Keogh and a conversion run by Keogh.

Crookston led 20-8 going into the final period.

The game completed a 1-7 Thief River Falls season.

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke falls to Roseau

Two close wins carried Roseau past visiting Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke 3-0 in Tuesday high school volleyball.

The Rams won 26-24, 25-15, 25-21.
